

THERE'S ALWAYS ANOTHER YEAR

MARTHA OSTENSO

WWW SERVICE

CHAPTER I

ORIGINALLY, when the Heron River band—an eight-man institution which included a twelve-year-old snare-drummer and a bass drummer of six—played, of a summer night, "The Gypsy," "The Gypsy All Here," and proceeded with proper solemnity into "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," old Shad Finney looked at old Nils Clevek and said, "Well, she's finished now. We better get along." And Nils, sucking on his pipe, would nod his head in grave accord.

But this was no ordinary band concert night in July. The telephone operator, Albert Symes, had let fall the information that the express was going to stop at the Heron River depot this evening. It was not only going to slow down as it was its wont, to drop off the incoming mail and to snatch up the outgoing, but it was going to come to a definite standstill. To let of a passenger. And who hadn't read in today's Maynard Times about the launching, over a gas engine, of the Chicago, of Gentlemen Jim Grenoble—Gentleman Jim who still owned half of the Grenoble farm, far away in Nebraska, by a fancy wife now long dead; and who had a daughter who must now be nineteen or twenty? Albert Symes, being a man of letter in his profession, hadn't said that there had been a wife to Sophronia Willard. Jim's married sister, about Jim's daughter, stating that she would arrive on the evening train. But Title Fisk, of the telephone office, had conveniently let it slip that Albert had conveyed the message to Phronie Willard at eight o'clock that morning. So that it had been unnecessary for Albert Symes to betray his trust.

Another interesting angle in the situation was that Roddy Willard, stepson of Sophronia, had mysteriously disappeared in his car yesterday. "Just a little trip," Roddy had said. In view of the fact that Elizabeth Fisk, the postmistress and sister of Title, knew that four letters had been placed in Roddy's rural mail box during the past ten days, all in the same feminine hand-writing, the circumstances were intriguing indeed.

All in all, conditions certainly warranted a change of procedure on the part of those two old cronies, Shad Finney and Nils Clevek. They stopped heavily enough upon the advent of "Bad Hail," but after that they glanced at each other and immediately thereafter followed out from among the bushes, looking at each other and replying that they gave a thoughtful nod to the storm and replied that they were.

There was a general movement toward the depot, a block away, across from the lumber yard. Eighteen or twenty grown persons and a scattering of children.

"Pardon me, Phronie! he here?" Shad whispered to Nils. "Faint blur! she'll send Jason to meet her. The look of him's enough to scare the old Nils himself!"

Nils shrugged. "She could do worse," he remarked. "Case you so good as his brother Roddy!"

Shad eyed Duke Melbank standing amid four or five men on the depot platform. Duke—whose real name was Earl—was bareheaded as usual, and his flaming red hair, shaven close about the ears and neck, could have been seen a quarter mile away.

Duke was tall, narrow-shouldered, tubular. His body suggested length of sponge. He had a loud, almost incessant laugh which was peculiarly devoid of mirth and meaning. He was an only son, and lived with his mother on a shambles of a farm fringing Heron River since farming had become unprofitable, Jesse Melbank and her son supplied homestead to the neighborhood and to the campers on the lakes to the north at twenty-five cents a quart. Jesse, in coloring, appeared to have been the inspiration of Duke. She was as broad, however, as she was long.

Soon after Shad Finney and Nils Clevek had gained the steps of the platform, Jesse Melbank could be seen waddling forward from the shadowed extreme end of it. The evening being oppressive, Jesse sank with audible relief down upon a bench against the depot wall, still some distance from the group of idlers who surrounded her son Duke. Shad and Nils with a certain feeling of distaste, it must be admitted, edged near the group.

The two old men may not have been listening to the utterances of Duke Melbank—those utterances so punctuated by his own snickers and Black-gloved, black-hatted, black-crocheted reticule on her arm, she took up her stand in the middle of the platform and remained oblivious of the eyes that were fixed upon her. She stood, composed and stern, looking neither to right nor to left.

Sophronia had had since eight o'clock this morning to prepare for her meeting with her brother's daughter, Anna—"Silver," her mother had frigidly called her, because of the pallor of her hair and skin. Sophronia was washing the separator in the milk house when Jason had shouted to her that she was wanted on the telephone.

Albert Symes, the telephone operator, had read the telegram to her. He had said first, clearing his throat: "I have had news for you, Mrs. Willard." Phronie had said, "Go on, go on, man! Read it!" Then Albert had proceeded with the message: "As attorney to your brother James Grenoble I assume the painful duty of informing you that your brother was shot fatally early this morning by one Lewis Lawson. Lawson was killed by police as he was trying to make his escape. Your niece Silver Grenoble will arrive Heron River tonight's train. Take care of her. Benjamin Hubbard."

Sophronia had made no outcry. She had given Albert Symes a curt "Thank you." Then she had seized the chair beside the telephone and had looked up at it, there on the wall, for a long time. Jason had stood near by, fumbling with a piece of harness, or something—she forgot just what. Her eyes had moved to him slowly, and it seemed to her suddenly that this

Everybody in Heron River knew by now, what had happened on Duke's visit to Chicago, but tonight was an occasion which called for the retelling of the story.

"You was in the Grenoble suit, wasn't you, Duke?" somebody prompted.

"Everybody don't call it 'suit,'" Duke disclaimed defiantly. "Call it an 'apartment.' You bet your punkins I was in it. I wouldn't 'a' got in, neither, except I met of Jim himself in a sneak-attack, and I come right home with him, being from his home town. He was worried like, and he didn't want to know I was along. There was a gang to his place, all right, all right! Say, boy! Maybe I didn't smile like a wooden fox after seven or eight of 'em drink they give me! And then—Duke drew himself up and looked at the dumb old Jim, the green-striped suspender—in the case! The police palamas, by hickory! They didn't all play! Coldest—your know, like they play over to Cole's Point. Up gets this guy from the table and she goes with him into another room and shuts the door! She never even seen me. Wouldn't 'a' known me, anyhow. Somebody says it's her, so I know. I get up there, and she goes and opens the door, easy like. And there she is with her back to me and this guy would've got her like he's gonna kiss her!" Duke croaked joyously, his head thrown back with the relish of reminiscence.

Somewhat prodded him, "Heron comes Phronie Willard. Duke! Shut up!"

Duke glanced about him truly bettly. "What do you say?" he swung round. "I seen Lawson!"

"He's a big gambler, ain't he, Duke?" A spindly youth, who had heard the story before, put a question in an awed and avid whisper.

"I'll tell the world!" said Duke loudly, straightening his arm and tapping cigarette ash in the direction of Sophronia Willard, the tall, gaunt, dark-faced woman who was at that moment ascending the steps of the platform.

Nils Clevek and Shad Finney glanced anxiously at Sophronia as she passed them. They hoped she had not overheard any of Duke's talk, for they were law-abiding citizens, and had a distaste for public violence.

But Sophronia Willard, straight and strong as a pine, and as awe-inspiring as one, ignored Duke Melbank's little group just as such a majestic tree might ignore the whisperings of scrub growth in a forest.

Jason smiled with great gentleness, as though it were Phronie who was ill-favored. "You know, ain't he," he said. "You've got to drive in."

"All right, Jason," she replied, to have it done. "Now I've got to finish the separator."

The shining metal of the separator made whirling disks before her eyes. Jim—Gentleman Jim! Her brother, her nephew, her nephew's handsome and wild as his grandfathers had been. Not made for this kind of life, she thought. What had there been for Sophronia to do but to marry Roddy Willard, the widower on a farm in the next county? He had built this new house on the ridge, not more than a stone's throw above the little old place in which the Grenobles had lived for three generations. In which Silver Grenoble had been born and Anna Eastrom had died.

Roddy Willard had been kind. Somewhat low, but he had seemed, so far as she knew anything of love. And his two sons, in their early teens then, had responded to her mothering. Had affectionately accepted her. But Roddy, who had sold his own farm before his marriage to Sophronia, had wanted to secure complete possession of the Grenoble farm. Jim Grenoble, for some romantic reason, had wanted to sell his section, although Roddy and his sons had worked it through all the years.

Two years after her marriage to Roddy Willard, when her sons were in high school at Heron River, Sophronia had had her first news of Jim. And there were in Alaska. Jim did not say what he was doing, but Silver was being looked after in a convent school. Jim sent her some of his money, but she never saw him. At that time, for Phronie to carry on the work of the farm—and no questions asked. The farm was paying its way now, and more. Phronie thought Jim had probably gone crazy.

Next year Jim was in Nevada. And later in Mexico. Mining, he said. His daughter was also in Mexico, in the care of nuns, and was learning Spanish and German and French. Sophronia's manner was so much like that dreamy, foreign mother of hers, wondered. So she had been, and more. Phronie thought Jim had probably gone crazy.

They couldn't budge Jim. He refused to sell. Why did he want to hang on to a farm, it was meant to visit again? He was gambling for a living. Sophronia would have guessed that, even though Ned Fisher, who had run into him in Nevada, hadn't brought the news back. But his wife Anna had seriously loved her Yarralstilly name, silly woman! Sophronia always grew uncomfortable when she thought of Anna. Well, who hadn't loved her? She was gentle as spring rain.

And what would this daughter of hers be like? Sophronia wondered with misgiving. Product of convents of all things—and Jim raised a Presbyterian! and boarding schools from Nome to Nevada—daughter of a fairy woman who had died at twenty-eight, and a father madder than his own grandfather, who would lay his back to the moon as to the color of his back-hair—what would the daughter be like? She had been born on this farm. It was true, but would she remember anything of it that was sane and sound?

(TO BE CONTINUED)

Simple Rules for Guidance of Those Fond of Sponge Cake and Angel Food; Bake in Slow Oven

Sponge cake and angel food are in cins by themselves, and although they are called cakes, they are made so differently from other cakes that they need a column to themselves.

