COUNTY BOARD SETS MILLAGE FOR 1935 TAXES

Holds Levy As Low As Possible
Considering Bond
Requirements

In an effort to keep the county millage as low as possible, the county commissioners met Tuesday with routine business occupying their attention. Carl Hanton, editor of the Fort Myers News-Press, entered a plea that the county contribute to the fund being raised by Governor Shultz to advertise the state, and the board passed the following resolution:

It is resolved by the Board of County Commissioners of Highlands County, Florida, in regular session the 5th day of November, 1935, that in the event this county receives the sum of Eleven Hundred Dollars more than it received for the past season from the Race Track Fund, during the fiscal year of 1935-1936 then said sum of Eleven Hundred Dollars is hereby appropriated to the Florida Advertising Fund, and that the reason for making this appropriation in this manner is because this Board is already appropriating in its budget the Race Track Fund equal to the amount received last season.

The county board faced the problem of providing for all debt maturities and putting the tax so high that no collections would be made which would increase the debt or keeping them low enough to insure some collections and make it possible to meet some of the interest and retire some of the bonds under the Kanner Act.

Several representatives of bond holders met with the board a few weeks ago and as a result it is possible that no mandamus action will be brought against the county because of their failure to levy a tax to take care of all maturities.

The millage in each taxing district is higher than last year, but in this district it is only 7 1/2 mills higher. The millage as adopted calls for 7 1/2 mills in Avon Park, Sebring 8 1/2, DeSoto City 7 1/2, Lake Placid 7 1/2, Bunnell 7 1/2, and Bright 7 1/2, Venice 8 1/2 and Hialeah 8 1/2.

No millage was put on for special road and bridge districts four, five and six. These bonds were issued before county division and debt was assumed by DeSoto, Hardee, Highlands and Glades counties. At the present time Highlands County has retired much more of her proportionate share of this debt and to take care of the maturities this year, it would have required an additional 25 mills in these districts. It is expected that a large number of these bonds will be retired under the provisions of the Kanner bill.

Chairman Henderson stated that to meet all maturities this year it would require an ad valorem levy sufficient to raise approximately $88,000 in addition to the gas tax and race track funds the county will receive.

GRAND JURY RETURNS TWO INDICTMENTS

States Attorney Grady Burton
Files Information In Seven Cases

The full term of circuit court convened Tuesday morning with Judge Peterson of Bartow on the bench. The grand jury was empaneled and had only one case before them, it was reported, a colored murder case from Hialeah. They terminated their labors Tuesday evening and brought in two true bills. One charging Mary Newton, a negro woman, with first degree murder and the other charging Marcus Griffin, Sam Cooper and Frank Crawford with breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony. The negro woman is said to have killed another negro woman with a knife at Hialeah, last June.

States Attorney Grady Burton filed seven informations which he is allowed to do under a new law which saves the grand jury from the grand jury investigation.

The grand jury consisted of J. F. Butler, foreman, M. A. Jones, clerk, and W. B. Whitley, R. L. Gay, D. S. Stuckey, W. W. Bell, F. Dunn, H. C. Maddox, C. C. Douglas, J. W. Mercer, L. B. Browning, Glenn Duke, J. A. Brown, Phil Abrams, Perry Sellers, Ralph Morgan, C. F. Jackson and Roscoe Biss.

The civil docket was sounded and the cases set for trial next week beginning Tuesday as Monday is Armistice Day. This week was occupied with criminal cases.

Growers Meeting At Sebring Nov. 13 At Court House

It was announced here today by J. R. Yearwood, the general manager. The first will be held at Sebring on Wednesday evening, November 13, at 7:30 o'clock in the Highlands county court house, this being a repeat engagement, as Yearwood and his associates had held a meeting there nearly two weeks ago.

The second will be conducted at Frostproof on Friday evening, November 15, at 7:30. All growers in Highlands and southern Polk counties are urged to come out and hear Yearwood explain his organization's 15-point program centering around "f. b. sales of tree-ripened fruit."

A meeting for the Lee county growers will be held at Clermont this coming Saturday at 3 p. m. A label bearing the map of Florida, the name "tree-ripened" and red letters and a seal of the name of the organization with "Esteem" brand mark, has been adopted and will be placed on every box of fruit shipped by the new exchange through the seven houses already contracted with for packing and shipping of fruit. These include the Lakemont house at Avon Park, the Winter Park Packing company, two houses of F. C. Memorial Services For G. F. Kellogg At Congregational

A memorial service for the late Mr. George F. Kellogg will be held in the Congregational church Sunday November 10, at 2:30 p. m. Private interment in Hugginsville cemetery will be made later. Mr. Kellogg was a resident of Avon Park for many years and was well known in the community.

Mr. Kellogg died early on the morning of November 2, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ethel Longstreet, in Lansing, Michigan, after years of failing eyesight and increasing feebleness.

