She had several assistants in preparing the fish and in hooking them.

Many of the members of the Woman's Club worked hard and put in much of their spare time to make such a splendid success. But the club could never have accomplished what it has done if it had not been for the hearty given by many friends, the club, who realize the need for the work the club is doing. Many of the members are also active in the church and Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. and in doing the countless things that are to be done in the community. It is a pleasure to mention those who deserve credit, for justice could not be done if they were not mentioned. The Woman's Club extends hearty thanks to all who supported the carnival, and to the many who gave their time, labor and money and each made a contribution to the success of the carnival. The books and papers are on the shelves in the school, books on the shelves at the library or any one of the churches. The club will be glad to loan them.

About $250 was realized from the carnival activities.

ing. We have been raised up and preserved in national power and in wisdom we cannot question. Therefore, we can do no less than honor the providence which has so wonderfully favored us. Opportunity for great good service awaits us if we will. Let us, therefore, lift up our prayers be raised, for direction in the right path. Under God, our responsibility is great. Let us strive to do all men and women to the glory of God's own justice.

Offers to Sell Water Works and Electric Light Plant to the City

A regular meeting of the council this week, George E. Schuler, responding to an invitation comparing the city with other cities, said that "that body and discuss the water and light situation, stated that the water and light company would be willing to entertain a proposition from the city regarding the sale to taking up bonds which have already been voted in a sufficient sum to cover the cost."

The balance of the business transacted was of a routine nature, reports of various committees, officers, etc., being heard, bills notified and ordered paid and the usual business.

He stated that the company would sell upon an appraisal basis, the company to select one man, the city another and then a third man to appraise the value of the plant and equipment. The proposition seems to be fair and the council will take the matter under advisement.

an inadequate supply of water for ordinary purposes and fire protection. Because of the inefficiency of the fire department, rendered so on account of an inadequate water supply, insurance companies are not willing to bring in the third class and 25 cents is added to the premium on business houses, mercantile, hotel and such

Occupation Licenses
Occupation licenses already issued by Tax Collector Canfield amount to more than $1 million. The amount of money will in all probability reach $2,500 before the close of the year. This is about $1,500 in excess of the amount estimated by a former Dethe town that the steps be taken to secure greater volume of water, which will probably never be done unless the town operates a municipal plant. Mr. Sebring's offer is well worth careful consideration.

Sebring is anxious to finance the widening of the highway drive from the town to the lake, and has

Watch for This Sale

One of the coming events in merchandising will be the 1-cent sale at the Rexall Store. E. J. Molter, the proprietor of this popular pharmacy believes in giving his patrons and the general public full value for every penny expended with him and in this campaign, the date of which will be announced later, the values given will be far in excess of the money spent. These sales are indeed popular, for in addition to purchasing such articles as are needed in this line, an additional article of the same value is purchasable for 1 cent, the smallest piece of money in use in the United States. It isn't often the purchasing public can find an article of any value offered for a penny, but the 1-cent sale to be held at the Rexall store will afford this opportunity and you are advised to wait carefully for the date and wait for

Eppworth League

F. G. Geisinger, president of the Eppworth League, had in charge of it about 60 members. The subject was "Patricians of the Past" and Mrs. U. D. Kirk gave some most interesting sketches of some of the great patricians. Miss J. Blanchard told how she had been inspired by the story of George Washington's death which she had read in the Bible. Mr. Thrift found many interesting things in the life of Abraham Lincoln and gave as an example of young Christians after his pattern. His address applied many of the points made in the lives of the young leaders mentioned and said that he hoped that their lives could be looked up in the future as some of those who were examples of the past. The meeting next Sunday will be held with C. C. Cobb as leader. Everyone is invited.

risks are considered extra hazards, and the extra costs are added to the premium on residence risks. As an example, the company's rate for insuring your business home is a town with adequate fire protection is $4.50 per $100 of value, while the rate for a town with inadequate fire protection is $5.00. With an adequate water supply the efficiency of fire department would be 100 percent, and the rate for a town with inadequate water supply would be 125 percent. If the town's fire department is 75 percent efficient, the rate would be 112.5 percent. It would be a fair estimate to assume that the town that some steps be taken to secure a greater volume of water and a more efficient fire department, and, unless the town operates a municipal water supply, the rate would be of great worth careful consideration.

