AVON PARK, FLORIDA, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1933.

COUNCILMEN HAD LENGTHY MEET TUESDAY NIGHT

Light Plant, Tax Settlements and Voters' Qualifications Were Discussed

One of the liveliest and longest sessions of the Avon Park city council was that of Tuesday night. Besides the long fight put up by Councilman Ed DeLaney against the resolution depriving the mayor of the power to sign city warrants and which is reported in another story several other matters of interest were aired, including the proposed municipal light and water plant.

The light and water plant question came up when City Clerk Shockley stated that a Charles Carrell Brown, former city engineer at Lakeland, had called in reference to the proposition and expressed the opinion that the present plant of the Florida Public Service Company might not be a factor against securing a federal loan to build a city plant if the service could be improved. The city clerk also stated that George A. Main with regard to the proposed survey which his firm, Main and Ahearn, was to make for the city.

Chairman Pendleton thought the city could get federal money and warmly extolled the virtues of a city owned light and water plant and said it should be built even if the rates would be twice those now charged by the utility company. The city clerk was of the opinion an application could be made to Washington without cost to the city and he was instructed to get in touch with Main and Ahearn and submit a proposition on the basis of no loan, no pay for their services.

It will be remembered that a contract was signed with Main and Ahearn for a survey of the city in respect to a light and water plant and which contract called for a payment of $1,200 by the city. This was hotly contested at the later council meeting and the matter held in abeyance until again brought up at the meeting Tuesday night.

Of importance as affecting the forthcoming city election was the question as to the last day to pay poll tax and the time for the residents in the territory now in the city but which will be outside after the first of the year, to vote. The city attorney asked for his opinion and said he believed poll taxes could be paid anytime before voting. As to the "outside" residents voting, DeLaney said he did not think they could but would go into the matter and report later.

The settlement of taxes in the outside territory was also discussed with the city attorney asking authority to negotiate for taxes to be paid in bonds with any court costs to be paid in cash. This came up when the city attorney made some settlements in litigation had been made on a compromise basis but no receipts issued. The auditor disagreed with this method and said receipts should be issued. The city attorney claimed the receipts so issued would not coincide with the tax rolls as the settlements were a compromise for all taxes in arrears and made under protest pending settlement of the quo warranto suit now pending. The issuance of receipts was left up to the city attorney to handle with the auditor, Gilbert Lester.

The city attorney reported the filing of another alternate writ of mandamus against the city in circuit court. This suit was brought by the State of Florida and co-relators Charles B. Pettitman, A. B. Moore, M. L. Farley, H. C. Brown and J. Howard Paine as trustees of the Southern Title and Trust Co. The suit seeks a levy to take care of a judgment of $9,724.68 and costs in regard to bonds and the city attorney asked authority to accept service for the city, claiming such action would save the city sharing fees. This was granted.

K. M. Melton, local manager of the Florida Public Service Company, reported settlement of taxes for his company. He said his company would pay $4,192.21 in cash now but that $4,192.21 be applied on the open account now owing by the city and the balance to be applied on the balance of the city's account. This was approved by the council on November 10.

Mayor Covington Compliments Youth of Avon Park

To the Youth of Avon Park.

My Dear Friends: I should like to express publicly, as Mayor of Avon Park, my appreciation of your attitude and actions during the Halloween season. On all sides I have heard a similar expression of appreciation. We are proud to know that the youth of our city can have a good time without damaging property, endangering life, and acting as hoodlums.

Knowing what has happened here in years past, and reading with alarm of what happens in some Florida towns at Halloween, I took the precaution of adding extra police to the force and providing guards for the Mall. I wish to congratulate the police department on the efficient manner in which they carried out their patrol of the town, and I am proud to point out that they were not called upon to handle one single case of property damage because our young people conducted themselves in such a splendid manner.

M. E. COVINGTON, Mayor.

To Form New Relief Body

Avon Park Branch of the Woman's Crusade to Be Organized

Organization of the Woman's Crusade to be organized in the immediate future is expected in the Avon Park territory, according to Mrs. G. P. Thayer. The Woman's Crusade, originally suggested by Mrs. Frank B. Hood and sponsored by the Woman's clubs of the nation is for the purpose of informing citizens of the many sided welfare needs in the community and of the organizations prepared to meet these needs.

All women's organizations in the community will be asked to take part in the crusade and representatives will be called to meet sometime next week to perfect an organization for Avon Park.

In speaking of some of the aims and purposes of the crusade, Mrs. Thayer said:

"Many people think of our welfare needs as relief needs only, and believe that the government is providing for most of them. The fact is that public relief funds are limited in the main to a minimum of food, fuel, clothing and shelter with some medical service, to persons in need primarily because of unemployment."

"There are many other needs, such as hospital and nursing care; personal advice in times of deep trouble; a home for the aged; when a husband deserts his wife, when a mental breakdown is feared, when a helpless older person is left unprotected; and special guidance in finding work or in finding friends and a wholesome atmosphere for recreation."

"When a home is not adequate to supply all these needs the community through its generous citizens, established and new, is left unprotected; and special guidance in finding work or in finding friends and a wholesome atmosphere for recreation."

The Home Owners Loan Corporation announced that from the time the corporation was established to October 27, a total of 186 foreclosures had been foreclosed on Florida.

A total of 4,664 loans amounting to $9,568,606 have been approved in the state and 127 loans representing a total of $2,461,469 have been closed.