Mr. Kellogg was one of the early builders of the Avon Park community, a fruit grower, property owner and interested in the local newspapers from the beginning. For forty years he was constantly active in the support of the community church and Sunday school, which latter became the Congregational church. He was a resident here until ten years ago, when he went to make his home with members of his family who had moved to the north.

On last Sunday the following memorial was addressed to the family and spread on the records of the church in which he had been so long served.

With sincere grief and sense of loss the Union Congregational Church marks the translation of George F. Kellogg, a noble and noble man, and a true friend, who lived a life of service and self-sacrifice over a period of forty years, in every branch of the work of this organization, and his noble example in Christian living, and his effort in support of all good things. Our highest respect and sympathy to his family.

"There is a Prince and a great man fallen this day in Israel," Samuel 1:20. Inscribed by unanimous action of the congregation in regular assembly, November 3, 1935. Adn A. Dilly, Oliver R. Aram, cons. Resolutions Committee.

FARMERS SEEK R. R. SPUR OPEN TRUCKING AREA

Coast Line Seeks To Block
Seaboard's Efforts To Aid Farmers

The Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on the question of whether the Seaboard Air Line Railway will be allowed to build a spur track into the trucking area on the south and east shore of Lake Wales was started Monday at the court house in Sebring with J. S. Pritchard in charge.

The Seaboard made the request some time ago and the Atlantic Coast Line objected, which resulted in the hearing.

Several farmers and owners of valuable land on or near the proposed spur track appeared at the hearing and testified that farming could not be carried on profitably in the section affected unless the line is built.

D. H. Smith, who stated that he is farming around the lake shore and that if the spur is built he will bring 15 or 20 farms into the territory and furnish them, was one of the chief witnesses. He stated that he has farmed near Leesburg and also delivered with the conditions around Lake Okechobee and the land on Lotokoga is the best in the state, not only because of the richness of the soil and the easy control of water level but it has the best cold protection of any of the trucking sections.

J. Hendry, another witness, stated that he owns about 300 acres of land in the area and is now farming about 75 acres. He also delivered a stirring and forceful address in which he stated that President Roosevelt will be elected by an even greater majority than in 1932.

The President has been true to his platform and carried out every pledge he made to the voters during the campaign, Mrs. Wells stated.

The Republicans having neither a candidate nor a platform, must point to the constitution and wave the flag of attention and the time has passed when empty words will appeal to the American people, the speaker stated.

In speaking of the past women's suffrage activity in the country, Mrs. Wells pointed out that Highlands county is outstanding in that there are two in the county, who are recognized outside the county as competent and efficient officials. She was referring to Mrs. Ruth B. Hyton, Tax Collector and Mrs. Clara Pearce, County Commissioner from District 3.

Francis Shockey, of Avon Park, was moderator and presented Seyon Lee, president of the Young Democratic Club of Highlands county, who made a few appropriate remarks. W. L. Long, county chairman of the Democratic Committee, also made a short talk. A representative group of the leading Democrats of the county attended the dinner.

The average price for the week ending October 26 was 580 cents, compared to 440 cents for the week ending October 19. Tangerines made their first appearance on the auction market this past week, but prices were nothing to brag about, 85 cents for one-half size box of four-fifths bushel capacity.

Mary Pickford Invited To Make State Home

Jacksville, Nov. 6.—(FNS)—Following the statement of Mary Pickford last Wednesday taxation would compel her to change her residence from California to some other state, Mayor James T. Alston of Jacksonville wired her as follows: "As you are doubtless aware there are no income or inheritance taxes in Florida. The state has no bonded indebtedness whatsoever, has balanced its budget and does not anticipate passing any new laws changing the set-up regarding revenues."

Legionnaires Will Attend Methodist Church Sunday A. M.

Highlands Post, American Legion, has accepted the invitation to attend services at the Methodist church Sunday morning, the day preceding Armistice Day. This action was taken at the post meeting at the new club house Wednesday evening.

A committee consisting of R. T. Fairley, Paul Jones and W. C. Beckett was named to contact other posts in the county and arrange for a joint Armistice Day celebration next year.

R. W. Gault of Sebring was a guest of the evening and he spoke of a number of phases of the work of a service officer in aiding disabled veterans.

National Democratic Committee Woman Addresses
Democrats of County

The Highlands County Democratic committee women held last Friday evening at a dinner given at the Santa Rosa Hotel in honor of Mrs. Hortense K. Wells, National Democratic Committee Woman, who delivered a stirring and forceful address in which she stated that President Roosevelt will be elected by an even greater majority than in 1932.

The President has been true to his platform and carried out every pledge he made to the voters during the campaign, Mrs. Wells stated.

The Republicans having neither a candidate nor a platform, must point to the constitution and wave the flag of attention and the time has passed when empty words will appeal to the American people, the speaker stated.