That it pays to advertise in the Messenger was proven last Saturday when at 7 o'clock in the morning Hudson & Cobb found before their doors a large crowd waiting to take advantage of the sale and to buy at the low prices offered before the rush kept up all day and when evening gave the young proprietors a chance to get in a few more of their work, they found it ever had in Seaside, they found it ever had in Seaside and the most goods sold. They had expected this would take all week and the line of goods was so long that the first sale day found them all gone. Their sale of work clothes and shoes particularly was most attractive, a large number of the goods were new and the prevailing have worked many a hard ship on the working man and he appreciated the low prices. The sale of the sale week the bargain have lasted and tomorrow (Saturday) will be the final and probably the last sale of the year. The sale of the goods were sold last week and other "bad" had to be written, giving away the goods and the sale was one day more of this sale. A word to the wise is sufficient.

premium on residence risks. As an example, the cost of insuring a home in your business home in a town with adequate fire protection is $450 annually. In a town with inadequate fire protection, the cost is $2,500. With an adequate water supply the efficiency of our fire department would be maintained. If the water supply is materially reduced, it would therefore seem advantageous to the property owner to take steps to secure greater water supply and this will probably never be done unless the town operates a municipal water supply. This situation is well worth careful consideration.

Mr. Sebring also offered to finance the town's fire department.

Tuesday was a day that will long be remembered by the school children. Professor Popple with his pupils stole a march on the primary, when at 10 o'clock they crept through the windows and doors with their lunch baskets and all "hiked" through the woods to Friendship lake, where a dinner was spread which would have tempted the appetite of kings.

After dinner they returned to the school and resumed their studies, all feeling much better because of the enjoyable outing.

Truth Will Triumph

A merchant had advertised for a boy. Late in the afternoon, a red-headed, freckle-faced, blue-eyed, home-looking boy applied for the job. "Do you like work?" asked the merchant.

"Yes, sir," replied the boy. "Then you can have the job," replied the merchant. "You are the first boy who's been here today who didn't lie about it and say yes."—Washington Post.

Story Hour

The Saturday afternoon story hour class was entertained by Mrs. Mitchell last week, especially by interesting myths, among them "Jack and the Golden Staff Box," "The Enchanted Dragon" and "The Table, Donkey and the Stick." As it was necessary for Mrs. Mitchell to leave early, Mrs. J. Bryan kindly consented to conduct the rest of the hour and the children were most pleased with her tales. The Wednesday morning class listened to many short stories, some old and some new, but they never tire of the old ones and seem to prefer them and even call for them. All new comers to Sebring are welcome to send their children to these classes, school children to Tuesday, Park, Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock and the little ones to the library, Wednesday morning at 10:30.

Epworth League Halloween Party

A successful Halloween party was given at Tusawilla Park last Friday night by the Epworth League of the Methodist church. There were more than a hundred young folk present in costume and many visitors, who enjoyed looking on as much as those who participated. A grand march was the first feature of the evening and it gave the clever costume a chance to be displayed to advantage. Many lively and appropriate games were played, with every one enjoying the sport and excitement. Refreshments were served at a late hour. They were baked home, and included applesauce, apple sauce, doughnuts and coffee.

GAME IS PLENTIFUL
IN FLORIDA, SAYS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

A dispatch from Washington, D. C., says that Florida boasts more ducks and geese and shore birds than ever before, according to a survey just completed by experts of the United States department of agriculture at the opening of the gunning season, which shows that game is more abundant than in many years.