Dance Saturday Night An Armistice Day dance is scheduled for tomorrow night at the Brickell building under the auspices of the R. O. C. A. very enjoyable time is promised to all who attend.

TO ALLOW USUAL DISCOUNTS FOR TAX PAYMENTS

Usual 4% To Be Allowed For 30 Days After Completion of Rolls

County Attorney T. A. McNichols received a telegram from Comptroller Lee Tinsley authorizing the county to continue the allowance of four percent discount on taxes for 30 days after the completion of the tax roll, which means that the discount will be allowed up to the first of the year, as the tax roll will probably not be completed before December 1.

The county commissioners passed the following resolution at their regular meeting Tuesday:

"Whereas, on account of the unsettled condition of the law concerning the passage of legislation in the past legislative session, the tax assessor was unable to complete the tax roll before November 15, 1933,

"And whereas, on account of a mandamus action against the county the completion of said roll was further delayed and will not be completed until shortly before December 15, 1933;

"Therefore, be it resolved, by the Board of County Commissioners of Highland county, that the regular four percent discount for the payment of taxes made during the month of November be and the same is continued for 30 days after delivery of the tax roll to the collector; and the tax collector is hereby authorized and empowered to allow said discount for taxes collected during said time."

Judge Revokes Suspended Sentence

J. H. Brown, Jr., of Waukegan, will have to spend two years in the penitentiary at Raiford. Following a plea of guilty to a charge of larceny of an automobile at the circuit court at Sebring a year ago Brown was given a suspended sentence to which he was suspended during his good behavior. This suspension was revoked this week by Judge W. J. Barker and Sheriff Deputy Schumacher ordered to arrest Brown and the original sentence carried out.

Proclamation

Whereas, during the World War, Avon Park patriotically contributed and sent to the front many of its sons, some of whom never returned, and whereas, on the 11th day of this month, fifteen years ago, the Armistice was signed and war suddenly ceased its toll of suffering and bloodshed, and quiet reigned on the Western Front;

Now, therefore, I, as Mayor of the City of Avon Park, do proclaim it the duty of every citizen to reverently memorialize the cessation of arms and the advent of peace in recognition of the services of those who offered their lives and particularly of those who made the supreme sacrifice, and further, I do urgently recommend that all citizens remain reverently quiet for one minute when the siren ceases its signal at 11 o'clock on Saturday morning, November 11, 1933, the fifteenth anniversary of declaration of the Armistice and the resumption of good will.

Done at the City Hall in the City of Avon Park, Florida this 8th day of November, 1933.

Push Projects on State Roads

More Than $750,000 To Be Spent On State Road Building Program

Tallahassee, Nov. 8.—With additional road equipment running into position in a half dozen different sections as a result of action taken by the State Road department on bids within the last two weeks, announcement has been made here by C. B. Treadway, chairman of the department, that he will open bids on more projects November 15.

The new projects call for an overhead bridge at Mt. Dora on Road No. 2, 4.75 miles of surface treated highway in Santa Rosa county, a bridge over the Hillsborough River in Hillsborough county and the completion of the Rutland bridge over the Wilfredo river in Citrus county.

The department is also asking for bids for resurfacing a stretch of the Tamiami Trail in Duval county and for material for construction road work in Sumter county.

Early this week the department accepted low bids on projects in Hillsborough, Pasco, Hernando, Sumter, Putnam and Jackson counties along with bids for materials and road building supplies.

C. B. Treadway during the last week has been receiving congratulations for having pushed Florida to the top of the list of 10 southern states in percentage of National Recovery Road program. At the time the figures were compiled, Florida ranked third in the nation, approximately 40 percent of the money allotted the road department by the Federal government. Since then, the department has accepted and asked for bids which will total more than $750,000.

As early as last September, Mr. Treadway predicted the road building program in Florida, so far as the National Recovery program was concerned, would reach its full swing by December 1. The way in which men are being put to work in practically every section of the state indicates how well the chairman of the department knew what he was talking about.

Commissioners Hear Report On Arbuckle Clearing

S. P. Durranne, in charge of the work of clearing the channel of Arbuckle Creek, reported to the county commissioners at the regular meeting Tuesday on the progress to date. Considerable delay has been caused by the recent storm, he said, and some willows and bushes along the banks had been loosened and fallen into the stream causing a great deal more work. Considerable more hyacinths had to be removed also and some work devised to prevent them coming in from Lake Arbuckle. Mr. Durranne said if nothing further occurred to delay the work, he should be finished in about two weeks.

Clerk W. Z. Carson reported the state had refused to pay the $25 a day fee for the ballistic expert during the Hood trial. Mr. Carson said he was authorized to pay this by States Attorney L. Grady Burton and now referred this to the commissioners. He was advised to take this up with Mr. Burton today when he arrives for the Fall term of court.

Fairey Spoke To Rotarians

American Legion and Education Subject of High School Principal

R. T. Fairey, supervising principal of the Avon Park schools was the chief speaker at the Rotarian club luncheon Wednesday afternoon. This being National Education Week with the American Legion, Prof. Fairey, who is also commander of the Highlands Post of the Legion, devoted himself to the subject of the Legion and Education. The speaker quoted figures showing the current expenses for schools in the state and then quoted Paul V. McNutt, governor of the state of Indiana and Past National Commander of the American Legion. Gov. McNutt said he was the guest of the 48th annual session of the Florida Education Association at Tampa on December 29, and Prof. Fairey quoted him as saying:

"There are certain obligations which the state cannot deny even in periods of greatest stress, the care of its wards and the education of its children. In the one, the obligation runs to the unfortunate themselves. In the other, the obligation runs to society as a whole."