In speaking of the past women's suffrage activity in the country, Mrs. Wells pointed out that Highlands county is outstanding in that there are two in the county, who are recognized outside the county as competent and efficient officials. COUNCIL MAKES MILLAGE SLASH TUESDAY NIGHT

Service Co. Makes New Low
Rate For Lighting
City Streets

Avon Park's city council met in regular session Tuesday evening and set the millage for the current year beginning October 1. Following a great deal of figuring and conferences with bondholders' representatives the council found themselves in a position to reduce the millage from that of last year but are unable to show any settlements of current taxes in bonds. The necessary ordinances adopting the budget and fixing the millage were passed for the three necessary readings and one of which will be found in this issue of the "Times." Following the meeting City Clerk Francis Shockey issued a statement, which explains the different millage for the three territories covered. The city clerk said:

The city council adopted the budget for the fiscal year beginning October 1st and fixed the operating expense millage at 22 mills which was the same as all real estate and personal property in the city limits excepting homesteads, which are exempt under a constitutional amendment passed by the voters in November, 1934. The debt service levy was fixed at 13 mills for the area known as the original Town of Avon Park and was held at this low figure through agreement with bondholders representing about $250,000 of city obligations. It is understood that while a Federal court order was issued to require the levy and collection of a tax on bonded property owners living in the territory included on that date are only subject to the six mill levy, which will go to satisfy judgments obtained by these creditors.

The combined millage amounts to 35 mills in the area known as the original town, excepting in cases of homestead property which pays only the 13 mill debt service levy. The 35 mill levy is 2 mills below that of last year. In the area inside the present limits but outside the original town the combined tax levy is 25 mills, or a reduction of 6 mills from the 1934 tax levy. Homesteads in this area pay the 6 mill debt service levy only.

Nine Months School

Will we have the regular nine months term of school? This question has been passing through thousands of minds of Florida school students. It has been rumored that at present only five months of school is assured. If this be true, it will be almost impossible for any student to absorb the knowledge, which usually takes nine months, in a period of five months. The probable result would be a delay of a year or more for each student. Why hold back the eager boys and girls who are striving each day to climb higher in life and learning?

It is true that some of us will take our places in this great government of ours. If so, how are we to learn the great mistakes which have taken place within the government? How are we to strive to correct these mistakes? Only through study of the gradual development of our country, and our histories of other governments.

Many students will be discouraged by this fatal act and will stop their school work, in order to earn a few dollars a week, which is no step for any modern boy or girl to take with the great advantages of education now existing.

Do we want our state to be one of the best in the union? Yes, it is, and certainly we must try to bring our schools to the standards which are found in the leading schools of the north. Why have we spent thousands of dollars in trying to bring the persons of the north to our sunbathed state if we intend to close our schools to them?

We sincerely hope that some means can be provided to keep our developing minds wide awake. May this wonderful state of ours continue to educate the young citizens who are to determine its future importance.

Honor Roll For High School Is Announced Today

The High School honor roll for the second month has been made up, with the students on the list divided into three groups, as determined by faculty regulations. Straight A's are required for the "highly distinguished" rating; for "distinguished" rating a student must have at least half A's, with no grade below B; while a B average, with no grade below B, is required for "honorable mention."

In addition to the regular honor roll, provision is made for those students who are diligent but fail to meet honor roll requirements. For the encouragement of those students, the student from each group who shows the greatest improvement over the preceding month is given special mention.

The following list indicates the honor roll students in the high school, and also those showing the greatest improvement.

Book Committee Meets To Discuss Plans for Drive

Since the Parent-Teachers Association is going to help the Avon Park High School purchase books for the library during National Book Week, a faculty committee of which Mr. R. S. Funderburk is chairman and the P. T. A. committee of which Mrs. G. A. Stebbins is chairman, met Tuesday to discuss the books needed by the various departments.

Books most needed by the school will be listed and a suitable place to keep the books will be decided upon. The present school library is in study hall but when the new books arrive they will be under direct supervision. Persons having books to give to the school, are asked to see Mrs. Stebbins or any member of the book committee.

Clock In Assembly Hall Takes Rest

The clock in the Assembly Hall like "grandfather's clock" has stopped short. After many years of hard work, it has decided to take a vacation. Since it has stopped and since it will never resume its work again, until someone gets up enough energy to restart its pendulum or inspect its "inards," the students of the Avon Park high school are eyeing each other with curiosity, wondering how it is going to do the noble deed.

The clock's vacation started at fourteen minutes of four about two weeks after the closing of the students' vacation. This clock has always been a faithful friend to the students. It has been a friend with lots of love and endurance. Wouldn't the students like to see its face "lit up" again?

Soph. History Class Studies Current Events

The class in Sophomore history continues its study of current events under the supervision of Mr. R. S. Funderburk. Two of the chief topics studied during the past week dealt with the work of the United States Supreme Court and the construction of the canal across the state of Florida.

Not long ago the United States Supreme Court, which has been in session for years in the old Senate Chamber in the Capitol at Washington, moved into its new home, the new Supreme Court Building in Washington, D. C.