The survey shows that quail, wild turkeys and ducks are reported to be more abundant than for several years. There are also a number of bears scattered over the state and little trouble is anticipated for the deer or bear hunters who desire to get the limit allowed under the law.

There is a possibility, however, of the large quantities of ducks and geese in the northwest section of the state being scared away overnight, as they were last season by an airship. The migratory birds do not take the presence of the birdman kindly and leave just as soon after his arrival as they can rise and fly.

Big Season Here
This is to be a banner season for the American sportsman. Game of the sort usually hunted is more plentiful, generally speaking, than it has been for many years. In some localities there are more ducks and geese than the sportsman can handle. In the East of the Mississippi river, migratory birds are making their southern flight in unprecedented numbers. The quail or bobwhite is present also in numbers not equalled for years. And the deer is not so scarce, apparently, as it used to be.

All told, the 5,000,000 hunters who will carry a gun into the field or to lake or river between now and New Year's are apt to find the happiest hunting grounds of many years, according to reports to the biological survey, United States department of agriculture from United States game wardens stationed from Maine to Florida and from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The department recently sent a letter of inquiry to each warden and a summary of their replies is given below.

In Maine there are a number of locations for deer hunting where visitors want to go. In the state are reported very abundant from numerous lakes, with coast shooting good all along the coast. Deer are reported very abundant but rutted geese, were reported plentiful all over the state, particularly in the northern portion. Wild geese do not stay in Maine on their flight south, but may be found in good numbers in Great South Bay, New York.

Deer Plentiful
Through the desolate grounds of Virginia and North Carolina deer will be more scarce and geese this season than there have ever been before, even mentioned by the members of the game commission. Rabbits, geese, pheasants, deer and bobwhites are reported plentiful in Virginia state authorities have requested all county game wardens to report available accommodations for hunters, anticipating a big movement to the field.

Woman's Club Meeting
The regular business meeting of the Woman's Club was held last Tuesday night, with a good number present. Many of the new officers were there and plans for the new year's work were discussed. Several new members joined the club and new names were voted into membership. Reports from the carnival committees were made and votes of thanks were made for the many helpers for that great occasion.

Clothing Requested
The Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church requests donations of clothing for children or any materials that may be made into clothing. A box is to be sent to the Louisville Ordnance next Thursday and all donations should be delivered to Mrs. I. Dutton or Mrs. A. E. Lawrence before that time. Look well before you decide that you have nothing that a little one could not make use of than you can.

Methodist Church Services
Regular services at the Methodist church. Dr. P. S. Merrill, pastor. Sunday school, 9:15 a. m.; preaching service, 11 a. m.; Epworth League, 7 p. m.; evening service, 8 o'clock; men's prayer meeting, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock; midweek prayer meeting, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the hall.

Air Mail Postoffice
Due to the increasing use of the German air mails the postal authorities have found it necessary to establish a postoffice at Berlin. There are thirteen regular air routes leaving that city.

Armistice Day
Leslie Collier Post of the American Legion invites all citizens to attend the meeting at Tusawilla Park next Friday night, Armistice Day. Appropriate speeches and songs will be the program for the evening.

Prohibition a Help
Despite the growth of the prohibition movement, vine growers of South Australia report the biggest vintage season they ever had. More than 2,500,000 gallons of wine have been exported this year.

Presbyterian Church
Regular services are now being held in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning and evening, with Sunday school in the afternoon.

BEVARD COUNTY JUDGE WON'T ENFORCE A LESS DRIVING RECKLESSLY

Members of automobile clubs throughout the state, according to reports received in Jacksonville, are discussing with deep interest the action of County Judge H. R. Morse of Bevard county, who, after declaring he would not fine a motorist for exceeding the speed limit unless it was proved he was driving recklessly and endangering other traffic, was asked last week the case of Miss Mayo, a Red Cross volunteer, who brought before him for speeding on the Dixie highway, near Titusville.

