A Friend

When a fellow is down don't hit him, 'tis a coward's trick. When he is nearly out don't mock him, lend instead a helping hand. If he cannot carry on, aid him 'til he is on his feet. It is easy enough to be a "sunshine soldier" and a fair weather pal, but it is when the skies are lowering and the day is dark and drear that a "feller needs a friend." "A friend in need is a friend indeed" and a friend who deserts another in need is no friend at all.

I would that there were more true hearts in the world! More truth, courage, honesty, love—the ingredients of friendship. A true friend is a priceless treasure, rarer than diamonds, thrice as valuable as gold. A true friend is God-given and because true friendship endureth forever it is a treasure that God alone, by death, may take away.

Commercial

A communication has just been received from the state contest manager that the annual State Commercial contest that was to have been held in Jacksonville has been postponed until next year. So few schools found it possible to make entries that it was not thought advisable to attempt to hold the contest this year.

Junior News

News of interest is "about as scarce as hen's teeth" now because of the unrest that is present. No decision can be reached for each has his ideas which are impossible to change. Maybe the Juniors will finally reach the honor of being designated Seniors but we're hoping we'll have more time to graduate than they are having.

Congratulations to Grace and Elizabeth. They're the stuff great women are made of. Why? Goodness, they're valedictorian and salutatorian respectively. Hadn't you heard? We still say bravo girls, but where are the Senior boys?

Mr. Funderburk seems to think our banquet will come off regardless, but I'm not so optimistic. Any way the Seniors have accepted the invitation so we're trying to do our best. The banquet is to be given Friday night, March 31, at the Jacaranda hotel.

Sophomore News

This week we are studying a play by Shakespeare called "As You Like It." This play is very good, but we all liked the King Arthur stories better, I believe.

In History we are taking up the Puritans, and how they set out on that famous ship, the Mayflower, which is known to most all of us.

General Science has also been very interesting. We studied last week about the stars, the moon, and, of course, the sun. We are studying this week about atmospheric pressure, and of what clouds are composed.

Say, this algebra is not so easy either, is it, girls? I don't think so any how.

All we sophomores are overjoyed to know that our classmate, Patsy Loomis, won the popularity contest.

I really don't know what to do with myself this week. I actually don't have to stay in detention hall any more, that is, until I do something wrong.

Last Thursday we had a perfect attendance. Wasn't that good! But then, Friday wasn't so good. I think about two were tardy, and Martha "ever was absent."

Today in chapel I had charge of the regular Tuesday morning home room chapel period. We had a Baby Parade by Anna Dee Roberts, and Sally Moore; a song by Myrtle Turner, Anna Dee also entertained us by singing a song.

I was requested to play a few numbers on the piano. Some of them were: "Sentimental Gentleman from Georgia," "Some of These Days," "Lazy River."

Some of us Sophomores are wondering who will be our sponsor next year. That question is a question, don't you think? When we are Juniors we will be having more fun than we are this year. Joe Tidwell, captain of our home room basketball, this morning announced that if our class won the championship he would take the money and give a grand party. Won't that be grand?

Wanted: A good pencil that will not break off. It must have a lock on it in order to keep it safe for Anna Dee Roberts.

For Sale: Second hand Latin book promised to be in good condition, only a small number of very artistic drawings. Price sold, ten cents. Inquire of Martha Wever.

Found: Small ring, brass, has E. E. B. inside and also the sign Guaranteed. Found by Junior Stebbins.

Lost: Fountain pen, green, with top part lost, and broken point. If found return to Allie Lee Belin.

In History today we had a few very interesting reports of different men in this ancient history period. Oliver Cromwell by Lorey Mar Barchand, George Pym by Woodson Sadler, and Earl of Stratford by Corbett Howell. We enjoyed them so much.

Hello Avon Park Sophomores:

I thought I'd write a few lines to let you know I'm still percolating. I hope I haven't been forgotten. Gee, kids, I get lonesome to see you all. I think about my dear old friends down there every day. I hope you all don't forget me. That's all I'm asking. I'm tough to be way up here away from my friends that you have known all your life. Well, how's school? Is the pressure in the Biology still awful, Peter? And dear ole Latin. How's my friend, Julius Caesar? Those books are all together different up here. It makes it hard for me to catch up, O, yes. I couldn't get in Biology. I had a conflict with it and English, so the Prof. (Mr. Kitch) said if I would finish the term with Physical Geography he'd give me my credits. I call that swell, don't you? It's a lot easier.

Freshman's News

In English we are studying diagramming. It is easy to a few but to others it is like a jig-saw puzzle. (They have to hunt to find out where the words go.)

In home-room chapel periods Mr. Mummau has been telling us about the Johnstown flood. He has taught near there and could describe the country to our satisfaction.

The girls taking Home Economics are sewing and they are enjoying their work very much.

7-A Grade

Mr. Carmichael is sponsoring a basketball contest among the boys of the different grades in the high school. The boys of this class are busy practicing for the semi-finals to be held this week. Edward Touchton was chosen captain of our team, and he is getting the players ready for action.

Evelyn Martin spent Friday shopping in Tampa. Dorothy Hughs spent Saturday there.

What would happen if:

Cyril Baldwin forgot to complain about the girls disturbing him?

Charles Sherman would decide to sit down once in awhile?

Elmo and Marvin didn't draw pictures in History class?

Mrs. Skipper would decide to give us a party?

Ed Touchton didn't write notes to Gladys Helms?

Our school will soon be out. Oh, boy, will we be glad! We are hoping that we all pass in all subjects.

Don't you ever wonder how you manage to get along as well as you do?

Miscellaneous

Because DeSoto County High School closed, the seniors have added to their roll two new members, Alma Sapp and Cera Platt, both of Arcadia. This brings their number up to twenty-five.

The coming banquet occupies all the waking thoughts of the juniors and seniors. Talk of dresses is heard at every turn. Many of the girls have made flying trips to Tampa in search of the dress.

The Senior play is progressing rapidly. If it is as good as it promises at present it will be well worth the money of one and all.

Don't forget:

Back Stage, April 7, high school auditorium, 8 o'clock.

Come and bring your friends.

Graduation looms for the Seniors in the not so distant future. A month of hard work intervenes, however, so let there be no slacking of the pace of hard work now.