"Children are born and grow up in periods of depression as well as in periods of prosperity. It is impossible to arrest their development. They have but one chance, which cannot be postponed. The roads and the buildings can wait, but the children cannot and the children will not in the State of Indiana."

"Whether the child is in the hovel in the city or in the backwoods, the birthright of that child is equality of opportunity. It is the duty of the state to protect that birthright which is the basis of all larger progress."

Visitors at the luncheon were J. M. Stephenson of Sebring and C. K. Dodd of Punta Gorda. E. E. Melton presided in the absence of Dr. D. G. Perry, president.

Special Program at Congregational Sunday School

It is also planned to have programs furnished by the music department from Tampa, St. Petersburg, Rollins College, Stetson University. It is also possible that the University of Florida Glee Club will return to Avon Park this year. Mr. Alden Smith, baritone, will also give a program during the Christmas holidays.

COUNCIL TAKES MAYOR'S POWER TO SIGN CHECKS

DeLaney Fights Resolution and Finds Audit Is Not Completed

"Battling" Ed DeLaney waged a valiant but losing fight against the full faction of the city council at the regular meeting Tuesday night. There was a barrage of words and argument and the discussion was hot on both sides and started with the introduction of a resolution by Councilman Masters, said to be the city attorney's man "Friday."

This resolution, apparently written by the city attorney, diverted the mayor of the power to sign checks for the city and placed the function in the hands of the president or acting president of the council. The resolution charged that Marcus E. Covington, mayor of the city of Avon Park, had refused to sign checks issued by the city in payment of contracts made and authorized by the city council of the said city and further charged that such refusal has hampered the administration of city affairs during the entire incumbency of his office by the said mayor. The resolution in all it was found nowhere in this issue of the Times.

The resolution was occasioned by the mayor's refusal to sign a check for $200 for Gilbert Lester as part payment for the audit being made by him. The mayor has been accused of trying to "suppress" this audit but it was clearly shown by City Clerk Shockley that all that is ready at present is a balance sheet and a statement of city operations for the year ending September 30. The audit proper will include the months of October, November and December and will not be ready until the new year.

After the reading of the resolution, a motion was made by Councilman Ford seconded. DeLaney demanded a roll call vote and when it finally came to that DeLaney, Masters and Ford voted yes, and DeLaney no. It was stated that Lester refused to turn over the completed portion until he received a payment on account. DeLaney asked as to what understanding was had when Lester was hired, as he had never made such a request before and should not do so now.

The city attorney said it was a foregone conclusion that Lester would audit the books and Shockley had made the arrangements for the work to be done. DeLaney contended that the audit had been advertised for, as in previous years and Pardee claimed bids did not apply to personal services. DeLaney said the audit was not to be advertised for, but was to be for the public before the election. The people demand the audit, he said and was fed up with the talk about it. He also complained about alleged charges made against him and about what he said the people were saying on the streets.

DeLaney countered with the statement that he, DeLaney, had been accused behind closed doors and at meetings to which he would have been denied admittance if he had tried to get in. He said he had been "put on the spot" regarding the poll tax ordinance and had never been given a chance to refute the charges.

Undeterred by the statement he never regretted anything he had done while on the council and he would do the same things over again.

DeLaney demanded to know why an audit for was not made when the audit was discussed. He said he understood Lester was to help the city clerk close the books for the fiscal year, and there is a great deal of difference between closing books and an audit. Shockley agreed there must be an audit in order to close the books.

DeLaney then asked Pardee when he turned in his September and August reports and Shockley broke in to say "Lester is here." DeLaney then said that an auditor's report he had heard of never came, but DeLaney contradicted himself. Pardee denied this and asked what auditor was referred to.

Then came an argument on business transacted behind closed doors. Ford said he had been asked about this and denied it had ever come up. DeLaney contradicted himself. Pardee denied this and asked what auditor was referred to.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

I don't know about the rest of you folks, but I want to take my hat off to this little guy Pecora. When it comes to woolfin' and puffin' and blowin' straw-nest down, he's a wow.

While the rest of us poor saps been payin' our money for a seat in the gallery and been sittin' with our eyes poppin' out while guys like Wiggins guessed which card we was thinkin' about or pulled rabbits out of a hat, Pecora steps up on the stage and says: "Oh Yeah! What about that ace up your sleeve and the false bottom in that stove-pipe Kelly?"

Now if Camel cigarettes want some genuine human interest material for that "It's fun to be fooled" series of advertisements, they ought to hire Pecora to write copy for 'em.

We can kid and wise-crack about it all we like, but take it from me, it isn't funny. Maybe he knows it and maybe he don't, but right now Mr. Pecora is doin' a "Hand written on the wall" act and a hundred and twenty million people are standin' around in a daze trying to dope out just what it means.

Our forefathers drafted a Constitution which guaranteed all men the rights to "Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," but unfortunately a few greedy selfish individuals have interpreted it "High life, unbridled Liberty and the pursuit of unlimited wealth."

This would be a mighty good time for a few folks in this country to get a copy of Mr. Aesop's Fables and read that yarn about the dog in the manger. Then they might try thumbin' their Bible and read about the fox in the manger, the money changer in the Temple, and ponder over such passages as "Am I my brother's keeper?" — "Do unto others" etcetera.

