

COMPARISON VALUES OF FLORIDA CROPS

The Florida development board calls attention to the important fact that while oranges and grapefruit make up the great bulk of wealth produced from fruits in Florida, peaches and grapes are making rapid strides in converting idle lands into profitable developments.

In support of this assertion, the following data secured from the office records of the state plant board is presented—the figures being based on the season of 1920-21: Florida has 2,219,108 bearing orange trees, which produced 3,100,000 boxes, valued at $42,240,000; 7,213,270 grapefruit trees, which produced 3,100,000 boxes, valued at $15,000,000; 211,433 lime trees, which produced 30,000 boxes, valued at $150,000; 40,570 fig trees, which produced 441,581 pounds, valued at $441,581.

900; 328,068 peach trees, which produced 148,006 bushels, valued at $150,000; 45,300 plum trees, which produced 29,310 bushels, valued at $40,000; 86,773 pear trees, which produced 43,232 bushels, valued at $50,000; 87,607 grapevines, which produced 1,220,623 pounds, which were valued at $125,000; 2,224,254 pineapple plants, which produced 26,016 crates, valued at $50,000. From the same source was obtained the following data relating to nursery investments and resources. There are 1,136 certified nurseries, 2,756 acres in nurseries, 17,803,238 nursery trees, 32,995 avocado nursery trees and 13,840,201 other nursery trees.

This information is most interesting and valuable as well, affording a reliable estimate of the horticultural resources of the state. While the citrus industry is, and probably will always remain, the chief interest of South Florida, it is a fact that successful results are being obtained from experiments with many other varieties of fruits.

An interesting incident in this connection was brought to the notice of the writer only yesterday. Val Antonio is developing a fine property near Indian Rocks, in Pinellas county, and among his plantings is a vineyard several acres in area. Mr. Antonio states that he has large quantities of grapes ripening at this time, despite the fact that his vines were practically denuded of foliage by the October hurricane, and the further fact that grapes are a summer fruit. He is also producing fancy varieties of figs on a large scale, as well as many other rare fruits. Tampa Times.

A New Psalm

Harding is now my shepherd; and I am in want. He maketh me to lie down on the park benches; he leadeth me beside the free soap fountains. He restoreth my doubt in the republican party; he leadeth me in the paths of destruction for his party's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of starvation, I do not fear evil, for thou art against me; thy policies and the protectors they frighten me. Thou preventest a reduction in wages before me in the presence of mine enemies; thou anointed my income with taxes; my expenses runneth over my income. Surely, poverty and unemployment will follow me all the days of this normally administration, and I will dwell in a rented house forever.—Labor.

NEW YORK CITY IS GREAT.
EST OF SPENDTRIFT CITIES

Figures compiled for 1920 show that the per capita revenue of New York City was $53.49. That means a municipal tax of about $267 per family.

Whether it is worth that much to an average family to live in the metropolis is a matter of argument. The present point, however, is that, large as this taxation is, it does not keep pace with expenditures. The actual per capita cost of government for the year was $59.53, about $30 per family more than the city's income.

In other words, New York is living beyond its income, as usual. The fact is mentioned because New York is not only the biggest American city but because the situation is probably typical. If general comment on the subject is trustworthy, the majority of American cities in recent years have been pursuing the same spendthrift course, and are still doing so. And it is just as reprehensible for a city to live beyond its income as for an individual or a family. In fact, it is the same thing, on a bigger scale. Municipal squandering is the collective squandering of the families that make up the city and the burden of debt and interest must be met by them just as surely as if the increasing indebtedness were personal. Fortunately, there are signs now of a turn in the tide. It is about time.—Pensacola News.

PLANT PURE-BRED SEED FOR BIGGER YIELDS

The value of pure-bred live stock seems pretty well implanted in the minds of all American farmers and in the practices of the better type of farmers, so much so that there is little danger of a return to the predominance of the old scrub hog, cow, horse or chicken.

Yes, we have heard pure-bred pig and pure-bred calf and pure-bred colt and pure-bred "biddle" from the time when we went barefooted and ate out of a spoon, but how often have we heard about pure-bred corn or pure-bred other kinds of seed?

May it be said that it is just as important that the farmer secure the best seed to be had as it is for him to secure the best live stock. "Pure-breds eventually, why not now," applied as properly to the seed of farm crops as it does to farm animals.