Complete Plans For Florida Century of Progress Exhibition

Tallahassee, March 30.—Senator W. C. Hodges, chairman of the Florida Century of Progress Commission, announced today (Thursday) that financial arrangements have been completed which insure Florida's participation in the Century of Progress at Chicago this year.

While the exact nature of these arrangements was not made known, Senator Hodges states: "Necessary loans have been procured to carry on the work of the Commission until July 1, when the money can be paid back out of county contracts and other contributions."

Chairman Hodges stated that the exhibits are practically completed and assembled for shipment to Chicago including the orange grove, exhibit of exotic gardens, statuary, and six murals depicting Florida's history.

"Architectural construction of the interior of the Florida exhibit space in the 'Hall of States' will begin shortly as the necessary funds to care for this work are now available," Mr. Hodges said.

HINTS TO HOUSEWIVES

Weekly from Home Demonstration Specialists, Tallahassee

REDUCING FARM FOOD COSTS.

With careful planning, every farm family in Florida should be able to supply itself with an abundance of food. If the family health and working efficiency are to be maintained, this food should be of the right kind. Intelligent planning can reduce food costs without sacrificing good nutrition.

Every farm home should own at least one good family cow. Where only one is owned, arrangements should be made with a neighbor to get milk when the cow is freshened. Aside from the milk and butter, cottage cheese can be made.

A flock of 50 pullets should furnish the eggs and chicken meat supply for a family of five. To maintain such a flock, about 150 chicks should be hatched during the spring and about 50 during early fall. Can the culls during the fall instead of wintering them.

By organizing a beef club, farm families can have fresh beef every week at the cost of killing only one beef every few months. Every farm should raise and cure plenty of pork. Excess meat fats should be used in soap making.

In Florida, fresh vegetables can be had from the garden every month in the year. At least two should be served daily, and stored or canned vegetables should be on hand when the fresh ones are not available. At least two fruits should be served daily, giving special emphasis to tomatoes and citrus.—Anna Mae Sikes, Extension Nutritionist.

Flax Grown On King's Estate In England

Sandringham, England.—Hopes of a great new industry for Norfolk centered round the King's estate at Sandringham has just been brought a step nearer. It is believed that a large linen factory will be erected near the estate on which it has been decided to put aside 100 acres for the planting of flax after some experimental showing. Photo shows some of the flax grown on the King's estate.

Try These Lenten Dishes

By BETTY BARCLAY

During Lent we sometimes find it difficult to decide upon a suitable dish for dinner. Many of our old favorites are not in order and our recipe files do not seem to furnish us with what we need. Here are two delicious Lenten dishes. You will be delighted with the manner in which a touch of sugar brings out the flavor of the eggs and the vegetables called for.

Caroline Fritters.

To three-fourths cup canned corn, add one-half cup milk, two well-beaten eggs, and one-half tablespoon sugar. Mix thoroughly. Mix one scant cup flour, one tablespoon baking powder and one-half teaspoon salt. Sift and combine with the other mixture. Place buttered muffin rings in a buttered dripping pan. Drop the combined mixtures into the rings, and bake in a moderate oven.

Eggs Auvergne.

Halve six hard-boiled eggs. Remove the yolks, taking care not to break the whites. Powder the yolks with a silver fork. Add one-half teaspoon mustard, one-quarter teaspoon salt, few grains of cayenne, dash of paprika, one teaspoon sugar, one tablespoon vinegar, one tablespoon olive oil. Mix until smooth with one tablespoon finely chopped parsley and place in the whites of the eggs. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves.

Spanish Salad.
(Serves 6)

2 large tomatoes
2 greeff peppers
2 oranges
1 tablespoon minced onion.

Cut each tomato into 8 slices. Take seeds from green peppers and cut each one into 3 rings. Peel oranges and cut in small pieces. On each salad plate arrange tomato slice topped with pepper ring. Fill center of ring with orange. Add minced onion to French dressing. Pour over salad.

Poultry Association Met at the Courthouse Wednesday Afternoon

Members of the Highlands County Poultry Association met at the courthouse yesterday afternoon to discuss problems facing the industry in this county.

A resolution was ordered drawn up by a special committee condemning the present state budget which provides little or nothing for the farmer and poultry raiser. Copies of the resolution will be sent to state senators and representatives.

A tentative date was set for the next meeting as April 19th at Hidden Hollow, the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Payne, located on the west side of Lake Jackson. Present plans include a probable basket luncheon on the grounds.

Plans were discussed for the publication of the Jacksonville wholesale egg prices.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Payne, Dr. and Mrs. Hodge, A. P. Southworth, Daniel Masters, F. M. Young, Carrol Payne, Emory Lawson, E. C. Alsmeyer, Victor Smith, F. C. Rae, C. H. Schaeffer, Mrs. J. A. Newsome, and County Agent Alsmeyer.

URGE RESEARCH WORK CONTINUE

Newell Stresses Importance In Radio Address Over Station WRUF

Gainesville, March 29.—Research was termed the cornerstone in the readjusting and progress of Florida's agricultural program, on which largely rests the future economic structure of the state, in a recent radio address by Dr. Wilmon Newell, dean of the University of Florida College of Agriculture. Research is extremely important in Florida, he said, because soil and climatic conditions are different from those in all other sections of the United States.

American industry has long recognized the need of research, and annually spends $200,000,000 searching for facts on which to base better methods. Though research is just as important to farm progress, it cannot be undertaken by individual farmers.

Profits from the small amount Florida has spent annually for research are clearly seen, Dr. Newell explained. Take from the state Cayana 10 sugarcane and there would be no farm-syrup variety that could profitably withstand the increasing ravages of mosaic and root-knot. The Marglobe tomato, resistant to nailhead rust, and now comprising 90 percent of the tomato acreage in Florida, is also the result of research. What would farmers do today without the discovery of vaccination for cholera, and chickenpox, and scores of other diseases and insects controls?

Take away two tobacco varieties, developed by the Florida Experiment Station, and the shade tobacco industry of the state, $2,250,000 of it, would disappear since other varieties do not resist blackshank. Likewise, if the Australian lady-beetle had not been introduced, citrus growers would be up against a most difficult insect problem in cottony cushion scale. Untold good has also come to the state through the introduction of crotalaria, the velvet bean, tung oil, and a number of the best adapted winter cover crops and pasture grasses.

