

Chain Stores Discussed By NRA Administrator

Boston, Sept. 6.—Asked upon arrival here by plane from Washington if 5-and-10-cent stores would file a separate code of fair competition, National Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson replied:

"I can't see any reason for a separate code for the 5-and-10-cent stores; they pay people less and work them longer hours than anybody in the same field. I have great faith in the Blue Eagle. I have great confidence in public opinion. I think public opinion will take care of this thing."

Regarding stories of alleged violations of codes, General Johnson said the NRA will "make examples of the big fellows first" and added: "Business men can't trifle with the Blue Eagle; very few of them will try. Deliberate violators are almost negligible. Let me illustrate: 'In a national chain which has seven stores in a large city, the local manager set up a large Blue Eagle prematurely. The management told him to take it down. The business in those seven stores dried right up, because the people thought they had been forced to take down the Blue Eagle. As a matter of fact, they were not forced. The stores finally put the Blue Eagle back again but they haven't been able to get back the business they lost."

Addressing a monster mass luncheon of recovery workers of New England, General Johnson said "NRA is in no sense a card game. It is a sort of rules committee where the great co-operators of the American industrial and labor teams are collaborating to make a new and fair game out of business competition in this country." He denied the charge that there is any desire "or need" to "make business goosestep."

"If there is one thing that is certain, it is that nobody can legislate the country out of its troubles. The most we can do is to give every man a chance to help himself. That's the Blue Eagle. It is the true rugged individualism and the rules are simple. For the consumer there is only one, 'Buy under the Blue Eagle and buy now, to the limits of your present need.' I have yet to hear our President promise any magic cure. What he has said over and over is there are so many good things in this land of ours that there is enough to keep everybody happy if only we spread them more evenly."

Fertilizer Code Would Retain Sales System

Washington, Sept. 6.—Hearings on the code filed by the fertilizer industry start September 26. It establishes a maximum work week of 40 hours at 35 cents per hour except in the South, for time and a third for overtime. Each employee is entitled to one day of rest per week. Traveling salesmen are prohibited from working on a commission basis except in Florida. On the subject of distribution through farmers' co-operative organizations, the code provides:

"Notwithstanding the provisions of this code, any arrangement upon sale, commission, or agency basis between producers and regularly incorporated State-wide co-operative farmers' organizations or their subdivisions or departments granting special rates, commissions, or concessions, or the division of profits, may be continued, entered into or performed: Provided, however, That it shall be obligatory upon such co-operative organizations to maintain the producer's schedule of prices to their dealers and consumers in the areas covered. Farmers' co-operatives may also pay patronage dividends."

Advice to President Sam Marteen: Trust in the Lord and keep an airship handy.

If the government is going to regulate wages why will it be necessary to have labor unions?

An easy winner in a nationwide popularity contest would be the gentleman who handed Huey Long that black eye.

It seems that we have heard something about some more States going wet the past week, but a State going wet is no longer news. Now, if a State should go dry...

A Moultrie, (Ga.) editor has been arrested on a charge of counterfeiting. Only country editor we ever heard of who was accused of making money.

Florida day at the Exposition last Monday might have been even better attended had it been advertised that Sally, in honor of the occasion, would drop one of her fans. Sally, it may be observed, though perhaps not a Florida product, hails from Miami.

Florida lost one of her grand old men when Moses Folsom, of Jacksonville, died the other day in his 87th year. Through many years he contributed much valuable publicity to this State through his "Flashes of Florida Facts" in the Times-Union, and through other mediums.

Thirty-five thousand killed and more than a million injured in auto accidents last year. And a conservative estimate would hold that 90 percent of these accidents could have been prevented. Think of that the next time you are tempted to "take a chance," or to see how fast the old bus can go.

In our opinion the Cuban people are not capable of governing themselves. Of course, in view of conditions in this country for some years, they may have the same opinion of us. But we doubt there will be a peaceful and stable government on the island, with attendant prosperity, until Uncle Sam's strong and steady hand is prominently in evidence.

We hold no brief for chain stores. They do not advertise, and as a rule contribute little to local causes, or to community prosperity. Still, we think that suit, the object of which is to run the Kress stores out of the State, is wrong in principle. The argument that their large buying power enables them to sell some articles cheaper than "home-owned" stores does not seem valid. Yet that is one of the grounds of the suit designed to run the business from the state.

One of the most peaceful and prosperous towns in Florida is Winter Garden in which for several months there has been no town government, and things have just "drifted along" quite happily. Perhaps there is a lesson here—we might do without a lot of governmental adjuncts and perhaps get along just as well. A legislature, for instance, is a disturbing thing, and the State might be better off if it met only once in ten years.

There is much indiscriminate handing out of public moneys—we do not claim that in any instance this is unjustified—but when it comes to giving relief to needy teachers the process seems pretty tortuous and well hedged about with restrictions. Money has been made available for this purpose, but—see quote from a Tallahassee dispatch: "Scores of applications for assistance have been made by school teachers to the State relief headquarters here, but none has been approved." Our teachers form the most deserving class in our citizenship, and they are the most discriminated against. When they are employed they are not paid, and when because of unemployment, through no fault of their own, they are driven to the necessity of applying for relief, their plea is lost in a maze of red tape. Truly, the teachers are the forgotten men and women of the country.

If there were some way Florida could be legally declared in favor of repeal without the formality of an election, we would think it wise to adopt that method and save the $30,000 expense of an election. This is not an emanation of the "wet press," however; the general idea comes from that life-long, stalwart prohibitionist, Don C. McMullen.

Won't be long until those people up North whom the NRA has brought larger wages and increased profits will be sending some of this good money down this way for Florida strawberries, oranges, grapefruit, etc. Quick improvement in business conditions can not be expected here as in industrial centers; but Florida's harvest time is just ahead.

Several patriotic gentlemen have their optics turned longingly on the Senatorial toga worn long and gracefully by Park Trammell—but they realize it is a man's job to wrest a sufficient number of votes from the proletariat to make any kind of showing against the astute politician and prince of campaigners. The clamor for change, whether it might be for better or for worse, is not so loud as a year or so ago, and if times continue to improve people may be more inclined to let alone those who have given faithful and satisfactory service. But we'll wager our junior senator is taking no chances, and is brushing up his flawless memory so that he may ask fond parents how little Johnny Cracker came out of that spell of measles some years ago, or jocularly recall to Timothy Talltimbers that horse trade in which Tricky once got the better of Tommy Truck-fellow. Thereby the Senator puts votes in the bag, and builds up fortifications against which seekers for his position find their amateurish efforts futile. Yes, taking the Senatorship away from Park is going to be some job.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY By RUSSELL KAY

Mama Nature is certainly a great little kiddier. Here we were gettin' up on our hands and knees ready to do some first class crawlin' and she picks up a handful of the Atlantic ocean and throws it at us, turns on the cold shower, and like the old wolf in the bedtime story: "Wuffs, and puffs and blows our house."

When that crazy storm did a left turn at Lakeland and went snortin' up the middle of the state, we folks in Tampa celebrated Thanksgiving two months in advance, thinkin' we'd escaped. Then along comes a flood that takes the damned Hillsborough river like Tweety took Mama. Now all the folks who put their confidence and most of their earthly belongings in care of it's banks find their assets being liquidated.

Maybe Mama Nature was just tryin' to be helpful by joinin' in on the administration program and destroyin' one fourth of the crops. She certainly did a good job of it but the big idea. However, her plan of distributin' the loss makes it doggone tough on a lot of innocent bystanders.

But bein' in more or less of a hurry, Dame Nature probably figured that even if she did destroy all of one person's property and left all of another's intact, it wouldn't make any difference, since charity and brotherly love would adjust the matter in the end. She knew that nearly two thousand years ago the shores of Galilee the Wise Master left us one commandment—greater than all the rest—that we should love one another; answering for all time the insolvent query: "Am I my brother's keeper?"

Today in Florida, hundreds of families are homeless. Many of them barely escaped with their lives. All they possessed has been swept away by wind and flood. Through no fault of their own they find themselves without food, clothing or shelter.

The American Red Cross, through its disaster relief unit, has undertaken the task of caring for these unfortunate. Immediate funds must be raised to carry on this work. You and I, who in this instance Providence has treated kindly, are called on to donate food, clothing and money.

Of course you would if you could but you feel you are so hard up, with the car and radio and refrigerator to pay for and kids starting in school next week. It's terrible and you're sorry and everything—but—And thus you ask: "Am I my brother's keeper?"

Stop a minute and picture the plight of these poor folks who, before the disaster, were situated much the same as you are today. They had homes, clothing and, yes, a lot of bills and obligations. Now all they have left are the debts.

Suppose you were to sell your radio and all your living room furniture and gave the money to the Red Cross, or were to gather up all the clothing and food in your house and donate it to the relief of those who have lost everything, wouldn't you still be ahead of the game? The tables might just as well have been reversed you know.

If we'd just been smart enough here in Tampa to rope off both sides of our playful river the day the dam broke and had charged the spectators a dollar each admission, we'd have at least a hundred thousand dollars in the old relief pot right now. Or if we had a ten cent tax on every gallon of gas folks have used the past week drivin' around lookin' at the wreckage, we could build all the refugees a new home.

The thrill of helpin' ought to be even greater than the thrill of lookin' so let's everybody chip in and do our part. Don't wait to be solicited. The need is immediate, send your remittance today to the nearest Red Cross office.

A selfless co-operation on the part of every one right now will do more to set things right again than anything else. Florida has taken it on the chin before and come up smilin' and we'll snap out of this just like we snapped out of the others.

JOBS CREATED SCHOOLS TO OPEN FOR THOUSANDS MONDAY, OCT. 2

Reports From NRA Headquarters Indicate Many Back to Work

Washington, Sept. 12.—Cross-section reports to NRA headquarters reveal the extent to which the Blue Eagle drive is actually putting men and women back to work. Incomplete reports from State and regional committees show that considerably more than 12,000,000 workers are now under NRA codes, apart from those of about 3,000,000 employees who are operating under the President's emergency re-employment agreement pending completion of codes for their respective industries.

One of the first complete reports was from Ashland, Ky., the home of Henry Clay, where 2,076 men and women were added to pay rolls. Typical results from widely scattered points, showing the fidelity of employers to the recovery program, are as follows:

One hundred and twenty-three firms in Evansville, Ind., added 1,472 employees, with 700 more due to be taken on before October 1. Galveston, Tex., increased its weekly pay rolls $12,500 by adding 636. Three thousand new jobs were created and filled immediately as a result of the drive in Fort Worth, Tex., and the city's weekly pay roll increased by $20,000. A chain of grocery stores in Brooklyn increased its employees 13 percent and their pay roll 10 percent. Eight hundred and twenty-two persons were re-employed at Corpus Christi, Tex. In Harrisburg, Pa., 1,445 workers were re-employed with pay roll increase of $127,284.

The NRA committee in Indianapolis reported their check-up revealed 21,000 persons re-employed, of which 5,884 went back to work for eight large companies, with increase of $119,391 to weekly pay rolls. A Bartlesville (Okla.) company added 3,000 men in their service stations in 30 States, "with more to follow soon." Warren, Ohio, added 1,381 employees, with pay-roll increase of $109,000. Fort Dodge, Iowa, put on 450, with addition to pay rolls of $398,000 per year. The pay roll of Butler, Pa., was increased $250,000 per month. Minneapolis, Norwalk, Conn., and many cities and towns in scores of States made similar reports. In complete reports indicate that many thousands are being put back to work in Chicago, Cleveland, Los Angeles, Denver, and other large centers.