Among the bills on which the Supreme Court will pass are the Social Security Act providing for old age pensions, old age insurance, and insurance against losing a job; and the Wagner labor law providing that, "Employees shall have the right to self-organization, to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, and to engage in concerted activities, for the purpose of collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection."

Another case to be reviewed by the Supreme Court is that between an Alabama Power Company and the Tennessee Valley Authority. The Supreme Court is to say whether or not the Federal Government has the power to own and operate power plants.

Ranking in importance with the T. V. A. case is one involving the validity of the "Processing Taxes," which are an essential part of the agricultural program of the administration. The "Processing Taxes" are collected from manufacturers to pay the farmers for reducing their crops. A cotton manufacturer is contending that the government has no right to levy such taxes.

There are two views taken by the Justices of the Supreme Court—the liberal view and the conservative view. The liberals want to interpret the Constitution as the framers intended it. The conservatives want to leave it as it is for they consider the Constitution a "Sacred agreement between the dead, the living, and the yet unborn."

The Justices of the Supreme Court are usually considered conservatives are George Sutherland, Pierce Butler, James C. McReynolds, and Willis Van Devanter. The liberal Justices are Louis D. Brandeis, Benjamin Cardozo, Harlan F. Stone, and Oswald S. Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes has lately been siding with the liberal Justices.

The dynamite exploded—the beginning of a canal which will be approximately four times as long as the Panama Canal. This canal is to be completed in five years and will have cost $146,000,000.

Many persons of northern Florida think that this canal will help business, but the farmers and grove owners believe that the canal will do more harm than good. They say that the farm and grove need plenty of water to make them fertile, but that if the canal is dug it may cut into streams from which many cities get their water supply, and turn them into little flow into wells, water towers, and irrigation ditches.

The band played two selections which were "Moonlight on the Nile," an oriental waltz, by K. L. King and "Bombasta," a march, by O. R. Farrar.

The cheer leaders led the students in a song of a new yell, in preparation for the game this afternoon.

Rev. Frink Guest Pastor at Chapel

The guest pastor in the chapel period this morning was the Rev. L. Frink who led the assembly in prayer and spoke for a few minutes.

Project Records Attract State-Wide Attention

All the project records of the Home Economics Department of Avon Park High School of last year's class are being shown at other schools of the state this year, stated Miss Boethia Frojen, State Supervisor of Home Economics, when she visited here last Wednesday.

Carrie Pearson's project on "Personal Appearance" has been one of the most popular records shown, as seen by Miss Frojen's report.

Miss Frojen talked to the girls and told them the value of home project works, stressing that the work of this department is important, because these girls are the future home makers of this and other communities.

Miss Rhoda Thomas, instructor, says that Miss Frojen always inspires the girls to do better home projects.

Gribble Lost To Team Thru Injury

The football team lost a season's play Friday night during the Haines City game when Lloyd Gribble was injured internally in such a way that he will not play again this year.

This accident creates a vacancy which can not easily be filled. The disappointment of the student body is almost as keen as that of Lloyd himself whose enthusiasm helped the team in many plays.

Lloyd's experience made him one of the most valuable players on the team.

Lloyd was stepped on Friday night but did not know the he was seriously injured until Saturday night. After working all day, the pain gave him an uncomfortable and sleepless night. Lloyd insists that it was not football but the work that hurt him although his family is not easily convinced.

His condition is improved and he probably will be in school in a few days.

Home Ec Class Makes Study of Breakfast Menus

The home economics class is studying breakfast menus in "Food and Nutrition" as a current topic. Breakfast is the most important meal of the day as the girls find in studying menus. School boys and girls should never come to school without eating breakfast.

To start the body out for the day with no breakfast would be like trying to ride a train without buying a ticket, say the girls. Just as tramps ride without tickets, so some people force themselves to face the day's labors without breakfast. These persons are food tramps.

Breakfast in different foreign countries is a part of class discussion. In France the people eat little breakfast, consisting of beverages, coffee or cocoa or tea, and occasionally, cold buns and jam. The English, on the other hand, have a heavy appetite. They usually have tea with cream and sugar, bacon and eggs or kippers, deviled kidney or sausage, tomatoes, muffins or cold rolls, and marmalade.

Mexicans have early breakfast before eight o'clock which consists of coffee or spiked chocolate. Later on from 11 to one o'clock, the time we have our luncheon, they have breakfast consisting of eggs, cold rolls, aspa de pan (a piece of toast moistened with highly seasoned meat stock or gravy) tripe (beef), beans, cake, Spanish rice and fresh fruit.

American breakfast may either be heavy, medium, or light. In Louisiana coffee may be served before rising. In the middle west breakfast cakes lead and in the south hot biscuits or waffles are an essential part of the morning meal.

Meet Frostproof At Head Field In Grid Tilt

All Departments Will Cooperate to Make Game Success

The Red Devils of Avon Park High School will meet the Frostproof High School football team on Head Field this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock with all departments of the school cooperating to make the first home game a success, according to Coach H. L. Bissett.

