Etiquette

What & When to do it

By A. Loda

Any questions on etiquette will be gladly answered in this column if addressed to A. Loda, care of this newspaper.

Dear Miss Flo:—

When giving a private dance, should programs be furnished? (2) At the end of a meal, where should the knife and fork be placed?

Thank you.

Dance programs are seldom used now except at large college dances or Army and Navy dances. However, if it is a special occasion, and the hostess wishes, she may furnish them. They also serve as appropriate mementoes of the occasion. (2) The knife and fork should be placed near the center of the plate—side by side—with the handles placed a little toward the right side of the plate.

Dear Miss Flo:—

Upon being presented to a lady, should a gentleman extend his hand or wait for the lady to do so? (2) If not, should she accept his hand if he offers it.

The lady is given the privilege of offering her hand first in acknowledging an introduction. However, to disregard anybody's out-stretched hand is very bad taste.

Dear Miss Flo:—

Should a young lady wear mourning for her fiance? (2) Should the wedding presents be returned? (3) When an engagement is broken, should the engagement ring be returned? Thank you. G. D.

A young lady does not wear mourning for her fiance as a general thing. However, if he died on the eve of the wedding it is permissible. If the date of the wedding had not been announced, it is not good form to wear mourning. (2) The wedding presents should be returned with an explanation and thanks. (3) The engagement ring should always be returned.

Dear Miss Flo:

When arranging a dinner table, on what side of the plate should the napkin be placed. (2) Is it good form to place the napkin on the plate? M. S.

The napkin should be placed to the left of the plate when arranging the table. (2) In some cases it is placed on the plate, but it is considered better form to place it to the left of the plate.

HE THOUGHT HE HAD TIME ENOUGH!

The Stock Exchange closed at three o'clock. Marsden's watch said ten minutes of. If he called his broker now, he could dispose of his twenty-five shares of Amalgamated before the public learned of the bursting of the big new dam. Tomorrow the market would be flooded with orders to sell. His stock would be worthless, but if he sold now, he would lose little. He reached for the phone, gave his number and waited for the voice of his broker — and then he learned what a good watch means. His old heirloom had failed him. It was ten minutes slow. The Exchange was closed. One thousand dollars was the price he had paid for sentiment! What he said cannot be written; but he hastened to the nearest jeweler and bought a modern timepiece, a watch that wouldn't vary a minute in a month—and much to his surprise it cost only $50. Don't forget that a good modern accurate watch is the guardian of your minutes. It keeps you on time and saves time. It makes you accurate and stimulates confidence in your character. So, if you are carrying an old-time cumbersome watch, put your relic in the attic trunk and hereafter be on time. Our large assortment of standard makes and prices makes selection easy. Change of Life

"When change of life began on me," says Mrs. Lewis Lisher, of Lamar, Mo., "I suffered so with womanly weakness. I suffered a great deal of pain in my back and sides. My limbs would cramp. I didn't feel like doing my work, and there are so many uses for a woman to take on a farm. I was very anxious to get better. A friend recommended to me and I began using it. I certainly improved. I went through change of life without any trouble. I can highly recommend Cardui."

At the age of about 40 to 50 every woman has to pass through a critical time, which is called the Change of Life. At this time, great changes take place in her system, causing various painful and disagreeable symptoms.

If you are approaching this period, or are already suffering from any of its troubles or symptoms, take Cardui. It should help you, as it has helped others.

TO INCREASE CAPACITY OF SEBRING BLOCK PLANT

Because of the unprecedented building program which is being instituted in Sebring, the Granite Brick and Block Co., of which M. W. Baker is proprietor, will enlarge its capacity at once. A new electrically driven block machine is now in transit. This will increase the capacity from 500 to 2,500 blocks a day, and will reduce the cost of production 25 per cent.

The factory is now engaged in making face brick of granite, marble and coquina to meet the demand for this style of building. This plant has now been in operation for over a year.

"HIS HOUR" OFFERS GREAT LOVE STORY

New Elinor Glyn Production Tells Romance of Imperial Russia.

The rare combination of an Elinor Glyn story brought to the screen with her two favorite screen lovers playing the hero and heroine is the promise of "His Hour," Mrs. Glyn's latest Metro-Goldwyn production, which will come to the Avolon theatre on Thursday, Oct. 16.

In the first place, John Gilbert, as a romantic Russian Prince, is said to come up to all expectations as to just what Elinor Glyn's ideal hero should be like, and Aileen Pringle, who demonstrated so definitely her ability and charm in "Three Weeks," is again the beautiful heroine.

A Widow and a Prince

"His Hour" tells the story of a fascinating English widow, brought up in a straight laced manner, meeting informally Gritzko, the fiery Russian Prince whom all women adore.

She is instantly attracted to him, but knowing him by reputation, she resolves she will not follow the trend of all women and become his slave. Therefore, the wall of aloofness freezes about her and the Prince, who has fallen in love with her, cannot win her. She tantalizes him by her indifference, yet he goes to every means to win her.

Great Love Sequence

Finally, as a last resort, he kidnaps her, and then follows a series of love scenes which are said even to surpass those in "Three Weeks." The climax, when the Prince and Tamara realize they love one another devotedly, is one of the most beautiful and realistic scenes ever brought to the screen.

Pee Gee MASTIC PAINT

Paint Stops Decay Reduces Repair Bills

IT is a pretty well known fact that paint is a preservative. What science has preached, experience has confirmed. Paint used at regular intervals, is a relentless foe of decay; which, if unopposed, is certain. It lessens the upkeep of your property and reduces repairs to a minimum.

Pee Gee Mastic Paint has been on the firing line over half a century protecting homes, barns, and outbuildings. Its great covering capacity and long years of service have become a proverb—"Wear like Mastic." You hear it whenever good paint is talked of. Retains its luster long after ordinary paints have "gone dead."

Pave all the streets.

How about another clean up campaign?

Did you Golf Your Dozen this afternoon?

"Our senators!" Ah, how different from the way we talk politics.

With more than half the free holders signing the bond petition it looks like bonds are sure to carry.

Avon Park is living up to its reputation for tame elections with scarcely forty days before the city battle and no race under way yet.

From the way we hear folks talking of the senators, you would think Henry Clay, John C. Calhoune and Daniel Webster were leading the van again.

We don't believe we ever saw sentiment crystalize so solidly on any one step in city progress as it has crystalized for a city manager form of government in Avon Park during the past five weeks.

"Simple addition" is the way the Florida Public Service Company officials describe the proposed new contract with the city. Truly they must have been talking of the city's light bills which plainly show it.

Right on top of wholesale grocery, lumber distributor and other business additions to the Ridge metropolis two big fertilizer companies announce the location of their distributing point for this section in Avon Park.

One difference between the senators—baseball and political — is that with an "open gate" you can't fill the grand stand in the capitol, while you can't find standing room at $5 per head at Griffith field.

With Avon Park and Sebring Rotary swapping visits, Rotary has well begun its task of cementing friendships between the two cities that will keep them pulling together for a bigger and better Twin Cities.