A member of the Jacksonville Automobile Club, in the case, declared Judge Morse a party was given that the majority of motorists drive their cars at high speeds with greater safety to themselves and other traffic than others can at a speed of twenty miles an hour. It was pointed out that while the county laws apparently did not require high speed on straight-aways as a serious menace to the primary purposes of the laws are to prevent accidents.

The judges of automobiles to speed limits fixed by the various counties is a question if the road is straight and other vehicles are not in sight," said the local motorist. "The highway between Bevard and Daytona, between West Palm Beach and Miami, and the Memorial highway in Hillsborough county from Tampa to the Pinellas county line on the West Coast, might be mentioned as road upon which the speed limit should be observed by the common sense of the driver. It is approximately twenty-two miles from Bevard to Daytona, while a wide stretch of road over which a car may run seventy-five miles an hour in safety, yet the speed limit is twenty-five miles. Between the two cities there are few settlements, only two or three camps. There is no reason why the motorist should not run as fast as the car can carry if he has a clear road, and most of them do so.

"Twenty-five miles is the limit between West Palm Beach and Miami, yet the highway is very broad and is one of the fastest in the United States. A car can be operated at sixty or seventy miles an hour over it with a greater margin of safety to the occupants and other traffic than a speed of twenty-five miles an hour would be on some of the narrow brick roads in south and central Florida.

The speed limit on the Memorial highway from Tampa to the West Coast, as smooth as glass and with the few curves very long and easy, is twenty-five or thirty miles an hour. With no other traffic in the way there is no reason why the average motorist should not run at from forty to fifty miles an hour in perfect safety. The action of Judge Morse in declaring that unless a motorist was driving recklessly or endangering traffic he would not fine him for exceeding the speed limit is something that other county officials, including traffic officers, might well consider.

The motorist added that very few automobilists would operate their cars at such excessive speed, even under the most favorable conditions, saying he had mentioned such a motorist merely as an illustration.

"My idea is," he said, "that a motorist with a clear road, who is known to be a careful driver, should not be brought into court if he exceeds the stipulated speed limit by ten or fifteen miles an hour. Traffic officers and court officials in dealing with such cases also should always take into consideration the ability of the motorist. If he is known as a careful driver the traffic officers or the court should take it for granted that he could be depended upon to use common sense. If he is a driver whose common sense is to get him into his destination regardless of consequences, he should be dealt with to the full extent of the law."

AN INGENUOUS IDEA OR AN IMMINENT WRITER

A news item from Tampa to the Times-Union says:

"Flotsam and jetsam from the tropical hurricane revealed toprising prohibition officers a unique method of smuggling forbidden drink into the country from Cuba and Mexico.

"Two giant cedar logs, each about thirty inches in diameter, neatly sawed apart from end, each half hollowed out neatly in six places to receive a 5-gallon demijohn of demon rum, were found where the waves had tossed 'em up into the streets of the Palm Beach section, among many other perfectly good rum and unsaved logs which had been torn loose from rafts at local cigar box factories.

"Of course, the demijohns were gone. The halves of the logs had been brought neatly together by bolts, the heads of which were counter-sunk, with wooden plugs fitted closely into the recesses, a neat job that would escape all but a prying eye."

Decreasing Postage Rates

During 1920 our postoffice department made reduction of rates to the twenty-one American republics of 2 cents for letters of one ounce from 5 cents, and to one cent on cards from 5 cents, and increased the weight of printed matter from two ounces to four ounces for 1 cent.

While the United States is reducing rates, European countries are increasing them. All except Great Britain have increased the letter rate from 5 cents to 10 cents per ounce and 5 cents for each additional ounce.

Home Cookery

"Jimmy," said the fond mother to her smart 11-year-old, "what became of that little pie I made for you as a treat yesterday? Did you eat it?" "No, mamma," answered Jimmy with a grin; "I gave it to my teacher at school instead."