Nearly 6,000,000 workers will be affected by the completion of the retailers' code and hundreds of thousands of others by the codes of the coal, construction, boot and shoe, and other large industries, in addition to the codes of several hundred smaller industries still in process of formulation.

Fewer Teachers in High School Than Last Year

The Avon Park elementary and high schools will open Monday, October 2nd, with the following staff of teachers:

First grade: Mrs. Pearl Holland and Mrs. Myers.
Second grade: Miss Mildred Myers and Miss Hettie Hundertmark.

Third grade: Miss Louise Houck and Mrs. Virginia Cloud.

Fourth grade: Miss Alma Harrell and Miss St. Clair.
Fifth grade: Miss Rosalie Clauson and Mrs. Alice Sherman.

Sixth grade: Mrs. Sadie M. Brown and Mrs. Jennie Wise.

Crate Mill school: Mrs. C. H. Shepherd.

High School
Guy F. Smith, R. S. Funderburk, E. F. Carmichael, H. J. Mumma, Elizabeth Atchley, Joe Bass, Millie Pearson, and Eleanor Bryant.

Piano: Miss Furlow Anderson.
In the elementary schools there will be the usual number of teachers, but in the high school there will be two teachers short over last year. Miss Atchley will have half-time in Home Economics, and Mr. Bass, half-time in commercial branches, each of these teachers devoting half-time to the Sebring high school. In addition to this Mrs. Skipp's place in high school will not be filled.

There are certain subjects that may not be offered in the high school this year, since a new ruling by the state prevents a school having this size enrollment from giving instruction to a group of less than nine students. This will doubtless affect fourth year Mathematics and Physics. It will not be possible to offer more than one year of Home Economics.

Coach Carmichael will be in Avon Park within a short time and will begin building up the football team. The schedule may have to be somewhat abbreviated, especially the first half, but it may be continued later in the fall. A schedule of games will be announced later.

Principal Fairley will be in his office in the high school building during the morning hours beginning September 18 to consult with parents and pupils concerning the courses and subjects that pupils may take. It will be much better for pupils to attend to this before school opens than to wait until later.

Books will be on sale at the principal's office during the next two weeks, and pupils who avail themselves of this opportunity of buying books will be able to avoid the rush at the opening of school. Arrangements will be made whereby pupils will be able to exchange second-hand books with other pupils at the school building. It will be better for pupils to consult with the principal before books are exchanged or purchased so as to avoid misunderstandings. All books will be sold on an absolutely cost basis. All books of the old adoption that were used last year in the seventh and eighth grades will be replaced this year with books of the new adoption. Lists of books and prices may be obtained at the principal's office.

There will be several high school pupils who will not be able to purchase their books this year, and any public spirited individual or organization who may be inclined to help in this worthy cause may get in touch with the high school teachers or principal, who will be glad to receive any donations that will be made.

"Broadway to Hollywood" at the Ritz In Winter Haven

A veritable "Who's Who" of the stage and screen appears in "Broadway to Hollywood," dazzling pageant of half-century in the theatre in which the great names of Hollywood and Broadway unite. The great Metro Goldwyn Mayer spectacle in which a story dramming with the heart-beats of human drama is surrounded by the pageantry of the theatre from the days of Tony Pastor to the modern talking film comes to the Ritz theatre in Winter Haven next Sunday and Monday with a midnite show Saturday, September 16 at 11:30 p. m.

Its brilliant aggregation of stars includes Alice Brady, Jackie Cooper, Jimmie Durante, Frank Morgan, Madge Evans, Eddie Quillan, Fay Templeton, May Robson and Russell Hardie.

The story starts in the first dawn of vaudeville. It then goes down to the reign of Lillian Russell with "Diamond" Jim Brady gleaming from a theatre box and shows three generations of trouper marching proudly down the years.

There are a number of old time song hits revived and the picture is climaxed with the "March of Time" filmed on the largest set ever made in Hollywood, in which there is a ballet of 500 dancers.

"Voltaire" a Great Screen Triumph

A new George Arliss picture for Warner Bros., "Voltaire," said to excel even the memorable "The Sign of the Cross" in significance, interest and dramatic appeal shows Sunday and Monday at the Avon theatre.

This is a picture in which Mr. Arliss, recognized as the dean of actors in America, realizes a life-long ambition to bring the character of one of the greatest Frenchmen to life on the stage or screen.

Not even the life and career of "Diorad" offers such a rich field for dramatic exploration as did the character and times of Voltaire. Produced with a magnificence never before equaled in an Arliss picture, "Voltaire" marks the high water mark of the star's career, out-ranking in importance all previous screen offerings he has made.

The story of "Voltaire" is based on a single dramatic incident in Voltaire's career during the long reign of King Louis XV of France. Voltaire has been called the father of the French revolution and the incident upon which the picture is founded was actually one of the continuing causes to the greatest governmental upheaval of the age.

A stellar cast of able players support the star in this picture. Doris Kenyon lends her exquisite beauty to the role of Madame Pompadour. Margaret Lindsay plays Nanette. Theodore Newton, Reginald Owen, Alan Mowbray, David Torrence, Doris Lloyd and Ivan Simpson are others featured in the imposing array of talent appearing in "Voltaire." The late John Adolf, who directed the last six Arliss productions, is responsible for this splendid picture, which is the last work he did before his sudden death in the wilds of the Canadian Rockies last Spring.

"Voltaire" is the most magnificent donation Mr. Arliss has made toward world's entertainment.

Headquarters for the Highlands County Re-employment Commission will be opened Monday in the Sun Court building here with Norton Smith in charge. This will be a part of the National Re-employment Service and the council for this county is composed of E. G.
Todd, Avon Park; A. C. Alvarez,

The duties of the committee will be to register all the unemployed in the county with the idea of as-public works contracts must draw their labor through the re-employment committee of the county in which the work is being done. Several such projects are contemplat-

this morning.

As soon as this office is functioning, an office will be opened in Sebring and later Mr. Smith will make trips to the lower end of the county to register the unemployed there. Announcement of this will be made later.

As soon as registrations are complete Mr. Smith will contact local employers of labor and set as a clearing house for the county.
No charge is made for this service and there is no obligation on the part of those signing up.

SEBRING FRUIT WORKERS STRIKE

Workers Reorganize and Accept Offer of Sebring Fruit Growers Association

Sebring, Sept. 21 — (Special)
The unauthorized strike of the fruit workers Monday is responsible for the re-organization of the workers at a meeting Tuesday night with the result that the men went to work Wednesday morning under an agreement with the management of the Sebring Fruit Growers Association, Ray Nick.

According to J. E. Smith, secretary of the grove workers, the organization of workers as formed here several days ago had not been recognized by the state organization and the strike Monday was unauthorized and caused by a misunderstanding of the true conditions.

The agreement arrived at between the workers and the Sebring Fruit Growers Association, which is the local citrus exchange, is that the men will be paid six per box for "spot picking" grapefruit and if it is found that the men cannot make a living wage at that figure, the exchange will increase the rate of pay, according to a statement of Secretary Smith of the workers organization.

At the re-organization meeting
Tuesday night of the citrus workers, the following officers were elected: E. R. Walker, chairman;
Owen Prescott, vice-president; Roy Watters, treasurer, and J. E. Smith, secretary.

Large Increase In Numbers CCC Camps In Fla.

Two More Camps Expected To Be Located in Highlands County

Governor Dave Sholtz in a conference last week with Harry Lee Baker, state forester, approved the total of 67 Civilian Conservation Corps camps for Florida. This represents an increase of 32 camps over the number now existing.

Of the new camp, 24 are to be located on forest lands where camps are already at work; the remaining 28 are to be established on new forest protective units.

If the last approval by the Governor is accepted by the federal authorities, there will be camps established this winter in 26 counties. Mr. Baker left for Asheville, North Carolina, to confer with the federal representatives there.

Fifty-seven of these camps will be located in North and Northwest Florida and only 10 in counties in the southern and central part of the state. The Governor and Mr.
Baker expressed regret that a better distribution was impossible.

They pointed out that the federal government requires that emergency conservation work done by the camps on private lands must be on forest properties registered with the Florida Forest Service for protection.

At the time that the forestry camp work was begun, the greater part of acreage under protection was located in the northern portion of the state; for this reason 14 of the 15 existing camps had to be located in North Florida.

Mr. Baker further stated that a special appeal has been made to land holders in all sections to register their land for protection since the camp work has started in order to benefit by any increase in the emergency conservation work program. There has been a great increase in the number of camps in the state since the beginning of the work.

Numerous tracts, from a few acres to thousands have been registered, the largest being 70,000 acres in Walton county, Gulf county, following the example of Duval, is registering as a whole for county-wide protection.

In addition there are other camps, unpicked, but filed by vets.

Friction Over Price Paid for "Spot" Picking

Friction between fruit pickers and the packing houses occurred yesterday over the price to be paid for "spot" picking. According to George Guthrie, manager of the box was offered and this was refused by some of the men. The same argument is said to have happened at the Exchange house, but Manager Herbert Reid is in Tampa and could not be reached for a statement.

Ed. Jacques, secretary of the United Citrus Workers, said this morning no strike has been authorized by the organization and as far as he knew there had been no trouble, nor did they expect any as they are a peaceful organization.

Relief Director Assigns Man Here During Labor Unrest

As a number of the members of Highlands County Emergency Relief Council are interested in the citrus industry, both in groves and packing houses, the council has requested Marcus Page, state relief director, to send a man here to take charge during the present labor unrest. The council does not think it fair to themselves or the citrus workers to be charged with the enforcement of certain rulings, that they had nothing to do with making.

One of these rulings in question is as follows:

"It is the policy of the relief council to relieve those who are attempting to relieve themselves and when employed may offer the council expects it to be accepted regardless of the wage. If the wage is not sufficient the council will be inclined to supplement it from the relief funds. If employment is refused by those physically able to perform the work offered, they will be dropped from the relief payroll."

In compliance with the local council's request, Mr. Page stated that he would send a man here Monday to take charge of the situation and relieve council of the duties of enforcing the relief regulations.

Never borrow trouble, is good advice, perhaps—but kindly cite us to where you can borrow anything else these days.

Canal building hasn't been very active for a week or two—that is, no new routes have been projected. Has the supply of blue-print paper given out?

Let's pass the hat and buy the Governor a white—or light—suit for wear next time he goes up North. Those same black togs he wore in the summer showed up again on Florida day at the Exposition.

Fishermen may have a code, but in Florida the fish have not. From the stories that appear in any issue of any Florida paper the fish bite every hour of the day every day in the year.

"I congratulate you all," remarked the President in addressing a group the other day. Didn't know you all up Nawth ever used the expression "you all." But perhaps F. D. picked that up at Wahn Springs, Jawgie—does you-all reccon?

That was a bad Florida tropical storm they had up on the North Carolina coast a few days ago. Any storm that has plenty of wind and water is a Florida tropical storm, whether it break out in California, Mexico or Labrador.

Arkansas folk take their religious controversies seriously. At Jonesboro a brother got in a pulp it which another brother claimed was rightfully his, and a bunch of ladies jumped on the preacher, pitched him out of the pulpit, after depriving him of his suspenders and his Bible. And he needed his suspenders, too!

For a good many years war has been accepted as the synonym for hell, but now it looks like Porto Rico's governor is a rival for the title. At any rate a play produced down in San Juan is called "El Inferno de Gore," meaning "Gore is Hell." Evidently they consider that Florida man sent over to govern them a hot number.