"I see a crisis approaching that unnerves me, and causes me to tremble for the safety of this country. Corruptions have been entrenched, and an era of corruption in high places will follow, and the money power of the country will endeavor to prolong its reign by working upon the prejudices of the people until all the wealth is aggregated in a few hands and the republic is destroyed. I feel at this moment more anxiety for the safety of our country than ever before. God grant my forebodings are groundless."

The above solemn prophecy and warning was spoken not yesterday or the day before, but 72 years ago by Abraham Lincoln in his message to Congress in 1861.

And later another great President, Woodrow Wilson, warned us in these words: "You must put the credit of this country at the disposal of everybody on equal terms. . . . the banking system of this country does not need to be indicted. . . . it is convicted. We must see that the business of the United States is set absolutely free of every feature of monopoly. . . . unless you feel that way the thing is not going to happen except by duress, the worst way to bring anything about."

In Washington today another great President is fighting to bring about a redistribution of wealth, to lift this nation out of the slough of depression and place it on the path to progress and prosperity. It is a Herculean task. The problem of a "new deal" with the same old deck of "marked cards" is difficult. The bulk of the chips are still stacked on one side of the table, but we are getting better hands right along so keep your courage up and don't let the bankers or the money power or anybody else try to cut the cards when you aren't lookin'.

Despite protests made to the state road department by bus companies, auto owners associations and individuals nothing can be done to prevent livestock from roaming the highways of the state, it is announced by C. B. Treadway, chairman of the road department. There is no general law in the state to force cattle owners to keep their livestock from the highways. There are, however, several counties where by special act of the legislature, regulations have been established to control herds. In the cattle raising sections the cow is a privileged character, and like the heifer that caused Rome to be founded, can make her bed wherever the sleepman finds her—if it is in the middle of a paved highway the liability rests entirely with the motorist if he kills her and some of his own family. Motorists coming into Florida to enjoy the tropical winter days are advised to use extreme caution in driving at night. The cow is always right—Lake Wales News.

Random Jottings....

To Mothers and Sons and Daughters: The American people, you mothers among them, have been given the opportunity of expressing your view in regard to prohibition as operating under the 18th Amendment and the enabling Volstead Act. You have decided that it will not produce the results desired and promised. However, there are many of you who will feel keen disappointment on this outcome. You mothers have not been able to agree on the matter of how temperance can be enforced by threats of hell fire. It leaves them cold. You can agree, however, on the fundamental principle that temperance in all things, is desirable. That must be generated in the HOME. Moderation is more easily CAUGHT than TAUGHT.

If you are a mother who believes that moderation in drinking is no more important than moderation in other things, see to it that you set the example to your children yourself. You are one of those who has admitted that you cannot expect the government to legislate your child into that proper mental attitude which produces moderation in all things.

If you are a mother who believes that drink in and of itself is a vicious evil, remember that your child cannot be bottled up in the mental ideas of home alone. He comes into contact with opinions widely different from yours. Be sure that if you would instill ideas and ideals of temperance, learn to be moderate in your attitude. Youth is above all things critical. Youth is rarely fanatical. Fanaticism usually comes with the hardening of the mental arteries of middle life.

Sanity, breadth of view, a proper example, a readiness to understand and sympathize with the problems of your children will produce the results in your sons and daughters that you really desire.

Don't lose contact with your child by ruining his respect for you through your own lack of moderation and temperance in all things. Don't lose contact with your child by being so fanatical that he is driven to dishonesty in his dealings with you, or is slightly ashamed of your violent opinions on a matter that is bound to be, with him, an open question.

The transition period of the next few years will be fraught with danger. Danger that can be largely mitigated and avoided if you Mothers of Sons and Daughters will be moderate in all things.

The attitude towards Armistice Day this year seems to be one of renewed thoughtfulness and solemnity. News from all over the country indicates. Too many of us, during the dark years of the depression, seized at any possible excuse for a holiday of selfish pleasures seeking, and Armistice Day has been in that category, much to our own loss. After all, the holiday is a contraction of "holy day." It is well that we are beginning to breathe a little of that idea into our Armistice Day observances. For instance, just one among many, the women of the Anglican church throughout the world are observing, so one of them tells me, this coming Armistice Day as a day of prayer for World Peace. Mothers who gave up sons and children who gave up husbands and fathers on the altar of their country's honor, will welcome this return to the fitting observance of a day that to them will always be a "holy day."

The turn-out last week for the meeting at the school house which was to have been the beginning of a big "Improve-Avon-Park" movement was disappointing enough. Those there were well aware that the handful of forty-odd was not entirely a result of the inclement weather. We have long deplored the fact of our lack of public spirit, of which this was but another evidence. However, Dr. Davidson is not the type to be overcome by one discouragement. Like his fellow-countryman, King Robert Bruce, he will try again.

We note in passing: With some consternation, that two French scientists have discovered a new poison gas which is so deadly that it will penetrate any gas mask. They declare they will not reveal their discovery to anyone, unless the French government, unless their country is attacked.

With mild amusement, that Lindbergh went back on his recent visit to London and attempted disguise with very dark glasses and a cap pulled far down on his face. It didn't work.

In lighter vein: This is no joke, unless you have that kind of sense of humor. Women have given a new impetus to the tattooing business on the Continent. Tattooists are now doing a swift business in giving women permanent peach-bloom complexion, eye shadows and cupid-bow mouths. Some men at least will probably appreciate a mouth that will not come off.

