FLYING CADETS ARRIVED HERE THIS MORNING

tary flight training here they will proceed to basic training and then to advance training. All this requires thirty weeks of strenuous work. While learning to fly they will receive $75.00 a month, their board and room and medical attention. Their uniforms are also supplied to them. They range between 21 and 26 years of age and are all unmarried. Requirements are that they have at least two years of college or its equivalent by passing an examination. When they finish their advanced training they will be commissioned second Lieutenants in the U. S. Army Air Corps.

Robert Austin, Director of the Lodwick Aviation Military Academy, who in World War No. I. had charge of a U. S. Air Service flying school in France, said his organization including the instructors, ground school instructors, mechanics and ground crews were ready to begin operation at once. Work on the steel hangar at the airport is rapidly being completed with only the roof to be put on the huge steel structure. Some twenty two Stearman training planes will be used to teach the cadets to fly. Director of Maintenance Garner Emerson said that the planes had all been serviced and were "on the line" ready to go. R. G. Beeler, Director of Flying, had some twenty instructors ready to give the cadets their first flight instruction, while Cal Pidgeon, Director of Academics, announced his ground school instructors were ready to teach the cadets, the theory of flight, aerodynamics, engines and other ground school courses.

The course laid out for the cadets includes sixty hours of flying time with approximately 120 hours of ground school instruction. They will have a busy day which will commence at 5:30 in the morning and end with "lights out" at 9:30 at night. Saturday afternoons and Sundays will be devoted to weekends and leave, provided the cadets are proficient in their work and have made satisfactory grades in their flying and ground school classes.

THE LODWICK INN, (formerly Highland Lakes Hotel), thoroughly renovated from top to bottom and with new equipment in the various departments, today is housing U. S. Army Air Corps cadets who will receive their primary flight training here in Avon Park. Vacant for more than two years the hotel and its spacious grounds is the scene of great activity as the cadets arrived and were checked in by Air Corps officers. They will be transported by special busses to the flying field. The hotel will be used as barracks and will accomodate over two hundred persons.

Churches of Christ, Scientist

"UNREALITY" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday, October 5.

The Golden Text is: "All that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever" (I John 2:16, 17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves. Ye shall know them by their fruits" (Matt. 7:15, 16).

Doing good is the only certainly happy action of a man's life.
Sir Philip Sidney