Culminating years of study, the Experiment Station in 1931 announced a prevention and remedy for salt sick, causing by far the greatest loss to the cattle industry of the state. Likewise, experiments with manganese and copper as fertilizers have made profitable thousands of acres of Everglades lands which were unproductive.

Research also entered the field of citrus freight rates, and secured facts very useful in getting rates reduced. If Florida rates were equal to those from California, growers would pay annually $2,000,000 less freight charges. In like manner, the areas that compete with Florida truck crops have been studied, and this information given to growers.

Hundreds of other accomplishments of research that vitally affect everyone in the state could be cited, Dr. Newell said, and scores of other projects which may turn out to be just as important are now underway at the Experiment Station.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931, C. M. Co.

The person responsible for the alleged discovery that steel can take the place of gold in the manufacture of false teeth must have had some steel stock that he hoped to boost.

Earthquakes, freezes, floods, and all kinds of calamities in many different sections of the country, but through it all the skies are blue, the elements serene, and all nature smiling, in Florida. Let us be grateful, in all humility.

The man who comes nearer to living up to his pre-election promises than any other we can recall is Franklin Roosevelt. He has been better in performance than in promises, and he gets better all the time. He furnishes a rare example of a combination of the two characteristics most necessary to leadership—ability and courage.

Times-Union remarks: "We now have a nineteenth and twentieth amendment. We'll have to go back and fill up the gap when the eighteenth passes from the list." An amendment to prohibit any further amendments might not be amiss. Most of the amendments that have been tacked on to the original document have proven of doubtful value.

If we were judge, or serving on the jury, we wouldn't be too hard on the little lady who was caught trying to smuggle two saw blades to her husband confined in a Tampa jail. The blades were hidden in a magazine she carried in to the prisoner, presumably to assuage his literary thirst. Loyalty to one's wedded mate is a virtue rare enough in these days to invite leniency for such an error as this lady committed.

Excesses and abuses connected with the sale of beer will do more to slow up the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment than any argument of the opposition. The legalization of beer may be said to be another "experiment"—not so "noble"—and the results will be watched closely by those who really desire that the beverage situation be handled to the best interests of the country and the people.

Some hundreds of unemployed, receiving help from the Salvation Army, voted their ideas as to the person among all others who should be paid the largest salary. The majority favored Babe Ruth, above President Roosevelt, other rulers, the great scientists of the world, writers, etc. Some voted for Joe E. Brown, comedian. Perhaps the mentality indicated by their votes explains in part why they were unemployed and dependent.

There is a good deal of clamor in favor of appropriating more money for the schools, but in the face of the declaration by the Governor that the funds received the past year would have been sufficient if there had not been waste and mismanagement, the average citizen is left somewhat at sea. We don't want to be niggardly with our schools, but if the more money provided the more will be spent unwisely, the situation should be well considered before further appropriations are made.

In contrast with the adulation that accompanied his installation as Governor, there has already developed quite a bit of criticism of Our Dave. We rather thought during his campaign that he made a good many promises that he might find it difficult to fulfill, but we are all for giving him every chance to make a good job of his administration. It is too early to pass judgment upon his policies and efforts, and for one we shall await developments, hopeful that his leadership may prove to be all that was expected of it. Much depends upon how he handles the Legislature now about to meet.

The attempt of the Anti-Saloon League to have the Florida Legislature "ignore" the matter of prohibition repeal, thus depriving the people of the State of an opportunity for expression on the subject will not be well received by the legislators or the people. The latter constitute the supreme authority in deciding such a question, and the proposition should be submitted to them with the least possible delay. The autocratic attitude of the Anti-Saloon League, and the suspicion that many members of that organization have been more interested in holding on to fat jobs than in the moral or material welfare of the people, have done much to weaken the cause of prohibition.

Denials of ill treatment of the Jews in Germany are not convincing in the face of much direct testimony that there has been persecution and cruelty. To drive the Jews from Germany as those now in power there seem bent on doing, would be unwise. Wherever the Jewish people abide they are leaders in finance and commerce, and there are many things other peoples might well copy from them, particularly as regards their home life and family loyalty. When Jews are engaged in business in any town it is a pretty fair indication that it is a live town. "We don't allow any Jews in our little town," pompously boasted a man to a fellow-traveller who was of that race. "Maybe that's why it's a little town," meekly replied the Jew.

Albert S. Ochs, eminent newspaper publisher, on his 75th birthday, in an optimistic utterance relative to the future of our country, includes this significant suggestion: "The Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount cannot be ignored or forgotten, and should be our guide and philosophy of life. Spontaneity and idealism, so frightfully dormant, will be awakened for the peace and comfort of our children, and if so, it will be full compensation for our tribulations." We expect such a pronouncement from a minister of religion, who might naturally hold such a viewpoint; but coming from a man whose experience enables him to know life in many phases, and who has lived through other depressions which visited this nation, these words of Mr. Ochs deserve to be pondered in the hearts of the people.

The forestry program which President Roosevelt expects to put to work 250,000 jobless persons, seems to us a wise and efficient plan to help relieve the unemployment situation. Objection on the score that the compensation is insufficient does not appear to be well taken. This project has no bearing on fixing wage scales for other common labor, but is an emergency undertaking to provide work for those who can get no other, and are desperately in need. Men in this condition certainly will be glad to get $1.00 a day, plus board and lodging, honestly earned in healthful labor, at least until such time as they can do better. They will be doing a useful work, beneficial to all the people. Any able-bodied man who would prefer to eat the bread of dependence rather than earn it in such work deserves scant consideration.

APRIL FOOL

State Press Comment

INFLATION.

Inflation of American currency may bring us inflation of commodity prices and increased pay for labor. That will be welcome. We have learned that deflation can do as much harm as inflation. Inflation will help to restore confidence and will also increase the need for labor and farm products.

Along with inflation of money President Roosevelt and Congress should do what they can to annul bond contracts providing for payment in gold. The payment of nearly all our bonds requires that they be paid in gold. With one hundred million dollars in bonds now outstanding, and with only about $5,000,000 in gold one can readily see that the bond contracts cannot be met. The highest court in England has recently voided a contract to pay in gold and ruled that payment in legal tender is perfectly legal, even though the contract specifically provided payment in gold.

Most of our bonds were sold when American money was inflated. Then a Republican administration and International bankers began deflating our currency. The result is a panic and a depression unparalled in history. International bankers and bond dealers must be kicked out of high places. They have ruined us. They must be stripped of their control of money and their power to control government.—Okeechobee News.