Every kind of sponge cake has eggs as its basis, and in large proportion. It also has sugar and flour in small proportion. Usually it has besides a little acid—vinegar, lemon juice or cream of tartar—to help stiffen the beaten eggs which lighten the mixture.

Quick or cheap sponge cakes which economize on eggs have a small amount of baking powder to help them. This type of cake may not have the fine texture of real sponge cake, but it is so easy to make, so certain to turn out consistently, and so good with ice cream, whipped cream or crushed fruit, that it is a standby in many households.

I am giving you my grandmother's recipe today, says a culinary expert. It was the first dish I was allowed to help with when I was a little girl. I had to make it necessary to beat the eggs and sugar together for ten minutes with a silver fork, and I loved to relieve a tired arm for a moment or two. In later years I found that a wheel egg beater reduced the time for beating at least half.

This is still my favorite sponge cake because it has more flavor than the more expensive cakes with their finer texture.

The success of any sponge cake depends first upon using fine granulated sugar, well sifted (several times) flour, and preferably cake flour, and upon the baking. A tube pan is the best for this purpose and a slow oven (about 325 F.) gives the best results. This allows the cake to rise slowly and form a crust evenly.

When the cake comes out of the oven, turn it upside down on a cake cooler and let it come out of the oven. It shrinks slightly with cooling. If it does not come out of itself, invert it, and loosen carefully around the edges.

Grandmother's Sponge Cake.
1 egg
1 cup sugar

1 egg
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 tablespoon vanilla
1/2 cup milk

Beat the eggs and sugar together five minutes. Sift flour, salt and baking powder together and fold into the other mixture. Flavor and bake in a long bread pan or in muffin pans 25 to 30 minutes in a slow oven (325 F.).

Angel Food Cake.
1 cup sifted pastry or cake flour
1 cup egg whites
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 cup sifted granulated sugar

Sift flour once, measure, and sift four more times. Beat egg whites and salt with egg beater. When foamy add cream of tartar. Continue beating until the eggs are stiff but not dry. Fold in sugar, a little at a time. Add flavoring. Fold in flour the same way. Pour batter into angel food pan and bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) for one hour. Remove from oven and invert pan.

Inexpensive Sponge Cake.

1 egg
1 cup sugar
1 cup cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 cup cold water

Break the eggs into a bowl, add the sugar and beat together ten minutes. Add the dry ingredients, which have been sifted together, alternately with the water. Bake in cake pan in slow oven, 325 degrees F. for about one hour.

*Full ingredients—WNU service.

What Is Wealth?

A woman has said in court that with $200,000 in her name she would not call herself rich. In another court a bankrupt said that he did not feel wealthy on $10,000 a year and sometimes was very hard up. A actress who had more than $25,000 a year had told her she had to spend $30,000. These people have missed a lot of fun. A man who feels rich because he has a dollar in his pocket is fifty times as well off as any of them. He is a grand and glorious fellow—Manchester (Eng.) Sunday Chronicle.

TREES AND RAINFALL

There is much controversy over the question of whether trees and other heavy vegetation bring rain or not. A great number of forcible points are cited both for and against this question. But we cannot help noting with interest a report from the Soviet government. In Russia a considerable area was planted with trees in 56 foot strips 700 feet apart. Rainfall in the area of these strips was carefully checked against rainfall in surrounding untreed areas. The results were astonishing. The increase in rainfall in the area bordered by the forest strips was from 13 per cent to 27.2 per cent. In the treed areas the evaporation between the strips was from 23 to 35 per cent less than in the open.

KILL BLACK WIDOW

The deadly Black Widow spider's bite is decidedly dangerous to people.

Kill All Spiders... Watch for them in garages, corners of porches, etc. The minute you see them spray THOROUGHLY with FLY-TOX. It also kills FLIES, MOSQUITOES and other insects.

Be sure you get FLY-TOX

Quick, Pleasant Successful Elimination

Let's be frank—there's only one way for your body to rid itself of the waste material that causes acid, gas, headaches, bloated feelings and a dozen other discomforts. Your intestines must function and the way to make them move quickly, pleasantly, successfully, without irritating or harsh irritants is to chew a Milneda Wafer thoroughly, in accordance with directions on the box or the tin, then swallow.

Milneda Wafers, pure milk of magnesia in tablet form, each equivalent to a tablespoon of liquid milk of magnesia, correct acidity, bad bowels, flatulence, at their source, and enable you to have the quick, pleasant, successful elimination so necessary to abundant health.

Milneda Wafers come in bottles at 50c and 60c or in convenient tin at 25c. Recommended by thousands of physicians. All good druggists carry them. Start using these pleasant, effective wafers today.

DIZZY DEAN spears a hot one!

HERE YOU ARE, AND THIS BOMB WILL BLOT YOU OUT! DO, JOE, IS TO THROW IT WHEN THE GOVERNOR GETS IN THE REVIEWING STAND

LOOKOUT! A BOMB!

IF IT HADN'T BEEN FOR YOU, I'D BE BLOWN TO BITS! SHUCKS! ANY BUSHOR COULD HAVE SPEARED IT—AND YANKED OUT THE FUSE

I GOT IT!

GOSH—IT'S DIZZY DEAN!

THAT WAS SURE A GREAT CATCH, DIZZY! AND FAST THINKING TOO! WELL, SON, TO THINK I'VE GOT TO BE WIDE-AWAKE AND FAST THINKING TOO! YOU GOT TO HAVE PLenty OF ENERGY

HOW CAN I HAVE PLenty OF ENERGY? I'LL TELL YOU ONE GRAPE-NUTS, IT TOPS THE BATTING ORDER FOR MAKING ENERGY. I KNOW—I SAT IT MYSELF

Boys! Girls!... Get Valuable Prizes Free!

Join Dizzy Dean Winners—carry Dizzy's Lucky Pistol!

Send the top from one yellow and blue Grape-Nut package, with your name and address, to Grape-Nuts, Battle Creek, Mich. for membership in the Dizzy Dean Club. You'll receive a copy of the Dizzy Dean story, a 50¢ bill, and a chance to win a $100 bill. And to have loads of energy, start eating Grape-Nuts right away. It has a wonderful power to give you energy. Below, recommended to serve, too, for two tables. With what you eat, it gives you energy. In serving up deliciousness, that's what it's all about. (Offer expires Dec. 31, 1935. Good only in U.S.A.)

Did you ever meet a gangster's moll?

You never met one like Silver. Daughter of a gambler, she gave her heart—and more—to the big shot of a Chicago "mob." Yet, something new, more exciting and more important, she discovered in the wind-swept beauty of the Dakota prairies.

But—

"To think," she cried, "to think that when the real thing came, it had to be wrong, too!"

THERE'S ALWAYS ANOTHER YEAR

by Martha Ostenso

This is the first installment. BEGIN NOW!

THE FEATHERHEADS

By Odorous
© Walter Reuther Inc.

Naturally

SHOCKS AND SHOCKS

Versatility Here, and Also Comfort

Pattern 2240

2240

No one has ever designed anything to equal the chic and comfort of the "Wray-around" for efficient performance of household duties. And in our crowded lives today, versatility has become an important part. Perhaps that's why a house frock that could "go to market" to prove its versatility has been conceived. Don't those big square buttons conform beautifully with the unique cut of the front?—and lots of joys, the wrap is deep enough to keep from popping out at the wrong time. Considerably, freedom but the only virtue of those sleeves—they're so easy to make.

Pattern 2240 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 takes 4 yards 20 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number, DE SUBS TO STATE SIZE.

Address orders to Sewing Circle Pattern Department 218 West Seventeenth street, New York.

FINNEY OF THE FORCE

By Ted O'Malley
© Walter Reuther Inc.

Meaning What?

SMATTER POP— O. K. by the Ink

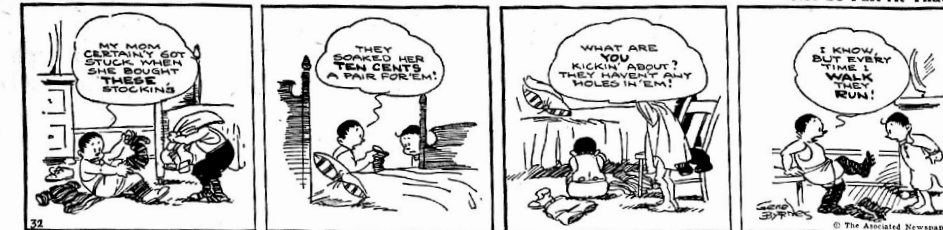

By C. M. PAYNE

© The Dell Syndicate, Inc.