Manatee folks that thought the Polk growers were just "sectionalizing" learned different when Lat Maxey's shipment was stopped more promptly than protest was made against Manatee's shipments.

HELP CLEAN UP!

A clean up week is a suggestion from our citizenry that should command attention of the authorities at this time.

The tourists are coming, our state road will be opened soon and thousands of cars will be coming through. We should be prepared to create the very best possible impression on those who pass through.

There are those who will say "why a clean up week? Can't we clean up without having a cleanup week?"

And yet these very ones are the last to fall in line, generally, and certainly all of them realize the human nature and its impulse to do something when the other fellow does.

It is just natural for folks to "be in style" and if everybody is cleaning up it is a whole lots easier to don the overalls and do a little cleaning in front of the home door.

"Everybody's doing it" as the refrain of a popular song went a few years ago, is nothing but the pesky nature of the human beast—all the way from kids to great-grand dads.

Let's start the old song here with hoes and rakes playing the accompaniment.

PAVE THEM ALL.

No better suggestion in regards to paving has come out of the general discussion of the matter than that of William J. Heim that some proposed asphalt streets in the less traveled residential districts be changed to clay and that the saving effected be applied to paving every street in the city.

It is a well known fact that asphalt deteriorates rapidly when traffic is light. Clay on the other hand improves. His idea—and it seems well founded—is that it would be wasteful to lay asphalt on some streets proposed until traffic increases in those sections.

Likewise his idea that the clay laid under this program be laid on the proper grades so that asphalt surfacing can be added when necessary, is in line with the general common sense of his other ideas.

There are streets on hill sides and where the grade is sufficient on which asphalt is essential because of the fact that clay will wash out. These should be surfaced with asphalt by all means.

And likewise there are streets, especially in the northwest part of the city on which paving is desired by property owners, and where such paving would open to development and building operations some highly desirable residential property.

Then there is the common sense justice of paving in front of everybody's property while we are paving. All of us are paying the taxes and all of us are entitled to paving benefits—especially when so little more is required.

ROYAL TREATMENT.

South Florida editors will remember for many days the pleasures of their two day gathering in Pasco county as guests of Dade City. Seldom has a host to the South Florida editors crowded two days so full of enjoyment and good will, and we doubt if ever a community no larger than Dade City has ever taken care of such a convention with as much credit to those in charge.

The motorcade through the Pasco hig hands was wonderfully well handled and the hospitality of the Benedictine brothers at St. Leo will long be remembered. They are hosts that breath the south's most famous boast—southern hospitality.

We are surely blame glad you told us the latch string was on the outside because we may want to call again.

PATRIOTISM IN THE ROUGH.

General Calles, president-elect of Mexico, who will assume the reins of government in December, before sailing for Europe gave to New York something of a new vision of the North American republic, bringing home rather pointedly the difference between politicians and patriots. Seemingly the fundamental difference between the rebel and the patriot is the difference between success or failure if we may rely on world judgment from time immemorial., running the gamut from Lenine and Trotsky through our own George Washington and back into the ages. Calles is essentially a patriot—for Mexico. He likes the United States and appreciates its marvelous accomplishments, but he is for Mexico, and he sounded his keynote when he stated as his conviction that "the Indian must not be exploited."

The Indian in Mexico—and he is there by the hundred thousand — works for ten cents a day. Time was when he worked for three cents a day. Calles, who has much of Indian blood in his veins, worked for three cents a day. He never wore a pair of shoes until he was sixteen years of age. He has passed through the mill of suffering and want. The net of his living—for Calles has lived a red-blooded life—is his election as the head of his nation—and the net for the people will probably be an administration solely for Mexico. Calles plainly means that he will not permit the Mexicans to work for ten cents a day to fill the coffers of Wall Street. If he were an American patriot and not a Mexican patriot, instead of saying the Mexican shall not work from sunrise to sundown and receive only ten cents for his labor, he would probably say the American worsing man shall not receive fourteen dollars a day and loaf half of his time. A real patriot can do much to make living costs bearable.

THE FORUM

CLEAN UP THE TOWN.

Editor Pilot: The history of human progress shows that the first stage of every progressive movement has been one of destructive criticism. Usages and customs which have obtained for years, perhaps for centuries, are attacked as being no longer adequate, essential or proper for the changed conditions which have arisen. People are started to thinking as to whether the old ways should be continued or whether, perhaps, there is not some newer, better, more adequate or proper way of doing. After a period of confusion during which various plans, most of them wild and impracticable, are advanced, as substitutes for what has been, the public mind will settle on a new plan, and this plan then becomes the established custom. This stage is that of constructive criticism, and ends in the adoption of the new plan of action.

The man who is bold enough to stand up and decry existing abuses always calls down upon his head the denunciation of everyone who would be affected by the abolition of the abuses and the substitution of some other plan of action. He is called a radical, a reformer, a knocker or worse. And yet his service to the community, the state or the world, is just as essential as that of the man who erects the new structure on the ruins of what the destructive critic pulled down. The beautiful, new building can go up only after the unsightly old shacks are leveled.

Why all these trite observations? Because Avon Park is right at the "dawn of a new era" to use an expression you never heard before. Now, Avon Park cannot take full advantage of the prosperity which should be hers in the next few years unless there is a decided change in the mental attitude of most of the citizens of Avon Park.

Before Avon Park will be the city it should be, every citizen must be proud of Avon Park. Are we, as a community, proud of our town? We are not.

Let me illustrate. The Park Motor Co. is maintaining on the parking at the side of their garage on Main street (the parking is city property by the way) a car washing stand. While a car is being washed there it is impossible for anyone to use the sidewalk on that side of the street. Anyone passing in a car close to the curb on that side of the street is liable to be spattered. The constant washing of cars has left the sidewalk so greasy and filthy that no woman can use that sidewalk at any time without running the chance of having her shoes ruined. The water from the washing runs down the Main street gutter carrying grease and dirt with it, and when the water dries, the grease and dirt are left there. Is the Park Motor Co. proud of Avon Park? No, or it wouldn't maintain such a public nuisance, especially on Main street of the town. Are we, as citizens, proud of our town? No, or we wouldn't stand for such a flagrant violation of public or right.

Again, the Avon Park Drug Co. receives a great many boxes, cartons and paper wrapped packages in the course of its business. These are dumped on a pile on the lot back of the drug store. About once a week they are burned. Meanwhile the smaller papers have blown out of the pile and all over the lot. As a result, this lot, only about a hundred feet from the main cross street in town is a "beaut." Is the Avon Park Drug Co. proud of Avon Park? No, or they would provide a wire receptable to deposit their burnable trash in, and would burn it every time they took any out. Are we, as citizens, proud of Avon Park? No, or we would let the Avon Park Drug Co. know, in no uncertain way, just what we think of them for their littering up our town.

And there are weeds—around The Pilot office, the high grass around the First National corner, and in fact all about town. Now it would do but little good for just these mentioned to change, for these are not the only offenders, probably the most glaring. Every one of us who isn't keeping his yard looking neat as a pin is not proud of Avon Park. The fact that a few absent owners can't be prevailed upon to keep their property looking well doesn't excuse us who live here, in the least.