Governor Talmadge has a bright idea to cure the depression. He would have the government scatter $10 and $20 bills from airplanes. Well, that would knock out unemployment—temporarily, at least. One can visualize the scramble for those tens and twenties. People would be galvanized into activity that hadn't made a move to help themselves in years. This period is certainly prolific in bright ideas.

Competent authorities estimate the Florida commercial crop of citrus at 18,600,000 boxes, the fruit is as fine as has ever been produced, and all indications point to a favorable market and excellent prices. All this means many and many a dollar scattered broadcast among Florida growers and workers the coming season. It won't be long now until we'll all be singing—and with conviction—"Happy Days Are Here Again."

Despite the depression it seems there never were such long lists of young people enrolling in colleges and high schools. The football teams are getting into practice, and are engaging the breathless interest of the various student bodies; and as soon as the vital problems are settled as to who's going to be who in the fraternities and sororities, the program of school life will be full and complete. There is even talk in some old-fashioned institutions of occasional classes before the end of the semester; but in these enlightened times the idea will hardly be taken seriously.

IN THE WAKE OF HIS BANNER

It does look like those pigs which are being slaughtered as a part of the Government plan, and for which $4 cash is being paid, could be put to better use than being thrown into the Mississippi river. Such waste seems little short of criminal, with so many people in the country in actual need of food.

It's been pretty warm down here lately, and we would not say that business has been exactly of the boom time character. But patience—the most pleasant months of the year are just ahead of us, and all indications point to the best citrus and tourist season the state has enjoyed in years. There is every reason to be cheerful and optimistic.

It costs each person $12.77 per year for State government in Florida, including taxes for roads and schools. That does not seem an excessive price to pay for the privilege of living in Florida—if that were the total. But by the time the county, special districts and city get in their respective bills, the average taxpayer will be mulcted many times the amount mentioned.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE
Shawnee, Oklahoma

Optimists are too prone to expect results in a day and some of them become pessimists when they do not see them.

The world-wide publicity given to the vapors of some politicians unfortunately gives the pessimists grounds for their gloomy forebodings.

The problems before the country are so many and so varied that it would be nothing short of a miracle if they were solved to the satisfaction of so many conflicting interests in a short time. The world did not drop into the depression over night and it will take much time and effort of competent business men to bring the good old times back again.

There is an old saying, "Where there is a will there is a way." The way will be found, but will not be found in selfishness in either individuals or nations. NOW IS THE TIME FOR TEAM-WORK. NOW IS THE TIME TO BE OPTIMISTS. NOW IS THE TIME FOR A SINGLE THOUGHT OF WHAT WE CAN ALL DO TO HELP—AND THEN DO IT RIGHT NOW!

Down in the Everglades the other night they were having a mass meeting to consider the NRA campaign, when, after some discussion in which nobody seemed to be getting anywhere, an old time cracker arose and made a motion that they were President Roosevelt, "We don't understand a thing about it but we're with you." The motion carried unanimously. —Sanford Herald. That's the spirit needed to put the movement over.—Orange County Chief.

CONCERNING EDITORS.

Good, honest men seldom ever get angry with an editor. They generally know that most editors care very little about money except just enough to keep a decent home. They know that editors are mostly of that particular type of damfool known as idealists, who want to see everybody treated fairly. The printer uses a pie rate, the editor the Golden Rule. They are hard-boiled at times but underneath as soft as a kitten.

They trample on people's toes sometimes—but not just to hear them squeal—but because they have an honest conviction that their people are wrong. They seldom let personal feelings prompt an attack. The longer they stay with it, the more the editor's personal feelings are submerged and the public spirit rises.

The true journalist doesn't care much if he ruins a good customer if he feels that he has done something for the public. The common man is always his friend. Editors hate uppity people who try to make a big show of themselves and snub ordinary people. They see life as it is, and as they would have it.

They get cussed more than a dozen other people and seldom give a mere turn. Persecution and criticism they have at every turn but they get accustomed to it and ignore it.

As a rule they smoke, drink moderately, fuss mildly, like a fight, love good neighbors even if they are mill hands, hate sham and hypocrisy, have the fundamental principle of religion, defend honest men, despise indolence and pity ignorance.

They're always some halfwit politician ears at them but by the Good Lord, it seldom hurts them. Good men understand and believe in them. Only the two-by-fours ever get sore with them.—River Junction Tribune.

BANK DEPOSIT INSURANCE.

The most encouraging development in the unfolding of financial plans for the protection of bank depositors is the attitude of two of the nation's great men, Senator Fletcher of Florida, chairman of the senate banking committee, and J. P. O'Connor, comptroller of the currency under the present administration.

The new bank deposit insurance, or guarantee law, seems to meet the demands of the public and to assure them that depositors have rights that must be protected. Championed by the highest official in charge of the operation of the law, the comptroller of the currency, and by the chairman of the powerful banking and currency committee of the United States Senate, it ought to be safe even against the onslaught of Wall Street and its minions, who by their customary tactics are making every effort to nullify it, or to pervert it to their own selfish purposes.

Answering the effort of Wall Street bankers to force the postponement of the beginning date for operation of the new bank deposit insurance law, Senator Fletcher announced that if the law was amended it would be made even more drastic than it now is; and that in all probability the expense of the operation of the law would be shifted entirely onto the bankers.

Mr. O'Connor, talking to the banking convention, firmly stated that the banking insurance law will be put into effect, as enacted, on January 1, 1934. That the public made a loud demand for deposit insurance, as reflected in the passage of this law with the huge majorities in congress. That the law makes a fact of what has been a theory that depositors have a right to their money. That this deposit insurance will banish bank runs by giving assurance of absolute safety.

"Injustice to none," said Mr. O'Connor, "is the first aim of this national banking act of 1933, with its guarantee of deposits of $2,500 or less."—LaBelle News.

NRA AND THE FARMER.

The farmer and the resident of our rural communities have a vital stake in the National Recovery Program. The benefits of the program mean a brighter day for them and proportionately more than for the industrial worker and the city dweller in general.

While there has been overproduction of certain farm products, underconsumption caused by business depression, industrial paralysis and widespread unemployment, resulting in a huge loss of purchasing power, has contributed principally to the farmer's distress.

Farm prices have been low largely because the drop in the income of the people has sharply curtailed demand and the farmer must take what he can get for his products, not what they are worth.

The farmer has rightly been called the backbone of the Nation. At no time in our history has his wholehearted help been needed more than now. He can work the more earnestly in contributing to the success of the recovery drive because he knows that when the big turn comes he will share in the prosperity that follows.

President Roosevelt, whose far-sighted and dynamic leadership has already initiated comprehensive measures designed to aid the farmer directly in solving his own problems, is depending upon the rural dweller to put a shoulder to the wheel and help get the country back on its feet.—Winter Garden Journal.

Many people have for a long time clamored for a tax on interstates. Now Florida has such a law and the Comptroller says he is going to enforce it or know the reason why it cannot be enforced. Sunday School Lesson

FOR SEPTEMBER 24, 1938.

SUBJECT: Review of Quarter's Lessons.

GOLDEN TEXT: "Be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might." Ephesians 6: 10.

From Solomon's Prayer. (1 Kings 8: 26-38), we copy, "Blessed be the Lord, * * * there hath not failed one word of all his good promise, which he promised by the hand of Moses his servant. The Lord our God be with us, as he was with our fathers; let him not leave us nor forsake us; That he may incline our hearts unto him, to walk in all his ways, and to keep his commandments, and his statutes, and his judgments, which he commanded our fathers." The following Summary of the Lessons is taken from Arnold's Commentary on Sunday School Lessons:

Lesson I. Joshua. * * * As Moses' successor, Joshua accomplished the great task of subduing the Canaanites, whom God dispossessed because of their wickedness, and of leading the Israelites into possession of the promised land. God gave him gracious promises and enabled him to win remarkable victories.

Lesson II. Caleb. When the Israelites first reached the borders of Canaan in their wanderings, Caleb spied out the region of Hebron, and he brought back a good report. Forty-five years later, when an old man, he asked Joshua for Hebron as an inheritance. He was given it, and he drove out the giants from the region.

Lesson III. Deborah. This remarkable woman was a prophetess and Judge at the time of a severe oppression at the hands of Canaanites in the North. She sent for Barak and gave him directions concerning a battle with their oppressors. The Israelites won a great victory, and had peace for forty years.

Lesson IV. Isaiah Denounces Drunkenness and other Sins. Isaiah denounced the greed of the wealthy, who gained possession of nearly all of the land, and predicted drought and captivity as a punishment. He pronounced woes upon those who follow after strong drink and take bribes, and those who daringly defy God.

Lesson V. Gideon. Gideon was commissioned by God to deliver the people from the hands of the Midianites. He assembled an army of 32,000, but God said that they were too many. So 22,000 men who were fearful were sent home. Then the army was further reduced to a mere band of 300 men in a test as to their method of drinking. With these men a great victory was won in a surprise attack in the night.

Lesson VI. Ruth. This young woman was a Moabitess who married a son of Naomi. Her husband died, and when Naomi returned to Bethlehem, she decided to go along. The choice which she made was notable. She became the wife of Boaz.

Lesson VII. Hannah. Because she was childless Hannah made a vow that if God would give her a son she would give him back to the Lord to be his forever. Her desire was granted, and Samuel was born. When he was weaned she took him to Shiloh and left him with Eli, the priest.

Lesson VIII. Samuel. When Samuel was a boy of about twelve years God spoke to him at night and he thought it was Eli. Finally Eli told him if he heard the voice again to say, "Speak, Lord, for thy servant heareth." He did so, and God made a revelation to him concerning Eli.

Lesson IX. Saul. "When first called to be king, Saul was humble and obedient; but after a time he disobeyed God and the prophet in sparing the best of the spoil when he destroyed the Amalekites. For this he was rejected from being king."

Lesson X. David. Samuel came to Bethlehem to offer sacrifice and to anoint one of the sons of Jesse as prospective king. The older sons of Jesse were rejected by God, whereupon David, a mere lad, was called from tending the sheep and anointed.

Lesson XI. Jonathan. This young man fell in love with David after the killing of Goliath and gave him his own raiment and weapons. They made a covenant together which both of them secretly kept. Jonathan helped to protect David from Saul.

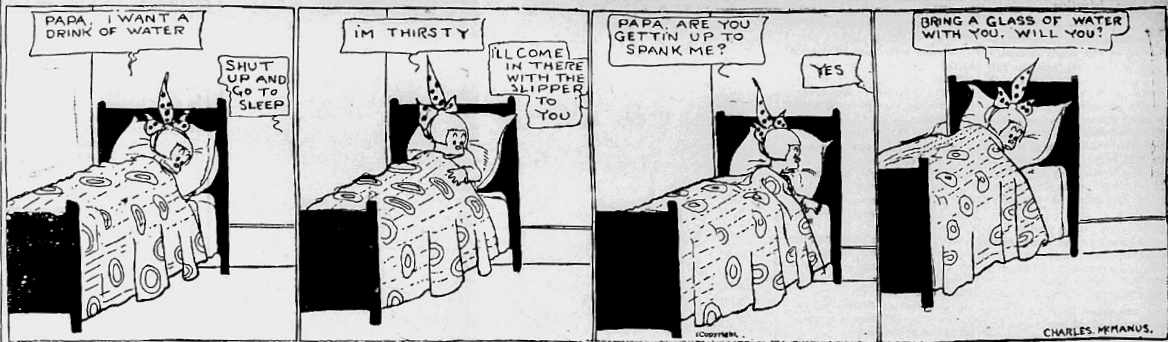

Lesson XII. Solomon. The greatest accomplishment of Solomon was the building of the temple, which became the center of the religious life of the nation. When it was completed he carried the ark thither with much ceremony, and dedicated the building.