Venus denotes grace and beauty, and the first community fair ever held in this pretty little Highlands County town, stood for practically the same thing. The fair, held a few days ago, displayed a wealth of agricultural and floricultural products grown in that section. The booths, all contributions of local residents, were attractively arranged and showed a bountiful collection of home-grown products including vegetables, heavy farm crops and hundreds of different varieties of flowers. The fair was held in the school building and the entire second floor was taken up with attractive booths. Hundreds of visitors attended from all over that section and expressed themselves well pleased with the show.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

THE SCHOOL OCTOPUS.

Governor Sholtz has spoken. Over the radio last night in vehement terms he pictured a "school octopus" which was gradually closing in around the helpless taxpayer. With striking courage he bade the taxpayers to take heart. There is a way out—school superintendents are to do without office help, school trustees are to serve without pay, attorneys are no longer to be employed, and the strangle hold of the powerful "school lobby" will be broken.

The governor repeatedly emphasized the point that our schools were costing more today than they ever had before.

Now, let us catch our breath and instead of deftly handling figures in the millions reduce to its finality the cost of education in Florida, remembering always that children grow just as rapidly during depressions as they do during booms. The increase in enrollment is not the product of boom or panic, but, the normal heritage of humankind in good times and bad.

What is the average cost per student over the whole United States? $84 per student.

What is the average cost of a student in Florida? $58 per student.

He who runs may read and understand these figures. If ☛ costs so much less than the average to educate a student in Florida what becomes of the lurid picture which Governor Sholtz sought to give us?

When the exit of school office help begins would it not aid in the solution of our tax problem for Governor Sholtz' retinue of eight secretaries, clerks and stenographers to join the procession into the ranks of the unemployed? Would it not be a good omen for the personal salary list of Governor Sholtz and his budget commission to be reduced along with school superintendents, school trustees, and attorneys for school boards?

Here is another slant regarding Governor Sholtz' cry for school salary reducing. On page 117 of the Sholtz Budget we find one school official trying to reduce his own salary. Governor Sholtz would not let him. Superintendent of Public Instruction Cawthon requested his fellow members of the Budget Commission to reduce his (Cawthon's) salary, from $6000.00 a year to $4800.00 a year. Governor Sholtz and the rest of his budget commission refused that request and recommended that Superintendent Cawthon be paid $6000.00—the amount which they were determined they should be paid. No cuts here. Governor Sholtz must have his $9000.00 and the rest of his cabinet their $6000.00, so Superintendent Cawthon must be put down for the same amount, in spite of Mr. Cawthon's attempt to do just what Governor Sholtz advocated over the radio. But, then, we must not forget that radio addresses and budget making are two different occupations.—Gainesville Sun.

HOLD TO ESSENTIALS

Dr. Frank Graham, president of the University of North Carolina, made this plea before the legislature of his state.

"It is our position that in standing for efficient maintenance of the public schools, public health and welfare, indispensable departments and commissions, agricultural extensions, and humanitarian and educational institutions, we are standing for the long-run recovery and advance of North Carolina."

What he said about North Carolina is doubly true of Florida. The legislature has a big job on its hands, but it will do well if its members think much in terms of human welfare instead of in dollars and cents saved.—Lakeland Ledger.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY
By RUSSELL KAY

Well, it won't be long now, just a few days more and the 1933 legislature will assemble for better or for worse. And boy, will that be a party. You know, if I had my way I'd take the whole gang and lock 'em up somewhere, take away their newspapers, radios, and cut every other form of communication. Then keep 'em there where nobody could bother 'em and let 'em go ahead and legislate to their hearts' content.

Of course it would be tough on the lobby lizards, but I'm bettin' when the boys finally did come out, it would go down in history as the best session that was ever held. I don't think it would be anywhere near as long drawn out and expensive as legislatures usually are.

But anyway you take it, their task is not an easy one and it is gonna be up to you and me to give 'em our confidence and support. Remember they are human beings with a tough job on their hands, not wizards or magicians or miracle workers, so give 'em a break.

This road holiday talk is all right, but if we quit buildin' roads, what about all the poor cows that live out in the backwoods and ain't never had the advantage of nice concrete sidewalks and grassy shoulders? You gotta think of that.

Why I understand there are some localities in this state where kind faced old cows are compelled to walk from fifty to sixty miles to reach even a county road. The situation is intolerable. Still some heartless people are howling for a road holiday.

How can we expect to have contented cows when people go around shooting the bull like that? Imagine how you would feel if you were a country cow, located miles and miles from the nearest state highway, with nothing to eat but Spanish moss and wire grass.

Dave says we've got $250,000,000 worth of roads now and they have to be maintained and protected. So considerin' the depression and all I suppose we have done pretty well by our cattle. Maybe we should start thinkin' a little more about our tax payers. But since we have adopted the slogan "Enjoy Florida Zephyrs while Dodging our Heifers" we should think twice before we adopt any program that might jeopardize it.

First thing you know some sap will be tryin' to get a bill through the legislature requirin' cows to blow their horns and light their tail lights before they start "Roamin' in the Gloamin'."

But whether we build more roads or whether we don't, I think somethin' ought to be done about these cock-eyed transport trucks with trailers that are longer than a bad dream. Get one of them in the middle of the road, ahead of you, and it's just too bad. The doggone concrete-crackers make more noise than a steam roller and you can blow your horn 'till you're black in the face and they can't hear you. Then just when you think maybe you can slide by, before the on-coming car cuts you off, and start around the darn freight-train, ten to one, the trailer will begin doin' a snake dance all over the road. If you manage to stay out of the ditch, you find you're right where you started from.

And some of these movin' vans they got clutterin' up the highways make a box car look like a baby Austin. Of course they are supposed to be motorists, just like you and me, and got a right on the public highway. But I got a crazy idea that it's these highway amazons that keep up our maintenance costs and when our roads have to be rebuilt a year or two from now, it won't be the pleasure cars that caused it, but just the same it'll be you and me and a million other poor blameless guys that will have to pay for it.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK
By EDSON R. WAITE
Shawnee, Oklahoma

Before a city can accomplish much it must have teamwork. Its citizens must CO-OPERATE! They must show a willingness to help one another and all work together for a better city.