"REG'LAR FELLERS"

By S. L. HUNTLEY

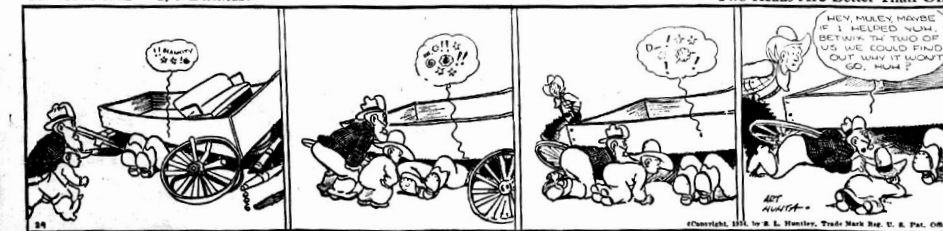

© The Associated Newspapers

Not So Fast At That

MESCAL IKE

By S. L. HUNTLEY

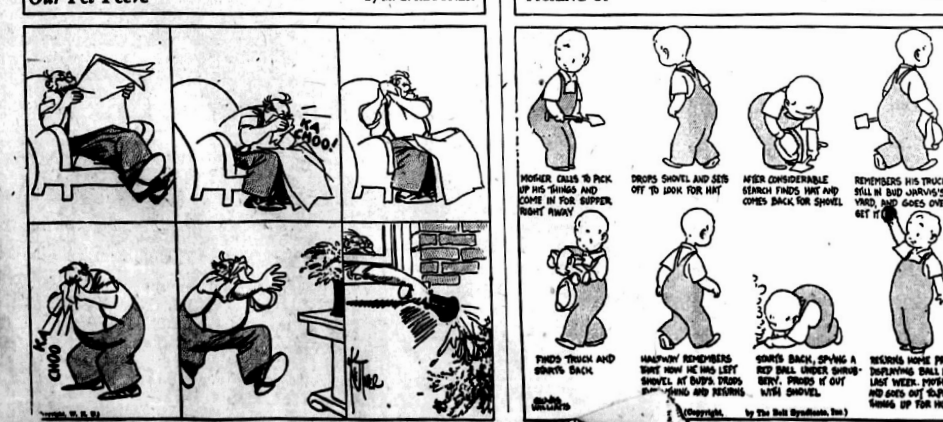

© Copyright, 1935, by S. L. Huntley, Trade Mark Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

Two Heads Are Better Than One

Our Pet Peeve

By M. G. KETTNER

PICKING UP

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

IN SEED TIME

OLD, OLD STORY

ADDITIONAL TAXES

Smiles

EQUALITY

"Women are advising equal rights for men in matters of alimony," remarked the hostess.

"We might go even further," said Miss Cayenne, "and insist on a Blue Eagle code for gossips."

That Was All

Judge—Now, just what passed between you and the complainant?

Defendant—Well, your honor, there were two pairs of feet, one fairly, seven bricks, a dozen assorted bad names and a lump of coal.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Knew Her Mom

"Bill's girl has dropped him; he's broke?"

"As usual when girls drop things, eh?"

"Not exactly; she broke him before she dropped him."—Exchange.

Fair Warning

"What would you say, Jackie, if I married your mother and became your daddy?"

"Don't do it, Mr. Smith."—Leipzig Der Lustige Sachse.

THE AVON PARK TIMES

Published every Friday at 123 West Main Street, Avon Park, Florida

Entered at the postoffice at Avon Park, Florida, under the Act of March 3, 1879, as matter of the second-class.

Subscription Rates:

One Year in Highlands County $2.00

One Year outside Highlands County $2.50

Advertising Rates FURNISHED UPON REQUEST

State Press Comment

MAD TAXING AND SPENDING

Under the whip and spur of a Presidential "must" Congress prepares to Soak the Thrifty, despite the fact that not one Congressman in ten believes in the measure or would veto it unless "compelled" to.

The compulsion, in this case, is the likelihood that a Congressman who votes "No" will be denied his share of the four-million-dollar works-relief-pork fund.

That is a possibility that few Congress members can consider without chills, fever and sinking spells. Four billion dollars is an argument that is hard to lose.

Only the organized protest of the sober, saving, hard-working majority of the American people can beat it.

This majority stands aghast at the criminal extravagance of the socialistic administration which holds office in Washington on a platform of broken promises.

It knows that the only way to end unemployment is to give business and industry a chance to go ahead making profits, put men to work.

Yet it sees its own jobs endangered, its own savings reduced or wiped out, its own taxes piled up on its own children's future already mortgaged by the New Deal's mad spending and mad taxing.

SOAK THE THRIFTY, SKIN THE SAVING, WALLOW THE WORKER, ARE THE REAL SLOGANS AT WASHINGTON.

Under these slogans the government is spending more in three years than it did previously in 124 years.

Under these slogans it is keeping millions on relief who might now be earning a decent living.

Under these slogans it is proceeding to wreck private enterprise and foist on the nation a system of near-Communism in place of AMERICANISM.

This is not a program of "Rule or Ruin"—it is a program of "Rule AND Ruin."

And this program will be slipped over with hardly a word of debate unless the American people put a veto on the dictation to which they have thus far submitted.

That is one veto that is seldom exercised, but when it is, NO administration can override it.

NOT EVEN WITH A FOUR-TWO-THOUSAND-MILLION DOLLAR SLUSH FUND.—Atlanta Georgian.

LET THE TRUTH PREVAIL

As the Senate investigation into the activities of one large electric holding company in opposing the Wheeler-Rayburn bill develops, the danger becomes great that the public may be led to believe that the utility industry as a whole approves or pursues unethical, misleading or dishonest practices.

Evidence so far indicates that the company under investigation used reprehensible lobbying methods to defeat the proposed anti-holding company legislation.

Every effort should be made to uncover such activities, to publicize and to punish them. But a grave injustice will be done if the force of newspaper scare-heads, plus denunciatory comments by various government officials, results in a widespread belief that one company is representative of the utility business. It will be remembered that some years ago, when the so-called "power issue" first came into the national spotlight, the acts of a handful of companies were responsible for it—the same thing is true today.

The utility industry did oppose—aggressively, frankly and openly—the Wheeler-Rayburn bill, in the belief that its passage was unnecessary and unjustifiable, and would do untold damage to its stockholders, employees and customers. The industry's representatives appeared before House and Senate committees and made their side of the case. The industry sent out press releases—properly signed and credited—in order to provide the public with facts and opinions necessary to reaching a logical decision on the issue at stake. The industry, in order to do this, created an organization called "The Committee of Public Utility Executives," of which Philby H. Gadsden of the United Gas Improvement Company, universally believed to be one of the best and most progressive of holding companies, is chairman. The holding company which committed the acts probed by the Senate, was not a member of the Committee.

On July 18, Mr. Gadsden, on behalf of the Committee, wrote Senator Black, Chairman of the Senate Committee investigating lobbying activities, in part, as follows: "It is, to say the least, unfortunate that representatives of any company should so depart from the standards set by the utility industry in general. It is acts like this, committed by a small number of companies, which have brought discredit upon the industry and which have made it necessary for us to come to Washington and defend ourselves against a bill seeking to destroy us."

Improper or questionable practices are found in any business or calling, and in government itself. But they are the exception, not the rule. That is true of the utilities—no industry maintains higher ethical standards, or is more conscientious in discharging its public obligations. Any attempt to make it appear that sharp practices are typical of the whole industry is extremely unfair and is uncalled for.—Industrial News Review.

WHERE LIES THE BLAME?

We were talking to an official the other day a part of whose duties had to do with the levying of taxes. The subject of high taxes and their ever increasing burden was mentioned. His remarks were enlightening to say the least.

Said he, "Sure taxes are higher than a ten-cent's back and keep going up like a sky rocket. Officials get excited and recused when as rule they are honest and endeavor to hold them down."

... today people are demanding many things of government that a few years ago were considered purely individual responsibilities. We demand good roads, hospitals, beautification of highways and parks that were never thought of as government obligations by our fathers.

This demand is not an individual demand, it is a community demand. Some society or group will be the agitation of a project, it is adopted as their pet-child and is talked and sung about until the community as a whole comes to regard it as a necessity instead of a luxury. The next step is a delegation to appear before the tax levying authorities, and not as individuals but representatives of this or that group, demand that an appropriation be made for its construction.

This same method goes on from the highest to the lowest in our governmental bodies. From federal down to states, counties, townships and municipalities the demands get more and more insistent. As a people who demand many things, that a few years ago would never have been considered as public needs or of public obligation. A little is added all along the line until in the aggregate the tax burden is getting to be unbearable.

As affairs are loaded more and more on to the public male, more bureaus and officials are created to administer the affairs of government and expenses grow in proportion and even faster than they should. When we come to analyze these facts in a sane and sensible manner it really looks as though the voters themselves are being blamed for mounting taxation.—Winter Haven Daily Chief.

The above editorial contains sound facts and is worthy of close consideration. In fact, it would be almost perfect if it pointed out also the fact that the unscrupulous politicians take advantage of such demands of the public, as above outlined, to slip in many unnecessary functions of government to enable them to place political "henchmen" on the public payroll. This one fact alone is responsible for probably twenty-five percent of our unbearable tax load.—Fla. Tax Revision League.

THE BALONEY TRUST

Earnest thinkers at Washington, busy making a new heaven and a new earth, as long as the taxpayers' money holds out, would find it profitable to take a few days off and learn what interests the average man.

They might find that he is more concerned at about whether Max Baer socks Louis in their forthcoming boxing match than whether the New Deal socks the rich; that he worries more about the weather on next Sunday's outing than the reclamation of submarginal drought areas; that he would rather read about a horse race than an armament race; that he would take a decent job in preference to a pension when he is 80, and that he likes to spend his leisure doing what he wants to, instead of what some old maid in the government thinks he ought to.

That might be painful news to the starry-eyed star-gazers who seem to be running the country nowadays, but in the long run it would not hurt to know that nine-tenths of their fellow-citizens, if asked for a candid opinion of Brain Trust theorizing, would answer "Baloney."

And be right, moreover.—Atlanta Georgian.

LEGISLATIVE "ECONOMY"

Legislative "economy" as practiced in the last session was illustrated typically in the circuit-court re-districting measure. The total annual salaries of judges, state attorneys, assistant state attorneys and court reporters in the 15 circuits was $84,000 more than they were in the old 28 circuits. In addition, each judge is now allowed $300 expense money to travel around his circuit and hold court, thus increasing the liability of the state to its judges by $10,500. Only a supreme court decision can save the state the $19,500 imposed by the statute.

—Tampa Tribune.

PUBLIC FORUM

Dear Would-Be Politician:

Just to satisfy your secret longing as to who the Would-Be soap box orator is, it pleases me very much to say that it was my request that my name be as you say "pinned" to my article.

As for the soap box to hide under it really isn't necessary, the old saying is "a barking dog never bites."

