COUNCIL TALKS ABOUT PLAN FOR BOND REFUNDING

No Action Taken After Two Meetings This Week;
Street-Lights Asked

Refunding of the bonded indebtedness of the City of Avon Park was discussed at two lengthy meetings of the city council this week. On Tuesday evening council recessed at midnight and met again Wednesday night from nine until 11:30. A tentative program of refunding was examined from numerous angles with Harry Bennett, representing the L. C. Atkins Co., offering suggestions. Nothing definite was accomplished, council members desiring more time before taking action and another meeting has been called for next Tuesday evening. Council members appeared of the opinion that something must be done to remedy the existing situation regarding the bonded and other indebtedness but refused to accept the proposed plan in its entirety.

At the meeting Tuesday evening City Clerk Francis Shockley announced the new Chevrolet truck had been delivered to the city with added equipment of eight ply tires and helper springs. Partial payment had been made, he said, and he asked authority to pay the balance. This was granted.

City Attorney S. C. Pardee reported making an offer of settlement in the Ben Hur mandamus suits and also asked authority to make adjustments in the settlement of certain delinquent taxes, the interest to be waived on certain years for property owned by the city.

It being nearly time for another audit of the books the city clerk requested permission to ask for help for the work. He suggested a more extensive audit than in previous years with special reference to bonds and coupons. Council said to get bids on the work.

Police Chief J. J. Still asked that an ordinance be passed prohibiting bolting with the city limits. This was ordered drawn.

Phil Abrams, representing himself and other merchants asked that the city provide street lights for several blocks from the Mall on Forrest and Lake avenues in order to accommodate shoppers on Saturday nights. The city will double parking has been prohibited. No definite action was taken although council appeared to be in sympathy with the request.

A LOT TO BE THANKFUL FOR

RED CROSS ROLL CALL TO BEGIN SATURDAY

Organization Spent Over Four Thousand Dollars In the County Last Year

The roll call for membership in the Red Cross will be held in Highlands County from Saturday, November 24th, through December 1st. The Red Cross is non-political, non-denominational, and exists to help the suffering, wherever the need is greatest, irrespective of what they have done or not done elsewhere. All will be interested in knowing what has been done during the past year in Highlands county.

Highlands County contributed $287.00 but received from the Red Cross $1045.00 and not a dollar of this went into salaries, but all went directly to help the poor and needy. The workers in the different places gladly gave their time and are doing the same this year. The Red Cross through its workers distributed 12,200 bags of flour, 6,000 pieces of clothing, 420 blankets, 40 comforters, 9900 yards of cloth, and aided 379 families during and after the storm. Some say, "But, we have not had any storm this year." Which is true, and all hope and pray God that we shall be delivered, not only this year but for many years.

However, there is much suffering in the county and there will be more during the late winter and early spring, and fifty cents out of every dollar is retained in the county for work here at home. To illustrate, one half of every dollar that Avon Park or Sebring contributed during the past year has helped the sick, fed some of the hungry, clothed some of the most needy and otherwise brought relief to many worthy persons who are down and out. Investigation is always made before given is granted, and no money is given directly to the individual but an order to the doctor or store for whatever may be found absolutely necessary. The canvassers are doing a splendid work in giving their time to make this roll call and I am sure all will make it as easy for them as possible by pledging anywhere from $1.00 to $25.00 which makes you a member of the Red Cross. Let us go over the top for humanity's sake.—Contributed.

COMPLETE CHANGE IN HOG-PROCESSING TAX

Collector of Internal Revenue At Jacksonville Announces Change

By LOUIS ALSMEYER.

Information has been received from J. Edwin Larson, Collector of Internal Revenue at Jacksonville, that a complete change in the processing tax on hogs is now effective. It appears that all persons who prepare pork products for distribution, or receive, handle, store, cut or render such products are to be considered "first domestic processors of hogs." It appears that the transferring of the tax from the person slaughtering the hogs to those persons who operate as above has already taken place.

The packages of seed which were distributed by the Experiment Station of crotalaria intermedia have enabled growers to observe this new variety very extensively this year in this and many other counties in the State. Growers have reported that livestock and poultry have eaten this crotalaria rather readily. The tonnage produced has been greater than some other varieties and in several cases as great as crotalaria striata. It will seem that this variety should be given more extensive trial as a forage crop and several growers have reported that they were planning on planting considerable acreage of this new type crotalaria, the leaves of which are about three inches long and one inch wide. The leaves are green and the seed pods are green on the twigs and then proceeds to cut the twigs off from the tree or bush in a very systematic manner. This manner of loss of leaves and branches is very injurious to the shrubs. This insect may be controlled by the use of kerosene and burning of these cut twigs.

A United States census of agriculture will be taken as of January 1, 1935 covering production items in the calendar year 1934. Sample copies of these schedules may be obtained from this office and more accurate reports can be received there are studied before the enumerators start their work.