The cities that are going ahead the fastest are the ones that have shown this spirit of co-operation.

In many cities part of the citizens pull one way and part of them another, resulting in dislike and distrust among the ones that should pull together.

There is something good about everyone. If people knew each other better they could pull together better.

Any city must sell itself to its citizens before it can sell itself to its neighbors.

A spirit of co-operation and pride in the home city must be instilled into every thought and action of every individual in order to make their city better.

A CITY MUST BE AWAKE TO ITS OPPORTUNITIES AND STAY AWAKE!

Plans were discussed for the annual Poppy sale to be conducted by this unit in May. After several matters of business were arranged the business meeting came to a close by the singing of America in unison.

Only two states, the Commissioner stated, have extended time for purchase of new tags beyond that date, Oklahoma and Virginia. All others will be required to purchase new tags.

Grand Jury Is To Meet Next Tuesday

With few cases up for investigation, the grand jury will be called into action next Tuesday following the drawing of names from the jury box by Circuit Judge W. J. Barker.

It is understood the grand jury will not meet until the week following the drawing, although due to the absence of Judge Barker from the city, this fact could not be affirmed or denied.

In the criminal docket, the case of Annie Johnson, negress, charged with murder will probably come up for trial.

Whether or not there will be any action in the Gube Gunter murder case is unknown. It is probable, however, that some effort will be made by officers to bring Fred House of Ft. Myers to trial on this charge.

Will Take Straw Vote On Edwards Recommendations

A straw vote among Grower members of the Florida Citrus Exchange to determine sentiment on the proposed Exchange reorganization plan will be taken by the Lake Wales Highlander, according to an announcement today from J. E. Worthington, editor.

The Highlander on Monday mailed ballots to the entire Exchange membership list with the request that the grower vote on each of the 12 points of the reorganization program as presented on March 10 by William Edwards, president. Beside the post card ballot, the mailing included a point set forth and a letter to the grower disclaiming for The Highlander any interest in the matter other than a speedy settlement of the questions raised by the plan.

President Edwards had proposed the replacement of C. C. Commander as general manager and the resignation of other department heads in the first two points of his program. These proposals were rejected immediately by the board and the other 10 points sent to a committee where seven of them died.

Worthington said the straw votes will be tabulated by questions as well as localities and promised an honest and accurate count. The results will be made available to other papers in the state.

It is an interesting experiment that The Highlander has undertaken and is sure to be followed closely by the entire citrus industry.—The Lake Wales Highlander.

SUBJECT: Jesus Ministering to Jews and Gentiles.

GOLDEN TEXT: "Other sheep I have, which are not of this fold; them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd." John 10:16.

LESSON TEXT: Mark 7:24-37.

In the first part of Mark 7, the Pharisees and scribes of Jesus "Why walk thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread with unwashen hands." Jesus answered, "This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me. Howbeit in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men, ye hold the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups; and many other such like things ye do."

Thus Jesus accused the Jews of teaching the doctrines of men rather than of God. The Pharasees became very angry with Jesus and laid plans to cause his death.

After the feeding of the five thousand, which occurred in April, at about the time of the Passover, Jesus delivered two addresses in Capernaum which aroused much opposition. After those discourses Jesus spent very little time in Galilee, but retired into Phenicia and into Decapolis, and into Itures, which extended to the north on the eastern side of the Jordan. Another reason for going to the region of Tyre and Sidon may have been to secure rest. It seemed almost impossible to secure it around Capernaum, or even at a distance.

"For a certain woman, whose young daughter had an unclean spirit, heard of him, and came and fell at his feet; the woman was a Greek, a Syrophenician by nation; and she besought him that he would cast forth the devil out of her daughter. But Jesus said unto her, Let the children first be filled; for it is not meet to take the children's bread, and cast it unto the dogs. And she answered and said unto him, Yes, Lord; yet the dogs under the table eat of the children's crumbs. And he said unto her, For this saying go thy way the devil is gone out of thy daughter."

If she was desperately in earnest she would press her request and not easily give up. So it is with people today. One main reason why many fall short of receiving all they should in a spiritual way is that they are not enough in earnest.

"And when she was come to her house, she found the devil gone out, and her daughter laid upon the bed."

"Now the woman was a Greek." She spoke the Greek language, which evidently was understood by Christ, though his customary speech was Aramaic, the common form of Hebrew. Matthew calls her a Canaanitish woman, because the Phoenicians belonged to the Canaanites of the Old Testament, being of Semitic stock; but they were heathen idolaters.

It is true that Christ confined his work almost entirely to the Jews, because they were best prepared to receive his message and because during his short ministry there was not time to extend his efforts to the heathen. But he healed a Samaritan leper, preached to Samaritans, cured the servant of a Gentile, and in the Parable of the Good Samaritan taught the obligation of giving help to any one in need.

The hostility of scribes and Pharisees had now become so bitter and so many of his followers had deserted him that it seemed wise for Jesus to leave Galilee for a time.

According to Josephus, Phoenicia embraced the seacoast and plain from Carmel northward. Tyre was about thirty-five miles northwest of the northern end of the Sea of Galilee, and Sidon some twenty-five miles still farther north. Both cities were noted for their commerce, wealth, and luxury.

"And again, departing from the coasts of Tyree and Sidon, he came unto the sea of Galilee, through the midst of the coasts of Decapolis. And they bring unto him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his speech; and they beseeche him to put his hand upon him. And he took him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers into his ears, and spit, and touched his tongue; and looking up to heaven, he sighed, and saith unto him, Ephphatha, that is Be * * opened, and straightway his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain. And he charged them that they should tell no man; but the more he charged them, so much the more a great deal they published it; and were beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well; he maketh both the deaf to hear, and dumb to speak."

"Certainly, giving farm people a square deal is fundamental in any solution, for they keep the wolf from the door of the world and deserve well paid for doing so." —Ruby Green Smith.

Depressions arouse suspicion, prosperity contentment promotes pride.

Historical Sketch of Women's Clubs

Historical sketch of Women's Clubs given by Miss Elizabeth Ewing at meeting of Avon Park Women's club, March 3rd, 1933:

It appears the first Woman's club in Florida was organized at Green Cove Springs under the name of "The Village Improvement Association," and all Green Cove Springs, Feb. 21, 1895, State Federation was accomplished. The State Federation was admitted to the general federation Jan. 25, 1898.