I don't have to name them, we all know our faults.

Wake up citizens of Avon Park! Every one of us who own property here is a stockholder in the corporation of Avon Park. We are all right here on the job to see to it that our corporation is run right. It is our business individuality, to see to it that it is run right. Don't pass the buck. Don't say "Let the other fellow do it." Do it yourself. Get proud of Avon Park. Get so proud that you get mad every time you see anyone doing anything that depairs from the beauty of the town. And then don't stand back and criticise. Go personally and have the abuse corrected. Get proud of Avon Park.

ONE READY TO HELP.

AN ERROR

Editor Pilot: Oh! Ye Editor: Another apology is forthcoming. Our minds were both elastic when we estimated the width of the narrow strip of street on Verona avenue. My estimate was nine feet; yours 16 feet by actual measurement it is 13 feet. But what is a difference of three little feet. The point is that it is a narrow road and some one erred in not having it widened to conform to the width of the other part of Verona avenue. Passing our beautiful new High School building and immediately on to this narrow road something seems to slap you right in the eye—and in the mind, too.

GENEROSITY OF THREE MEMBERS OF WOMAN'S CLUB ENABLES LIBRARY OPEN DAILY

Beginning November 1, the library will be open a part of each day, this being made possible through the generosity of three members of the Woman's club. Mrs. E. O. Williams, Mrs. A. V. Anderson, and Mrs. A. J. Seegar, who proposed to provide the salary of the librarian for one month each. The services of Miss Lois Wood have been secured for two hours each afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 Sundays excepted, according to announcements made at the meeting last Friday of the Woman's club, which organization sponsors the library here.

After enjoying a partial vacation during the summer, members of the club assembled last week to resume the regular activities of the club year.

The following were elected to membership: Mrs. Love McGibboney, Mrs. Gilbert Freeman, Mrs. G. H. Stebbins, and Miss Mayme White.

Reports of the summer's work were submitted by chairmen of the various committees. Miss Stella Mitchell gave a most encouraging report of the library, there having been several valuable contributions of books received and an increasing interest manifested by applications for books. This manifestation brought about the decision to have the library open daily instead of Tuesday and Saturday afternoons only, in order that the benefits of the library be made available to the school children and others desiring to make use of its facilities.

The president informed the club that they were invited to attend the meeting of the Peace River Federation at Punta Gorda, Thursday, October 24, and also to the meeting of the Florida State Beautification Association at Tampa, Thursday, Oct. 9.

Plans have been formulated for the City Beautiful contest to be promoted by the club and to which other organizations have generously contributed. Anyone desiring information or to register in contest should call upon Mrs. A. H. Able, chairman. The purpose of this contest is to stimulate interest in beautifying our home surroundings and our city. It is hoped that there may be many contestants.

The program committee hopes to have the year books ready for distribution at the next meeting, Friday, October 17, at 3:30 p. m. at the Masonic Temple.

By way of preparation for the coming election the next meeting will be devoted to the subject of citizenship. Rev. T. O. Baldwin has promised to talk on Citizenship, its duties and privileges and Mrs. Fred Stevens will give a discourse on the subject from a woman's viewpoint. This promises to be a very instructive and entertaining meeting and all members are especially urged to attend. There will be an open discussion after the addresses, so come and let us prepare to use our ballots wisely. The discussions will be entirely non partisan. The musical features of the program will consist of singing patriotic songs.

MUSIC CLUB TO MEET AT SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

The Music Department of the Woman's Club will meet Friday afternoon at the School Auditorium at 3:30 o'clock instead of at the Masonic Temple as previously announced.

SEBRING PERSONALS

BUSY TWELVE BECOMES "DOCE AMIGAS, IN RE-ORGANIZATION

The "Busy Twelve" met Monday night to reorganize after the breaks in their ranks made by the opening of school, when they lost several members to the State College for Women. A new name, "Doce Amigas," was adopted, and three new members, Miss Mary Bogle, Miss Geralda Whitehouse and Miss Charlotte Varena were invited to join. A social calendar for the ensuing months was planned, and the hostesses for each social meeting which will occur every two weeks, were chosen. One business meeting a month will be held. Miss Nina Brunk was elected parliamentarian. The club roster is as follows: Miss Emilie Austlund, Miss Anna Bogle, Miss Mary Bogle, Miss Nina Brunk, Miss Lucille Christy, Miss Nan Estes, Miss Ellen Heacock, Miss Ruth Ingle, Miss Helen Moyer, Miss Mary Patrick, Miss Geralda Whitehurst and Miss Charlotte Varena.

SEBRING WOMAN'S CLUB PLANS HALLOWE'EN FESTIVAL

The Woman's Club of Sebring held an enthusiastic business meeting at Library Hall Tuesday evening. The final plans for the Hallowe'en Carnival were discussed, and committees appointed to take charge of the festivities. This is an annual affair that has become one of the popular frolics of the year, and opens the social season. Various other subjects of interest came up for action, among them a junior organization which would be affiliated with the Woman's Club of the city.

Mrs. Helen Clawson, who has been actively connected with welfare and Girl Scout work in Orlando, offered to organize a Girl Scout Camp here, and her offer met with the hearty approval of the club.

The library is growing steadily, and is becoming a real factor in the city's assets. Besides adding 75 new books since June 1, the books show a balance of $95.00 in the treasury. Mrs. Jane N. McClurg, librarian, has completely catalogued all books, and has brought the list right up to date. New reference books are being added, and the general tone of the library is far above that of cities of much greater size.

The first social meeting will be held Tuesday evening, Oct. 14, at 8 o'clock, at Library Hall, with Mrs. Eva Geary, Mrs. Hazel Bowden, Mrs. Leona Whitehouse and Miss Edith Werner as hostesses.

Those present on this occasion were Mesdames R. C. Epperson, D. B. Epperson, T. J. McGinnis, Horace Garner, M. C. Whitehurst, J. H. McClelland, A. D. Roberts, Clinton Skipper, B. F. Martin, J. F. Bond and Lee Hagood.

Florida Property Is Increasing in Value Every Day

Particularly is this true of property on the Scenic Highlands and in and adjacent to Avon Park. Our city is growing rapidly, new buildings being started nearly every day. Of course this adds to the value of all property, whether in the city or adjacent thereto.

is close to the city limits of Avon Park. Its groves are increasing in value every day. The trees are growing nicely and show a healthy appearance, making an investment with the Scenic Highlands Development Company an attractive one. In fact, one has but to see the young groves, note the painstaking care being given the trees, consider the location and then ascertain what grove properties are selling for all around us, to become convinced that "HILLCREST" is a gilt-edge proposition.

Sallie's Temptations

CONCERNING SALLIE

Sallie is a modern, pretty young creature, with all the emotions and desires you yourself had when you were at that glorious age that lies somewhere between sixteen and twenty-five. Sallie is everywhere. The eyes of the world are upon the ultimate outcome of her moral code. Is she going to weaken her creed of right and wrong and stretch her philosophy to that of the girls who have a "good" time?