Coach Bissett's squad of Red Devils put up the goal posts and laid off the field, which is diagonally across the outfield of the baseball diamond, according to Harold McClelland, captain. Yardage signs also were set up.

Between halves of the game in addition to the regular cheering, the "pep squad" led by the four cheer leaders: H. L. Bishop, Helen Tuten, Marvin Reddick, and Elmiria Sadler, will form a large "A" on the field. H. L. says that the cheer leaders were going to have some new articles that would add much "dignity" and "spirit" to the racket made by the cheering squad.

Mr. E. L. Roberts, bandmaster, expects to have the band accompany the cheering squad and to play in the welcoming of the game. The cheerleaders, trained by Miss Dorothy Hicks, led the squad through practice this morning in chapel.

Admission will be 40 cents for adults, and 20 cents for students. A large crowd is anticipated by all students and members of the faculty.

Officials for the game are: M. M. Ferguson, Lake Placid, University of Georgia; Parke Anderson, Avon Park, University of Florida; and C. B. Martin, Avon Park, University of Georgia.

EIGHTH GRADE BOYS
"Mutt" Wray, Elbert Chibbs, and James Ward were on Thursday's program. Jimmy Heim, Clyde Inman, and Donald Holton read some good jokes on last Thursday's program.

Billie Engelman is out of paper again paying his debts. At least that's what he says.

As L. C. was sitting in his desk his problems were so heavy that he broke the leg of his desk off with a bang.

What if Tillman was a Powell instead of a Crosby. Think he could sing?

SEVENTH A
For the past month we had 96 1-3 per cent attendance. We challenge any room to beat this record.

Our blackboards were not very good; so Mr. Holand painted them this week end. They look better and are easier to write upon.

Delores Carr has been absent for a week because of a sore foot. We are glad to have her back.

Lamar Sullivan and Harvey Hardin are to get up a home room program for next Wednesday.

SEVENTH B
Again this week we have a new pupil, Rooney Klump. She has been away visiting during the summer months. She also was with us last year and we are very delighted to have her back.

The first thing which everyone noticed Monday morning when they entered the room was Miss Bryant's desk. Mr. Noland and two boys from our room, James Bradbury and Sylvester Hartwig, were very kind to sandpaper and re-varnish it.

GIRLS' EIGHTH GRADE
Our program last Thursday was not given because a part of the class was in the "Pep Squad."

New Mascot For Avon Hi Arrives

HURRAH for Dimples! On the twenty-ninth of October a baby girl, weighing six pounds, arrived at the home of Coach H. L. Bissett and his wife, Dempsey Davis is her name in honor of her mother.

They are going to call the baby "Dimples," a fitting name for a dimpled baby.

CLASS "BLURBS"

SENIORS
The committee that is to select a play for the senior class has gotten a number of plays for trial and we are selecting one to put on now. Since we do not have a large class, we have a difficult time getting a play, that will fit in with the characters that we have in our class.

One of the seniors has been visiting in Miami for the last two weeks. She returned to class today to make up her lost time.

JUNIORS
Information wanted: a method by which we Juniors may learn a few things about Edgar Allan Poe, William Bryant (Could be Miss William's rich uncle), Washington Irving and several others of these "guys" stuck around in our literature book. If any one should know anything concerning any of these fellows (concerning any good points, or anything), please report it to the Junior class.

We read in the school paper last week that the sophomores were anxious for the juniors to give their program in chapel, in order that they could put on a program. We will hurry and give our program because we are surely looking forward to seeing the sophomores' program.

Have you heard this? Mr. Funderburk lost 45 dollars Friday night—now wait a minute, don't get excited. He merely mistook the show that night and unfortunately his name was called.

Even though you have just heard it don't tell him about it, I think maybe he already knows it.

The boys in the Junior class surely are interested in football this year. In fact, one boy even shows signs of football around his eye (eh—Murd?)

You may not think the Juniors hold very high opinions of one another if you ever hear some conversations. Hazel Reddick to Josephine Langford: "Josephine, you should be very glad that you were absent from school yesterday, because Miss Bryant had us write everything we know in Literature."

Josephine Langford to Hazel Reddick: "Well Hazel, dear, there's one consolation I am sure you've finished" (now please don't form your opinion of the Juniors by this).

SOPHOMORES
Why in the world don't some of you Sophomores do something to make some news? Can you expect your class to have a good column when there is nothing interesting to put in it? Let's do SOMETHING!

FRESHMEN
This week our president, Ralph Garrett appointed a committee for our home room program Thursday.

The duty of the committee was to provide entertainment for the class. The committee is: Edna Massey, chairman; Odan Bishop, Margaret Townsend, and Mary Phelps.

Ray Mathis and Glenn Kemp ought to be elected to amuse the class. Ray is always saying or doing something funny. Glenn can make the funniest faces. Sometimes I nearly die laughing.

GIRLS' EIGHTH GRADE
Our program last Thursday was not given because a part of the class was in the "Pep Squad."