A Standard of Greatness: With many persons physical strength and courage are the standard. It is said that seventy-five percent of the public statues throughout the world are of warriors on horseback. There is a tendency to recognize the greatness of men who performed unusual service or have made notable discoveries or inventions that have benefited the race. No one can be truly great who is unwilling to serve others. And the highest form of service is that which ministers to the souls as well as to the bodies of men.

Barbara Allen Martin Honored Monday

Honoring her charming daughter, Barbara Allen, on her seventh birthday anniversary, Mrs. Louis Martin entertained Monday afternoon at her home on Highland avenue with a party.

A pink and green color scheme was achieved by the use of crepe paper streamers suspended from the chandelier in the dining room to the corners of the room. Surrounding this were garlands of pink coral vine, intertwined with graceful sprigs of ferns. Streamers of pink and green crepe paper were also used about the living room, at vantage points, making a veritable canopy for the youthful guests, whose summery dresses in pastel shades completed the colorful picture.

Miss Betty Touchton served fruit punch from a bowl arranged on a table on the spacious veranda.

Outdoor games were enjoyed during the afternoon, after which the hostess invited her guests into the dining room where ice cream, and individual cakes were served. All the girls were dressed in a pleasing little Japanese parasols while the boys received tops for their favors.

Beer Consumption In State of Florida On Par With Nation

Tallahassee, Sept. 20.—(FNS)—State Director of Malt and Vinous Beverages, Joe Cormier, states that Floridians consumed 13,600,000 glasses of 4.2 beer in the 16-week period since the beverage was legalized, according to figures recently released by the United States Brewers Association.

Cormier states that the recent state-wide drive to check the sale of home brew has been effective in reducing the distribution and sale of the illegal product 75 percent.

With the continued co-operation of the state officials it will be practically eliminated in a short time.

The opening of several new breweries and increased shipments from out of the state indicates that the five cent mug of beer will come back in Florida, as it already has in the larger centers.

Beer Consumption In State of Florida On Par With Nation

Tallahassee, Sept. 20.—(FNS)—State Director of Malt and Vinous Beverages, Joe Cormier, states that Floridians consumed 13,600,000 glasses of 4.2 beer in the 16-week period since the beverage was legalized, according to figures recently released by the United States Brewers Association.

Cormier states that the recent state-wide drive to check the sale of home brew has been effective in reducing the distribution and sale of the illegal product 75 percent.

With the continued co-operation of the state officials it will be practically eliminated in a short time.

The opening of several new breweries and increased shipments from out of the state indicates that the five cent mug of beer will come back in Florida, as it already has in the larger centers.

Charles Sherman and Lee Hagood motored to Winter Haven last Sunday, where they played in a golf tournament held there Sunday afternoon.

NEW VARIETIES IN CACTUS PARK

Currie Plans Improvements in Mall and Asks Aid For New Projects

The extended variety of Cacti and their allied plants in the Succulent families of plant life in the Cactus section of the mall soon will be enriched by the addition of about 50 new varieties which Mr. Currie recently obtained through an exchange of duplicate plants, raised in his nursery, with Mr. G. R. Martin, a private collector of Lakeland. Mr. Martin was most generous in this transaction. About half of the new species are rooted, while the balance are cuttings, but all are doing nicely in the nursery and when set out in the mall will add considerably to the interest and novelty of our fast growing exhibit.

Fifteen of the newly acquired species belong to the Echinocactus and Neomammillaria groups, small roundish tabular cacti, many of which are not only distinctive for their attractive flowers, but are beautiful in themselves, with richly colored variegated spines in orange, yellow, red and lavender tints, enhanced by the addition of hoary and painted whiskers.

These plants are of the desert type requiring protection from the rains and wet weather and it is planned to erect a roofed pergola of unique design over the raised stone bed in the new addition to the cactus park.

The balance of the new varieties belong to the Opuntia, Stapelia, Nopal, Cereus, Pereskia, Pseudocylindropuntia and Euphorbia groups, a number of them being particularly interesting in their palm forms and flowers.

The Stapelia genus (its new varieties and three previously on hand) are all of the creeping type with flowers opening flat on the ground. Included in our Stapelia Grandiflora group are the base of the lamp pillar, north side of the mall at the cross walk, is more in bloom, and the five-point star shaped flowers, tinted in browns and lavenders, fully five to six inches across, are well worth seeing.

Quite a number of the new varieties require shade, and to properly care for these as well as some of the old ones, which are now in the park, which for lack of space cannot be accommodated under the most trellis, it is planned to erect shade pergolas of attractive design and in harmony with the present building.

Mr. Currie is looking ahead and working out plans, with the aid of his propagating nursery, for a number of general improvements throughout the mall and Donaldson park, which, however, will require time and patience to accomplish. In the meantime, he feels that anything that can be done to accelerate and hold the present and increasing wide spread interest in the Cactus park will materially help Avon Park's status as an important point of interest, to a greater extent than any other single project.

An enlarged area is necessary for the harmonious grouping of the plants now in the mall, the nursery, and a new stock which is being acquired from time to time. We already have the foundation for an extraordinary collection.

The variety of our tropical cacti is of very considerable note. We can in the near future develop an exhibit that will command a much wider interest. Mr. Currie is very anxious to permanently beautify this section as much as possible, to provide for new varieties as they are secured, to display the plants as attractively as can economically be done, to properly label all cacti and plants in this section in a neat and uniform manner, to insure to a greater extent against storm damage by the use of concrete anchored pipes to support the heavier and taller types, and if possible to install a sprinkling system to facilitate in their proper care and to promote their best growth.

The labor for this work will be available probably but a short time yet, and recognizing the inability of the city government to provide funds for the purchase of the necessary material at this time, Mr. Currie is appealing for donations to carry out this work. Approximately $300.00 will be required. All expenditures, with the possible exception of the plant labels will be made locally, and accounting of all receipts and expenditures will be made through local papers. Mr. Currie will welcome any suggestion as to the work to be done and his accounts will be open for inspection at any time at the City Clerk's office. In the propagating nursery at Lake Byrd lodge, Mr. Currie has quite a number of plants in wide variety, in excess of those intended for the mall, including about twenty varieties of cacti, the net proceeds of which will be devoted to this fund. Mr. Currie feels that this is a very worthy project with permanent advertising value and will sincerely appreciate this help.

Initial donations received: Dr. C. R. Head $50.00

VEGETABLES—Two besides potatoes every day, one a "leafy" variety if possible. "Leafy" vegetables should be served at least three or four times each week.

FRUIT—Some daily. Use fresh fruit at least three or four times a week. Tomatoes (cooked or fresh) can replace citrus fruit.

EGGS—One daily for each child, when it can be afforded. Children should have a minimum of three or four eggs every week. Adults should have the same number, when eggs are not expensive.

CEREALS OR BREAK—Choose the less expensive kinds giving preference to the whole grain.

Additional Protein Foods—Such as meat, fish, cheese, dried peas and beans. A good plan is to provide meat three or four times, fish once, and cheese, beans and peas once or twice a week.

CHANGE SEBRING NRA CONDITIONS

Placed in Same Class As Towns Under 2500
Population

The entire NRA situation has been changed in Sebring, that town being permitted to operate on the basis of less than 2500 population. This ruling was received from Washington will aid the local merchants and business men considerably and was made possible through a population survey made by the local committee and the filing of a petition with General Hugh Johnson in Washington.

Judge M. C. Whitehurst heads the compliance committee in Sebring and received the following letter from NRA headquarters:

September 21, 1933.
Honorable M. C. Whitehurst,
County Judge,
Sebring, Florida.

Re: Decrease in Population.
Dear Judge Whitehurst:

Your letter of September 15, to gether with a copy of a petition signed by the members of your local committee for the NRA, has been received and I am pleased to inform you that the town of Sebring is hereby authorized to observe the provisions of the new Reemployment Agreement as though it were a town of less than 2500 population, notwithstanding the fact that the 1930 census lists this town as having a population of over 2500 inhabitants.

A ruling has been made by our Policy Board that in cases where the 1930 Federal census shows that a town at that time had a population of over 2500, and where the population has subsequently shrunk to below 2500, that upon certification of the mayor, town clerk, or other competent authority, that the present population vary from the 1930 Federal census, the certification, rather than the census, governs the classification under the President's Agreement.

I thank you for calling this matter to my attention, and take pleasure in conveying this information to you.

Yours very truly,
C. Steery Lowe, Chief
Interpretations Section Blue Eagle
Division of the NRA.

This means that in the future Sebring will operate on the basis of a population of less than 2500 and employers are only required to give their employees an increase of 20% where the employees have been receiving less than $12 per week in lines of business that operate under the blanket code. This makes it much easier for the small employer to comply with the NRA.

Seven Crop Production Loans Approved Here

Seven crop production loans totaling over $30,000 have been approved for Highlands county by the Federal Reserve Bank, according to information given out by County Agent Louis H. Almsmeyer this week.

There has been considerable conjecture as to the effect the recent storm would have on the processing of crop production loans throughout the sections affected by the late storm and it was believed in some quarters that it would be almost impossible for growers to obtain this type of loan, but Mr. Almsmeyer says that the rules governing the loans have been liberalized to a great extent. All loans, however, must be secured by chattels as well as the crop and no loans are going through without adequate security. Granting of the loans will be speeded up beginning this week with the assignment of an appraiser to this section.

Non-Resident Law Does Not Apply To School Teachers

Fl. Lauderdale, Sept. 27.—(FNS)—The new state law prohibiting employment by public boards of persons who have not resided in the state at least two years, does not apply to school teachers, according to a ruling of Circuit Judge C. E. Chillingworth.

His decision was made in a case involving a teacher in the Fort Lauderdale public schools for the past eight years.

The teaching contract was given last May by the Broward school board for the term of 1933-34. The passage of the new residence law the teacher was informed that she would not be reemployed because her legal residence had not been established for the required period of time.

The test case followed with Judge Chillingworth ruling that the law did not apply to teachers.

STATE TAX LEVY SHOWS INCREASE

Lowest Since 1925 With the Exception of the Last Five Years

Tallahassee, Sept. 27.—(FNS)—Although consideration Governor Sholtz has set the 1933 tax levy for Florida at 6 1/2 mills, the maximum millage fixed by the legislature. The millage of 6 1/2 is lower than any state levy since 1925 with the exception of the last two years. It represents an increase of 1/8 over last year's millage, which was fixed at 4 1/2 mills by executive order. This increase will offset but slightly the average tax payer.

Comptroller J. M. Lee recommended a millage reduction for 1933 but Governor Sholtz who has consistently opposed the transfer of state funds except from departments which show an unneeded surplus, in a letter to the comptroller, called attention to the fact that as a result of last year's millage reduction, approximately one million dollars had to be transferred from one State fund to the general revenue fund and that the department from which these transfers were made had outstanding obligations which should have been met with this money.

The governor has also taken a firm stand against any new source of revenue and against an extra legislative session.

By the practice of rigid economy, the governor explained in his communication to Comptroller Lee, "It is hoped that the debts of the state may be paid and a reasonable surplus accumulated so that a substantial reduction in the millage may be made next year with some assurance of permanency. However, until these economies are so reflected and until additional collections which you contemplate are made, I feel that I should not exercise the authority vested in me to reduce the millage as fixed by the Legislature."