Avon Park club organized September 1919 and was admitted to State Federation in 1921. All the Clubs of Florida have done good local and state work, also their full part in the general federation, fulfilling the state federation's interesting and interesting motto, "In great things, unity, in small things, liberty, in all things, charity."

The Florida federation is divided, but not separated into twelve sections. Avon Park Woman's club is in section nine, of which Mrs. Buford Gum of Lake Wales is vice-president and in touch with the work of the federation. It is the privilege of each club to call their vice-president to talk to them regarding the work to be done during the current year. This privilege should be gratefully used, as team work is essential to the success of project. Leaders are nccessary, and to be a good leader or director, one must first have been a good private or co-worker. Probably all this you well know, but it is well to recall it before considering the subject assigned us for this afternoon which is: "Women's Clubs—birth, object, general federation, and present demands." Birth is accomplished by activity. "Betsy Bim, she was very pure, she bust her outer shell of sin and hatched herself a cherubim." Purity is always active and there is no greater sin than belief in limitation, for all other sins come under this belief. Mrs. Croly had evidently heard about Betsy Bim—and her accomplishment; knew what was in woman, became active, determined to break one phase of limitation, and brought forth the idea of women organizing. The General Federation at Washington has sent us the following interesting fact. It might be well to remember that Mrs. Croly with other women of her mentality were active members of the New York Press. It was prior to March 1868, that the Press Club of New York offered to Mr. Charles Dickens a dinner which was to be given at the close of his tour in this country. The somewhat churlish treatment accorded to Mrs. Croly's application for a ticket, and subsequently, to other ladies who applied for an extension of the same privilege upon the same terms as men, suggested to Mrs. Croly the idea of a club composed of women only, that should manage its own affairs, represent as far as possible the active interests of women, and create a bond of fellowship between them, which many women as well as men, thought at that time would be impossible to establish.

At this period no one of those connected with the undertaking had ever heard of a woman's club or of any secular organization composed entirely of women, for the purpose of bringing all kinds of women together to work out their own objects in their own way. The originator specifically disapproved any specific object, asking only for a representative women's organization based on perfectly equal terms, in which women might acquire methods, learn how to work together for general objects, not for charity or propaganda. This declaration of principles was the cause of much abusive criticism, as well as failure to obtain aid and sympathy. Had Sorosis started to do any one thing, from building an asylum for aged and indigent "females to supplying the natives of Timbuctoo with pocket handkerchiefs, it would have found a public already made. But its attitude was frankly ignorant and inquiring. It laid no claim to wisdom or knowledge that could be of use to anybody. It simply felt the stirring of an insane desire that women should come together, all together, not from one church, or one neighborhood, or one walk of life, but from all quarters, and take counsel together, find the cause of failures and separations, of ignorance and wrong-doing, and try to discover better ways and more intelligent methods." We have together read Mrs. Croly's account of the birth and growth of the first large, happy steps to organize women. Alice Alice Winter says, "It would be a daring person who called any club first." Anyway, it was the Sorosis Club of New York that became known as the "mother of clubs." In 1889, Sorosis was twenty-one years old. At the suggestion of its beloved Jennie June, it was decided as it was a blowy day, to have a kite party. Big kites were provided, and of course, the members had their names on their kites. Some kites soared and rose high, others would not rise, but would fall and stay flopping on the ground, while others broke in the air and were lost. "All Club" meeting the suggested subject for discussion was "the influence exerted on the community." Mrs. Clymer phrased the discussion as being "Unity in Diversity" which has become a general federation slogan. May Wright Sewall, Julia Ward Howe, Charlotte Emerson Brown, Ella Clymer, Caroline June were put on a committee to frame a constitution. A year later Sorosis was again hostess, the federation became a fixed body. California sent three delegates. One from Kansas expressed the hope that the federation might some day meet at Wichita, which brought forth laughter—it was a great stretch of the imagination. In 1892 first biennial was held and the first president, Mrs. Charlotte Emerson Brown beheld with a beating heart a group that felt itself as strong as the world, for were there not present thrnee hundred strong. Mrs. Howe called clubs "resting places for the soul." The needs of this big world began to be felt as one member from somewhere said, "There can be no satisfactory paper on Dante if you have to walk through a purgatory of ugliness and bad smells in your own town." So from literary discussions, the clubs became interested in what is our community doing. First for children, kindergarten, health, conscious character building. To quote, "Are we wise or just plain stupid in the way we deal with the under-privileged child—do we see that he has a chance in a community of homes, or ship him to get rid of him, into influences we would strain every effort to protect our own children. It might be well to remember eternal life is based on two commandments. Love for God and the second is like unto it, namely,"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

Second, women in industry. What are her hours and conditions of labor. What effect upon the motherhood of women, that the next generation may have a chance.

Third, recreation. What we do with the hours when not at work is the test of us—the test of the best of us. Then how essential is well-directed recreation for children. Prof. Stagg, physical director of University of Chicago thirty-two years, is to have this month, another one of many awards for character building through recreational education.

Fourth, preservation of natural treasurers— out doors, parks, forests, birds. The president of Natural Forestry Association wrote, "The appearance of the General Federation of Women's Clubs of the field, was like the appearance of American boys on the battle field in France. It turned the tide of battle. The biggest, best and hoped to be the most fruitful work the Woman's Clubs are now doing is for Peace, world peace, universal peace. To quote from Mrs. Winter again "during the war government discovered women and women discovered government." Growth of good influence and accomplishment made it necessary for the General Federation to change from a bureau at Portsmouth to headquarters at Washington and they did. Mrs. Winter then general federation president, was appointed by President Warren G. Harding to sit on the advisory committee for the conference of limitation of armament. Since then many women have been appointed to serve on many committees and behold, Miss Perkins in the cabinet. It is palpably evident that the federation can do nothing of itself. It is the local club, the individual in the club, the thinking of the individual in the club that is the heart of the work and gives activity and strength to the whole, the federation. What are we doing for our young folks? What are we doing for peace? These are one and the same. Where is our thought? Are we doing our own thinking, or are we permitting it to be done for us. To repeat, are we wise or are we just plain stupid?