Yesterday Vera Knowles gave the Scripture Reading. Nancy Betts was out of a continued sick. Then, we had a Who's Who contest. (1) Smartest, (2) Prettiest

CANARIES AT SCHOOL

The finest canaries are now given university musical training. First-class musicians are engaged to play to cages of promising young pupils, revealing to them the full range of instruments like the violin, harp, water organ, and chimes. Listening intently, the birds learn to recapture the notes with their wonderful voices. According to one professor a trained canary should be master of the quack, cluck, rattle, water, glass, leap, bubble, water, tour, hollow, bell, hollow, bell, rattle, bell, tour, bell, water, rattle, hollow, and flute. These singing lessons are conducted in specially built soundproof laboratories. A discordant note, coming from outside, might easily ruin months of patient tuition.—Tit-Bits Magazine.

Mothers read this:

A CONSTIPATED child is so easily straightened out, it's a pity more mothers don't know the remedy. A liquid laxative is the answer. Mothers, the answer to all your worries over constipation. A liquid can be measured. The dose can be exactly suited to any age or need. Just reduce the dose each time, until the bowels are moving of their own accord and need no help. This treatment will succeed with any child and with any adult. Doctors use liquid laxatives. Hospitals use the liquid form. It is best for their use, it is best for home use. And today, there are fully a million families that will have no other kind in the house. The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a doctor's prescription, now so widely known that you can get it all ready for use at any drugstore.

Washington Digest

National Topics Interpreted by William Bruckart Washington, D. C.

Washington.—In days not so far in the distant past, an argument could be developed in any community where there were more than a handful of Democrats if one took the position that the rights of the federal government were predominant over states' rights. States' rights constituted an issue that never died politically until the New Deal arrived on the scene at Washington. Through some two years or more now, we had heard very little about states' rights. Yet, within the last few days, we have found that the states' rights issue, it is not dead. It was only sleeping, and it has come to life in a really big way.

New Deal policies have been consistently policies of centralization of power in the hands of the federal government. New Dealers have enacted much legislation and have carried out many programs that appear to be contrary to the ideas which used to be held by advocates of states' rights. These things have been accomplished with almost no complaint from the Democratic side and with only a minimum of squawking from New Deal opposition from whence come complaints about regimentation and extension of government functions into the field of private enterprise in competition with the government's citizens.

Lately, however, some thirty or thirty-five cities have awakened with a shock and have remembered one New Deal program a severe job by that awakening. I refer to the plans for government construction of the so-called low cost housing projects. These were and are intended to provide apartments or small homes for families in the very low income brackets and to provide work for labor in their construction. Eventually, it was hoped, the program would use up a good many hundred million dollars of work-relief funds. Some have already been spent; some projects have been completed, and these results coincided with the arrival of tax paying time in certain localities. That was the crux.

To show what has happened in those cities and areas wherein the low cost housing projects have been planned or completed, let us take a particular case, namely, the housing project in Atlanta, Georgia. It is of no use to cite the facts in all of them, because the Atlanta case is typical.

Secretary Leavelle and his Public Works administration had spent approximately three million dollars in the construction of the Atlanta housing project. No sooner had this been accomplished, however, than the city of Atlanta awakened to the fact that it would not get taxes nor will the state of Georgia get taxes from this great housing project. The project was ruled by Comptroller General J. R. McCarl to be federally owned and, as such, was subject to state or municipal taxation. The city of Atlanta and the state of Georgia had been deriving taxes from the real estate now owned by Uncle Sam.

It was Atlanta's turn to move. It announced through its property constituted city authorities that if there were no taxes, then Atlanta could not furnish fire and police protection for the property nor could it supply water for the tenants nor would it permit children of those tenants to attend the Atlanta schools as free students. Atlanta contended that it bears the burden of these expenses and it was not going to add to that burden without reimbursement.

Secretary Leavelle sought then to offset the Atlanta ultimatum by tendering funds, taxpayer's money, to the city of Atlanta equal to the amount he thought the city would receive in taxes. Again, Mr. McCarl stepped in. He said that since the property was owned by the federal government it was not subject to taxes and therefore a payment to the city of Atlanta out of federal funds constituted a gratuity. In other words, it was an illegal proposition.

The comptroller general's ruling was so definite and positive that those who have been boasting and boasting about low cost housing projects have been stunned. Frankly, they do not know which way to turn. Thus far, they have not discovered a ray of light to lead them. The housing projects are held in abeyance.

The housing project situation brings to the fore a condition which apparently had not been generally recognized. It relates, of course, to the general subject of taxation but it has a bearing upon many policies now operative and which, it is fair to say, have been described by President Roosevelt as experiments in the way they are experimental. It seems to me they ought to be examined from this taxation phase.