The planting time, for general field crops, is near. Seed should be on hand or readily available. But it is not too late to get pure-bred seed—the best seed. If you didn't save your own pure-bred seed or haven't them already, there are many reputable seed houses throughout the county and the nearest one to you can be reached in a few days by mail.

However, in buying seed, it is just as necessary that you make sure of the reputableness of the dealer and of the quality of the seed as you do when you buy pure-bred live stock. First, make sure that the seedman makes it his strong point not to sell poor seed. Second, be sure he makes no mistake in the seed he sells you—make him make sure of it.

Plant only sound pure-bred seed—start the crop right—and make bigger yields.

PRINCIPAL PARAGRAPH IN TOWNER-STERLING BILL

To have an opinion, take sides, argue, is legitimate; it is American to be partisan, as it is American to abide by the decisions of the majority.

To argue by telling a lie to support one's argument is to indulge in dirty propaganda, with which no clean-minded man wants to be concerned.

Believe in the Towner-Sterling bill for a national department of education or disbelieve in it; agree with those who think it is for the best interests of America or disagree with them; but think what you think because you think, not because some one tells you a lie about it!

All this, because enemies of the bill say it will interfere with state's rights and take control of their schools away from communities.

Here is the answer; the Towner-Sterling bill specifically states:

"All the educational facilities encouraged by the provisions of this act and accepted by a state shall be organized, supervised and administered exclusively by the legally constituted state and local educational authorities of said state, and the secretary of education shall exercise no authority in relation thereto; and this act shall not be construed to imply federal control of education within the states, nor to impair the freedom of the states in the conduct and management of their respective school systems."—Tampa Times.

The pirates of politics are always found in back of political inquiries; they look better behind the light of investigation than before it.

LET THEM RETURN TO THEIR LEGITIMATE WORK

When a minister of the gospel enters the area of politics and arrogates to himself the powers and privileges of a boss, he must expect to be the target for attack.

There are many highly paid professional reformers in Washington and in other cities of the country who have been tempted from their legiti-mate fields of labor by the lush grass of specialized activities. They have deserted the drudgeries of parish work, with its penury, its sick calls, its funerals, etc., to become censors of public conduct. They tell not, neither do they spin, but they hold conventions, collect funds, issue impressive manifestos, and browbeat congress. Yet they demand for themselves the same public respect that is willingly and spontaneously vouchsafed to the humble priest of religion who trudges in the path of the lowly Nazarene.

It is they, not the clergy, who are made the butt of jokes and the target of the artist's humor. They should not complain, for the remedy is in their hands. Let them return to the duties for which they were ordained.—Washington Post.

Watch when the baseball season opens, for the full box score of all big league games, we're going to carry it. An all day rag carpet party will be held at the home of Mrs. W. R. England next Thursday, beginning at 10 o'clock. Please bring your lunch, also cup and spoon. A good time is expected and all who can please come and see for your selves.

There were just twenty-four young people of both sexes who enjoyed picnic at Lake Josephine last Friday night and there was not one in the party but who voted to repeat their performance at an early date, anyhow during the next full moon.

Howard Katz, accompanied by his wife and children and mother-in-law, Mrs. Powell, drove down from Kissimmee Friday to look after the business of Katz Bros. here, and was greatly pleased with the manner in which E. C. Dusenberry is conducting the store, saying he was more than satisfied with his investment here.

Captain and Mrs. E. C. Fringle, accompanied by their grand-children, Lucy and Bob Pringle, Mrs. John Eachren and Mrs. F. H. Adams drove over from Sebring Monday and spent a few hours shopping in our stores.

Captain and Mrs. Pringle have their winter home at Sebring, coming to Florida from Cleveland, O., in the early fall and remaining until late spring.

Mrs. Ray Marsh and mother, Mrs. G. L. Crews, were hostesses Tuesday afternoon to the members of the Baptist Missionary Society at the home of Mrs. Crews.

Mrs. Ed S. Barnes was leader. Thirteen members and two visitors were present. After the business meeting refreshments of salad, saltines, olives, cake and coffee were served. Mrs. Ed S. Barnes and Mrs. Cyril Baldwin will entertain the society next month at the home of Mrs. Barnes.