Assessed valuation of property for state purposes is $437,000,000. On the basis of 100 percent collection, one mill would raise $437,000. Collections last year fell below 75 percent.

Fair Play Board Passes On Disputed Public Works

Washington, Sept. 27.—A new and busy agency in the recovery program is the technical board of review appointed by Secretary of the Interior Ickes, public works advisory board, to advise him on the propriety of public works projects in all sections of the country. Composed of outstanding engineers, the board is required to justify "particularly difficult or controversial projects" submitted to it by Administrator Ickes. It serves in a quasi-judicial capacity and holds public hearings. Types of projects already referred include those which have been adversely reported on by State advisory boards which warrant review from the standpoint of putting people to work; projects protested by outside parties, groups, or organizations where serious enough to warrant investigation and projects approved in principle but of unusual size or character and involving difficult engineering problems, financing, or legal questions. Col. Carey H. Brown, former Army engineer, heads the board of 12 members.

Packers Met and Discussed Rates For Fruit Picking

Representatives of packing houses here, and at Sebring and Frostproof met Wednesday morning to discuss the rates to be paid for picking citrus fruit in this section. No flat rate was agreed upon but pickers will be paid what the work is worth according to the grove being picked and the market price for fruit.

Packing houses represented at the meeting included all the houses in Avon Park and the Exchange House in Sebring and Frostproof, L. Maxcy, Inc., J. W. Keene, Gentile Brothers and the Cody Packing Co.

Re-employment Office Opened in the City Hall

Registrations at the Highlands county re-employment office are slow, according to Norton Smith in charge. The office opened Tuesday morning in the basement of the city hall building and 30 were registered the first day. As soon as registrations are complete here, Mr. Smith will open an office in Sebring and will also contact all employers of labor and act as a clearing house between them and those needing jobs.

The service is part of the federal government plan of getting men back to work and there are no charges and no obligations on the part of those applying. Ex-service men with dependents are given the preference in work offered.

Frostproof Man Killed Monday

Albert Yantz Held In Polk County Charged With Shooting Son-in-Law

James McMillen, age 19, of Frostproof, was shot and killed early Monday morning in Frostproof, the shooting having occurred after a family quarrel. The coroner's jury after an investigation, found that he had been shot by his father-in-law, Albert Yantz, who has confessed. They also stated that the gun was used feloniously.

Statements from reliable sources indicate that the act of long standing and in a fit of temper the father-in-law seized a shot gun and shot young McMillen.

The body is being held in Frostproof until the arrival of McMillen's mother, Mrs. L. F. Johnson of Minnesota, Friday afternoon. In all probability the body will be shipped to Tallahassee for burial.

Yantz is being held in custody and will probably be tried in the near future.

Federal Farm Loan Association Meets and Elects Officers

The organization of the Seanie Highlands National Farm Loan Association was completed Monday at the court house with the election of Ivey Futch of Lake Placid as president; C. A. Stevens of DeSoto City, vice-president, and Earl Hartt of Avon Park, secretary.

At a meeting Saturday it was decided to name the organization the Highlands County Farm Loan Association, but Monday it was decided to take in more territory than just this county, so the name was changed. The territory covered is all of Highlands county and parts of Polk, Glades, DeSoto, Okeechobee and Hardee.

The loan committee that will pass on all loans consists of Ivey Futch of Lake Placid and O. D. Garrett of Sebring with F. C. Payne of Sebring and C. S. Donaldson of Avon Park as substitutes.

All officers are temporary but will serve until January of next year, it was stated.

Those interested in procuring Federal farm loans can get the proper blanks and information from Secretary Hartt or from County Agent Louis H. Almsmeyer.

Milk Prices in County Raised

State Milk Control Board Met Here Wednesday
and Set Price

An increase of one cent per quart in the retail price of milk was fixed by the Milk Control Board, following a hearing at the city hall Wednesday by George O. Weems, director of the board. The increase, effective October first, applies to the northern half of Highlands county, and includes all towns of any consequence in the county except Lake Placid.

The hearing revealed that dairymen were selling milk at prices ranging from 10 to 15 cents per quart retail and as low as 8 cents wholesale. Most of the cost price was offered by the small "one-cow" producers it was stated. It was because of this unsettled price condition among milk producers that the leading dairymen of the county petitioned the Milk Control Board to establish a fair price for Highlands county and set up a code of fair trade practices under the Milk Control law, which operates under provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act.

New retail prices for northern Highlands county are:

Milk—Quart 16c, pint 9c, half-pint 5c.

Cream—Quart 90c, pint 45c, half-pint 25c.

Cottage Cheese—Quart 10c.

Buttermilk—Quart 25c, half-pint 15c.

Under the law every person with one or more cows selling milk must obtain both a dealer's license and a collector's license. For failure to obtain license the law provides a fine of $500 or one year's imprisonment in jail, or both.

The minimum cost of dealer's license and collector's license for one cow is $3.50.

All retail grocery stores, drug stores, filling stations, restaurants and other mercantile establishments must file application for license. Blanks may be obtained from licensed dairymen or from County Agent Louis Almsmeyer. The cost is $1.00.

About twenty dairymen from the large commercial dairies to representatives of the "one-cow" dairies, attended the hearing. Director Weems stated that it was the purpose of the board to administer the law in such a way as to give the maximum relief to those engaged in the production and sale of milk. But in fixing prices for milk, the board must take the public interest into consideration, he stated, and be fair to the consumer. He was concerned with establishing a stable price which would give the dairymen a fair price, but he was in raising prices before the prevailing price, he stated. Due to widespread unemployment and diminished purchasing power, he counseled against a sharp advance at this time, though he admitted the justice of the dairy part of the dairymen in asking for a price raise.

The director was accompanied by Deputies Walter Craig and W. Henry Bryant. Deputy Craig who is stationed in Polk county, will have charge of collecting licenses for Highlands county.

Immediately following the hearing, County Agent Louis Almsmeyer assisted in the formation of a dairymen's association for the county. Capt. W. R. Maynard was elected president, J. E. Bennett, vice-president and A. McKee Elwell, secretary and treasurer. The next meeting of the association will be held in the court house in Sebring, Monday night. Deputy Collector Craig will attend the meeting to issue licenses.

Legion Conference At Punta Gorda Sunday, October 15

The quarterly conference for the six districts of the American Legion has been called to meet at Punta Gorda, Sunday, October 15. The meeting was called by Latimer C. Farr, sixth district vice-commander. Members of Highlands post and the auxiliary are invited to attend.

Youngsters Tell Rotarians About Northern Trip

Marcus Covington, Jr., and Arthur Johnston entertained the Rotarians at their luncheon Wednesday with an account of their travels in the north this summer. In a very entertaining and explicit style the boys told of their various adventures on the trip, their camping experiences, the time spent in Canada and Chicago, including their visit to the world's fair.

Both boys made excellent talks, Johnson dealing chiefly with the trip going north and Covington with the southern trip. They arrived at Jacksonville on Labor Day, the day of the storm, and came on as far as Kissimmee where they were forced to turn over the east coast and then back to Frostproof. This extra mileage depleted what few funds they had left and they arrived home with eight cents between them. They enjoyed the trip immensely and had the time of their young lives.

Other visitors at the luncheon were Louis Almsmeyer of Sebring and Miss Virginia Baldwin who presided at the picnic.

FISH AND GAME DEPT. FUNCTIONS

Consolidation of Departments
Does Not Mean They Are Eliminated

Tallahassee, Sept. 27.—(FNS)—The work of the state fish and game department, the shell fish commission and the geological survey has not been discontinued, although, despite reports to the contrary.

George W. Davis, commissioner of the new state conservation department which embraces the three old departments, said he had received numerous queries wanting to know if the activities of the three old state departments were being continued.

Davis also stated that he had received word from several sections of the state to the effect that fish and game laws were being violated without regard because some persons thought the old departments had been abolished and that there was no one to enforce the laws.

The commissioner said he wanted the public of Florida to know that the three old departments were still functioning under the direction of the new conservation department. This game and fish laws were still in effect and that agents of the conservation department were enforcing all laws.

The fresh water fish and game department, the shell fish commission and the geological survey were consolidated into the conservation department by the 1933 Legislature as an economy move. Activities of the three departments are being carried out under administration of Commissioner Davis, formerly shell fish commissioner.

Mrs. Davidson and Mother Report Fine Trip This Summer

Mrs. W. A. Davidson and her mother, Mrs. Fannie D. Johnson, have returned to Avon Park after a nine weeks' trip to their old home in Burlington, Vermont, and other places in the north. Mrs. Davidson reports that on her trip up from here to Burlington, 1750 miles, she averaged better than 16 1/2 miles to the gallon and used only two quarts of oil. She also says she was not nearly so tired driving a Ford V8 as on several trips previously, driving a larger car. Mrs. Davidson and her mother had a very enjoyable summer but are glad to get back home to Avon Park.

Commercial Dept. On Salary Basis In High Schools

The county board of public instruction has placed the teaching of the commercial department in the Avon Park and Sebring high schools back on a salary basis, with Joe Bass in charge of the work in both schools. Arrangements had been made to operate the department on tuition basis, due to lack of funds, but this will not be necessary now, according to the latest action of the county board.

COUNTY SCHOOLS TO OPEN OCT. 16

Emergency Relief To Furnish Funds To Repair Storm
Damaged Buildings

All schools in the county will open October 16 for a full eight month term, according to a statement given out by County Superintendent F. N. K. Bailey this week.

There have been reports that there would not be a full term this year, but Col. Bailey stated emphatically that there would be a full eight month term in every school in the county.

It was originally intended that the schools would open October 2, but on account of the damage to the school buildings, caused by the storm, it was necessary to postpone the opening until repairs could be made.

Application has been made to the Emergency Relief Headquarters for funds to repair the buildings and the application has been approved by Marcus Fagg and Gov. Sholtz and the school board are confident they will receive instructions within a few days to start repairing the buildings that were damaged by the storm and rebuild the two school houses that were completely demolished.

It is believed that a complete new roof will be necessary on the Sebring school building and a large amount of the plaster will have to be torn down and replaced and this work must be completed before school starts.

The school boards of 24 counties will receive orders for the repair of storm damaged buildings from the recommendation of the Governor and the head of the relief council goes through and there is very little doubt as to what the result will be.

Attorney Suggests Lawyers' Code To Circumvent Evaders

Washington, Sept. 27.—(FNS)—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, National Recovery Administrator, has received a telegram from a western lawyer informing him that clients are seeking advice as to methods they can employ to circumvent the provisions of the National Industrial Recovery Act.

The giving of such advice by attorneys in times like the present should be condemned, the lawyer adds. He makes the suggestion that if lawyers were requested to draft a code having for its main feature a pledge to refrain from giving advice as to how to defeat the NRA, such a request would be met by a patriotic response from the legal profession.

"Would further suggest," the telegram continues, "that attorneys report to the Administration all persons requesting such illegal advice. While this is contrary to the present accepted code of legal ethics, I believe that the present emergency justifies this exception. This is one way the profession may serve."

Spanish Coin Dated 1737 Found in Garden

St. Augustine, Sept. 27.—(FNS)—Residents of historic old St. Augustine occasionally have reminders of the romantic past.