If I interpret correctly, the meaning of both your Forums, you insinuate that any one that does not agree with your idea should shut up, in fact you stated you were going to shut them up. I am afraid you are going to have a very difficult task.

Really I was more than surprised at that "reply to the reply" etc. of yours that a man of your ability and education should write such a childish article. I didn't think it worthy of an answer.

You spoke of the billy goat, I haven't met him yet, maybe he will come butting forth in our next county election.

This time I won't be in the front saying "he is the right man for the job."

You can rest assured that I will be on the top of that "Soap Box," saying "hold that Billy Goat."

We have driven quite a few miles about the State of Florida and not yet have we found the many detours you have set for us.

Your article on Road Building was most amusing, we had a lot of good roads in the state, long before you emigrated to these parts.

I took the liberty to answer your letter because I felt it needed an answer, I want you to know that I am still a citizen of these "Tricky" States and as we are yet allowed to vote in this county I believe in voting for the best man for the job, regardless of his party.

We have had enough promises and corrupt policies.

You mind must be rather "muddy" these days as your article is rather "plastered."

I, myself don't like mud-throwing, but I hope this article is a bit cleaner than the letter I wrote of August 22nd, I really believe it was a bit over your head, perhaps there wasn't enough "mud-slinging" to suit your taste.

I want you to know that I am very much alive, even though you say I am dead.

If this article doesn't clear your "foggy" mind, be you had better consult your scientist.

Said Ben Oster

KATHLEEN JACQUES

The Broken Mandate

By Benjamin De Casseres

In The Atlanta Georgian

The supporters of President

Roosevelt already sense that the country next year why he outlined one program in 1933 and followed one diametrically opposed to it immediately he became President.

Mr. Raymond Moley, feeling Mr. Roosevelt's self-constructed bridge to the White House in 1932 "begging to break," makes this astounding claim in his magazine:

"Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932 set forth the principal that the Federal Government must make various readjustments among the economic interests of the country. Most of the New Deal was EXPLICIT IN HIS CAMPAIGN SPEECHES."

THE NEW DEAL WAS EXPLICIT IN HIS CAMPAIGN SPEECHES. THE NRA was implicit... THERE CAN BE NO MISTAKE ABOUT THE MANDATE WHICH THE VOTERS GAVE MR. ROOSEVELT."

Was the New Deal explicit and the NRA implicit in these things Candidate Roosevelt said in his campaign speeches?

1. "I regard reduction in federal spending as one of the MOST IMPORTANT ISSUES OF THIS CAMPAIGN. In my opinion, it is the only sound and effective contribution that government can make to business."

In just what part of the New Deal and the NRA will the voters of America find the DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM?

2. "I regard reduction in federal spending as one of the MOST IMPORTANT ISSUES OF THIS CAMPAIGN. In my opinion, it is the only sound and effective contribution that government can make to business."

In just what part of the New Deal and the NRA will the voters of America find these EXPLICIT promises?

Roosevelt promised the country in a campaign speech in October, 1932?

3. "We can make savings by reorganizing of existing departments, by ELIMINATING functions, by ABOLISHING many of the superfluous boards and commissions."

In just what part of the New Deal and the NRA will the voters of America find this promise made in a campaign speech at Newburg in October, 1932, fulfilled?

In fact, there isn't a SINGLE FACT, "explicit" or "implicit," in any of Candidate Roosevelt's campaign speeches that even hints at the revolutionary coup d'etat which he was then SECRETELY PLANNING, and which the Supreme Court and one federal court after another are invalidating in the name of our democratic individualistic institutions and their preservation.

Suppose, on the other hand, Candidate Roosevelt had made THESE promises to the people of America in his campaign in 1932:

1. I promise you, my fellow-countrymen, to REPUDIATE the economic plank in the Democratic platform 100 per cent.

I promise to force through Congress a code for all industries that will CONTROL PRICES, CONTROL OUTPUT AND VAST TRADE MONOPOLIES.

I promise that I will appoint a Secretary of Agriculture who will DICTATE farm production and prices, slaughtered millions of hogs, underplough corn and wheat and put a fine on all present crop surpluses.

I promise to INCREASE the public debt by BILLIONS, to INCREASE taxation by BILLIONS and to DESTROY all "bigness" in business by taxation, to tax all inheritances and to jack up the income taxes on wage-earners in the lower brackets.

I promise to disobey my oath of office by advising Congress to pass a bill EVEN IF CONGRESS BELIEVES IT IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

I promise to get nearly FIVE THOUSAND MILLION DOLLARS out of the taxpayers' pockets via a Congress that will not mind, and I shall spend this sum as I see fit WITHOUT ACCOUNTING TO ANY ONE.

I promise to appoint a Secretary of State who will conclude reciprocal agreements with the nations of the world to FLOOD OUR MARKETS with the products of those countries manufactured at STARVATION WAGES.

I promise to make every effort, urging a constitutional amendment if necessary, to tax our government tax-except securities.

This, my fellow-countrymen, is what I propose in a New Deal and a national recovery administration set.

Had Mr. Moley, would have been the "mandate" of the people at the polls on election day in 1932?

It would have been about like this:

THIRTY-SEVEN MILLION VOTES for Herbert Hoover and THREE MILLION VOTES for Roosevelt.

NOTICE

Church of the Redeemer (Episcopal)

There will be a meeting of St. Margaret's Guild of the Women Auxiliary on Wednesday, August 21 at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Norton Smith.

—Tampa Tribune.

Church Notes

SOUTH SIDE BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Herman Collins, Pastor. Sunday school 10 a. m. Preaching, 11 a. m.

The Church of the Nazarene Sunday Bible School 9:45 A.M. Morning Service 11:00 A.M. N. Y. P. S. 6:45 P.M. Evening Services 8:00 P.M. Prayer Service Wed. 7:30 P.M.

Christian Science Church Sunday service 11 a. m. Sunday school 11 a. m. Subject: "Spirit." 881 Tulane Circle.

Church of God D. W. Mills, Pastor. Prayer service Tuesday P. M. 8 o'clock. Friday P. M. 8 o'clock. Sunday School, 10:00 A. M. Preaching 11:00 A. M. and 8:00 P. M. You are invited to attend these services.

The Assembly of God R. E. Newell, Pastor. Sunday School, 10 a. m. Preaching, 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Church of Christ J. A. McCall, Minister. Bible Study 10:00 A.M. Morning Service 11:00 A.M. Communion 11:45 A.M. Young People's Class 7:00 P.M. Evening Service 8:00 P.M. Prayer Meeting Wed. 8:00 P.M. Love Feast Thurs. 8:00 P.M. A hearty welcome to you at these services.

Church of The Redeemer Sunday School 9:45 A.M. Morning Service 11:00 A.M. N. Y. P. S. 6:45 P.M. Evening Services 8:00 P.M. Prayer Service Wed. 7:30 P.M.

Church of The Redeemer Sunday School 9:45 A.M. Morning Service 11:00 A.M. N. Y. P. S. 6:45 P.M. Evening Services 8:00 P.M. Prayer Service Wed. 7:30 P.M.

Church of The Redeemer Sunday School 9:45 A.M. Morning Service 11:00 A.M. N. Y. P. S. 6:45 P.M. Evening Services 8:00 P.M. Prayer Service Wed. 7:30 P.M.

Church of The Redeemer Sunday School 9:45 A.M. Morning Service 11:00 A.M. N. Y. P. S. 6:45 P.M. Evening Services 8:00 P.M. Prayer Service Wed. 7:30 P.M.

Church of The Redeemer Sunday School 9:45 A.M. Morning Service 11:00 A.M. N. Y. P. S. 6:45 P.M. Evening Services 8:00 P.M. Prayer Service Wed. 7:30 P.M.

Church of The Redeemer Sunday School 9:45 A.M. Morning Service 11:00 A.M. N. Y. P. S. 6:45 P.M. Evening Services 8:00 P.M. Prayer Service Wed. 7:30 P.M.

Church of The Redeemer Sunday School 9:45 A.M. Morning Service 11:00 A.M. N. Y. P. S. 6:45 P.M. Evening Services 8:00 P.M. Prayer Service Wed. 7:30 P.M.

Church of The Redeemer Sunday School 9:45 A.M. Morning Service 11:00 A.M. N. Y. P. S. 6:45 P.M. Evening Services 8:00 P.M. Prayer Service Wed. 7:30 P.M.

Church of The Redeemer Sunday School 9:45 A.M. Morning Service 11:00 A.M. N. Y. P. S. 6:45 P.M. Evening Services 8:00 P.M. Prayer Service Wed. 7:30 P.M.

process which made it acid, an

Avon Park fruit grower wrote to Washington for information; and has just received the following letter from K. D. Jacob, chairman, Phosphate Investigations, in the U. S. Bureau of Chemistry and Soils:

Regarding the new process for the manufacture of available phosphate fertilizer, we have done considerable laboratory work on the preparation of available phosphates by heating silica-bearing phosphate rock at high temperatures in the presence of water-borne vapor. The product is obtained in the form of a sintered or semi-fused mass, which when properly made, contains 80 per cent or more of available phosphoric oxide. The phosphoric oxide is insoluble in pure water but numerous green house pot tests have shown that it is as effective in promoting the growth of plants as is the phosphate of soda in superphosphate and other well-known phosphate fertilizers. The product is alkaline in reaction and will increase the pH value of acid soils. As yet, this material is not produced on a commercial scale, but a number of companies are carrying out pilot-plant experiments and we believe that commercial production will be accomplished in the near future.

—Contributed.

On account of the short Florida citrus crop for the coming season, estimated at 18 million boxes, against over twice that amount last season, our fruit growers are optimistic that using a minimum as to market prices for the next season each year has bought up our citrus producers for many years, only to see the final returns putting them "in the red."