Boat rides on Lake Lotela are becoming exceedingly popular, but the party of Wednesday night of last week was said to be the most enjoyable one of the season. The moon shone just bright enough, the water was as smooth as glass, the light lunch carried along as refreshments was all that could be desired, and the voices of the young ladies was pitched in just the key to make such merriment would send to the jungle the night-gale and mocking bird.

J. Lewis Shuler, president of the Florida conference of Seventh Day Adventists, will speak at the Seventh Day Adventist church here Saturday at 10:30 p. m. This is Mr. Shuler's first visit to Avon Park and doubtless there will be a good attendance at the service.

Mrs. Lucy Darnell of Raleigh, N. C.; Mrs. A. D. McFarland of Washington, D. C.; Miss B. Darnell and Miss M. Darnell of Cumberland, Md., formed a party who came here this week looking over our citrus groves with a view to investing. They were delighted with Avon Park and more than likely will invest in a twenty or forty-acre grove. While here they were guests of the Penn-Carol.

Valencia Late oranges sold March 13 for $4.50 a box. (Lab. price of shipment). Similar high prices for Valencias are obtained practically every season. The growers who produce Valencias are the money makers of Florida's citrus industry. We can supply Valencia Late trees on rough lemon stock to buyers who place their orders now.

The Silent Policeman

Picture yourself in dire necessity of the strong arm of the law! You dash out of your house in the night to call a policeman. But, alas, he is nowhere in sight.

That is not always the policeman's fault. He has a good deal of ground to cover, and he may be at the other end of his beat.

But, each night, there is a silent policeman standing at your street corner. There are thousands of them in your city. They are the street lights operated by the big electric light and power company of your community.

Crime cannot exist within the circle of their protecting radiance.

During the war, several cities, in their efforts to assist in the saving of coal, ordered the reduction of their street lights. In one great city, the Mayor ordered that all such lights, outside of the central business section, should be extinguished at 11 o'clock.

Within an hour after the order was put into effect three murders, a score of hold-ups and innumerable robberies, including the theft of the Mayor's own car from in front of the City Hall, were committed. Before the night was over, the Mayor ordered the street lights turned on again.

It is due to the faith of some 1,450,000 investors in the securities of the electric light and power industry that these silent policemen stand at your street corners.

It is authentically declared that 1,500,000 homes, 500,000 factories, 5,000 churches, 60,000 apartment buildings, 15,000 theatres and 5,000 public schools must be built immediately in this country.

Many of these must be supplied with electric service. New streets will be developed and these streets must be guarded as your street is—with silent policemen. This means that, with public understanding and support, one billion dollars a year will be invested to develop the electric light and power industry during the next four years.

NEWSPAPERS SIDE-TRACKING THE REAL NEWS FOR FILM

More space was given by most newspapers to the Arbuckle case than to any other two events of the time combined. Now all news is side-tracked for the Taylor murder mystery.

Why? Because both cases offer filth for a film-going public. The publicity Arbuckle has received as at motion picture comedian has made him an internationally known figure. Taylor's associations with the two famous stars, Mary Miles Minter and Mabel Normand, makes the story of his death interesting to the world over. No, don't blame the editors. Blame the readers. The editors know what their subscribers want. They know that a large per cent of the people would much rather read of the booze parties, intoxicated girls, pajamas, pink nightgowns, weird dances, suggestive talk and death among the notables than things worth while.

No estimate of the damage done the youth of the country by the publication of these sordid stories can ever be made. The writers make their yarns fascinating, alluring to those who do not think deeply. And it's not only the youth who are damaged, but countless thousands of adults whose minds are not strong.

Then there is a damage to the motion picture industry. The actors and actresses as a class are about like other humans—no better, no worse. The people who are not shocked by the stories of the Arbuckle and Taylor cases smile "meaningly" and think what a "wonderful life it must be in Hollywood." The narrow, who profess to be shocked think all screen persons are like those who have erred.

It's a strange world, this world of ours. We believe we are civilized and boast of our purity and all that sort of bunk, but after all, we are only a degree removed from savagery.—Pensacola Journal.

Florida Property Is Increasing in Value Every Day

Particularly is this true of property on the Scenic Highlands and in and adjacent to Avon Park. Our city is growing rapidly, new buildings being started nearly every day. Of course this adds to the value of all property, whether in the city or adjacent thereto.