In the history of the first club we read, "There can be no satisfactory paper on Dante if you have to walk through a purgatory of ugliness and bad smells in your own town. By the samo token there can be no happiness if we have to spend our time raising flowers to cover the graves of the shot, or be spent to the last cent to care properly for the halt, the maimed and the blind, who have given their all that we may save our skins whole. The wise way out would seem first to uncover the methods of war makers and destroy their methods. Recently, when a bill was submitted to the house to give the President power to stop the shipment of ammunition to fighting countries, the munition manufacturers lobbied for the destruction of the bill, succeeded, and continue to ship all the munitions they can make. At the same time we are at Geneva trying to stop a war by stopping the shipment of arms as well as by sevcrance of diplomatic relations. Recently I was talking with a returned soldier, whose remarks struck me very forcibly, which were as near as I can remember: "We now know the whole unhappy affair was due to hot-headed, so-called statesmen, who finding themselves in a jam, they were either afraid of or were mentally incapable of handling, filled the world with suggestions of war. Many of the girls who came into the mess halls had their faces all scarred and we were told it was the work of the enemy. Now many of us know it was probably done in a rough house, what was not done by a surgeon for effect. Pictures were shown depicting women pinned on buildings with sabers. When we got to the front we talked happily across the dividing line, exchanged cigarettes, and bathed and washed clothes in the same stream, until the command came to shoot, when each would scamper to his place and fire. In the book, "Building the World Society" is the story of how our headquarters demoralized the opposing army by scattering from airplanes the following propaganda called word bullets. Many times supposed letters of German prisoners to their families at home were leafletized and distributed to the enemy. The following is an example of these: "I have just finished cracking nuts, for we receive nuts or cherries for every meal. Our host is glad to have us eat our fill, for when we leave something over he thinks we do not want it, and sometimes it is not possible to eat it all. We have plenty of bread and wine; if he sees we want water he turns and brings wine. From this you can see that I suffer no need. I close in the hope that this letter finds you in the same condition it has left me." "Write the address of your family upon this card and if you are captured by the Americans, give it to the first officer who questions you. He will make it his business to forward it in order that your family will be reassured concerning your welfare." "Do not worry about me. The war is over for me. I have good food. The American army gives its prisoners the same food as its own soldiers; beef, white bread, potatoes, beans, prunes, coffee, butter, tobacco, and so forth." All this was too much for the German soldiers and they deserted to the Allies in numbers. So it was plain hate to our men and sugar coated hate to the enemy, dealt out to make war to end war. You may ask wherein does the education and care of our young folks bear upon the problem of war and peace. Just this: Armies are made up of young folks, and it would seem they are now and really have always been, the victims, of war suggestions of unthinking grownups.

Oh, Liberty, how many sins have been committed in thy name. These days as always the thought is being expressed that young folks generally are wild, reckless and generally inefficient. The answer to this of course is that from the time a child enters this world until he or she is seven years of age, character is really formed. The child is as plastic in the home and to environmental influences is as putty in the hands of an artist. Every conversation at the table, every conversation between neighbors, every business transaction helps do the molding—does or undoes the child for the future, hence a government we have to hate or may enjoy. The overcoming of error or suggestions of the thoughtless is through education.

Examine our histories and discover page upon page devoted to war and what has been acquired by war and little to peaceful, helpful acquiring; when all the extended boundaries of all the ages acquired by war are even to this day disputed, Palestine, Greece, Italy, in fact all of them, and every so often lives paid to maintain as much of the socalled acquired land as possible. In our country we have had controversies settled wisely, without a pound of flesh or a drop of blood, so we know it can be done. The purchase of Florida, Louisiana, New Mexico, California and others. By treaty the border line between Canada and the United States with a park extending into each country for the pleasure and profit of the citizens of both countries. And now the propaganda of poverty would cut down school funds to shut out helpful facts and turn the whole nation over to the suggestion of the reckless for war, this by billboards, munition influenced newspapers and even by radio. The question is, shall we continue to muddle through, or shall we awake and let Truth give us dissolving light on the controversial questions of the day and all the world live in permanent peace. Surely in this great beautiful world of ours, there are those big enough mentally and morally to settle all questions amicably, as they come up, and surely each citizen, though he may be without a family of his own, think clearly enough and love enough to protect the children of his generation by allowing them to develop in God's way—true Democracy. Through the National Council for Prevention of War comes the following: "President-elect Roosevelt is understood on unimpeachable authority to feel that the peace movement in this country has lost ground the past ten years." Mr. Roosevelt has had many important questions to consider and can hardly be expected to know what all the people feel on all the questions, one of which is evidently the question of war. This postcard which you all may see, can easily be obtained and sent forward that as our President, Mr. Roosevelt, may know what is in the heart of woman, with the request that women be permitted to help him accomplish peace—world peace.

Will Wage Further Fight Against the Arsenic Spray Law

Tallahassee, March 29.—"The arsenical spray law promises to become a target for legislative sharpshooting in the coming session of the legislature," says Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo.

"I wish my position in this matter to be made clear," the commissioner told newspaper men. He emphatically denied that he had had a change of heart on the arsenic question.

"I have always believed, and I still believe," he said, "that the use of arsenic on citrus fruit is a dangerous thing. I am not convinced that the use of arsenic improves the quality of our citrus fruit and I know that should the use of arsenic be legalized in Florida that fact would be seized upon by our competitors to do us untold damage in our markets."

State chemist J. J. Taylor concurred with Commissioner Mayo and said: "The use of arsenic and a great many other poisons are being frowned upon and in some cases actually prohibited by the Federal government at this time.

"Lead, which is usually part of the compound of arsenic used on citrus is prohibited by the Federal government in any quantity on fruits and vegetables shipped in inter-state commerce. Health authorities everywhere are becoming aroused over the menace to public health of the continued use of arsenic."

"As Commissioner of Agriculture," Mr. Mayo states, "it is my duty to enforce the laws, not to make them. Such laws as the legislature in its wisdom sees fit to enact into statutes, I will endeavor to enforce to the best of my ability but I feel it my duty to warn growers, who believe as I do that the use of arsenic is a menace to the citrus industry, that if they wish the present arsenic law to stand they must stand behind it and make their position known in no uncertain terms."

AGRICULTURAL CUTS IN BUDGET ARE CONDEMNED

States Farm Service Agencies Are Facing Ruin Under Plan

Tampa, March 29.—Farm service agencies of the state would be wrecked in several instances if the legislature accepts the recommendations made by the budget commission, the Florida Grower, agricultural magazine published here, points out in its current issue. Research work of the experiment stations would have to be almost wholly suspended and the plant board could not carry on the inspection service which avoids quarantines against Florida products, under the limited appropriations.