Your little girl is just where Sallie is. She must decide for herself. They are all Sallie at heart. Sallie's experience, put down truthfully from the pages of her life, may help your Sallie's. Each chapter is complete in itself. Read it this week. You will enjoy it.—Editor.

Anne Coddington Goes To Church

"This is my idea about it," I heard Curtis Wright say the next morning, as his voice drifted in to me from the sun porch where he and Dad were deeply engrossed in conversation.

"The Florida East Coast will have one of the most attractive and modern settlements for their workmen of any town in the South, if our plans carry," he supplemented, "it is my desire to design simple and substantial houses for the men and their families, but, at the same time, each one of those houses will have its distinct and separate individuality. These people will have pride in their homes if they are not built exactly like hundreds of others in the same village. Their sense of the beautiful should be encouraged. Its effect is far-reaching. Parks too," he went on, his voice rich with the interest he felt in his subject, "will be kept by a committee of women in a turn-about system so that they will feel the flowers are their very own. Put your shops in a village of this sort," he summed up his argument, "and your men will be more efficient. Further, more, everyone coming to Florida will view it with interest."

"I think your plans are splendid, Mr. Wright," my father was talking, "and as president I have the privilege of giving them our acceptance with our heartiest congratulations. I shall want you to take entire charge of this end of the work, however, and because we shall probably have frequent consultations, it will be most pleasant to have you as our guest while your sketches are in the making."

I waited expectantly. Suppose he had changed his mind and decided not to stay after all.

Then came the answer. "I shall be more than delighted," Mr. Wright responded.

Curtiss Wright in the house. Our guest. I contemplated the future with a glow of enthusiasm. Propinquity * * * bright conversation * * * golfing * * * dancing and the whole town buzzing. The woman hater. My bet with Marjorie. Oh, it was thrilling!

"Good morning to the glad new day," came a cheerful voice and Anne Coddington stood in the doorway. At the same time Father and Mr. Wright entered.

"Miss Coddington?" Mr. Wright inquired during the introduction which followed, "have we not met before? The name and face are hauntingly familiar."

"No, I am sure you are mistaken," Anne answered hurriedly, and with what I thought unnecessary decision, "I have an uncanny trick of remembering names and yours is not registered. I'm sorry," she concluded, her voice more excited than usual then changed the subject.

"Et vous, Miss Sallie? We missed you at breakfast," Mr. Wright said, coming over to the chaise-longue where I was reclining.

"Couldn't make it," I replied.

"I'm just dragging one foot after the other this morning," I announced when father had gone with his golf sticks and some friends to his beloved Timuquana.

"A hectic party, Anne, darlin'," I explained. "We all got razzle-dazzled, except Mr. Wright who was my date" (I couldn't resist saying), "but this morning I'm so nervous I feel like I've got the heebe-jeebes. I can see you've had your beauty sleep, you look like a May Morning."

"Thanks. I went to Alma Davis' dance and it really was lovely. Paul Whitman's orchestra from New York and exquisite favors. I was home by midnight though, and turned in early, so I could have a swim at Elen Gray's this morning. I feel like a million dollars.

And indeed she looked it. Her dainty frock was of soft filet lace and with the right tint of ten roses about it, and a pinkish-orchid hat that shaded her face, making it look like a flower. Her little white kid slippers were spotless. One could feel that she was going to church. There was a clean air of Sabbath-morning freshness about her. Curtiss Wright was quiet. I wondered what he was thinking. Finally he crossed the room to where she was sitting, took up her prayer book and hymnal, and ran through it.

He looked at us both and I wondered if he were making comparisons, I felt rotten. My head had a dull, ceaseless pain. I had put on the first frock I had come upon and it needed pressing; there was a run in my stocking. I thought of how unattractive I must now look, compared to Anne's perfect grooming.

"Oh, what a difference in the morning," I yawned, and began humming. I decided I'd feel better when Anne left us. I would have a quiet chat with Curtiss Wright and find out what he knew about Ted's disgraceful behavior.

Yes, it would be comforting to have him sit beside me, and talk in his nice voice which was low and soothing; I closed my heavy-lidded eyes. I wished vehemently now that Anne would hurry.

"Episcopalian, I knew it," he was saying. "You have an Episcopalian face. The boys in the army used to bet that I could guess any man's religion. It gets to be easy when one studies people. Anyway, your service is very impressive. It has depth and strength behind it that tones one up for the rest of the week."

"I was just wondering if you would like to go to St. John's with me this morning," Anne invited. "I have my car outside and I'll be so glad to have you." Anne glanced at her watch. "If you were dressed, Sallie, you could go too, but we only have ten minutes."

"I shall be delighted, Miss Coddington," Curtis Wright accepted. "and thanks very much for the invitation. Would you go if you were dressed?" he asked coming over and looking down at me.

"Not on your life, I'm better off with my own thoughts. But don't you bother about me. I'll be busy getting my things packed. I'm going to Pensacola on a house-party tomorrow."

THREE PUMPS AND THREE WELLS TO INSURE LOW FIRE RATES

H. F. Wiedeman of Atlanta, Ga., consulting engineer, associated with Earl Norcross of the same city, has perfected the plans and specifications for the new Sebring water extension and the installation of the new sewer system. Advertisements have been prepared calling for bids on this work, which will be received up to 8 o'clock p. m. on Nov. 10.

In addition to the new system of eight inch water mains which are to be laid to care for every portion of the city, allowing for future growth, a new steel tank with a capacity of 100,000 gallons, set at a height of 125 feet, will replace the old one of 40,000 gallons which stands 85 feet high. Besides this, a ground level, circular concrete tank with a capacity of 200,000 gallons will be built, giving a total storage capacity of 300,000 gallons. This extra storage provided in case of fire, together with the 590 gallons per minute availiable from the wells, the 1,500 gallons per minute capacity which the National Underwriters demand for a city of Sebring's size. This provided enough water to run six streams for five hours.

To still further provide for emergencies, and for accidents which may happen at any time to the wells now in use, bids will be asked for another well to act as a reserve.

Three pumps will be bought, of the centrifugal, motor driven type, two of which will have a capacity of 750 gallons per minute against a head of 250 feet, and one having a capacity of 300 gallons per minute against a head of 170 feet. The two large pumps will be used only in case of fire, or other unusual demands, while the smaller one will be used for regular service. An aerater will be constructed over the large ground reservoir, so that all water which will be pumped from there to the high steel tank, will be thoroughly aerated before it goes by gravity to the distributing system of mains. Some apprehension had been felt by residents that the water would stand for too long a time in the reservoir to be fit for use. However, Mr. Wiedeman made the procedure plain. The water will be pumped from the wells into the reservoir, aerated, and then raised by the pumping station to the high tank, this constant process preventing any danger of standing water.