A silver coin recently dug up in the garden of an old Spanish home here bears the date of 1737. The date, lettering and design on the coin are remarkably clear after being carefully cleaned and polished. The Spanish coat-of-arms, with the lion, emblematic of the union of the provinces of Castile and Leon are revealed on the silver coin.

The coin was found by Sam C. McDaniel, who values it highly.

Quick Action on Complaints Made to Compliance Boards

Washington, Sept. 27.—Within a few hours after a question has arisen in any community in the United States as to alleged violations of the President's Reemployment Agreement, the local compliance board will be able to obtain a definite ruling from the district recovery board or, if the district board is unable to decide the point, from Washington direct.

There are 25 district boards throughout the country, with an average of 200 community compliance boards in each district. Under instructions from National Administrator Hugh S. Johnson, all complaints not settled by the local board or the district board will be submitted by the district boards to NRA in Washington by telegraph, and rulings will be transmitted in the same manner, in order to save time and secure the promptest possible compliance by or relief for every employer wherever located.

As information centers for the dissemination of NRA rulings and policies in their respective communities, it is expected that compliance boards will be able to harmonize many misunderstandings on the ground. These boards are superseding the local NRA recovery boards or committees insofar as concerns complaints of noncompliance with the President's Agreement. All decisions rendered by NRA headquarters in Washington will be telegraphed immediately to the 26 district boards for prompt transmission to the local compliance boards for their guidance in acting upon similar cases. In his instructions to the secretaries of the district boards General Johnson said, in part:

Reports and recommendations from local compliance boards on individual cases of noncompliance, petitions for exceptions, and union contracts are forwarded to you instead of to Washington. This is to otherwise incorrect reports from agency to prevent incomplete or utilize your office as a sifting reaching NRA here and thus save time. You will act as information center for policies and rulings on NRA in your district. Local boards have been warned to expect periodic requests for progress reports from you and to refer to you for rulings on all new fact situations in which there have been no previous rulings. Your request to NRA in Washington for new rulings will be complied with at once by telegraph, as well as to the other 25 district offices. In turn, you will furnish this information not only to the local board from which the request came but to all other boards in your district. You are not yourself to make any rulings. By this method we should get almost instant uniformity. It is expected your district office can keep the local boards well informed and in harmony with the national policy.

Local compliance boards are being set up to obtain compliance with the President's Reemployment Agreement and not with the permanent code. All problems of code administration as distinguished from the administration of the President's Agreement should be forwarded directly to NRA in Washington. In a supplementary instruction for the guidance of local compliance boards General Johnson stressed the fact that friendly aid rather than the iron fist will be the guiding rule.

It is recognized that in many localities compliance boards, under other names, have been functioning with definite success. Where procedure has already been developed by such boards it was explained that the instructions were to be regarded as merely supplementary. General Johnson expressed himself as highly pleased with the work already done by many local boards. He regards what has been done as an outstanding manifestation of how thoroughly they are imbued with the spirit of NRA.

Bride-Elect Complimented

Miss Mamie Barnett, whose marriage to L. Roy Humphries of Winchester, Kentucky, will be an event of October 11th, was complimented Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Jim Collins entertaining at her home on Glenwood avenue with a miscellaneous shower.

A color motif of green and pink was reflected in the decorations, pink hibiscus being combined with feathery fern, long graceful sprays of coral vines being also entwined with fern in achieving a veritable garden scene. The bride's chair was gayly trimmed with crepe paper streamers and the bride-to-be completed a picture of unusual loveliness in her formal afternoon dress of orchid chiffon.

Upon arrival the guests were invited to inscribe an appropriate verse in the bride's book. Interesting contests had been arranged, the "Wedding Ball" contest, and also a flower romance providing amusement during the afternoon. Mrs. Raleigh Lawton excelled in the contests being awarded a heart-shaped bread board, with knife.

Oldest Case Settled By Supreme Court

Tallahassee, Sept. 27.—(FNS)—The Florida supreme court last week dismissed its oldest case, filed on the court docket in 1916.

The suit was brought by Van C. Swearingen as attorney general vs. the Florida East Coast Canal and Transportation company. It was dismissed by the court because the relief sought by the state in the original suit was made unnecessary by subsequent legislative enactments.

The Depositors' Point of View

During these rapidly changing times, the public has been doing more constructive thinking than at any time during the past three or four generations. Especially does this apply to the present-day bank depositor. He appreciates the fact that when the bank makes a loan, the bank is loaning his money or his neighbor's money. Many of our depositors realize the necessity for greater vigilance on the part of the bank today in making loans than ever before.

It is the depositor who is helping to convince the public that the bank desires to make good loans and that the bank will make loans where the borrower has a sound plan for liquidating such a loan.

NEW MILK PRICES Effective Oct. 1, 1933

The Florida Milk Control Board has established the following scale of prices for milk and milk products in the northern half of Highlands County:

MILK
Per Quart	16c
Per Pint	9c
WHIPPING CREAM
Per Pint	45c
Per Half-Pint	25c
BUTTERMILK
Per Quart	10c

This slight increase in the price of milk is made necessary by rapidly advancing prices of feed and increased operating expenses.

The above schedule of prices governs every one selling milk in this area. Any deviation from the prices is in violation of the Florida Milk Control law.

"Today We Live" Brings Two Stars To Avon Screen

The greatly anticipated co-starring picture for Joe Crawford and Garry Cooper, "Today We Live," opens Sunday at the Avon theatre as one of the major productions to come from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios. Miss Crawford, whose work in "Letty Lynton" and "Grand Hotel" definitely placed her as the outstanding emotional player on the screen today, and Cooper, who recently contributed a memorable performance in "A Farewell to Arms," have never appeared together on the screen before.

An auspicious event

Their first co-starring appearance is an auspicious event in cinema history, for it takes place in a filmization of a story by the brilliant American writer, William Faulkner, whose novels, "Sanctuary" and "Light in August," have created a literary fortune. In "Today We Live," Faulkner has written a story about the dramatic experiences of an English society girl who offers her services to England during the World War in an ambulance unit, and falls in love with an American flyer. The production was directed by Howard Hawks, who produced the successful "Scarface," and the supporting cast includes Robert Young, the New York stage juvenile Franchot Tone, Roscoe Karns, Louise Cloche, Healy, Lloyd and Lydia Vaughn.

In "Today We Live," Miss Crawford finds herself the center of an emotional conflict between three men, two of whom lose their lives in her behalf. The powerful story shifts from the aristocratic country estate of the heroine to dynamic episodes in the battle zones of the war, which is said to be one of the most terrific climaxes ever devised for the screen occurring when one of the star's lovers gets a "death order" to blow up a ship from which there will be no return. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is said to have placed all the facilities at its disposal to Director Hawks in the filming of this picture, which is reported to be one of the outstanding talkie productions of the year.

Legion Post Endorses Governor's Action

Apalachicola, Sept. 27.—(FNS)—Referring to the governor as "their fellow Legionnaire," the American Legion post of Apalachicola at a meeting September 20, passed a resolution paying tribute to Governor Sholtz for "calmly, effectively, and without regard to political expediency, arising to every emergency in a period more trying than war. With broadminded and far-sighted wisdom," the resolution read, "the governor has fostered the interests and aspirations of those sections of the state, which for want of political influence have heretofore been neglected."

The Apalachicola post membership, individually and collectively, pledged their support and loyalty to the governor.

Hal Hoffman, post adjutant; J. E. Austin, post chaplain; and R. F. Anderson, post finance officer, signed the resolution.

Tobacco Growers of Florida Are Signing Reduction Contracts

Gainesville, Sept. 27.—Growers of free-cured tobacco in Florida are signing agreements to reduce their acreage or the number of pounds marketed in 1934 and 1935, says A. P. Spencer, vice-director of the Agricultural Extension Service, which is conducting the sign-up campaign for the Agricultural Adjustment Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture. The contracts do not specify the amount of reduction, which is to be determined later by the Secretary of Agriculture, but indicate that it will not be more than 30 percent of the acreage or of the amount of tobacco marketed by the grower during the last three years.

The plan contemplates cash payments to growers who co-operate and who sign the agreements now. The sign-up campaign began September 3 and will close September 23. The county agents in the tobacco counties are holding meetings and otherwise contacting tobacco growers to obtain their signatures. Growers are urged by Mr. Spencer to get in touch with their agents.

According to the report of the Inspection Bureau, Department of Agriculture, in Tallahassee, Highlands county consumed, during the month of August, 93,573 gallons of gasoline and 12,466 gallons of kerosene. The total consumption in the state is 15,461,226 gallons of gasoline and 1,693,243 gallons of kerosene, not including 190,649 gallons of gas and 445 gallons of kerosene sold to U. S. Govt. Agencies free of tax.

Emergency Relief Overhead Reduced

Tallahassee, Sept. 27.—(FNS)—State Director of Emergency Relief, Marcus C. Fagg, has reduced the cost of administering relief funds from fifteen percent to eight percent since his appointment as director July 1. This reduction has been made in spite of greatly expanded diversification of activities and increasing burden of relief.

Ninety-two cents out of every relief dollar being expended in Florida is reaching the destitute and needy, numbering in excess of 400,000 people, according to Director Fagg.

"We are out to make a record equal to any state in the Union and have no slightest doubt but that we shall be able to reduce this cost factor to five percent," said the State Director, "then 95 cents of every dollar granted the state by the federal government will reach the individuals in need of assistance."

Director Fagg said that about 25 employees are working in the Tallahassee headquarters. He pointed out that in spite of the tremendous volume of detail work imposed upon headquarters, there are fewer workers employed than are necessary to the proper function of county relief committees in several of the larger counties.

Retail Code To Provide About 900,000 New Jobs

Washington, Sept. 27.—Because it affects daily purchases in every American home and the salaries and hours of work of 5,000,000 persons now employed in stores all over the country, besides affording new jobs for at least 900,000 persons, interest now centers in the code of the retail trades on which hearings are in progress.

Experts studying the code, which includes all retailers except the food and drug groups determining whether its provisions affect as many workers as possible, based on hours and rates of pay. Their national estimate for retail re-employment, under the provisions of the code, is 900,000. Decision as to inclusion of drug stores in the general retail code will probably be reached at a very early date. The chief difficulty in co-ordinating the retail drug trade with other classes of retail stores involves differences in hours. Other obstacles relate to various price fixing proposals supported by many engaged in identical lines and guarantees not to sell below cost, vigorously opposed by a considerable minority. Some merchants claim that the 10 percent profit over cost price would still permit ruinous price wars.

Billboard Code Offers To Restore Landscapes

Washington, Sept. 27.—It remained for NRA to rid the country of unsightly billboards which offend the eye and have fought in every corner of the country for generations. The accomplishment is still potential, but it is in sight and it comes without any apparent effort. It is a voluntary offer of the outdoor advertising industry in its code of fair competition submitted to NRA, and prominent in its voluntary provisions is prohibition of signs which "obstruct a beautiful vista of the panoramic view of natural beauties of landscape." It bans boards constituting traffic hazards and those intruding upon the dignity of public parks. It would eliminate advertising attached to rocks, trees, or fences and that which is "offensive to moral standards, or which is false, deceptive, or misleading." The industry "desires that its business as it relates to rural areas will at all times be representative of the best in the public interest."