A suggestion of the city attorney and Attorney Fax Hawkins was hired to defend the council in the recall election suit. Masters thought it would be better if more meetings were held behind closed doors.

The argument then cooled down and the vote was taken on the resolution of Masters.

"Another Language" Featured at Avon

If you have ever had family troubles you will want to see "Another Language," the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature at the Avon Theatre Sunday and Monday with Helen Hayes and Robert Montgomery co-starring.

Miss Hayes, as the young wife who finds herself smothered by her husband's family, gives the most moving performance of her career. Her spirited denunciation of the Hallams, one and all, is by far the finest scene this reviewer has seen in many a month. It is worth standing up and cheering.

Montgomery, as the ineffectual husband who finds his backbone in the right place when he springs to his wife's defense, is excellent. His portrayal of the part of Vickie will be remembered when some of his more flippant roles have long since been forgotten.

Louise Dresser Hale is the selfish mother and John Beal repeats his brilliant stage performance in the role of Jerry.

On Tuesday and Wednesday a grand entertainment bargain will be offered. The program will consist of two feature pictures. Instead of one and a quarter. Night prices will prevail. Two people will be admitted for the price of one. The features to be shown are "She Had to Say Yes," with Loretta Young, Winnie Lightner, Lyle Talbot and Regis Toomey and "Devil's Mate" starring Preston Foster and Peggy Shannon.

The management is expecting a cash crowd during the showing of this program.

H. M. Johnson, manager of the Avon theatre announced yesterday that a number of the latest hits will soon be shown here. Specific mention was made of "Gold Diggers of 1933," "Footlight Parade," "It's No Angel," Maurice Chevalier in "The Way to Love," Marlene Dietrich in "Song of Songs," "Torch Singer," and "Take A Chance."

Three Schools Open In County This Week

The county board of public instruction Tuesday authorized the employment of emergency teachers at Sunland, Venus and Cornwell and a bus driver at Venus, the salaries to be paid for by emergency relief funds. These schools started this week. Sunland with an enrollment of 68 and about 10 or 12 more expected. Cornwell had 15 pupils and Venus 68.

Planting Truck Crops.

Chile, Nov. 8.—About 150 acres of cucumbers are now being harvested in Washington county, and close to 2000 acres of cabbage for the early spring market will be planted soon, reports County Agent Gus York. These crops were planted all over the county after the county agent and leading farmers staged a campaign in which the acreage was signed up. They were planted as cash crops, but the food they will furnish will be considerable, since farmers in every community have a small acreage.

Avon Park Churches Conduct Census of All Families Here

During the two weeks, from November 6 to 19, the churches of Avon Park are cooperating in a census, to learn the church and Sunday school connection, or preference, of all families in the community. This is done especially to learn of any new residents recently arrived, in order that they may be visited and welcomed by the church which they have attended elsewhere, and that all children may be invited to Sunday school. It is a definite friendly evidence of interest in non-church-goers by the religious organizations of the town. Such a gathering of statistics has not been made in Avon Park for several years, and to be of value the information should be brought up to date.

During this fortnight some representative of the churches will call at every home, and all residents are requested to cooperate with this neighborly work by giving the information desired in answer to the few questions asked them. The totals of the census will be of interest to everyone in Avon Park, and will be published as soon as secured and tabulated.

"POPEY'S TIME"

By DR. WILLIAM F. SCHOLZ

With the growing knowledge of hypertension and its significance in the ranks of the medical profession has come an increasing interest in the subject on the part of the public. And, as usual, the incomplete information most people have been given regarding the topic has given rise to many misconceptions, some of them as humorous as they are unfounded.

What Blood Pressure Signifies

Everyone has blood pressure—a certain normal degree. By blood pressure is meant the tension exerted upon the walls of an artery by the column of blood within the vessel. When this tension is too high or too low, for reasons presently to be given, then it becomes a symptom of disease and a menace to the life and well-being of the organism. The blood pressure is divisible into three phases: diastolic, systolic, pulse. The diastolic pressure is the tension inside the arteries during the instant the heart is resting between beats and which it must overcome by its contractile force before the blood will begin to circulate. The systolic pressure is the tension in the vessels at each contraction of the heart during which time a fresh volume of blood is driven into the arteries. The pulse pressure is the difference between the diastolic and systolic, and represents the power of the heart over and above the diastolic pressure.

Causes of High Blood Pressure

The causes of hypertension are numerous and various. In general terms whatever increases the force of the heart's action and reduces the elasticity of the vessels leads to high blood pressure and all so-called causes of hypertension come under one of these two heads.

Perhaps one of the commonest causes is overeating. Since the organism has a limited capacity for digesting and assimilating food, exceeding this limit leaves a certain amount of toxic residue. These toxins are highly irritating in addition to placing an extra load on the heart, liver and kidneys. It follows that reduction in the amount of food eaten is the proper remedy in such cases.

Alcoholic drinks stimulate the heart and lead the blood with toxins not only of the alcohol itself but of food toxins which are a result of repression of the digestive process. It should be cut out.

No Deer Or Turkey Hunting In Collier County This Season

Tallahassee, Nov. 9.—(FNS)—Conservation Commissioner George W. Davis announced today that Collier county would be closed this season to the taking of deer and wild turkey but that quail may be taken legally from November 20 to January 15.

Mr. Davis said that under a recent ruling from the Attorney General's office a special act governing Collier county had been held valid and in effect.