One can understand readily the basis of the objection. There is hardly a city or town or even any other kind of taxing district in the United States where the tax rates are not at the very peak which the people can carry. That was shown vividly a year ago when Congress brought it necessary to enact legislation permitting municipalities the privilege of declaring themselves virtually bankrupts and according them the right of compromise with the bondholders under a decree of a United States court. So, when we think of taking away taxable property in any city and making it non-taxable by conversion from private to federal government, we see how it adds a further burden of taxes to the remaining privately owned property. That is the reason why many municipalities are fearful of government ownership of railroads, for example, since the railroads are heavy taxpayers in every community they serve. Laying aside the question of merit or lack of merit in the proposition of government ownership of railroads, no municipality can afford to lose the loss of tax receipts that would follow government acquisition of those carrier properties. They pay no estate taxes in the United States annually of more than three hundred million dollars. Of course it is distributed in thousands of places but whatever the amount may be in your community or any other, it represents a tax source which the local government can ill afford to lose.

It is the same, although to a lesser degree, with respect to the housing project. In this statement I mean only as to the local tax phase. It has, however, another very important tax angle. Property, or the income from property, everywhere subjected to three tax assessments. First, the county or city in which the property is located takes a tax; second, the state gets a share, and, thirdly, the federal government either by income or some other tax gets its hand into the pocket of a property owner.

In the case of the low cost housing project, it was necessary to calculate the rental rate on a base so low that it would be impossible for the local receipts to pay off the government investment. This had to be done if the low cost housing was to be supplied at a rate the poorer classes could pay. It is seen, therefore, that there is a deficit staring the project in the face.

And so it is with a great many other of the experiments where social programs place government-owned agencies or industries in competition with citizens. Take the Tennessee Valley hydro-electric project for another example. The federal government has placed more than $22,000,000 in that venture. The project Tennessee Valley corporation has taken over these properties at about one third of that amount, a net loss to the government. But that is not all. The vast project that has been developed in the Tennessee valley and through the adjoining counties and cities is not subject to state taxation nor do the cities that are being served by Tennessee river electricity get any taxes from this source. It may be sound in the theory but I am fearful that the indirect acquisition to federal government encroachment on local affairs sooner or later will cause a new explosion.

Earlier in this discussion I mentioned the ruling by Comptroller General McCarl who was asked of the head of the general accounting office. This agency was created with a very definite purpose in mind. Congress wanted, some independent group or authority to watch all federal expenditures to make certain that they were made in accordance with law. A good many years ago when this job was done by the comptroller of the treasury, it was not infrequent that an adverse ruling by the comptroller put the comptroller in a tough spot.

Mr. McCarl is not popular. Privately and publicly, he has been criticized, sometimes in language hardly printable. These complaints always have come from someone whose idea of spending money was found by Mr. McCarl not to be in accordance with the law. Always, he was the goat.

He has been the goat much more under the New Deal than ever before. Every time he kicks over a New Deal plan, the sponsors of that plan brand him as a Tory or a Reactionary or as being just plain dumb. He has engaged in controversy with none of them. He has contended that his decisions were rendered in accordance with the law but it was rejected by congress and he was branded as a traitor to be castrated. But it is true of all humans. When a pet plan is disrupted, one tries to find somebody on whom to pin the blame.

Marriage Is Insurance Against Most Everything

A married man lives longer and is less likely to end up in the workhouse than a bachelor. So says Edwin S. Burell, professor of economics and social sciences at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The professor is further of the opinion, based on his studies of the subject, that married men commit few crimes and less often go insane. The unmarried man has less at stake in the community because he has a lower status. Marriage is the best insurance in the world—insurance against crime, insanity, poverty and premature death.

Now Science Explains Why So Many People Past 40

Feel That They're Slipping Losing Their Grip on Things

Many people "round 40" think they're "growing old." They feel tired a "week." Have headaches, dizziness, stomach upsets.

Well, scientists say the cause of all this, in a great many cases, is simply an acid condition of the stomach. Nothing more.

All you have to do is to neutralize the excess stomach acidity. When you have one of these acid stomach upsets, take Phillips' Milk of Magnesia after meals and before going to bed. That's all.

Try it. You'll feel like another person. Take either the familiar liquid "PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia" or the convenient, new Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM: Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at all drug stores. They are the equivalent of the liquid form. Each tablet is the equivalent of one teaspoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Dorothy Welch - Ruth Pendleton Hostesses.

One of the merriest parties of the Halloween Season was given on last Friday evening from 7:30 until 9:30 when Misses Ruth Pendleton and Dorothy Welch entertained some of their little friends at Ruth's playhouse.

After the guests arrived in costume a neighborhood parade was the first feature of the evening. When they returned they found someone had taken possession of the tiny living room. There was much merriment and guessing but finally the stranger had to unmask and proved to be Ruth's grandfather, J. L. Collins, who had slipped in unannounced.

No Halloween party being complete without a tallies black cat, the guests enjoyed trying to attach a tail to him. This contest ended in a tie between Clarelle and Helen Welch and they both received a prize.