"That was very nice and generous of you, Jimmy," complimented his mother. "And did your teacher eat it?"

"Yes; I think so," answered Jimmy. "She wasn't at school today."—The Pathfinder.

CONSUMPTION OF ORANGES WONDERFULLY INCREASED

There was a time in the early days of the citrus business, when California was shipping 2,000 cars a year and Florida not much more, when it was predicted that the business was being overdone; that the end was in sight. People with no vision could not realize that advertising, which would increase distribution through education, coupled with the natural growth of the country, would make it possible in one season to market 500,000 boxes of fruit—when on a basis of 250 boxes to the car, means 100,000 cars—and market them at a fair margin of profit and with no disastrous breaks. This was accomplished last season, and a slightly increased crop means further endeavor and in the face of somewhat adverse business conditions in the country—Kissimmee Valley Gazette.

Germs in Chinese Eggs

ADVOCATES MORE ORANGES FOR STATE CONSUMPTION

The following was a recent editorial in the Deland Daily News: "The people of Florida should be by all odds the greatest consumers of citrus fruits in the entire country. They certainly have better opportunities for securing the best of the fruit than any other people, and if they do not enjoy it to the fullest extent it is their own fault. A very generous consumption of citrus fruits is conducive of superior health and vitality. There is one item in this connection that should be carefully guarded by everybody, and especially by dealers, and it is this: Keep the price within the bounds of reason and common sense."

"Any person, be he a grower of citrus fruits, a local dealer in them, or a shipper, who will deliberately practice the selling of those fruits at exorbitant prices is deserving of severe censure for the good name of the state, for the good will that we should bear towards our friends and neighbors and visitors, we should insist on prices of oranges for home consumption that are fairly reasonable."

"Another thing: Why should we not be able to find in our markets, offered for sale to our own residents, as good fruit as can be raised here? Let's call and inferior fruit for sale, in order that there may be no cheap fruit, but also let our dealers have a liberal supply of the higher grades of fruit, and do not soar to the skies with prices on that grade. Fortunately it will be if we can so treat our winter visitors in this matter of prices on oranges, and the quality that we offer them, as to enable them to speak in commendable terms of us and our fruit when they return to their northern homes. "Let us not treat them in such a manner as to cause them to give us a black eye. To do this is very shortsighted policy."

HIGHBALL EXPENSES IS UNIQUE OUTFIT

There is a tramp train on the Gulf and Iron Range railroad running up into the north woods that has gone on for year after year unheeding the advance of progress. The train is known as the Highball. She makes her nightly flight into the north woods for the accommodation of lumberjacks, sportive fishermen, hunters and seekers of work, picking up as a side issue, a parcel of hogs or a herd of sheep.

The Highball is composed of box cars, one wooden passenger coach, a combination smoker and baggage car, and then a caboose, the latter serving also as a sleeping car.

So the Highball winds her merry way almost unheeding of a schedule, for she will drop off a fisherman or a hunter in any hour in the dead of night at any place he chooses to select, station or no station; or one of the crew may wish to dig a bushel of potatoes growing in the field near the tracks, the Highball waits. Or it may stop at a little cottage just around a curve where a little woman is nursing back to health a husband with a cough. The Highball stops while the crew takes up a collection of butter, eggs and potatoes gathered along the right of way.

Truly, the Highball is unique as a train running in this advanced age.

FLORIDA WATERS CONTAIN 630 SPECIES OF FISH

"With 630 species of fish in her waters and 3,000 miles of territory in which they may swim, Florida should be known as the land of fishes instead of flowers," said T. R. Hodges, state shell fish commissioner, recently. "Few realize the importance of this great industry and the real value of its conservation."

"History says the first man to use an umbrella was openly mobbed on the streets. This reminds the writer of the unpopularity of the present laws for the protection of fish and shellfish in Florida when enacted eight years ago. Strange to say the enforcement idea is as popular now as an umbrella on a July day."