The Commissioner asserted that he would have no other alternative than to enforce the law. He said he had instructed his agents to arrest all persons who violated provisions of the special act.

The act in addition to closing Collier county in its entirety to the taking of deer and wild turkey also provided that fur bearing animals were to be taken from November 20 to February 15 only. The act provided that no game animals, birds, or fur bearing animals were to be taken from any State or Federal breeding ground, sanctuary, or other protected territory.

Florida Counties Truck Producers

Tampa, Nov. 9.—(FNS)—Five counties in the State of Florida rank among the 50 principal vegetable producing counties in the United States, according to a statement of the United States department of commerce.

The counties are Dade, Marion, Palm Beach, Alachua and Broward. The total acreage in the five Florida counties was shown to be 61,071 acres and the value of the vegetable crops was placed at $6,872,622.

The department of commerce based its figures on the census of 1930 which did not include potatoes, sweet potatoes and vegetables grown under glass.

Hints for the Household

Bridge is not the complicated game it used to be and with the right partner it is very fascinating. Moreover, suitable served are of the lightest—coffee and cake or sandwiches, lemonade and cookies, a salad and wafers or ice cream and cake, make the most appropriate refreshments. I have had ginger ale and crackers after an evening at cards.

Usually a dish of nuts or small candies stand on the card table. Expensive prizes are also taboo. Handkerchiefs, decks of cards, worn pads and such are given in place of former expensive articles.

Candy Dish
A cute little colored glass dish, with a frog to hold flowers, filled with small gum drops in a variety of colors was the prize at a bridge party I attended. When empty of candy and artificial flowers stuck in the frog, it was an attractive flower holder.

RECIPES

Squash Pie Filling
2 1/2 cups sieved cooked squash
3/4 cup of sugar
2 eggs
1 cup of milk
1/2 teaspoonful of salt
1 teaspoonful cinnamon
1/4 teaspoonful of ginger
Mix and fill pan lined with ungreased crust and bake.

DO YOU KNOW THAT:
1. Rugs and carpets ought to be swept the way of the nap?

2. A new rug ought to be cleaned only with a broom for at least six months?

3. Heavy pieces of furniture ought not to stand on fine rugs because the marks left by them are almost impossible to eradicate?
4. A little vinegar in the water in which eggs are boiled will prevent the white from looking out?

5. You should always scrub men's soft collars with a stiff brush in laundering?
6. Ivory piano keys are kept white by cleaning with alcohol?

Treadway Advises Counties and Cities On Federal Funds

Tallahassee, Nov. 8.—(FNS)—C. R. Treadway, chairman of the state advisory council of the public works administration, has urged cities and counties hoping to secure allotment from the Public Works fund to submit their applications to the state advisory council with the least possible delay.

Chairman Treadway pointed out that communities would be eligible for a federal grant of 50 percent of cost of labor and materials, which amount is an outright gift by the government.

Applications for small loans are especially solicited and such applications usually can be approved quickly as they do not involve the more lengthy procedure called for by loans to be carried over a long period of years. It is a mistaken idea that the public works administration does not care to bother with small projects, Treadway said.

Patrons of Schools From Out of State Must Buy Auto Tags

Tallahassee, Nov. 8.—(FNS)—All tourists or winter visitors to the state who enter children in a public school are automatically classified as residents and are required to purchase a Florida tag if they operate a motor car in this state, officials of the state Motor Vehicle department point out.

It is not necessary, however, to purchase full year tags. A quarter year license may be bought now and when the new tags are issued, a new tag may be purchased covering the period from January through March.

Money received from the sale of tags goes to the support of the schools in the state so the ruling in regard to tourists is a fair one. School officials and tag agents are asked to co-operate in enforcing this ruling.

BETTER BREAKFASTS.

Breakfast is the meal upon which "most of the world's work is done."

Florida breakfasts may nearly all years contain a fruit in season. Plain canned fruits or fruit juices are easily prepared to tide one over the scarce season.

The flavor of fresh fruit at breakfast activates both the appetite and the cheerful disposition. Preserves do not have the same effect. In South Florida Japanese persimmons are now being used for breakfast, and in West Florida the satsumas are ripe.

What shall it be? Eggs fried in water or fat? Why not try two tablespoons of thin cream to an egg and scramble in a buttered skillet.

Bacon may be added to the working man's breakfast. School children should have two eggs and a glass of milk.

It is the unpleasant odor of fried foods that causes many children to have no appetite for breakfast. Hot bread—if thoroughly cooked—is not harmful. Well browned dry toast gives good exercise for the teeth, and it is easily prepared.

Cooked cereals are usually more nourishing and less expensive than the prepared products.

When the school child has enough fruit, milk, eggs, cereal or toast for breakfast he has no room for coffee. The working man or woman who has taken a good breakfast may add one cup of coffee, but should not depend upon it for nourishment. Coffee is not a food; it is merely a stimulant.

Start the day right with two glasses of water, then a good breakfast.

Money makes us comfortable, but it doesn't always make us happy.

Sweet potatoes should be handled carefully during harvest.

Funds Available For School System

Tallahassee, Nov. 8.—(FNS)—The 67 county school systems of the state will be in receipt of $86,203.77 this week when state school money is disbursed from Comptroller Lee's office.

This amount became available for distribution from the four state sources of school revenue: the sale of motor vehicle licenses, one mill tax, interest on common school fund, and beverage taxes.