Mr. Wiedeman estimated that Sebring would have sufficient water in its wells for at least twenty-five years, even allowing for a decided increase in population. He expressed himself as being opposed to the dual water system for Sebring, citing the result of the recently published chemical analysis, which classed the new well as being even better than the old one. He said that the heavy expense which its installation would place on the city and the property owners would be unjustifiable.

The new well which has caused much inconvenience by pumping sand, has been placed in order by the Layne-Bowler Co., and a new liner put in to obviate this difficulty. Since its completion Monday morning, no sand has appeared.

The two miles of sewer to be installed, will be put in around the congested district of the city, closely surrounding the Circle, and going out toward the A. C. L. station. All sewers will lead to a common outfall, and be cared for at a disposal plant across the A. C. L. tracks north of the city.

LEONARD FRANCIS IS SENIOR PATROL LEADER OF AVON PARK SCOUTS

Leonard Francis has been chosen as senior patrol leader of the Avon Park troup of Boy Scouts which has been under skeleton organization for several weeks following organization of the local council through the activities of the boys' work committee of the Rotary Club.

The other patrol leaders are Russell Baldwin, Zurr Read, Frank Coyle, and James Davis. Oscar Williams was elected scribe for the year.

J. V. Chapman put the boys through a drill Friday night at Brickell hall and following the exercises the Coca Cola Bottling Company stood "treat" for the boys.

WORKERS TURN OUT STRONG TO FIX UP COURSE

ONE FAIRWAY ON LINKS DEWEEDED AND NEW BUNKERS UP

Thursday was the first of the weekly work days on the Scenic Highlands golf course here and a score or more prominent citizens began doing their weekly dozen for the first time in history. Aside from the fact that the course shows a remarkable improvement, it has been a noticeable fact about the town that the "dozen" has already started improvement on some of the fellows.

With a score responding to the committee's "cordial invitation" bringing their hoes, rakes and other implements with them, much splendid work was done and one fairway was completely weeded and new bunkers set up. Construction was also started on two shelter houses provided as resting places.

Similar days throughout the remainder of October—in which there are five Thursdays—are expected to finish the job of eliminating weeds and of putting in new bunkers on all nine holes.

The game starts promptly at 1:30 and is usually a four hour tussle.

Seen from the Gallery.

Those on the job last Thursday were Messrs. Fox, Hood, Wm. Reck, Lanier, Bass, C. P. Anderson, Trent, Lance, A. V. Anderson, Norton Smith, and Parke Anderson.

Additional workmen were furnished by the Avon Fruit Company, the crate mills, Phil Lacey and T. J. McGinnis.

Several members were represented by proxy, obviously preferring a strain on the pocketbook rather than on the back.

Charlie Lanier was the first man on the job and one of the last to quit.

Messrs. Fox and Reck worked like old farm hands and were objects of envy from their less experienced co-workers.

Another work-out next Thursday. Matinee only. Starts at 1:30 sharp. A hoe or rake will admit you to the grounds.

A splendid prize will be given to the workers who is not tardy during the four weeks work, and who stays until the final whistle.

Many amateur hoe hands complained of sore backs, but all were on good spirits. Back to the soil movement beats the Daily Dozen.

No autos or trucks will be allowed inside the fence.

CELEBRATE ROAD SYSTEM WITH BIG BASKET PICNIC AND FISH FRY OCTOBER 30

Jimmp Gheen, of the Florida Development Board will be present and other out-of-the-county guests will be President M. M. Smith, Secretary Jack Hughes and others of the Triple A in Florida.

SO THEY SAY

Herbert Seaverns says he's afraid that Avon Park is too small for commission form of government with a city manager. "We ought to grow up a little," according to the former mayor.

Gustav Hoffman, who has graduated into the capitalist class at Lake Stearns tells a good one on Fred Yeager, now of Sebring. He sold Mr. Yeager a lot in Lake Stearns a couple of years ago for $350 on the dollar down and dollar forever plan. "When he got back to Sebring he was told that it was robbery to sink money in Lake Stearns or words to that effect" and forfeited his contract, according to Mr. Hoffman. This same lot will sell for $3,500 this fall, concluded Mr. Hoffman.

"Let's have a clean up week," is C. R. Hand's suggestion. "We ought to have things looking nice when the tourists begin to arrive." He suggests a general effort to get rid of all weeds and rubbish piles and generally improve the looks of all parts of the city.

VOLUME 5. NO. 47. AVON PARK, FLORIDA, THURSDAY, OCT. 16, 1924 $2.00 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

Avon Park to Vote Nov. 18 On $175,000 Bonds For Improvements

REALTY TRANSFERS NEAR QUARTER MILLION FOR FORTNIGHT

MAY REACH HALF MILLION MARK FOR THE MONTH

MAIN STREET FRONTAGE BRINGS $200 PER; NEW TOWNSITE PLANNED

Consummation of the sale of half of W. A. Hatchell's interests just north of Avon Park to B. C. Bass of Clearwater for $49,000 and the sale of the C. P. Turner property on Main street and Butler avenues for $30,000 to T. W. Ellarbe, of Tampa bring to a close the busiest fifteen days in real estate circles in the history of Avon Park and give indications that October may yet run close to the half million mark in transfers—and possibly beyond it.

Several smaller sales, with the purchases of Hatchell in what is to be the Park Ridge development where the new Seaboard crosses the state road north of Avon Park, have already carried this month close to the quarter million figure.

The Turner property brings a record price for Main street frontage, his 100x100 corner now occupied by a tin relic of the early days here brought $200 per front foot, while his 100x150 back of this on Butler street and running to the A. C. L. tracks, occupied by hay, grain and feed warehouses, brought $10,000. The entire property, purchased by Mr. Turner four years ago, with improvements he has made since then, cost approximately $16,000, netting a profit of almost 100 per cent.

The purchase by Mr. Bass included half interest in 429 acres in the southwest quarter of section 19 and the west half of the southeast quarter of 19 in township 32, range 38, and in the township west of this and fronting a mile and a half on Lake Streety.

Smaller transactions of the week include four lots sold by Norton Smith for Alderman Williams, to J. P. Cox, of Jacksonville for $2,500.

These with the $45,000 transfer of Main street frontage from the Park Investment Company to B. C. Bass and associates, transfer of 160 acres in section 19, north of town by C. J. Davidson of Rockford, Ill., to W. A. Hatchell; the transfer of 189 acres fronting on Lake street by northern parties to Mr. Hatchell involving $42,000 and a half dozen smaller transactions will carry the fifteen days total beyond $200,000.

There are a half dozen deals pending, one of which will be a large transaction in residential property leading to the erection of a number of Spanish bungalow type homes, indicating that the half million mark may possibly be reached, before the month closes with Hallowe'en.

NINE BIDDERS SEEKING FOUR MILE PAVING JOB IN THE CIRCLE CITY

Bids for approximately four miles of paving on Sebring streets were opened today by the city council, nine bidders being present.