Mae Frances Welch received the highest number of votes for the most attractive costume and the prize for the most comical went to Dorothy Lawton and Ruth Pendleton who were impersonating a very stout old lady and her husband.

After the games the little guests were served refreshments of hot chocolate topped with marshmallows, sandwiches and cookies and each one was presented with a daintily dressed doll, upon close inspection proved to be an all day sucker, as a memento of the occasion.

Those attending this jolly occasion were: Mae Frances Welch, Clarelle and Helen Welch, Margaret and Buddy Harper, Barbara Ann Radcliffe, Dorothy Lawton and the hostesses, Ruth Pendleton and Dorothy Welch.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wells, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Hansen and Marvin Jones were business visitors in Tampa Wednesday.

"Lest We Forget"

During the present day war scare, let us not forget the horrible reactions which follow every great conflict.

No American would refuse to defend his own country, but few Americans today are willing to leave our own shores to mix in the troubles of other nations. America gained nothing from the World War and will gain nothing from meddling in the present European crisis. May we not forget!

21 Trillion Microbes to One Double Handful

Life teems in the soil with inconceivable numbers and activity. Dr. Charles Thom of the United States Department of Agriculture, in a recent talk to world soil scientists at Oxford, England, said counts of soil bacteria have shown as many as forty-six billions of active organisms in a gram of decomposing plant material. There are 28 grains in an ounce, 16 ounces in a pound. A gardener picks up a double handful of miller compost and there may sit through his fingers, among other things, a living microscopic host represented by a figure that reaches halfway across the usual newspaper column—21,000,000,000,000.

Then you just must have one pair in a luscious shade of blue or turquoise silk, for gay week-ends away from home, and your "nightly" wardrobe isn't complete without one pair of dress-up pajamas of some heavier material for lounging or dining, particularly if you're a Campus Queen. The tailored shirtwaist top may tuck into the bell-bottom trousers which "get the hang of it" from a triangular yoke and snug elastic waistband.

Pattern 2362 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 takes 4 yards 36 inch fabric. Illustrated style-by-step sewing instructions are included. Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (stamps preferred) for this pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE. Council Makes Millage Slash Tuesday Night area of the City as it existed January 1, 1935, the 6 mill debt service levy this year is extended to include the area outside the present city limits which was excluded by legislative act in 1934. There was no tax levy in this area last year, the council feeling that it was not in its authority to levy a tax for new city bonds until required by the court to do so.

Tax discounts offered this year are 4% in November, 3% in December, 2% in January and 1% in February. There is no discount offered through the use of bonds as all items in the 1935 budget are required to be paid in cash. There will be no change, however, in the bond settlement now being offered on prior years taxes, and those who owe back taxes will continue to have the opportunity to pay a part of their delinquent taxes in bonds according to the original settlement.

The tax books will be opened Tuesday morning, November 12th, and all who do not receive statements immediately, are asked to call at the city hall and receive their tax bills. It is estimated that about 10 days will be required to send out notices, and an advertisement in this issue calls attention to the fact that the tax rolls will be opened next Tuesday.

Satisfaction in the new levy was expressed by the city officials who point out that in most cases there will be a reduction in taxes, despite the loss of nearly $300,000 of property by homestead exemption from the 1935 tax roll.

J. G. Gravelle and D. B. Hyde, Jr., of the Florida Public Service Co. presented council with a proposition to extend the White Way on the Mall and also to extend lighting to the city streets at a lower cost than heretofore. One proposal was for the lighting of the entire White Way all night for the full year at an increase of about $516.72 per year. Another proposal was for the service company to purchase the White Way equipment and maintain it and apply the purchase price on city bills charged the city for current. It was estimated this would cost the city $264.50 a year more than the present charge. They offered half the old rate for overhead lighting of other streets. The plan had been adopted by other cities, it was stated and council took the matter under consideration and referred it to the light and water committee for study.

G. A. Harper suggested that the WPA project for repaving Highlands avenue with clay along the section past the power plant, be changed so as to use cut back mixed in place of asphalt. It would save tearing up the present pavement, would make a better road and be cheaper, he said. This was referred to the street committee for consideration.

The site for the new armory was changed to the lot south of the Masonic Temple following consultation with a WPA engineer. The original site on Lake Wales, adjoining Donaldson Park had been objected to by nearby residents. Charles Pabor was engaged as superintendent of the building, $200 per month, $75 of which will apply on back taxes. Work on clearing the lot began this week and it is expected the building will be completed within eight months.

C. E. Mann of the Standard Garage asked permission to remove the White Way light on his corner in order to erect temporarily a Sunoco gas sign. Mr. Mann said he is negotiating with the Sunoco people to lease them his building and they would erect a large up-to-date service station in its place. Council granted the request.

Jack and Jill Is Moon

The nursery tale, "Jack and Jill" is the relic of a Norse myth, according to the dark patches in the moon. The two children are said to have been kidnapped by the moon when drawing water, and they are still to be seen with the bucket hanging from a pole resting on their shoulders.