Religious Services

Religious services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:45 at the home of B. F. Smith on the Wauchoke road. Everybody is invited to attend.

Postmasters anywhere in the United States will cash interest bearing coupons of the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation.

GENERAL TAX REFORM IS BEING ADVOCATED

Next Session of Legislature
May Set Up New Tax
Structure

Walter P. Fuller, St. Petersburg, who conducts a financial and tax information bureau, in his weekly letter to his clients this week, gives some interesting information on the tax situation in the state since the adoption of the Homestead amendment, he says:

"To consolidate their three to one victory in placing Homestead Exemption in the state constitution, supporters of the measure are putting together an organization to go after general tax reform in the 1935 legislature. Exemption of homes from taxation is considered by them but a preliminary operation on the present value system, with other and more important amendments to follow. This was brought out at the state convention of real estate boards in Orlando this week.

"Readers frankly admitted that this first step, while a great boon to home-owners, was more in the nature of surgery, and until additional cutting had been done, they organization was not ready to come forward with new theories of taxation. Two things in particular are on the reform program, abolition of the state millage on real estate, and overall limitation on county and city millage as has been secured in other states.

"Until the state tax can be wiped out, it will be little if any chance to establish uniform assessments in the 67 counties. At present valuations run all the way from 15 percent of true values up to more than 100 percent. Low assessments and high millages have been in practice in most counties, for the extreme purpose of expiating the state on its end. With the state tax out of the picture, counties may then make true appraisals and reduce the millage. This would be imperative anyway should an overall limit go into effect.

"Assessors from all parts of the state gathered in Jacksonville this week to talk it over and attempt to formulate the best compromise plan. It appears that all persons who prepare pork products for distribution, or receive, handle, store, cut or render such products are to be considered "first domestic processors of hogs." It appears that the transferring of the tax from the person slaughtering the hogs to those persons who operate as above has already taken place.

Crippled Children Survey Being Made

COUNTY WILL AID FIRE PREVENTION AND ARBORETUM

Commissioners Donate $500
To State Forestry Department;
$200 to Arboretum

Highlands county's board of commissioners contributed to both the prevention and fighting of fires in the county and the botanical garden and arboretum adjoining Highlands Hammock at their meeting Tuesday. R. E. Whittington of Tallahassee represented the state forestry department before the board and outlined the work being done by his department in fire prevention and asked for $1,000 from the county, which sum would be matched by state and federal money. The money expended by the Roebeling interests had been matched he said and these funds would soon be exhausted.

Mr. Whittington explained that the money would be used to encourage fire prevention and also to organize crews in each community to fight fires, they being paid by the state. Rewards would also be offered for the arrest and conviction of those setting fire to land. He added that he could scarcely blame the volunteer fire departments for their gradual lack of interest in woods fire, as they did not get enough out of it to pay laundry bills.

W. F. Coachman referred to an editorial Monday's issue of the Tampa Tribune in which fire losses in Florida were compared to those in California, distinctly to the west. He pointed out the loss to the state both in visitors as well as timber products burned and urged the commissioners to do what they can. He also paid his respects to John Roebeling for his work in the state and asked that he be given some cooperation.

The commissioners all felt something should be done and passed a resolution appropriating $500, which they could see their way to do at this time. The resolution also thanked Mr. Roebeling for what he had done and promised cooperation in the future.

The board heard a delegation of the botanical garden officials who asked $200 to buy clay for the roads in the project. They stated federal funds could not be used for this purpose but that if the county helped, some transfer of federal funds might be arranged. Three thousand loads will be needed and Harry Dillon, the Avon Park has donated 100 loads and Major Amos Tyree of DeSoto City promised to do likewise. It was also indicated that unless co-operation was extended the CCC camp would be moved and the work stopped.

The voters of the board the federal government will have spent $150,000 on the project by April 1 and Dr. W. A. Division mentioned that the state would be asked to 100,000 acres of land adjoining the Hammock would be acquired and made into a state park and the Hammock would be donated $200 for the clay.

Miss Bryant Heads Christmas Seal Sale in County

Miss Eleanor Bryant, of Avon Park, will serve as chairman for the Christmas seal sale in Highlands county this year, it was announced today. The appointment was made by Mrs. Murray L. Stanley, of Daytona Beach, president of the Florida Tuberculosis and Health Association sponsoring the sale of Christmas seals in Florida.

Organization for the sale of seals is already under way in Highlands county even though the actual sale will not start until Thanksgiving day. Letters carrying the popular health stickers will be to the residents of the county by mail and the proceeds will be used to support the tuberculosis control in the health program in the schools. This is in an effort to tell the children the story of the crippled child, the cross, international emblem of the fight against tuberculosis and to get their support in the movement.