Because of the amount of tabulation necessary, due to the bids covering three surface processes, the Wilnite, the sheet asphalt and the asphaltic concrete, the council adjourned until the engineer could tabulate the bids, and instructed the clerk to return to all but the four lowest bidders their bonds or certified checks which accompanied their bids, reserving the final determination of award of contract until Oct. 22. The bidders presenting bids: William P. McDonald Construction Co., Tampa and New York; R. G. Lassiter, Raleigh, N. C.; Stedham and Hughs, Tampa; Stacy Brothers, Greenville, Tenn.; Ely Construction Co., Augusta, Ga.; William P. Kennedy, Quincy, Fla.; West Construction Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.; F. W. Long and Co., Jacksonville; N. C. Cash Construction Co., Sebring. Among others who were there in the interest of the surfacing were: Fred O. Eberhardt of Jacksonville; G. G. Vinsey of New Orleans; Earl M. Seitz of Jacksonville.

TRADE BOARD EMPLOYS ASSISTANT SECRETARY WILL LIST ALL ROOMS

Employment of Miss Louise Brown as assistant secretary of the Avon Park Board of Trade and the decision to maintain information bureau for tourists, visitors and others at the board of trade rooms in the old Wray place on Main street were board of trade announcements following the governors regularly meeting. Miss Brown will keep the board office open all day, but will be permitted to handle any stenographic work that she can secure.

Glenn Spink and D. D. DeButts were named a committee to fit up the office, and plans for listing vacant rooms that may be available during the winter season were discussed and such procedure will be worked out later as a means of taking care of tourists this winter.

Discussion of a tourist camp followed the announcement that the city council had named J. L. Cloud, J. V. Chapman and J. L. Cloud as a committee to inspect possible sites and

SHOW HIGHLANDS TO GOVERNORS OF ALL STATES

SEBRING TO BE HOST TO PARTY OF 70 NOV. 21 EN ROUTE SOUTH

Sebring will be host to the governors of the states of the union from the afternoon of Friday, Nov. 21, until Saturday morning.

Ira Rigdon was appointed by Governor Hardee to be chairman of the local executive committee in charge of the local reception to be held in honor of the visiting executives. He returned Sunday night from a conference at Jacksonville where Governor Hardee, W. J. Coachman, General Foster, State Engineer Elliot and other representatives from the various parts of the state were guests at the Seminole Hotel. General plans were made at that time for their entertainment, and an itinerary mapped out, because of the shortness of time, few stops can be made, but it is the governor's wish that these executives from all parts of the nation be shown the progress which this most recently settled state is making, and the lines along which the growth is going.

The governors of governors will be held in Jacksonville Nov. 17-18. Leaving Jacksonville Tuesday evening by boat, the guests will go up the St. Johns river to Sanford, where automobiles from Orlando will meet them. A special A. C. L. train will convey them to Tampa Wednesday evening, where a banquet and other entertainment will be provided. Thursday afternoon, the Gandy Bridge will be dedicated, and the governors will have the honor of being the first to cross it. From Thursday evening until Friday morning they will be the guests of St. Petersburg, leaving there by auto for a trip through the Highlands arriving in the afternoon. On their arrival they will be taken in hand by the committee and shown the city, coming back to the hotel for a banquet. Saturday morning they will go by special train to Clewiston where a boat will carry them to Miami. There they will be met by autos and taken to Palm Beach, thence by special train to Miami, where the party will disband.

Mr. Rigdon has appointed on his committee, Senator E. J. Etheredge, B. L. Laird, G. F. Bobb, W. J. Amy, and H. O. Sebring.

It is expected that the party will number about seventy, and will consist of governors and their wives, Governor and Mrs. Hardee, the governor's military staff, representatives of the Associated Press and Pathe photographers.

Sebring Citizens Keep E. Coast Road Open--Work 24 Hrs.

Business and professional men of Sebring got out Sunday and worked all day and all night with crews of laboring men to put the detours in shape so that the realtors from all parts of the state might drive over to West Palm Beach. The new graded and rolled cross cut saws for twenty-four hours, directing crews of negroes also, in the repair work.

W. J. Connors with six loads of lumber, groves up past as the last temporary bridge was completed, and the weary men were leaving to get some much needed rest. Mrs. Manley, president of the Woman's Club, with some others, served a midnight lunch of hot coffee and appetizing sandwiches.

That the valiant work done by Sebring citizens was appreciated, was attested by the telegrams from the realtors at West Palm Beach expressing their gratitude for the work that had made the convention a possibility. This is the only available route across state, and the Sebring tracks will keep it in repair. They have patrolled the road constantly since Sunday, and reports have come back from the east coast telling of a Pierce-Arrow sedan which made the trip between that city and Sebring in hours.

report to that body. President Lanier of the board of trade was instructed to appoint a committee to collaborate, and named Glenn Spink, Norton Smith and E. G. Todd.

A city council committee, consisting of C. H. Moffett, J. L. Cloud and G. L. Crews has also been named to inspect possible sites for the baseball park and fair grounds and report back to the council.

ONE MILL TO YIELD $2,100 FOR PUBLICITY

CITY MILLAGE IS 19 FOR YEAR ON 50 PER CENT VALUATION

Assuring the placing of Avon Park properly before the nation, the city ouugct adopted by the city council at its adjourned meeting provides for a mill for publicity, which on a valuation of $2,103,000 means approximately $2,100 for the coming year aside from what the Board of Trade raises in membership dues.

In addition there will be further assistance if necessary from the general fund to see that the band is adequately cared for should the publicity levy be not enough to take care of the band and newspaper advertising.

The total millage for the year will be only 19 mills, which will raise approximately $38,000 to $40,000 for the year. This sum will be augmented by the city occupational licenses and a $3,000 or $4,000 refund from the county road fund to be available for streets and parks.

The largest item in the budget is the sinking fund for bonds, nine mills being levied for this fund which provides interest and also for retirement of outstanding bonds.

The general fund will be 4 mills, light and water, three; fire 1; streets 1-2; publicity 1; and parks 1-2 mills.

This millage is based on a valuation of approximately fifty per cent of the real value of the property as of last January, which is equal to about a thirty per cent valuation on the property that is bringing on the market today.

The question of cleaning up the city came before the council and the mayor and the chairman of the street committee were empowered to secure a man and have the parking spaces along all the main streets cleaned up and weeds cut at once.

Property owners will be asked to co-operate with the city authorities and do likewise to the property fronting on all streets throughout the city.

DOWNPOUR FAILS TO HALT WORK ON GOLF LINKS — AGAIN TODAY

Despite the steady downpour which continued all afternoon three loyal members of the Scenic Highland Golf Club reported last Thursday for the weekly hoeing bee. Messrs. A. V. Anderson C. B. Lanier and C. P. Anderson not wishing to spoil their perfect attendance record answered "present" at roll call and saved the $1.00 assessment levied against absentees.

With the arrival of a carload of fertilizer, motorized mowing machines and other equipment, work will be started in earnest to put the finishing touches on the fair ways and to give the greens that "billiard table appearance."

The executive committee has decreed that there shall be no play allowed until the present program of improvement has been completed.

The four shelter houses have been completed and work will be started next week on a new fence to replace the present one.