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

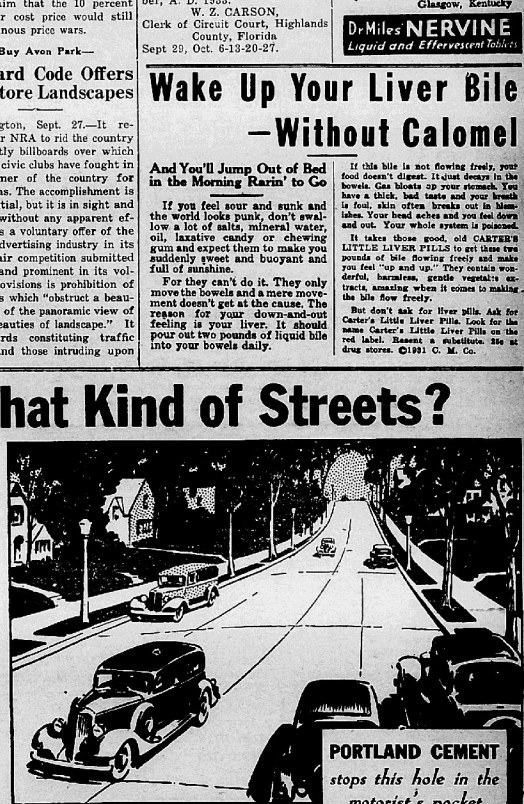

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere "stool doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is a clogged liver. It should be cleaned out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, grade vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of a substitute. 25¢ at drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

What Kind of Streets?

PORTLAND CEMENT

stops this hole in the motorist's pocket

CONCRETE—BRINGS WORK TO MEN—BEAUTY TO THE STREET—SAVINGS TO EVERY MOTORIST

Now, for the first time, Federal Funds will be available through your State Highway Department for paving arterial streets. The government provides for this with no burden to the property owner or city in its direct grant to states of road building funds. Your arterial streets should be paved now—and with the finest type of pavement—CONCRETE...

CONCRETE meets every government specification—that the improvement be permanent—that it be substantially built—of a type that will give men work. CONCRETE does that—and gives you far more.

It gives you: Streets that cost less to maintain than any other type. Streets that cost less to drive over—saving on the wear, gasoline, repair bills and depreciation for every mile you drive. Streets that improve the appearance and the property values of the neighborhood.

Insist on CONCRETE for your streets—get the most and best street for the money—and the maximum employment for labor!

85% to 90% of the Money Spent on Construction Goes to Labor

Streets that are less-than-concrete pile on extra burden on every motor car, every delivery truck using them. Day after day, such streets make driving more costly by increasing car operating and maintenance costs—4¢ more per mile on the best type—2¢ more per mile on unpaved streets. Dollars-and-cents figures, proved in country-wide surveys, prove these facts. CONCRETE, the latest of all pavements is the most economical of all pavements to use. Portland cement—basic ingredient of concrete—is the material of the engineer for stopping the hole in the motorist's pocket.

As an Ex-Kentuckian, we recommend—not from personal experience, but from conviction early imbibed from Blue Grass atmosphere and tradition—that if you must drink liquor, insist upon the Kentucky article. That's the only kind in our opinion that justifies Bob Ingersoll's famous tribute.

With the Supreme Court of the State splitting 50-50 on the arsenic or no-arsenic treatment of grapefruit, and the growers also divided on the question, an ordinary layman's opinion seems of little consequence. We can only hope that the argument will work out to the best interests of the growers and the citrus industry as a whole.

Young Stribling, gallant fighter, whose tragic and untimely end is deplored throughout the country, was regarded as a home boy in Florida. While his life hung in the balance there was deep sympathy in every Florida community for the Georgian making his last fight, and many prayers for his recovery; but perhaps death was most merciful, all the circumstances considered.

Ten million is the goal now set for membership in the American Federation of Labor. This is labor's great opportunity and the unions will go far if moderation and reason control their movements. Otherwise they will risk the loss of the approval and sympathy of fair-minded people, without which they cannot hope for substantial and permanent success. The present is no time for the professional agitator and trouble-maker.

Strikes all over the country contribute the greatest drawback to national recovery at this time. Compulsory arbitration, administered with a strong, impartial hand, might reconcile the differences between employers and employees. Mussolini put an end to strikes in his country, and there has been industrial peace and progress since. We would not advocate Mussolini methods in this country, but industrial warfare and unrest should be handled firmly and with a view to justice for all.

Libel suits against a newspaper usually name a sum expressed in two or three digits and as many ciphers to the right of them as can be gotten in a line, the idea being that the plaintiff will consider himself doing well if he recovers 3.2 per cent of the amount sued for. The reverse side of the picture is shown in the action of the Tampa Tribune, which has sued a would-be defamer for $501, the smallest sum that can be claimed in damages in the Circuit Court. The Tribune seeks only vindication, not money; but the people of South Florida need no court verdict to confirm their conviction that the Tribune is a shining exemplar of honest and ethical journalism—a conviction that cannot be shaken by anything so insignificant as the vindictive charges of a disgruntled office holder.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

"There are no wives with us,
There are no wives with us,
There may be wives
With some of you guys,
But there are no wives with us."

The above ditty, that started out in life as an innocent Shrine Convention song, seems destined to become a popular theme chime in political circles. It is stuck about the time Jim Lee was percolating from stump to stump advocatin' one job to a family and promisin' to send all the married women back to their husbands if we elected him controller. So we did—and so he did.

I mean he did. One of the first tricks he pulled after hangin' his skull cap on Mr. Amos' exalted rack was to check on all the gals in his department. Wherever he found one who possessed a live, able-bodied husband he told 'em he was sorry and all that, but it was just too bad, they'd have to go back to their fryin' pans and rollin' pins.

Jim figured a woman ought to have her hands full holdin' her husband now-a-days without tryin' to hold a job at the same time. Furthermore he wasn't keen about bein' messed up with a lot of other guys' wives. And now Ed Larson, Florida's new Internal Revenue Chief, has issued an order to the effect that all married women in his organization who are unfortunate enough to be handicapped with live, able-bodied husbands, are blockin' the traffic on the road to recovery and their resignations will be accepted. And just before the schools opened in Hillsborough county a lot of married teachers saw the hand writin' on the blackboard and put themselves out of circulation by resignin' while they still could.

It is a tough break for some of 'em at that. Some husbands are bad enough just to live with, let alone off. And it is a lot easier to go to the cashier's window and get their own money than it is to try and get some of "ours" from "him."

And now P. T. Strieder is talkin' about pullin' off a Governor's Derby at the South Florida Fair next February. Well if it attracts as much attention and causes as much comment as Governor Shott's derby did at the World's Fair, it'll be good. But I'll bet if there is a Derby at the South Florida Fair, Dave won't be under it, even if it is his race.

It looks like it would take more than a little "Athlete's foot" to stop our "Back to the prison-farm movement." The commissioner Mayo gives his prisoners some consideration, but if the convicts don't raise cane, those Everglades residents will, and don't think they're not able.

HINTS TO HOUSEWIVES

Weekly from Home Demonstration Specialists, Tallahassee

SELECTING POULTRY.

Poultry should be plump, compact and the flesh tender and elastic to the touch, the skin clear, smooth, moist and unbroken.

The breastbone in a young bird should be flexible and the skin easily broken when twisted between the fingers. Joints of the wing should yield readily when turned backward. Young birds show smooth skin, dotted with pin feathers, while older birds have long hairs and the neck skin becomes loose and bumpy. Soft and smooth feet and legs, with leg scales small and smooth, indicate a young bird. The eyes should be bright and comb red.

Birds with yellow skin are likely to be plump; those with white skin are likely to be tender. Bruised, dry or purplish skin is an indication of careless dressing or age. Hens, dry, scaly legs, hard breast bone and presence of long hairs are all signs of an old and less tender bird. Avoid birds with a full crop. Buy dry-picked poultry when possible.

Poultry and game, unless they are in cold storage, should not be kept long uncooked. They should be drawn as soon as purchased and should be kept in a cool place. Small and lean turkeys are young, small and plump, cock turkeys are more satisfactory. Geese should have an abundance of pin feathers, soft feet and pliable bills.

There is more meat in proportion to the amount of bone in fowls weighing five and six pounds than there is in smaller birds. In general, in buying meat, poultry is somewhat expensive because of so much waste. It pays to raise rather than buy poultry for food. Approximately one-third of a chicken is lost in dressing and drawing and another one-third in cooking. Geese and ducks have more waste.

Ducks are, in general, judged as chickens. The windpipe of a young duck is soft and may be easily squeezed and moved about, while in the older duck it is stiff and fixed. —Anna Mae Sikes.

MORE HINTS ON BUYING FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Buy fruits and vegetables in seasons weighing five and six pounds than there is in smaller birds.

Buy amounts you can conveniently store and keep without spoilage. Local products are usually superior, fresher and cheaper.

Know the food value of various vegetables and fruits and be able to substitute like food value when certain products are expensive. Prices are no indication of food value.

When prices are at their peak for fresh products, use some canned and dried products.

In buying products that are in crates or hampers, be sure to read the label on the box. The goods will be indicated on the label with other necessary information.

Choose for yourself fresh fruits and vegetables.

Be familiar with prices and main points in selecting.
Know the purpose for which you are going to use the product before you buy.

In general, buy or sell by weight. Thin green leaves are rich in vitamin A.

The deeper the yellow color, the more vitamin A.

Green leaves and yellow vegetables are also rich in iron.

Acid fruits do not help make the system acid but rather counteract the acid condition.

Consider quality rather than size. —Anna Mae Sikes.

All Employees, Even Under Codes, Must Apply For Blue Eagle

Washington, Oct. 4.—There is no deviation from the rule for issuing to employers authorization to display the NRA Blue Eagle. All sign for it on the same basis, whether or not the industry or trade to which they belong is yet operating under codes of fair competition approved by the President. This was made clear in a statement given out at the headquarters of the National Recovery Administration.

In the same statement it was made clear that members of a trade or industry whose code has been approved are not required by law to "sign" a code. All codes are submitted by trade associations or groups "truly representative" of each industry's membership. Hearings on codes are not granted until NRA is assured of the representative character of the association or group. Usually they represent more than 80 percent of the industry; frequently more than 90 percent. Minority interests within the trade always are granted unrestricted time for presentation of objections at hearings, which frequently are postponed to suit their convenience. NRA's statement on these two points reads as follows:

"In reply to a number of questions that have come to the National Recovery Administration, it was pointed out by the Administration that under the National Industrial Recovery Act a code approved by the President becomes binding upon each employer in the trade or industry on the effective date stated in the Code, regardless of whether or not the particular employer has signed the code; but after the effective date of the code an employer who has not got the Blue Eagle and wants to get it, must sign a certificate of compliance, adding to it the statement, 'We have complied with the operative provisions of the code for the — trade or industry.' He can then obtain the Blue Eagle by delivery of this certificate to his post office."

RURAL COMMON SENSE

By Spuds Johnson

AGRICULTURAL ACT IS PRACTICAL BUSINESS MEASURE, SAYS WALLACE

That the Agricultural Adjustment Act is a practical business measure which presages more leisure for the farm family, thus meaning a new deal for its members, and will mean an increasing flow of money through the channels of business when the farmer gets increased returns, is the opinion of Secretary Wallace. Here is what he said recently on the subject:

"The Agricultural Adjustment Act is a practical business measure. It ought to be presented to the farmers of this country as such. We have no right, in view of agriculture's 12 long years of merited deflation and poverty, to approach the farmer with any plan that will not manifestly increase his income and give him a fair share of the national wealth.

"The extra money the act will bring to those farm families who co-operate will not be hoarded; it will move. It will bring new goods, new conveniences, new services, and a new self-respect and confidence into the lives of men and women long deprived. It will have even wider consequences than that. The act, if it works, will bring to farming people not only a balanced abundance, but a more balanced leisure, and a greater opportunity for individual growth.