"The fishermen, the fish dealers and their friends along the vast coast line of the state. Every citizen of Florida is a joint owner of this gigantic money-making industry, the law having declared it to be in the public interest and for their exclusive use. It therefore follows that every co-partner in this industry should co-operate in every way possible for the conservation of it for the present as well as future generations."

"Florida is taking first rank now as a center of sea foods. Great shrimp canning factories are operating at Tampa and Apalachicola, while the larger lobster canneries are at St. Marks and Crystal Beach. The fish is so essential in such manner as to provide a delicious and healthful food. Now the Maryland crab meat trollers are looking at Jacksonville and Titusville as a place to land their catch, which is abundant so plentiful in our waters."

"Large companies have been formed for the extensive cultivation of oysters and planting is being carried on in these privately owned oyster farms on a large scale and the shell fish department planted thousands of bushels of live oysters in the public oyster beds of the state this year, which will be of valuable growth to market in the near future."

"The mullet are appearing in market now and soon vast schools of them will be running on the coast of Florida. No fish is more popular than the mullet, as it is generally known as the 'poor man's fish.' The fishermen get from 2 to 3 cents per pound and the wholesale dealer from 3 to 4 cents and if a retailer adds 10 to 15 cents he is simply profiteering. Fish and oysters are so valuable and every household should remove this important fact."

OBSERVATIONS By Moses Fishon

Every day during the winter months there is a great deal of conversation about the future of the cotton industry in this country. There has become a necessity in industry as well as in the household and the soap-making industry has grown to be one of great importance. In addition to raw cotton there are many varieties of goods and many made by means of the spinning, spinning and dyeing machines. The fish industry takes many different types of nets and lines, while the variety of cord and twine used for other industrial and household purposes is almost unlimited. Ropes and twines are made from cotton and various forms of vegetable fibers. We need millions of dollars worth of cord and twine from the United States and just as good cord grows in Florida as it does just from the Gulf in that Mexican peninsula. And we can grow cotton, hemp and flax. It would seem there is an economic in Florida for the rope and twine industry, since we can grow the raw material. Where does it lie?

Florida is a great state, great in population, great in resources and great in potential. Individually we may differ in local politics, in our belief in national politics, and in our opinion of the outcome of the disunion conference to be held in Washington next month, but there is no disagreement as to the fact that our country likes good food and wants plenty of it. American population in 1920 was 75,000,000. It is now over 80,000,000. In a long market alone there is assurance of a market for the products of all kinds. In addition to this, however, is a vast number of hungry people in Europe whose population has been reduced one-half in many cases. The people must look for something to eat. It is possible to produce food for the hungry, to increase production and maintain profits. This is possible by saving what is produced, to raise the efficiency of production, and by utilizing all that is produced. But conservation is necessary in all things to get best results. We must produce, save and market. Many farmers are good producers, but not versed in the art of selling. The fact is that the market is becoming more apparent and ways and means are being devised to help the situation. When people get together and work together for a common purpose it gives credit and reputation and there is no reasonable limit to what they can accomplish, but a divided house cannot stand.

Seven thousand, one hundred and ninety children, from a few hours old up to boys and girls of sixteen and coming from every county in Florida, of all creeds, have received the aid, care and attention of the Children's Home Society of Florida during the past ten years. Many of these have been saved for lives of usefulness and this service has been voluntary by contributions from the good citizens of the state. This is a wonderful work. If you have anything to offer to carry on this great charity, get in communication with Marcus C. Fager, superintendent, Jacksonville, Fla.

Unfortunate Countries
Great Britain is experiencing the worst drought in three-quarters of a century. The Thames river is at the lowest stage in seventy-five years, and the river Avon, associated with the memory of Shakespeare, has gone completely dry. The great drought extended over France and a large part of the continent of Europe. India, a great wheat exporting country, is on the verge of famine conditions and is importing wheat. Russia is in the grip of the worst famine reported in history and enormous relief supplies are being sent into that distressed country, not only from the United States, but from the few countries in Europe that are fortunate enough to have a small surplus.