But now, with the new Florida state shipping laws, which should provide more orderly marketing, prevent the shipping of unripe fruit, and somewhat better buying power in the big Northern markets, together with our greatly reduced crop, all indicate reciprocal prices for oranges, grapefruit and tangerines. In fact, some big independent buyers have been offering a guarantee of $1 a box on the tree at Avon Park for Pineapple oranges, and some contracts have been made at that rate, the grower would get to half of any profits above that price. It is many a year since such prices were paid, though in the good old days $1.50 was the price average.

What hinders quite high prices is the generally understood fact that the California Valencia orange is now going to market in such enormous volume that the supply is sufficient for the entire country until December, at which time the California Navel comes in. The last Florida oranges of the season sold in the North in early August, at practically no returns to the grower being too dry. The California oranges are selling wholesale in Northern markets at an average of $3.40 per box, small sizes, 288s to 344s. Other sizes at less. In good times it would be difficult to dispose of these small boxes. The usual size for Florida is 176 to the box and the California box is smaller.

Around Avon Park there has been much budding over the new early Hamlin oranges, so much so that local grow men quit selling budwood, as it was drawing too hard on their trees. Growers own some to the Ridge from Wauchula Arcadia and elsewhere to buy Hamlin budwood. The Avon Park groves of Hamlin oranges are steadily coming into bearing, and probably over ten thousand boxes will be shipped this fall, probably in October. Some Hamlin natives last fall as high as $2.18 per box on the tree, but then the California crop was lighter, so growers are hardly expected to get quite that much this fall.

Right now, with Italy reserving her lemons for her soldiers in Africa, lemons and limes are eagerly sought for the army and navy. Several groves have been planted to the new Persian lemon, a cross between a lime and a lemon. They are, however, very susceptible to cold. Dr. Tobchton's fine young grove of these lemons on the south shore of Lake Thompson, came through very well last winter with only about one-fourth of the smallest trees killed. This grove is becoming a very pretty sight, and as the trees bear young, will soon be in production.

—Contributed.

Attend Trail Meeting Mayor M. E. Covington, O. C. Wilkes and G. E. Crabtree were in Gainesville Wednesday attending a meeting of the Orange Blossom Trail Association. Luncheon for the directors of the association was served at noon at the Whitehouse Hotel.

On account of the short Florida citrus crop for the coming season, estimated at 18 million boxes, against over twice that amount last season, our fruit growers are optimistic that using a minimum as to market prices for the next season each year has bought up our citrus producers for many years, only to see the final returns putting them "in the red."

But now, with the new Florida state shipping laws, which should provide more orderly marketing, prevent the shipping of unripe fruit, and somewhat better buying power in the big Northern markets, together with our greatly reduced crop, all indicate reciprocal prices for oranges, grapefruit and tangerines. In fact, some big independent buyers have been offering a guarantee of $1 a box on the tree at Avon Park for Pineapple oranges, and some contracts have been made at that rate, the grower would get to half of any profits above that price. It is many a year since such prices were paid, though in the good old days $1.50 was the price average.

What hinders quite high prices is the generally understood fact that the California Valencia orange is now going to market in such enormous volume that the supply is sufficient for the entire country until December, at which time the California Navel comes in. The last Florida oranges of the season sold in the North in early August, at practically no returns to the grower being too dry. The California oranges are selling wholesale in Northern markets at an average of $3.40 per box, small sizes, 288s to 344s. Other sizes at less. In good times it would be difficult to dispose of these small boxes. The usual size for Florida is 176 to the box and the California box is smaller.

Around Avon Park there has been much budding over the new early Hamlin oranges, so much so that local grow men quit selling budwood, as it was drawing too hard on their trees. Growers own some to the Ridge from Wauchula Arcadia and elsewhere to buy Hamlin budwood. The Avon Park groves of Hamlin oranges are steadily coming into bearing, and probably over ten thousand boxes will be shipped this fall, probably in October. Some Hamlin natives last fall as high as $2.18 per box on the tree, but then the California crop was lighter, so growers are hardly expected to get quite that much this fall.

Right now, with Italy reserving her lemons for her soldiers in Africa, lemons and limes are eagerly sought for the army and navy. Several groves have been planted to the new Persian lemon, a cross between a lime and a lemon. They are, however, very susceptible to cold. Dr. Tobchton's fine young grove of these lemons on the south shore of Lake Thompson, came through very well last winter with only about one-fourth of the smallest trees killed. This grove is becoming a very pretty sight, and as the trees bear young, will soon be in production.

—Contributed.

On account of the short Florida citrus crop for the coming season, estimated at 18 million boxes, against over twice that amount last season, our fruit growers are optimistic that using a minimum as to market prices for the next season each year has bought up our citrus producers for many years, only to see the final returns putting them "in the red."

But now, with the new Florida state shipping laws, which should provide more orderly marketing, prevent the shipping of unripe fruit, and somewhat better buying power in the big Northern markets, together with our greatly reduced crop, all indicate reciprocal prices for oranges, grapefruit and tangerines. In fact, some big independent buyers have been offering a guarantee of $1 a box on the tree at Avon Park for Pineapple oranges, and some contracts have been made at that rate, the grower would get to half of any profits above that price. It is many a year since such prices were paid, though in the good old days $1.50 was the price average.

What hinders quite high prices is the generally understood fact that the California Valencia orange is now going to market in such enormous volume that the supply is sufficient for the entire country until December, at which time the California Navel comes in. The last Florida oranges of the season sold in the North in early August, at practically no returns to the grower being too dry. The California oranges are selling wholesale in Northern markets at an average of $3.40 per box, small sizes, 288s to 344s. Other sizes at less. In good times it would be difficult to dispose of these small boxes. The usual size for Florida is 176 to the box and the California box is smaller.

Around Avon Park there has been much budding over the new early Hamlin oranges, so much so that local grow men quit selling budwood, as it was drawing too hard on their trees. Growers own some to the Ridge from Wauchula Arcadia and elsewhere to buy Hamlin budwood. The Avon Park groves of Hamlin oranges are steadily coming into bearing, and probably over ten thousand boxes will be shipped this fall, probably in October. Some Hamlin natives last fall as high as $2.18 per box on the tree, but then the California crop was lighter, so growers are hardly expected to get quite that much this fall.

Right now, with Italy reserving her lemons for her soldiers in Africa, lemons and limes are eagerly sought for the army and navy. Several groves have been planted to the new Persian lemon, a cross between a lime and a lemon. They are, however, very susceptible to cold. Dr. Tobchton's fine young grove of these lemons on the south shore of Lake Thompson, came through very well last winter with only about one-fourth of the smallest trees killed. This grove is becoming a very pretty sight, and as the trees bear young, will soon be in production.

—Contributed.

On account of the short Florida citrus crop for the coming season, estimated at 18 million boxes, against over twice that amount last season, our fruit growers are optimistic that using a minimum as to market prices for the next season each year has bought up our citrus producers for many years, only to see the final returns putting them "in the red."

But now, with the new Florida state shipping laws, which should provide more orderly marketing, prevent the shipping of unripe fruit, and somewhat better buying power in the big Northern markets, together with our greatly reduced crop, all indicate reciprocal prices for oranges, grapefruit and tangerines. In fact, some big independent buyers have been offering a guarantee of $1 a box on the tree at Avon Park for Pineapple oranges, and some contracts have been made at that rate, the grower would get to half of any profits above that price. It is many a year since such prices were paid, though in the good old days $1.50 was the price average.

What hinders quite high prices is the generally understood fact that the California Valencia orange is now going to market in such enormous volume that the supply is sufficient for the entire country until December, at which time the California Navel comes in. The last Florida oranges of the season sold in the North in early August, at practically no returns to the grower being too dry. The California oranges are selling wholesale in Northern markets at an average of $3.40 per box, small sizes, 288s to 344s. Other sizes at less. In good times it would be difficult to dispose of these small boxes. The usual size for Florida is 176 to the box and the California box is smaller.

Around Avon Park there has been much budding over the new early Hamlin oranges, so much so that local grow men quit selling budwood, as it was drawing too hard on their trees. Growers own some to the Ridge from Wauchula Arcadia and elsewhere to buy Hamlin budwood. The Avon Park groves of Hamlin oranges are steadily coming into bearing, and probably over ten thousand boxes will be shipped this fall, probably in October. Some Hamlin natives last fall as high as $2.18 per box on the tree, but then the California crop was lighter, so growers are hardly expected to get quite that much this fall.

Right now, with Italy reserving her lemons for her soldiers in Africa, lemons and limes are eagerly sought for the army and navy. Several groves have been planted to the new Persian lemon, a cross between a lime and a lemon. They are, however, very susceptible to cold. Dr. Tobchton's fine young grove of these lemons on the south shore of Lake Thompson,

SOCIAL and Personal News

By HELEN BECKETT
Society Editor

Mrs. Thayer Hostess At Vanishing Party.

Mr. G. P. Thayer entertained Thursday afternoon with a vanishing party at his home on Lake avenue. The house was very attractively decorated with garden flowers.

High score prizes were awarded at each table and the winners were Miss Lulu Wright of Bartow, Mrs. C. H. Walker of Bartow and Mrs. C. Parker Anderson. They were each presented with lace edged handkerchiefs, which made dainty around lovely corsages. A beautiful bouquet of flowers was awarded to Mrs. Lulu Wright for holding the lucky table and Mrs. Paul Rumpsey received the finishing prize for having five honors in her hand.

After bridge the hostess served a salad course and ice tea to the following guests: Mrs. C. H. Walker of Bartow, Mrs. Paul Jones, Mrs. C. Parker Anderson, Miss Lulu Wright of Bartow, Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. Joe Lander of Bartow, Mrs. Paul Rumpsey, Mrs. E. F. Lacey and daughter Miss Marjorie of Bartow, Mrs. Stuart Thayer, Mrs. W. H. Yates and Mrs. M. E. Covington.