"We have worked too hard in this country. It was a new country, ours for the taking; so overwork was natural. We made a virtue of inordinate greed and effort. Our march of pioneer conquest, if you examine it candidly, was not unreservedly glorious.

"We have believed that leisure is wrong. There was a reason for this. In old days the utmost activity paid manifest returns. Those returns often were dearly bought; health was broken; imagination was stunted by endless drudgery; children came into the world crippled and weakened because their mothers while carrying them had worked too hard. I do not know that we are fit for leisure; but I believe that now that we are turning our minds around, and discovering that overwork does not pay, neither in money nor in any other sense, we will not continue to make a fetish of overwork. We shall learn as individuals to value and to improve ourselves. We shall see that it pays to sow less, and take better care of it, and take better care of ourselves and our children. We shall learn to rest part of our land and to rest ourselves part of the time."

Mrs. Gerald Hanes, of Kendallville, Ind., swallowed five safety pins and all were removed without causing serious injury.

Sunday School Lesson

FOR OCTOBER 8, 1933.

SUBJECT: Saul in Damascus.
GOLDEN TEXT: "Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." 2 Corinthians 5: 17.

LESSON TEXT: Acts 9: 1-12, 17-19.

TIME AND PLACE OF LESSON: About 34 A. D.; Damascus.
 After the ascension of Christ the Apostles were uncertain as to what course to pursue. In first chapter of Acts Jesus met and taught the disciples, and said, "They should not depart from Jerusalem, but wait for the promise of the Father," and "Ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence." And they continued "with one accord in prayer and supplication, with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren."

On the day of Pentecost the Holy Spirit descended upon them and 3000 joined with the disciples in following Jesus. The church was organized and grew rapidly. The seven deacons, including Stephen, were appointed "over the business" of the church, while the Apostles preached the gospel. Stephen, one of the deacons, "did great wonders and miracles among the people." And the opponents of Christ "were not able to resist the wisdom and the spirit by which he spoke." Stephen was arrested and killed. "And they stoned Stephen, calling upon God, and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit. And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep."

At this killing of Stephen we first hear of Saul of Tarsus, who afterward became Paul the Apostle. He was, perhaps, the worst of all early persecutors of the followers of Christ.

OUR LESSON FOR TODAY says, "And Saul, yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest, and desired of him letters to Damascus to the synagogues, that if he found any of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem."

Under the Roman government the High Priest and the rulers of the synagogues were allowed to enforce the Hebrew Law. Jesus appeared to Saul near Damascus. "And as he journeyed, he came near Damascus; and suddenly there shined around about him a light from Heaven: And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus, whom thou persecutest: And he, trembling and saying, Lord, what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do. And the men which journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing a voice, but seeing no man. And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, he saw no man: but they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus. And he was three days without sight, and neither did eat nor drink. And there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named Ananias; and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord. And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Judas for one called Saul of Tarsus: for, behold, he prayeth, and he hath seen in a vision a man named Ananias coming in, and putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight. "Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard by many of this man, how much evil he hath done to the saints; but the Lord ordered him to go. "And Ananias went his way, and entered into the house; and putting his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and he filled with the Holy Ghost. And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales: and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized. And when he had received meat, he was strengthened. Then was Saul certain days with the disciples which were at Damascus."

Connected with our lesson are the Vision to Saul. His preaching in Damascus. And his retirement to Arabia. Afterward Saul returned to Damascus and preached, and then went to Jerusalem where the church rejected him, not believing in his conversion, until Barnabas came before the assembled church and vouched for Saul's honesty and sincerity. After being driven from Damascus and Jerusalem Saul returned to his native City of Tarsus where we will find him in next Sunday's lesson.

STATE AUDITORS TO CHECK CITY BOOKS

Pendleton, at Tuesday night's meeting, suggested that another auditor be engaged and Lester had done the work previously.

Head objected to the resolution as parts of it were untrue, he said. The original draft read that Lester was working on the books when the state auditors arrived and this was changed to read "was about to begin work." Purdy claimed it was only fair to himself and City Clerk Shockey to have Lester make an audit also and the question then went to a vote.

Following the meeting both sets of auditors started to work, State Auditor Edwards being assisted by George H. Rochnor. On being questioned regarding the resolution as passed, Mr. Edwards stated he knew of no conference being held with Comptroller Lee regarding the audit and that none had been asked through him.

NEW MILK PRICES Effective Oct. 1, 1933

The Florida Milk Control Board has established the following scale of prices for milk and milk products in the northern half of Highlands County:

MILK
Per Quart	16c
Per Pint	9c
WHIPPING CREAM
Per Pint	45c
Per Half-Pint	25c
BUTTERMILK
Per Quart	10c

This slight increase in the price of milk is made necessary by rapidly advancing prices of feed and increased operating expenses.

The above schedule of prices governs every one selling milk in this area. Any deviation from these prices is in violation of the Florida Milk Control law.

Jean Harlow and Gable Triumph in "Hold Your Man"

Jean Harlow and Clark Gable are teamed again in "Hold Your Man," which opens Sunday at the Avon theatre, following in the wake of their smashing success in "Red Dust," which brought a popular demand for the present reunion.

In a story calculated to afford the co-stars opportunity for performances fitting their individual talents and personalities, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer offers a production both intensely dramatic and romantic. An original by Anita Loos, the story concerns a rowdy love affair that begins as a sketchy interlude but winds up as a vividly human romance.

Sam Wood has directed the picture with a fine valuation of the starring pair's popularity. His tempo is swift and smooth and the love scenes are almost as warm as this reviewer has seen in many a day—or night.

Sympathy and Humor

As the cheap little drifter who goes to prison for the man she loves, Miss Harlow endows her characterization with a wistful sympathy and humor. Particularly in the incident in which she awakens to approaching motherhood is she effective. Gable batters his way through the early part of the picture with delightful nonchalance which sharply contrasts his important work in the climactic sequences when he risks his life as a murder charge to give a name to the unborn child.

Stuart Erwin is excellent in the first serious role he has ever seen him play. Dorothy Burgess also comes in for her share of plaudits and the cast is rounded out by such regulars as Muriel, Kipland, Garry Owen, Barbara Patterson, Paul Hurst, Elizabeth Patterson, Theresa Harris, Blanche Friderici and George Reed.

There also is a song hit, "Hold Your Man," by Nacio Herb Brown and Arthur Freed.

Move To Organize Grove Labor Causes Alarm of Growers

Orlando, October 5. — (FNS) — Alarmed at the move in this state to organize farm and grove employees with the view of demanding thirty cents or more per hour, O. E. Swope, large celery grower and rector, stated today that if Florida farmers, citrus and truck growers are forced to pay unskilled labor thirty cents an hour, it will ruin them.

"I believe firmly in the NRA," Mr. Swope said. "I am backing and boosting it in every way, but the fact remains that growers of citrus and truck crops are in a different position from other employers of labor. I understand that while perishables have been excluded from the codes, an effort is now being made to organize unskilled labor in this type of work. "Most growers and farmers have carried on operations at a loss, or at a very small margin of profit and should it become necessary to increase wages at this time the consequences would prove most serious," Mr. Swope said.

1934 License Tags On Sale December 1

Tallahassee, Oct. 5. — (FNS) — Faced with the problem of supplying approximately 350,000 automobile tags to the state, the tag production plant at the state prison may have to be worked night and day. The normal margin of profit is about 6,000 tags a day.

A handicap is occasioned by the installation of new machinery, specially designed to manufacture the theft lock device, recently contracted for by the state. Officials are in doubt as to whether the present volume of 6,000 tags a day can be maintained on the new tags which take more time to manufacture.

Ailing Motor Vehicle Commissioner Wilder is keeping in close touch with the situation through the co-operation of prison superintendent Chapman, and if necessary a day and night shift will be put on the work.

Tags are scheduled to go on sale December 1, and deliveries to tax collectors in each county must be made prior to that date.

CITY OFFICIALS HELD MEETING IN ST. PETE

Emergency Relief urged cities to assume their share of responsibility in connection with unemployment relief.

A mass of business was crowded into the closing hours of the session. Mayor H. H. Baskin, of Clearwater, was elected President of the League for the ensuing year. Coral Gables was selected for the next convention, to be held some time during the first quarter of next year.

Dr. Davison Has Resigned From Relief Work Here

Dr. W. A. Davison, well known Avon Park resident, has resigned as county director of emergency work relief. He has been connected with relief work in Avon Park and Highlands county since its inception and has devoted a great part of his time and incurred large personal expense in carrying on the work and his resignation will be regretted by his many friends and co-workers.

In his letter of resignation addressed to E. G. Todd, chairman of the county relief council, Dr. Davison says:

October 6, 1933.
Mr. E. G. Todd,
Chairman of Highlands County Emergency Relief Council, Avon Park, Florida.
My Dear Mr. Todd:

More than a year ago, I was elected by the city council, chairman of the Avon Park Relief Commission; then a little later was appointed chairman of the Red Cross work in Avon Park, and finally, appointed by the Governor, director of relief in Avon Park, and in June was appointed director of work relief for Highlands County. Most of this time I furnished the car, gas and oil without any remuneration whatever and I say frankly that I have enjoyed the work and while no man could please everybody, yet I believe most of the people in Avon Park and Highlands county feel that I have done a real service for suffering humanity, but now the time has come when I cannot carry the burden any longer so herewith tender my resignation to take effect on October 15th. I do appreciate greatly the splendid work which you have done, giving your thought, time and money without remuneration of any kind and I also most heartily appreciate and thank you for the cooperation you have given me and also for the urgent invitation recently given me to go back on the County Council, but after mature thought, I feel it is better that I should step entirely out and let other and younger men carry the load. I want to take this opportunity to heartily thank the many men and women throughout the County for assisting me in what we all believe is a splendid work. I also thank the newspapers for their cooperation and trust someone else may very soon be found to take up the work and relieve me of that which has come to be a burden heavier than I can carry any longer.

Thanking you most heartily for all you have been to me and done for me, I am,
Very cordially yours,
W. A. DAVISON.

PROTECTING THE UTILITIES

Baiting of public utilities has gained considerable popularity in a number of jurisdictions during the depression period. In large part, this has resulted from the fact that, by the very nature of the "fair return on fair value" principle on which they operate, the utilities did not in general reduce their rates. The financial collapse of several badly financed systems was an important aggravating factor, while the close affiliation in the popular mind of the utility industry with the regime defeated at the polls last November has also played a role.

The utilities are being attacked now on three fronts. First, drives for lower rates are under way in a number of States. Second, the tax burden resting on the utilities is on the increase, notably in the case of the Federal power tax. Lastly, Government competition in the power business as seen at Muscle Shoals, promises to become increasingly intensive and effective.

These steps designed to curtail utility revenues come at the very time when the "New Deal" is making for substantial increases in utility costs. The stabilization of industrial output sought by the President's economic program will also tend to prevent any major increases in the future demand for power, a factor which helped utilities greatly in cutting their unit costs in the past.

The utilities should be accorded the same protection under the "New Deal" as is being given industry at large. In their case, this means the maintenance or the increase of rates as costs rise. Now that rising prices is the order of the day elsewhere it is altogether illogical to pick out utility rates for indiscriminate condemnation as excessive.

A number of gentlemen in the cotton region of the South are growing a small crop of cotton. They are using government money to fertilize the soil. They are not doing it.