"HILLCREST"

is close to the city limits of Avon Park. Its groves are increasing in value every day. The trees are growing nicely and show a healthy appearance, making an investment with the Scenic Highlands Development Company an attractive one. In fact, one has but to see the young groves, note the painstaking care being given the trees, consider the location and then ascertain what grove properties are selling for all around us, to become convinced that "HILLCREST" is a gilt-edge proposition.

MOSELEY-CLOUD WEDDING WAS ONE OF PRINCIPAL SOCIAL EVENTS OF SEASON

A beautiful home wedding was that of Miss Elizabeth Louise Cloud and George Robert Moseley, which was quietly solemnized Wednesday afternoon, March 15, at J. Hoedinger's plant city officiating.

The home was artistically decorated with vines, palms and orange blossoms. An aisle formed of green and white ribbons thickly studded with orange blossoms made a passage way down which the bridal pair came to the altar.

The assembled guests were prepared for the coming of the bride by the strains of "Ave Maria," rendered by Mrs. Stringfellow at the piano and Mrs. Knight with the violin. Then with "Lohengrin's March" came the bride and groom, accompanied by the bride's maid and bridesmaids.

The bride was becomingly dressed in a brown cloth suit with hat and accessories to match.

Mrs. John A. Caldwell entertained the Moseley-Cloud wedding party at breakfast Wednesday morning of last week. Plates were laid for ten, the cover for the beautifully appointed table was the one used by the hostess at her own wedding in Tennessee some years ago. An enormous basket of orange blossoms made a center decoration, while a bell formed of the same flowers swung just above the bride's chair.

The three-course breakfast was daintily served, Mark Lance reading "Ode to the Bride" between the courses. Those seated at the table were: Miss Louise Cloud, George Moseley, Mrs. W. P. Moseley of Gainesville, Allen Moseley of Fort Myers, Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Cloud, Miss Sue Cloud of Lakeland, Lamine Cloud of Alachua, Mrs. J. B. Stringfellow and Mrs. John Caldwell.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Program for Week, Beginning Monday, March 20

Monday—"The Flower of the North." This is a Vitaphone super-reel, with an all star cast; one of the few great productions of the year. It is in the same class with "The Old Nest." Also the fourth of the Bible series, "The Deluge." On account of the higher cost of this picture to the management the admission will be 20 and 40 cents. This is a guaranteed attraction.

Thursday—"A Virginia Courtship," featuring May McAvoy. A picture that will more than please. Also a two-reel comedy. Admission 10 and 25 cents.

Friday—"They Shall Pay," featuring Lottie Pickford. Also "Hurricane Hatch," the biggest western picture ever released. Admission only 10 cents.

Saturday—"Prisoners of Love," featuring Betty Compson. This is the second of the change of pictures for Saturday nights. The first will be "Kazan." Beginning with "Kazan" and "Prisoners of Love" we will gladly refund to anyone wishing it, their money back on any picture shown at this theatre. "Prisoners of Love" is even a better picture than "Kazan." We have also arranged to get the highest class of comedies for Saturdays. Saturday and Monday will be the big features of the week.

Coming, Saturday, March 18—"Kazan," by James Oliver Curwood. Monday, March 27—"The Old Nest."

PENN'S SPELLS

CHEWING TOBACCO

Penn's spells quality. Why? Because—

Penn's is packed air-tight in the patented new container—the quality is sealed in. So Penn's is always fresh—an entirely new idea for chewing tobacco.

Have you ever really chewed fresh tobacco? Buy Penn's the next time. Try it. Notice the fine condition.

And after that, use fresh chewing tobacco—Penn's.

NO SALVATION BY MORAL BOOTSTRAPS

It is an idiosyncrasy of us Americans to believe that we can make ourselves good by making it a crime to be bad. It is our common delusion to suppose that if anything goes wrong, all we have to do is to pass a law about it. Unfortunately, it makes no difference how many or what sort of laws we put on the statute books—we remain exactly what we were before. The milk in the bottle is no purer because the milkman changes the label and marks it "Certified." The leopard cannot change his spots by calling himself a lamb. No self-serving declaration of righteousness can change us by a single jot or tittle. We cannot lift ourselves as a nation by our own moral bootstraps.—Arthur Train in Editorial Review.