Mrs. Bell Hostess To Wednesday Club.

Mrs. Charles Bell entertained the members of the Wednesday afternoon club at her home in the Hobbs Apartments.

The card rooms were beautifully decorated with garden flowers and at noon the hostess served a delicious two course luncheon.

Mrs. H. C. McFerrin held high score for the bridge games. The following club members were present: Mrs. Laura Webb, Mrs. Heber Weller, Mrs. Francis Shockey, Mrs. H. C. McFerrin, Mrs. J. L. Taylor, Mrs. George Scott McKnight, Mrs. H. M. Ryan, Mrs. Elizabeth Whitney and Mrs. Bell.

Try this GENTLE CANDY-LIKE way to RELIEVE CONSTIPATION

Children love Regs, the new Rexall Laxative that tastes just like candy. They're gentle way to relieve constipation. Safe for everyone too. Try them.

Box of 25c
24

A DAY PARTY LAST NIGHT
A FINE MEETING
HELD MONDAY MORNING

Take a creamy spoonful before bed and in the morning. You'll be surprised how peppy you feel.

Small MILK OF MAGNESIA 39c

Avon Park Drug Co.
SAVE WITH SAFETY IN A NEARBY DRUG STORE

NOW AVAILABLE FOR DELIVERY
AT YOUR HOME

Chocolate Milk

A DELICIOUS BEVERAGE
A NOURISHING FOOD

Made From Grade "A" Whole Milk
Quarts — 18c — Pints — 10c
Half-Pints — 5c

Leave orders at our office

Mandis Dairy

(ESTABLISHED 1925)

No. 2 JACARANDA ARCADE — AVON PARK

Mrs. Dilley Hostess Wednesday Evening.

Mrs. Raymond Dilley entertained a few of the young people of Avon Park Wednesday evening at her home on the Sebring Road.

The affair was in honor of Miss Paula Jones of Washington, D. C. who arrived this week for a short visit with her daddy, Paul Jones and Mrs. Jones.

The house was attractively decorated with golden red and after proms and dancing were enjoyed until a late hour the hostess served sandwiches, punch and cookies to the following guests: Miss Margaret Loomis, Miss Barbara MacKenzie, Miss Frances Brown, Miss Dorothy Brown, Miss Jane Hartt, Miss Mary Lydia Stebbins, Miss Paula Jones, Miss Jane Hartt, Miss Dorothy Hughes, Miss Mary McCarthy, Cyril Baldwin, Bud Trent, Cecil Clements, Ryland Reck, Herbert Beck, Vernon Lanier, Joe Patterson, Johnnie Wilkes and Johnnie Tuten.

Mrs. Willis Honored By Bridge Club.

The members of the Thursday evening bridge club met this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Willis. This affair was also a surprise birthday party in honor of the hostess of the club.

The house was decorated with garden flowers and after several games of bridge the hostess served an ice course to the guests.

While preparing the refreshments the hostess was surprised by the guests when she was showered with many lovely gifts.

Prizes for the evening in cards were awarded as follows: Mrs. John Hood, high, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dilley second high and Mrs. Fred Peden floating.

Enjoying the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peden, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. John Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dilley and Mr. and Mrs. Willis.

Sewing Club Has Backward Party.

The members of the Junior sewing club enjoyed a Backward Party Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Smith.

Games were in play during the evening, both in and out of the house, after which refreshments of homemade ice cream and cookies were enjoyed.

Carolyn Holland was awarded the prize for being dressed the most backward and looking the most natural.

Enjoying this affair were: Betty Touchton, Mary Clements, Wella Pearl McGiboney, Hazel Reid, Dorothy Walker, Nancy Morgan, Carolyn Holland, Marie Reeves, Dorothy Edwards, Louise Bishop, Katherine Thompson, Betty Lynn Helms, Peggy Joe Smith, Helen Jarrett, Charlotte Marr, Tommy Marr and Edward Bishop.

Mary Pardee Hostess Tuesday Evening.

Mary Ruth Pardee entertained a few of her friends Tuesday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Pardee.

Ferns and coral fine were used in the decorating of the rooms which made them very attractive.

Games were enjoyed after which refreshments of dixie cake, punch, cake and candy were served to the following: Vera Mae Inman, Louise Rogers, June Gough, Bootie Roberts, Nellie Cannon, Evelyn Gribble, Jeanie Conroy, Nancy Betts, Gwendolyn Reid, Marcel Reid and Mary Pardee.

Mrs. Head Hostess To Bridge Club.

The members of the Thursday afternoon auction club met this week at the home of Mrs. G. R. Head. The hostess used roses and ainnias in the decorating of the card rooms.

At the close of several games Mrs. W. H. Kempton held high, she was awarded a lovely box of bath powder and a bottle of toilet water. The hostess served a sweet course, ice tea and grapefruit juice to the following guests: Mrs. W. H. Kempton, Mrs. Norton Smith, Mrs. H. A. Vickery, Mrs. V. Running, Mrs. George Scott McKnight, Mrs. Kathleen Jones, Mrs. J. B. Rogers, Mrs. W. Hauptmann, Mrs. Katherine Bristol, Mrs. C. A. Clark, Mrs. S. Y. Hartt and Mrs. L. E. Bass.

Mrs. Skipper Honors Kansas City Visitor.

Mrs. Carlos Skipper entertained Tuesday afternoon in honor of her guest, Miss Barbara Scott of Kansas City who has been visiting here for the past two weeks.

The hostess used pink vine and ferns in the decorating of the card rooms and served an ice course to her guests.

High score for the afternoon was awarded to Miss Elizabeth Chandler, and low to Miss Virginia Chandler.

Those enjoying this lovely affair were: Miss Louella Langford, Miss Sara Lucy Trent, Miss Patsy Loomis, Miss Letta Reck, Miss Virginia Chandler, Miss Elizabeth Chandler, Miss Mary Sawyer of Tampa, the hostess and honoree.

Special B. P. W. C. Meeting Tuesday.

A special meeting of the B. P. W. C. was called Tuesday evening at the club room. The purpose was to decide if the club will help Miss Lucy Mae Bachant attend the State College For Women this year.

The club voted to purchase all her books, supply her with enough cash each month and a committee was appointed to take care of her wardrobe for the coming year. The committee consists of Mrs. C. R. Ginn, chairman, Mrs. O. C. Wilkes and Miss Eleanor Bryant.

Members present for the evening were: Mrs. Fred Peden, Mrs. C. L. Johnson, Mrs. O. C. Wilkes, Mrs. C. E. Mann, Miss Mattie Tompkins and Miss Kate Tompkins.

Garden Club Met With Mrs. Turner.

The Garden club met this morning at the home of Mrs. C. P. Turner at Highland Lakes.

The house was beautifully decorated with gladioli, ainnias and aninnias. No committee reports were given nor was there a regular program, just an informal discussion of plans of the coming year and for beautification and a general clean-up program.

The president distributed a list of annuals to be planted during the months of September and October. At the close of the meeting the hostess served punch to around twelve members present.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Kempton at 9:30 A. M., September 29.

Mrs. McKnight Honors Visitors.

Mrs. George Scott McKnight entertained Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Ethel Sawyer of Tampa and Miss Barbara Scott of Philadelphia, Kansas.

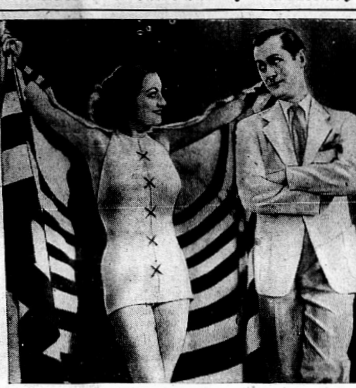

Two tables of bridge were in play during the evening with Mrs. G. P. Thayer and Miss Darweene Morrell each being awarded high score prizes. Miss Scott also was given a lovely guest prize.

The hostess served a delicious dessert course to the following guests: Mrs. H. E. Godwin, Mrs. E. P. Thayer, Miss Ethel Sawyer, Mrs. Carlos Skipper, Miss Sara Trent, Miss Darweene Morrell, Miss Barbara Scott and Miss Marjorie McKnight.

Triple Mystery Club Gives Tacky Party.

The Triple Mystery Club entertained Tuesday evening at the Oddfellows hall with a tacky party. Old fashioned games were enjoyed after which refreshments were served. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Oude Sapp and Fred Godwin for being the tackiest and present.

At the Avon Theatre Sunday and Monday

Joan Crawford and Robert Montgomery in "No More Ladies"

Mrs. Stebbins Hostess At Vanishing Party.

Mrs. G. A. Stebbins entertained Wednesday evening with a vanishing party in the form of a Theatre party.

The guests enjoyed the picture "Little Men" after which they were served chicken salad, cooling drinks and sweets. The tables were decorated with beautiful cut flowers.

Enjoying this party were: Mrs. Charles Bell, Mrs. M. L. Hetherington, Mrs. Fred Stevens, Mrs. R. H. Lawhorn, Mrs. J. L. Wells, Mrs. Shockey.

Woman's Club Annual Picnic.

The annual picnic of the Avon Park Woman's Club will be held at "Highland Lakes Casino on Thursday, August 22, at four o'clock in the afternoon. Those attending are asked to bring their own lunch and service. All members and their families, former members and those planning to be members in the future are invited to attend the festivities. A splendid program is being arranged and a very happy time assured.

Victor Sullivan of Frostproof was a visitor here Monday.

Hugh Maxey of Sebring was a visitor here Saturday evening.

Bill Lacey and Ford de Angers were visitors in Miami Thursday.

Row Boyers was a business visitor here several days of this week.

Miss Mary Phelps returned this week from a short visit in Georgia.