Sholtz Proclaims Holiday Nov. 11th

Tallahassee, Nov. 8.—(FNS)—Governor Sholtz last week issued a proclamation declaring Saturday, November 11, a legal holiday in the state.

The governor asked that all Florida patriotic citizens display the National Emblem and close all public offices where the public interest will not suffer in order that Florida might appropriately join other states in honoring those who still live and those who made the supreme sacrifice that our nation and its institutions might survive.

State Forester Is Given High Office

Tallahassee, Nov. 8.—(FNS)—Harry Lee Baker, State Forester of Florida was elected president of the National Association of Foresters at the recent convention of the organization held in Louisville, Ky.

As a prominent speaker on the program, Mr. Baker outlined the work done by the Forestry Department in Florida in securing reforestation legislation. His discussion of Florida's plans for the expansion and preservation of the state's forest resources was considered an outstanding feature of the convention.

Forester Baker succeeds W. M. Howard of New York State.

The Farm Credit Administration says that farmers should apply for loans directly to secretary-treasurers of national farm loan associations, authorized correspondents of the Federal Land Bank or to the bank itself. A number of unofficial and unauthorized individuals have sought to collect fees or commissions from farmers for the so-called service of helping them obtain loans.

Sunday School Lesson

FOR NOVEMBER 12, 1933

SUBJECT: Paul in Macedonia.
GOLDEN TEXT: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved." Acts 16: 31.

LESSON TEXT: Acts 16: 9-15; 25-31.

TIME AND PLACE, Probably A. D. 51; Troas and Philippi.

After the Council at Jerusalem, Paul and Barnabas returned to Antioch and preached there for some time. Then Paul separated from Barnabas, chose Silas as his traveling companion, and started out on another missionary tour. Apparently it was no part of Paul's original purpose to go beyond the limits of Asia Minor, to revisit and strengthen the churches he had already established. At Lystra, where he had been stoned, he found Timothy and took him with him. The Holy Spirit forbade him to enter that region, or Bithynia to the north. So he went over to Troas, the ancient Troy near the northwest corner of Asia Minor.

"And a vision appeared to Paul in the night; There stood a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come over to Macedonia, and help us. And after he had seen the vision, immediately we endeavored to go into Macedonia, assuredly gathering that the Lord had called us for to preach the gospel unto them. Therefore loosing from Troas, we came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis; And from thence to Philippi, which is the chief city of that part of Macedonia, and a colony; and we were in that city abiding certain days. And on the sabbath we went out of the city by the river side, where prayer was wont to be made; and we sat down, and spake unto the women which resorted thither. And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of Purple, of the city of Thyatira, which worshipped God, heard us: Whose heart the Lord opened, that she attended unto the things which were spoken of Paul. And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come unto my house, and abide there. And she constrained us." Luke joined the company at Troas, and with Paul and Silas and Timothy went to Philippi.

One day Paul cast a demon out of a poor slave girl who had repeatedly followed him and called out after him. They dragged Paul and Silas into the market place before the Roman magistrate, called "praetors." The clothes of Paul and Silas were torn from them, and the lictors were commanded to beat them with rods, which they proceeded to do without mercy. They were thrust into jail and confined in such a position that they could scarcely move, with their backs lacerated and bleeding.

"And at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sang praises unto God; and the prisoners heard them. And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken; and immediately all the doors were opened, and every one's bands were loosed. And the keeper of the prison, awaking out of his sleep, and seeing the prison doors open, he drew out his sword, and would have killed himself, supposing that the prisoners had been fled. And Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm: for we are all here. Then he called for a light, and sprang in, and came trembling, and fell down before Paul and Silas. And he brought them out, and said, Sirs, what must I do to be saved? And they said, Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house."

The Holy Spirit guided Paul on his missionary journey. Only those who desire such guidance and have faith in God's promises would be assisted.

The reason for the jailer starting to kill himself was that a Roman jailer was responsible with his life for the safe keeping of his prisoners, and this man preferred to kill himself rather than suffer the humiliation of a public execution. Suicide was not regarded as a sin in those days and some of the otherwise noblest of the Romans took their own lives. It will be recalled that after their defeat in the great battle near this very city, Brutus killed himself and Cassius compelled his freedom to kill him. The sanctity of life is one of the teachings of Christianity, since the Son of God died to bring eternal life to all. The jailer's question, "What must I do to be saved?" is still the greatest of all questions. There is no other answer than the one given the jailer, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved." Not only should we believe on the Lord and accept him as a Savior; he should follow the Lord and obey him.

Mrs. deAnguera Speaker at Club

After the regular business meeting of the Woman's club on Friday November 3rd, Mrs. Ferd deAnguera gave a most interesting and instructive talk on the world's fair.

She began by telling how Grant's Park was secured for the location of the fair, and of the various donations necessary for the building projects.

She then gave a vivid picture of the lay-out of the grounds, describing the Hall of Science, the Wings of Progress, the Tropical Gardens, the Horticultural building and the marvelous paintings of the world war and the Battle of Gettysburg.

The speaker said that she considered as one of the most outstanding exhibits at the fair, the Chamber of Art, standing about seven inches high with images of the Christ and the Apostles hand-painted into its sides. She also praised highly the state exhibits of Florida, Michigan, Wisconsin and California.

At the conclusion of the talk, Mrs. Pilcher, president, extended the appreciation of the club to Mrs. deAnguera for her excellent resume of her trip to the fair.