Another work day will be held next Thursday afternoon. In the event of rain, workers will gather on Friday.

PINE RANCH COMPANY COMPELLED TO PUT ON ANOTHER SALESMAN

So rapidly has the business grown in this territory since the opening a scant three months ago, the Pine Ranch Provision Company, operating a wholesale meat and provision house and packing house here, has secured the services of L. L. Nicholson, for fifteen years with Cudahy & Co., who is now on the road for the firm.

Mr. Nicholson has traveled this territory before and is acquainted with the trade.

He will make Avon Park his home. This firm's sausage factory output is close to 5,000 pounds per week already, with the sausage season still five weeks off.

COLE BELIEVES GREAT FUTURE IN MUCK LANDS

POINTS TO TOM REESE'S STORY IN WALL STREET NEWS

Howard Cole, one of the largest land owners in South Florida, who has been interested in its development for years, spent Monday and Tuesday in Sebring and Avon Park. He came in the interests of the newly created Istokpoga Sub-Drainage District, as it serves many thousands of acres of his land.

Mr. Cole has been a developer of different parts of the country, having at various times owned and operated vast tracts of land in Louisiana, Washington state, and Van Couver, B. C., besides millions of acres of Florida land. All these have been bought at as little as fifteen and twenty cents an acre, brought to a state of usefulness either for cultivation or timber cutting, and sold at a profit. Mr. Cole's interests have become centered in the versatile lands of the Istokpoga and Okeechobee districts, and he predicts a brilliant future for this part of the state.

He believes that those who buy farms in these tracts in the near future will reap greater benefits than by most other investments. He cites a statement made by T. T. Reese of West Palm Beach, one of the most talked of and interested bankers in the South, who has humanized his banking business. This statement was a part of one made last summer to the Wall Street Journal in answer to their request for a reply on "Farming by the Farmers' Bank and Trust Co." and is as follows: "Under a will naming us as executor of an estate of $100,000 (December, 1922) we were handed a farm of nearly 300 acres with instructions to handle according to our best judgment, but to operate it if we could do so, profitably. Taking hold of the farm, with crops already in, we could only trust to management in charge and to luck. Closed the season May 1, 1923, with net profits on 250 acres of $17,872. Now we went into the farming proposition thoroughly, eliminated leaks, cut down overhead and planned for our next season. Results show gross sales from 260 acres of $114,302, with cost of production and marketing $63,484, leaving net profits of $50,817.00."

"What has been done by this enterprising banker," said Mr. Cole, "can be done by others, and is being done through various portions of this rich territory. The reason I sold that large tract in the southeastern part of Highlands county to the Curtiss Bright concern, was because I knew that they would develop it. Their plans will not be hampered by lack of money or shortness of vision, and their coming into this part of your county will be of inestimable benefit to the entire county. The adjoining developments will also profit by the expert knowledge of the agriculturists employed by this firm. They are doing wonders for their purchase, installing a landing field for planes, stocking game preserves, and leaving no stone unturned to accomplish their purpose as completely and rapidly as possible.

"You may say that I consider this entire stretch to be one of the most potentially valuable pieces of land in the state. Investments made cannot help but be profitable."

While here, Mr. Cole had as his guests, H. C. Rorick and A. V. Foster of the Rorick Co. of Toledo, O., who bought the Highlands county paving bonds, and who holds over $10,000,000 worth of Everglades District bonds.

CITRUS MOVING

Movement of citrus fruit has commenced from Avon Park, the Roberts Brothers packing house beginning shipment of grapefruit from their own groves here while the Lake Reedy Packing Company from Frostproof has begun moving a crop it bought near the Ridge metropolis. The fruit is fairly well colored and the pickers claim it passes, though small.

PARK RIDGE IS NEW CITY FOR THE HIGHLANDS

FIRST UNIT GOES ON THE MARKET OCT. 27—WHERE S. A. L. CROSSES NO. 8

Establishment of another town on the famous Ridge is announced with the incorporation of the Park Ridge Development Company by W. A. Hatchell, Avon Park; B. C. Bass, Clearwater, and P. M. Stivender, Avon Park, with capital stock of $100,000 paid in full and paving begun in the new townsite located in the rolling hills where the Seaboard's new truck line to West Palm Beach crosses State Road No. 8 seven miles north of Avon Park. The tract, 429 acres running from the state road to Lake Streety, is heavily timbered and one of the most beautiful sites for a town to be found along the Scenic Highlands.

Plans for the development contemplate a city of homes built around a park system that will be unique. In front of the depot, will be a lovely park surrounding an artificial lake which is to be dredged. An oak grove is to be preserved in its entirity around the proposed lake. A series of acre tracts, running like links in a chain from the road east a few hundred yards, containing wonderful oak trees is also to be preserved, as will three other oak groves on the property. There will be 35 or more acres of park in the townsite, not to mention any boulevard plans that may be developed later for the lake frontage which will not be placed on the market just yet.

The first unit of the townsite will be offered at auction sale Monday, Oct. 27 when the developers will be hosts at a barbecue with all the fixings including band concert and other opportunities for enjoying oneself.

Work on a stucco filling station will be started at once, and a store is to be built within the next few days. A two-acre lot has been set aside for a schoolhouse, and machinery is already in motion, according to Mr. Hatcell, for calling a bond issue for a $30,000 school house to serve the Park Ridge and Bareah sections. The old established farming community of Bareah being only three miles southwest of Park Ridge.

E. T. Roux's big avacado development is just two miles south, while part of the Roux holdings run to the limits of the new townsite.

A half mile of streets will be paved before the auction sale, John Hood having been awarded the contract and the paving program will be completed some time through the winter.

Fertilizer Houses Put Lower Ridge Headquarters Here

Another step forward as a distributing center is taken by the Ridge metropolis with the announcement of the establishment here of distributors for two big fertilizer concerns—the Non-Acid Fertilizer & Chemical Company of Lakeland, and the E. O. Painter Fertilizer Company of Jacksonville. The latter will have a warehouse, stocking carload lots at this point according to Herbert Seaverns who has returned from Jacksonville where arrangements were consumated.

R. L. Sensabaugh, one of Polk county's most prominent young business men has been placed in the Ridge territory by Non-Acid company and operating from Avon Park will cover everything from Babson Park south. Mr. Sensabaugh has been with the Exchange Supply Co. as analytical expert prior to going with the Non-Acid people and is thoroughly at home in this field.

He will make his headquarters at the Hotel Poinsettia. He was accompanied here by K. E. Bragdon, sales chief of the company.

Mr. Seaverns, who has just completed the sale of his building supplies business to the Townsend people, will convert his supplies warehouse into a fertilizer warehouse as soon as the Townsend people can complete their warehouse and plant and move the stock.

Mr. Seaverns is one of the Park's oldest citizens and in closing out his building supplies business, plans to devote his entire time to the sale of fertilizers, spraying equipment, insecticides, etc. He retains his present office at the foot of Buller street, adjoining the Atlantic Coast Line tracks.