Herman Hancock of Sebring was a visitor here Tuesday evening.

Mrs. H. V. Rylos and Mrs. Geo. Wyrant of Sebring were visitors here Tuesday.

Mrs. and Mrs. Fred Peden left Friday for a short visit in Ohio with relatives.

Kinsey Webb and Jack DeLaney returned Friday after a week's visit in Jacksonville.

Miss Marcia Weisheyer and Ivor Farnell spent Sunday at Sarasota and Bradenton.

Miss Billy Ingram of Jacksonville is spending this week here visiting with friends.

Mrs. Lois Park of Sebring spent Thursday here as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Powell.

Col. Edwin Walker returned this Wednesday after a month's vacation in Tennessee.

Miss Frances Bowman returned Sunday after a few weeks visit in Atlanta, Ga. with relatives.

Mrs. Calvert Booth and children of Plant City visited Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Roberts Sunday.

James C. Durant of Fort Meade spent Sunday here visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams of Okaloosa spent Wednesday here visiting with friends.

Miss Pauline Wilford and Marshall Jordan expect to spend this week end in St. Petersburg.

Billy Martin will return Sunday after a two week vacation in Jacksonville and Tallahassee.

Mrs. Stebbins Hostess At Vanishing Party.

Mrs. G. A. Stebbins entertained Wednesday evening with a vanishing party in the form of a Theatre party.

The guests enjoyed the picture "Little Men" after which they were served chicken salad, cooling drinks and sweets. The tables were decorated with beautiful cut flowers.

Enjoying this party were: Mrs. Charles Bell, Mrs. M. L. Hetherington, Mrs. Fred Stevens, Mrs. R. H. Lawhorn, Mrs. J. L. Wells, Mrs. Shockey.

Woman's Club Annual Picnic.

The annual picnic of the Avon Park Woman's Club will be held at "Highland Lakes Casino on Thursday, August 22, at four o'clock in the afternoon. Those attending are asked to bring their own lunch and service. All members and their families, former members and those planning to be members in the future are invited to attend the festivities. A splendid program is being arranged and a very happy time assured.

Victor Sullivan of Frostproof was a visitor here Monday.

Hugh Maxey of Sebring was a visitor here Saturday evening.

Bill Lacey and Ford de Angers were visitors in Miami Thursday.

Row Boyers was a business visitor here several days of this week.

Miss Mary Phelps returned this week from a short visit in Georgia.

Herman Hancock of Sebring was a visitor here Tuesday evening.

Mrs. H. V. Rylos and Mrs. Geo. Wyrant of Sebring were visitors here Tuesday.

Mrs. and Mrs. Fred Peden left Friday for a short visit in Ohio with relatives.

Kinsey Webb and Jack DeLaney returned Friday after a week's visit in Jacksonville.

Miss Marcia Weisheyer and Ivor Farnell spent Sunday at Sarasota and Bradenton.

Miss Billy Ingram of Jacksonville is spending this week here visiting with friends.

Mrs. Lois Park of Sebring spent Thursday here as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Powell.

Col. Edwin Walker returned this Wednesday after a month's vacation in Tennessee.

Miss Frances Bowman returned Sunday after a few weeks visit in Atlanta, Ga. with relatives.

Mrs. Calvert Booth and children of Plant City visited Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Roberts Sunday.

James C. Durant of Fort Meade spent Sunday here visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams of Okaloosa spent Wednesday here visiting with friends.

Miss Pauline Wilford and Marshall Jordan expect to spend this week end in St. Petersburg.

Billy Martin will return Sunday after a two week vacation in Jacksonville and Tallahassee.

"HOMES NOT TAXABLE FOR GENERAL BONDS"

State Comptroller Advises County Commissioners On Homestead Exemption

Tallahassee, Aug. 15.—(FNS)—Tax levies for general, county and district bond issues should not be spread against exempt homesteads, Comptroller J. M. Lee is officially advising Florida boards of county commissioners today.

In a prepared statement, the Comptroller officially advised the county commissioners as follows: "Exempt homesteads are not subject to tax levies for anything other than special assessments for benefits, which assessments must have been levied as provided by statute. General, county and district bond issues do not constitute special assessments for benefits as provided by the statutes and millage for same should not be levied and extended against homestead valuations of $5,000.00 or less."

This is in line with Comptroller Lee's remarks in an address before the convention of the county commissioners in Orlando several months ago at which time the county commissioners agreed that it was not in the province of the comptroller or of the boards of county commissioners to pass on the constitutionality of the constitutional amendment.

At that time the Comptroller stated that the amendment was clear in its phrasing as exempting homesteads up to $5,000.00 in value from "all taxation other than special assessments for benefits." He added that special assessments for benefits are clearly and plainly not general bonds but are only such as are levied directly against individual pieces of property for direct benefits.

Miss Barbara Scott and Miss Ethel Sawyer who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Skipper for the past two weeks left Wednesday for a short visit at Daytona Beach. Miss Scott will go on to her home in Kansas, and Mrs. Sawyer will return to Avon Park for several more weeks visit with Mr. and Mrs. Skipper before returning to her home in Tampa.

Record Post Fire
A post fire at Ye Chequers Inn, near Oronochee, York, has been kept burning continuously, day and night, for more than 170 years.

New Circle

"Sebring's Friendly Theatre"

Now Playing
Matinee Saturday, 3:30

CLARK GABLE
BENNETT
AFTER OFFICE HOURS

SUNDAY AND MONDAY
Matinee Sunday, 3:30

FRONT PAGE
WOMAN

TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY
Bargain Nights!

522 People Placed On PWA Jobs In Five Counties

The local Federal Reemployment bureau has placed 522 people on PWA jobs since August 6 and 12 on PWA jobs. Mr. Wheeler states that it is expected that one thousand more placements will be made within the next 15 days on PWA jobs in the five counties comprising the district.

Four additional employees have been transferred to the Sebring office, they are, Roy R. Raulerson of Okaloosa, Miss Mabel Parker of Arcadia, Miss Elizabeth Schaffer of Wauchula and P. Lee of Avon Park.

Park Officials To Attend Forestry Meeting August 29

The local committee of the Dade State Forest Park, consisting of Dr. Wm. A. Davison of Avon Park, Dr. F. N. K. Bailey of Sebring, Dr. E. E. Sebring and Ray Greene of Sebring, will attend a meeting of the Florida Board of Forestry in Lake City, August 29.

The committee will attend the meeting for the purpose of discussing the development of the park with the Sebring Highlands Hammock and the botanical garden and arboretum, with the forestry board.

SEBRING-ZOLFO ROAD PROJECT DISCUSSED

Hardee and Highlands Counties To Co-operate In Submitting Project

Highlands and Hardee counties will co-operate in drawing up and presenting a project on the construction of a road from Sebring to Zolfo, it was definitely stated at a meeting held at the Sebring chamber of commerce Wednesday evening at which Senator H. G. Murphy and W. C. King, chairman of the board of county commissioners of Hardee county, met with a group of Highlands county citizens.

It was originally planned to have the road run through Highlands Hammock and the route was so designated as a state road at the last meeting of the legislature. Later developments brought out by the enlargement of the park project in connection with the botanical garden and the Sebring State Forest park caused the park officials to decide that a different route would be advisable, because the heavy through traffic over the road would be detrimental to the park and the enjoyment of it by the general public.

It is now planned to build the road straight west to connect with the grade of the old "Se Roberts" spur at the state road line. The intention is to submit the project at the earliest possible date, build the grade according to state specifications and get it designated as a state road.

After an hour's discussion, Senator Murphy agreed to discuss this plan with the state road department officials the first part of next week and report as to whether the change met with their approval.

Mr. King stated that Wauchula is interested in the road and since Highlands county has no east and west road, its construction will give this section a direct route to Bradenton, this county should be especially interested. Arcadia is also interested in the road, Mr. King stated.

AVON THEATRE

The Only Picture Theatre
AVON PARK, FLORIDA

FRIDAY (Nite Only)
THE BIG NIGHT—!

DYNAMIC DYNAMITE!
Richard Bartholomew

SATURDAY (Nite Only)
Tim McCoy

"The Prescott Kid"

SUNDAY AND MONDAY
MATINEES AT 3:15 P. M.

BOB and JOAN are in love again

CRAWFORD MONTGOMERY

NO MORE LADIES

TUESDAY NITE
LEGION NITE
(2 FOR 1)

"Great Gold Gold"

With Sidney Blackman, Martha Sleeper, Regis Toomey.

Wednesday and Thursday

A LAUGH HOLIDAY WILL

DOUBTING THOMAS

JOHN BOLES ROCKELLE HODSON

1

A TIMELY SPECIAL!

THE AVON PARK TIMES
FOR ONE YEAR
and a box of
PERSONAL
STATIONERY
(Retailing for $1.25)
All for $2.00

The Stationery Would be an Ideal
Gift for A Young Man or Woman
Leaving for College.

A large variety of styles and colors to select from. Get yours now.

THE AVON PARK TIMES

Curly Top

SHIRLEY TEMPLE'S new Fox picture, "Curly Top," spills over with sunny song and dance, considered by all reviewers to be this popular little star's best picture. Coming to New Circle Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 22, 23 and 24. Matinee Saturday, 3:30 p. m.