Preceding the program the president, Mrs. M. V. Pilcher, presided.

Mrs. C. E. Lanier as chairman of the ways and means committee gave a report on the carnival and extended thanks to all club members and others who so generously gave of their time to make it a success.

P. T. A. Met Thursday

The second meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association, which took place Thursday afternoon of this week, was well attended by both mothers and teachers.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Raleigh Lawton, and opened with the singing of the Battle Hymn of the Republic, led by Mrs. K. J. Bailey. This was followed by a short prayer by Mrs. J. B. Coen, Jr.

The following letter, which is self-explanatory, has been received from the Milk Control Board by the Highlands County Dairymen's Association, Avon Park, Florida.

Dear Sirs:

Delivering two pints of milk at the price of one quart is a violation of the order setting the price structure for that area. A quart is defined as that amount in one container.

LIQUIDITY

Recently a customer asked what was meant by the word "liquidity."

It is a fact that most of the money in banks belongs to the Depositor. It is vitally important, therefore, that the banks, before granting loans, must insist upon the type of loan that can be readily converted into cash should the Depositor demand his money.

The bank MUST remember and the borrower SHOULD remember that in the final analysis it is the Depositor's money that is being loaned, hence the many precautions that must be observed.

It is our purpose to make commercial loans when the borrower has a sound plan for liquidation.

Eastern Stars Receive Visit Of State Officer

Daly, Margaret Mandie and Agnes Cox.

At eight o'clock the various officers, members and guests gathered at the Masonic temple.

The chapter rooms were beautifully decorated with potted palms, ferns and coral vine. The color scheme of pink and green was used, the chosen colors of the worthy grand matron.

Placed on the wall back of each chair at the Star points were large baskets of flowers, the flowers in each basket being appropriate to the Star point.

Officers officiating were given in formal white dresses and wore dainty corsages in the Star colors. Those taking part were: Rachael McFarland, worthy matron; Grover Daly, worthy patroness; Lucille Daly, associate matron; Walter McFarland, associate patron; Agnes Cox, secretary; Eunice Orr, treasurer; Margaret Mandie, conductress; Florence Elliot, chaplain; Hazel Luthy, marshal; Ann Abrams, organist; Anna Smith, Ada; Mary Marsh, Ruth; Thelma Willis, Esther; Ruth Smith, Martha; Olive Radcliffe, Electa; Lola Ford, warder; Herman Myers, sentinel.

After the chapter was proved Mrs. Leonie Faircloth, worthy grand matron, was introduced and welcomed by Rachael McFarland, worthy matron. She was then presented a lovely corsage and given the grand honors.

At this point little Misses Barbara Ann Radcliffe and Vivian Luthy, dressed as figures, entered bearing a gift and an honorary membership card for Mrs. Faircloth, presented by the Leigh chapter. The presentation speech was made in clever verse by the little girls. Mrs. Faircloth thanked them and the Leigh chapter and the lovely gifts, corsage and all the courtesies extended to her during her official visit.

Later Mrs. Susan B. Meredith, past grand matron of Virginia, Mrs. Mammie Lander and Mrs. Lula Scott, past grand matrons, and Robert Brandon, past grand patron of the Grand Chapter of Florida, were introduced, welcomed and each presented a large, pink carnation. Mrs. Sarah Dugan, past grand warder; Mrs. Beatrice Brandon, past grand Martha, and Mrs. Letta Rock, past grand Ruth, were also introduced and presented carnations.

Mrs. Naomi Pyatt, grand instructor of district 5, was introduced and given a cordial welcome by the worthy matron, Mrs. McFarland, and seated in the East. Mrs. McFarland then made a short talk welcoming all visitors present.

An exemplification of the work was then put on for the inspection of the worthy grand matron, Lettie Alsemyer and Evelyn Brodes of Sebring acting as candidates.

Mrs. Faircloth then gave an inspiring and instructive talk. She chose as her topic "Weaving the Pattern of our Lives." She compared human life with the weaving of a Persian rug and gave a lucid description of how the weavers work only on the back of the rug, seeing only the knot and twist, but performing their tedious work just as carefully. The design is not seen until the rug is finished. "So with human life," said the speaker, "we do not fully understand the pattern until it is finished but it must be lived just as carefully as if the design were be-

Civilian Conservation Camps Commended By Prison Authority

Raiford, Nov. 8.—(FNS)—L. F. Chapman, superintendent of the Florida Prison Farm, in a letter addressed to Major David W. Craig commander of the Civilian Conservation Camp at Ocala, lauded the work being done for the unemployed youth of the country and expressed the belief that the CCC camps have acted as a curb of petty crime.

"In 1932," Chapman wrote, "25 percent of the men received at this institution were under 21 and 75 percent under 30 years of age. Since the opening of the CCC camps the number of new prisoners have dropped to an almost negligible figure."

Superintendent Chapman attributes this to the fact that young men are not now drifting about the country, "standing on street corners in the cities, hitch-hiking on the highways and drifting from town to town on the railroads, having no income and hungry most of the time. They have been breaking into grocery stores, robbing filling stations and holding up men on the roads. Of course many of them are arrested and sent to our institution."

"The results of the CCC camps have convinced me that it is one of the outstanding beneficial movements of this administration. There is no question in my mind that so long as the camps are maintained, very few of these young men will get into trouble with the law."

Superintendent Chapman's letter to Major Craig was forwarded to Washington and made public by Robert Fencher, director of emergency conservation work.