An Easy Mark
With the falling market for farm products, there is increased demand in Europe, where the drought has cut down the yield. During the eight months ending August, 1921, our exports of wheat, corn, oats, barley and rye totaled 321,000,000 bushels, as compared with only 171,000,000 bushels in the same eight months of 1920. How did the European importers contrive to place these gigantic orders in the United States without running up prices paid our producers? They operated under cover, very cleverly and were aided by the bear traders, raiders and scalpers in our own markets. We certainly have been an easy mark this year.

Food for Thought
Last year California gathered over 82,000,000 worth of spoils from the sea. Fish board themselves and it is only a question of keeping up a supply, so California has twenty-two fish hatcheries. Florida has more fresh water lakes and rivers and more ocean frontage than California, but how many hatcheries has it? There is still plenty of fish in Florida waters, but a thought about the future should take hold of the public mind.

Recall Election Nov. 15
The election to decide on the recall of Mayor Noel A. Mitchell has been set for Nov. 15 by the city commission of St. Petersburg. There is a possibility of a contest in the opinion of the city attorney, who declares the election should have been called by ordinance, but it is not believed there will be a contest no matter which side wins. Mayor Mitchell says he will not oppose the election but welcome it.

Be Educated at Home
The University of Florida at Gainesville has a faculty of fifty-five professors and instructors and the enrollment this year is in excess of 800. There is no need of Florida students going to other states for practical instruction.

Sensible Denmark

In Denmark the farmers are in control. Cooperation and an excellent system of rural and agricultural education for adults as well as children, are the chief factors in Danish rural progress. It is naturally a poor agricultural country, but it thrives through efficiency. Only one-fourth of the national budget is expended for military purposes, 20 per cent for administration and 4 per cent for social betterment and direct support of trade and industry, whereas in the United States 92 per cent of the present national budget is for military purposes, 8 per cent for administration, education, aids to commerce and all other purposes.

Tax Appointments Made
Governor Hardee has appointed P. A. Correll and J. P. Webster of DeSoto City to be members of the board of trustees of the Spring Valley special tax school district in Highlands county. At the same time George Burrage, G. G. Albritton and Walter Whidden of Sebring were appointed to be members of the board of trustees of the Crossville special tax school district of the same county.

Oils for Cooking
The United States in 1918 a total of 116,000,000 pounds of coconut oil for cooking purposes. A great deal of corn oil also is used as a table and cooking oil. Soya bean oil is too strong to use directly as a cooking oil, but it is extensively used in combination in the manufacture of hard substitutes. Peanut oil is highly desirable as a table oil and millions of pounds are used.

Praying for Medicine
In China it is the custom to pray for holy medicine. A patient must pay a visit to the temple and take from the altar a tube containing numbered sticks. He passes the tube over the incense several times until one of the sticks falls out. This is picked up and the number on it is read. A corresponding slip containing a prescription is then handed to him.

Whitten Sentenced to Hang
Bernard Whitten, convicted in Hardee county for the murder of his wife, has been sentenced to death by hanging. Judge Whitehurst, pronouncing the sentence last Friday, Whitten was found guilty by the jury of murder in the first degree and no recommendations for mercy were included in the verdict.

It Sounded Too Good
A woman, wearing an anxious expression, called at an insurance office one morning.
"I understand," she said, "that for $5 I can insure my house for $1,000."
"Yes," replied the agent, "that is right."

"And," continued the woman, anxiously, "do you make any inquiries as to the origin of the fire?"
"Certainly," was the prompt reply. "Oh!" and she turned to leave the office. "I thought there was a catch in it somewhere,"—The Lumberman.