Entirely eliminated would be the agricultural extension service, including state aid for the county farm and home demonstration agents system, if the budget body proposals prevail, it further is shown. Other work heretofore carried on for the benefit of rural people that also would be wiped out includes the teaching of agriculture and home economics in the public schools and the national egg-laying contest at Chipley.

Cattle tick eradication would be materially delayed in completion under provisions in the budget commission report requiring the live stock sanitary board to spend for different purposes a part of the proceeds from the half mill tax levy made exclusively for support of the fight on the tick. Service of the marketing bureau also would need to be curtailed, if the recommendations are approved by the legislature.

Savings that the budget commission claims would be effected on other items of state outlay will be found more apparent than real if the report goes through, the magazine asserts, since comparisons have been made with the appropriations of the 1931 legislature rather than with actual expenditures in the past two years. In almost every case, it appears, the amounts spent were substantially smaller.

Omission from the budget figures of the proposed disbursements for the road department, aid to counties for public schools and payments on county bonded debts is called attention to as rendering the report incomplete and misleading. These three items may require as much as $25,000,000, judging from past experience, or nearly twice the sum accounted for in the recommendations for other expenses.

Charges made by the magazine that the budgetary body has been grossly unfair to farmers and growers in its findings are supported by figures showing that the group of agencies particularly of value to them would be cut 65.5 percent in appropriations if the report is adopted, whereas on all the remaining items included in the budget report the proposed reduction would be equal only to 18 percent.

Economies that would be the result of the budget recommendations, even taking the figures of the commission as correct, amount to $4,205,829 on $17,897,519 leaving $13,691,690. Of this claimed saving, $1,370,149 would be made on agricultural items, cutting these from $2,089,510 to $719,361. All remaining agencies would be reduced only from $15,808,809 to $12,-972,329, or but $2,835,680.

Departments headed by the seven members of the commission would be increased, it is disclosed, from $963,220 to $1,128,884, or 17.2 percent. The governor's salary would remain $9,000 a year and $6,000 each still would be drawn by the attorney-general, comptroller, commissioner of agriculture, secretary of state and treasurer, with the superintendent of public instruction cut to $4,800.

"Florida farmers and growers will be found little disposed to permit sacrifice of the state farm service activities on altars at Tallahassee erected in the name of economy," editorially it is commented. "They hardly can be expected to meekly march like lambs to the slaughter of indispensable agencies proposed by the budget commission.

"Acceptance by them of the conclusions reached in the report would be equivalent to admission that the agricultural interests deserve to be made the 'goats' in the adjustment of the fiscal situation at Tallahassee.

"Cuts in appropriations for all government they recognize as essential. Gladly they will forego a fair share of the benefits that the savings may be effected.

"They will not, however, accept as fair the budget commission proposals to slash farm service nearly four times as much in proportion as other activities."

"QUALIFIED"

The word, "QUALIFIED" has been forced into prominence more during the past twenty-five days than perhaps ever before.

The President's Proclamation, declaring a bank holiday, little affected the attitude of our more thoughtful depositors.

They knew THEN, as they know now, that the "BARNETT" was qualified to handle their business.

Field Trips Are To Feature Meeting at Lake Wales In April

Field trips and demonstrations will be a feature of the 46th annual meeting of the Florida State Horticultural Society which will meet in Lake Wales on April 11, 12 and 13th.

On Wednesday a motorcade of members will visit four or five groves to observe irrigation demonstrations, including both flooding and sprinkling methods, two of the latter being of the movable type.

Thursday morning a meeting will be held for those especially interested in sub-tropical horticulture, separate from regular session.

On Thursday afternoon a spraying demonstration will be given by the Mountain Lake Corporation showing the rapid type spraying method which has so materially reduced their spraying charges. The subject of the bulge-pack will be thoroughly debated during the convention, as well as the much discussed question of the advisability of hastening the maturity of fruit.

On Thursday afternoon there will be a talk on the best method to top work citrus trees, after which there will be a motorcade ending at the Singing Tower where bellmaster Brees will give a concert dedicated to the horticultural Society.

The Florida Rose Society will hold a rose show in the Dixie-Walesbilt Hotel on Wednesday for which valuable prizes will be given, entries being received up to 10 o'clock Wednesday and the exhibit continuing until Thursday night. The annual meeting of the Florida Rose Society will be held in the Dixie-Walesbilt Hotel Wednesday afternoon.

The ladies who attend the convention will be especially entertained by the Lake Wales Garden Club. Wednesday and Thursday mornings will be spent in visiting beautiful gardens and estates in the vicinity. After the concert on Thursday afternoon there will be a garden party and tea, and other affairs are being planned.

Clean land for growing chicks means land on which chickens have not run, and no poultry manure has been spread, for at least a year. Worms often live in the soil that long.

Carriers Protest Load Weight Limit

Tallahassee, March 30.—A recent ruling of the Florida Railroad Commission, which, permits common carriers to haul a gross weight of 22,000 pounds over Florida highways, while private carriers are limited to only 20,000 pounds, has brought considerable protest from those who feel this discrimination is unjustified.

"It is evident," said Lewis G. Thompson secretary of the Commission, "that the position of the Railroad Commission is not generally understood by the public.

"Gross weight limit for vehicles on Florida highways was set by the legislature at 16,000 pounds with a 10 percent over weight allowance, or maximum load of 20,000 pounds. All private operators are bound by this statute and the Railroad Commission has no jurisdiction over any but common carriers, and therefore does not have the authority to grant permission for hauling loads in excess of this amount to any but common carriers which have been placed under the regulations of the Railroad Commission," Thompson said.

The controversy was brought about by the fact that the Commission's ruling directly conflicts with the state law effecting the weight allowance on Florida highways. It is expected that a rehearing will be asked.

W. B. Douglas, newly elected Railroad Commissioner, expressed the view that a weight limit applicable to all should apply. He said, "In 1921 legislative action set a 16,000 pound limit for trucks on Florida highways. I believe this law to be correct, as excess weight will cause greater wear and tear on our roads and I realize as does every other citizen of Florida, that there is no money in the treasury for highway rebuilding. I believe that this limit weight of 16,000 pounds should apply generally instead of the discriminating schedule now in force.