LEGAL NOTICES

ORDINANCE No. 192
AN ORDINANCE DECLARING THE EXISTING LIST OF REGISTERED VOTERS OF THE CITY OF AVON PARK, FLORIDA, TO BE OBSOLETE, VOIDED AND NO LONGER EFFECTIVE AS A REGISTRATION LIST AND PROVIDING FOR THE REGISTRATION OF QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF SAID CITY; PROVIDING FOR A REGISTRATION BOOK AND THE FORM THEREOF; NAMING A CUSTODIAN OF SAID REGISTRATION BOOK; DESIGNATING AN OATH TO BE TAKEN BY EACH REGISTRANT; PROVIDING THE PLACE DURING WHICH THE BOOKS SHALL BE OPEN FOR REGISTRATION AND THE PLACE THEREOF; PROVIDING FOR A REVISION OF THE REGISTRATION BOOK; AND FOR DELIVERING OF REGISTRATION BOOKS TO ELECTION OFFICIALS.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF AVON PARK:

1. That the present registration book or list of registered voters of the City of Avon Park is hereby declared to be obsolete, voided and no longer effective as a lawful and regular list of voters of said city.

2. There shall be a registration of qualified electors of said city, and only those electors who shall register after the date upon which this ordinance shall become effective and who are otherwise qualified shall be entitled to vote at any general or special election held by the City of Avon Park, Florida.

3. The City of Avon Park shall provide a book as a permanent record in which the electors of said city shall be required to register, which book shall contain the signature of the elector, the signature of the City Clerk certifying to the signature of the registrant and also certifying that the hereinbefore prescribed oath has been taken by said registrant; the date of registration, the name of the elector typewritten therein; the age, occupation and address of said elector; and the names of the registrants shall be alphabetically arranged in said book.

4. The City Clerk of the City of Avon Park is hereby made the custodian of the said registration book and he shall have supervision of registrations therein.

5. Each registrant, upon application for registration, shall be required to take and subscribe the following oath:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I am a citizen of the United States, that I am 21 years of age or over and that I have resided in the state of Florida as a bona fide place of permanent abode for one year, within the County of Highlands for six months and within the City of Avon Park for three months immediately prior to this date, and that I am qualified to vote under the Charter and Ordinances of the City of Avon Park."

The City Clerk is hereby required to administer the said oath to each applicant for registration and to certify over his signature that the said oath has been taken by the said applicant.

6. Registrations shall be made in the office of the City Clerk and the registration books shall be open daily from nine A. M. to twelve o'clock, Noon, and from one o'clock, P. M. to five o'clock, P. M., except on Saturdays and holidays, and on Sundays from nine A. M. to twelve o'clock, Noon; provided, however, that the said registration book shall be closed on the 20th day of November preceding each general election, and five days prior to the day set for the holding of any special election.

7. It shall be the duty of the City Council, within two days after the registration book is closed, to examine and verify the said registration book, eliminating therefrom the names of all persons who have died or removed from the said city, or who are otherwise disqualified for participating in

New CCC Company Will Arrive At Sebring Saturday

Nearly 150 boys from the Sebring CCC camp left by train Monday for Idaho. They will be replaced by a company of Florida boys who, it is reported, will arrive there Saturday or Sunday.

There was a rumor that a negro camp would be put in Sebring, probably started by the statement of local forestry officials that they would prefer a negro camp. Captain W. A. Ross of Fort Screven, Ga., was in Sebring Monday and stated that he had received a wire while there that the white camp from north Florida would arrive this week and occupy the same quarters at Lake Sebring used by all former companies.

the ensuing election, and the said examination and revision shall be completed within three days after the closing of the said book, which said book shall immediately be available for examination by any citizen of the City of Avon Park.

8. The registration book shall be delivered to the election officials on the day of any general or special election for the purpose of identifying voters who wish to participate in the election then being held.

9. All ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

10. If any provision of this ordinance is declared unconstitutional or unenforceable, it shall not affect any other provision of this ordinance.

11. The welfare and benefit of the public requiring the same in the judgment of the Council, this ordinance shall come into full force, operation and effect immediately upon its passage, its signing by the Mayor, and its publication one time in a newspaper published in the City of Avon Park, Florida.

Passed in adjourned regular session of the City Council of the City of Avon Park, this 13th day of August, A. D. 1935.

Fred M. Smith,

Acting President, City Council.

F. W. Shockey,

Clerk.

M. E. Covington,

Mayor.

Will Rogers At Avon Theatre

Strike up the laughs for Will Rogers' new fun cyclorama, "Doubting Thomas," next Wednesday and Thursday at the Avon Theatre. You'll hold your sides as Will tries to hold his wife in this rib-ticking story about a thunderstruck husband and a stage-struck wife which was adapted from George Kelly's stage hit, "The Torch Bearer."

Reporters from other cities have audiences rolling in the aisles of the theatres at Rogers' new vices, in the role of a simple, some-what savage manufacturer, whose calm world is tossed in to a turmoil when his wife, Billie Burke, goes theatrical. She appears in an amateur charity show and if the Avon Theatre audiences, hold on to their seats, it will be more than audience in other cities have been able to do.

You'll laugh your fill when Billie Burke, under the influence of Alison Skipworth, who plays an amateur impresario, wants to make a career of the stage until Rogers finally effects a cure by hiring a bogus Hollywood director to tell the amateur group what he thinks of their screen tests after which Will surprises everyone with a sequence which can be chalked down as one of the highlights of all Rogers' films.

B. G. DeSilva produced "Doubting Thomas" for Fox Film. It was directed by David Butler and besides Will Rogers, Billie Burke and Alison Skipworth, has an outstanding cast including Sterling Holloway, Gail Patrick, Frances Grant, Frank Albertson, John Qualen, Johnny Arthur, Helen Flint, Fred Wallace, T. Roy Barnes, Ruth Warren, George Cooper, Helen Freeman and William Benedict.

Special Speaker At Congregational

Prof. C. E. Crossland of Lake Wales, host by the speaker at the morning service at the Congregational church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. His subject will be "Will to read Bible poetry" and everyone is cordially invited to hear him.

To Vaccinate Hogs Thursday, Aug. 22

County Agent Alameyer states that he has arranged for Dr. Ed Everett to be in this county on Thursday, August 22nd to vaccinate hogs for hog cholera. Any government having hogs to be vaccinated should inform the county agent as to the number they will have to be vaccinated so that proper arrangements can be made and enough serum and vaccine ordered.

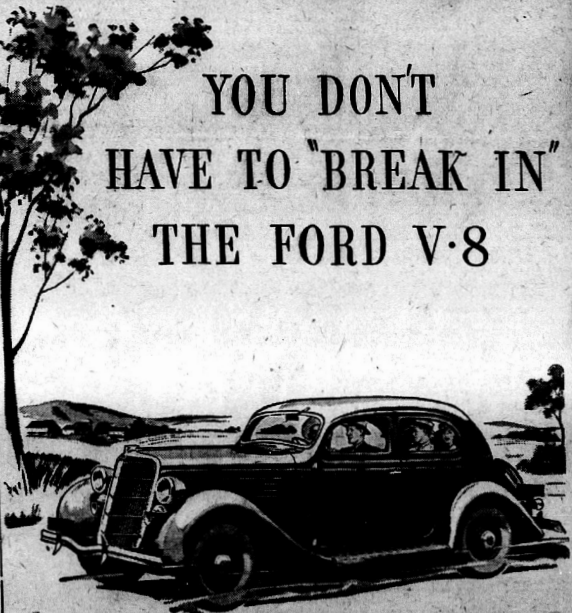

SOMETHING NEW In PAINTS

The Lumilead Primer
And one coat of
Pee-Gee
Makes a completely finished job on any wood surface.

Let us show you how to save money.

Smith Hardware Company

You can drive it 50 miles an hour the day you buy it

The Ford V-8 is ready for normal driving when you buy it. There is no tedious period of break-in for 500 or 1000 miles. You can drive it up to 50 miles an hour the first day. And after the first hundred miles you can drive it as fast as you desire.

That means greater pleasure and enjoyment for every motorist. It is especially important to motorists who are thinking about a new car for a vacation trip—to physicians, whom all those who use a car for business. Instead of dragging along at slow speeds for days, you can make good time from the start.

The reason for this is as important as the result. The Ford V-8 needs no break-in because of unusual economy in the manufacture of moving parts and the smoothness of bearing surfaces. Clearances are correct when you buy the car. It is not necessary to depend on a long wear-in period to eliminate tightness and insure smooth running. Longer life, greater economy and better performance are bound to result from such a procedure. The Ford V-8 gives you fine-car construction, along with fine-car performance, comfort, safety and beauty.

FORD V-8

Avon Park Motor Co.

Avon Park Florida

For Health
EAT M
AND GR

VOLUME V
County
Held R
Meet T

Vote to Prepare
Aid Proce
Coun

W. P. A. project
by the county c
their meeting Tue
talk by E. E. Kell administrator. M
That a concrete
gram be mapped o
assistance in th
board voted to pr
in the different d
will include one convict camp as decided on. Ther
in prospect, one between Sebring
one near DeSoto
at Lake Placid.

A communicati
ida Forest Servic
control budget fe called for an
$5,000, half of wh
able by Highlan
proposed to plac
erray in the cou
and the budget w
warden and an
gram.

The commissi
meet with con
Occochee, Polk ar
at Lake Wales on 29 to discuss a drainage of the valley. A War
eer will be pres
discussion of th
will be had. Th
sponsored by the O
missioners.

The commissi
box for the co
They placed in the box, 73 fr
from district 7
three, 34 from
from district 8
No action wa
chase of a wat
the court hous
tions were rec
der advisemen

Capt. En
Return

Capt. Joseph
Church Army
Y. after a
months, durin charge of the demon. He a survey of the Lake Placid
and Frostpro
He has gone
Providence
months vac
will report
Headquarters to be assign winter.

Capt. En
self not on church but may here an one he may park.

Cut-off
Emer
For 6

Florida
September
great crop of fall cr
tains crop
ment today
Farm Crec
visibly an set.

Naturist
these amo
April 1, 19
of 1934 c
say the c at $500.
Applies
through th
consequen times the County.

The R
The at near Star
sawyer
at the A
at the A Lodge a
and fam
and the bring a into the
Bany