He plans to carry a large stock of fertilizers, grove supplies and equipment, maintaining a depot here for such equipment, the first to be established in this section of the Ridge.

Meanwhile, Mr. Seaverns is conducting the building supplies business for the Townsend people, pending the opening of their new plant and warehouse. Work on this is being rushed by David Farnell, a siding has been applied for and Mr. Townsend hopes to be able to open

NEARLY EVERY STREET MAY BE PAVED BY ISSUE

MALL EXTENSION, FAIR GROUNDS AND BALL PARK INCLUDED

Paving practically every street in the community, beautifying the main streets, a municipal library, fire station and city building, an athletic field and fair grounds and an extension of the mail with provisions for a band stand are to be voted on under a $175,000 bond issue election called by the city council Monday night for Nov. 18.

It provides the greatest municipal improvement program in the history of Avon Park, including a paving program totaling $180,000, and coming just at a time when outsiders are becoming interested in the city, is giving solid evidence of the faith of the city and its citizens in the future of the metropolis of the Ridge.

Behind the program are the heaviest property holders in the city and the most prominent of the new investors here, who include a number of outside capitalists attracted here by the rapidly development following the recent paving program just being completed.

The bond issue provides $60,000 as the city's one-third of a paving program that will total $180,000 and probably pave fifteen to eighteen miles of streets.

In a park bonds fund of $55,000 is provision for extending the mall to Verona avenue and across Central avenue, and erecting a bandstand in the mall and otherwise improving the mall, the parking space of the main highways and two beautifully situated parks in the west side of town.

An athletic and recreation field and fair grounds will be provided from a $10,000 bond issue, with a grand stand seating 1,500 persons and 300 feet of exhibit buildings for the county fair.

The library, fire station and municipal building will house city and all its departments as well as the fire department, the library and the board of trade. An auditorium or assembly room for meetings of the Woman's club and other organizations will also be provided. The building and site will cost $25,000, the site chosen being the Bethel property at the head of the proposed extension of the mall. An additional $25,000 for refunding bonds is also provided, while the street paving program includes:

"FRESHIE" RUSH AT LAKE LETTA PICNIC

The Sebring High School Faculty and the upper classmen entertained the Freshmen at a picnic Thursday at Lake Letta. This picnic, which is an annual affair, is in the nature of a "rush," and was one of the jolliest ever held. The "Freshies" were photographed and finger-printed for the Rogue's gallery, and given explicit instructions as to their behavior toward their elders. Then the "rush" proper took place, and even their tormentors declared the youngsters were good sports. An appetizing picnic supper and a blazing camp fire were attractive features.

RIN-TIN-TIN BORN UNDER THE DOG STAR

Astrologers, scientists and the dictionary all agree for once: Cirius is the brightest of the stars.

Which brings us down to Rin-Tin-Tin, the Warner wonder dog of the movies. His master, Lieut. Lee Duncan, offers the curious information that Cirius, or, as it is more commonly known, the dog star, was in ascendancy at the time Rin-Tin-Tin was born, which, as everyone knows, occurred on a battlefield in France. No wonder Rin-Tin-Tin is called a lucky dog with the dog star itself as his guardian.

His screen laurels have almost over-shadowed his other claims to fame. Although almost everyone knows that Rin-Tin-Tin was the star of "Where the North Begins," there aren't so many who know that he is a champion high jumper with a score of medals to his credit.

June Marlowe, who has just been signed on a long term contract with Warner Bros., and Eric St. Clair head an interesting supporting case which boasts such names as Charles Mailes, Pat Hartigan, Lew Harvey, Fred Stanton and Charles Conklin.

"Find Your Man" will come to the Avolon Theatre Monday, Oct. 20.

Blinding Headaches

"For about twenty years," says Mr. P. A. Walker, a well-known citizen of Newburg, Ky., "one of our family remedies has been Black-Draught, the old reliable. . . . I use it for colds, biliousness, sour stomach and indigestion. I was subject to headaches when my liver would get out of order. I would have blinding headaches and couldn't stoop about my work, just couldn't go. I used Thedford's BLACK-DRAUGHT and it relieved me.

"About eight years ago my wife got down with liver and stomach trouble. . . We tried all week to help her, . . . but she didn't get any better. One day I said to the doctor, 'I believe I will try Black-Draught, it helps my liver.' He said that I might try it and to follow directions. She was nauseated and couldn't eat or rest. She began taking Black-Draught and in two days she was greatly improved and in a week she was up."

THOU SHALT LOVE THE LORD thy God With all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself.—Luke 10:27.

World's champions are now "made in Florida."

Highlands county will entertain the governors of forcy or more states next month.

St. Cloud is the latest of Florida's smaller cities to call an election for a city manager form of government. Seems like everybody's doing it these days.

Lest we who live in glass houses may cast some stones, let us remember that grapefruit are now moving from Highlands county.

The first thing it takes to make a city of a town, is confidence among the home folks. Confidence like Tampans are showing when they buy Davis Islands which are now under water at the rate of a half million dollars worth per hour.

Some of the fellows who are "kicking" about the bond issue item of $10,000 for ball park and fair grounds were among the loudest growlers when we lost the courthouse. And yet the failure to vote these bonds will practically give Sebring the county fair which is worth two courthouses. Consistency thou art a jewel.

According to some of our most voeiferous citizens the bond issue will bankrupt Avon Park. And yet we find a Clearwater party ready to invest $45,000 in the "bankrupt" city and a Tampa man paying $30,000 for a lot about to be in a "bankrupt" town when the owner couldn't get $20,000 for it while the town was "thriving" and wading through sand, to the great satisfaction of this little band.

COMMUNITY SERVICE THE NEED.

Service to the community—to mankind—is one of the greatest needs in Florida's growing cities today. Cities in this wonderful Ridge section, especially, can not hope to move forward without a spirited participation on the part of the citizenry in the movements that make for community good.

We must halt for a moment in this matter of chasing the dollar into our own bank account and figure just a little more on the city's future.

We have before us today, two notable examples, right in our own front yard.

Realtors from all parts of Florida are loud in praise of the way a score or more Sebring residents "put them through" to West Palm Beach under the most adverse circumstances, when every other avenue to the big convention was closed.

Those Sebring residents—bankers, business men and professional men—who doffed their coats and Sunday clothes to wallow through mud and wield a shovel or an ax to repair the Bassenger road deserve the highest commendation from every Highlands county resident. They are the kind of men who do things. They produce in the crises.

And this afternoon—as for two previous Thursday afternoons — a dozen or more business and professional men of Avon Park have discarded the complacent air of commerce and are wielding rakes, hoes, hammer and saws that the city of Avon Park may better entertain the guests within her gates this winter. These men are working to supply a golf links because a few niggardly citizens—who incidentally are among those conspicuous by their absense on the job—refused to support a project for the city putting in a first class links.

Not one of these men of Avon Park and Sebring have anything to gain personally by their unselfish service to the community. Any gain is shared alike by the drone and by the worker.

And yet we will hear criticism, bitter, selfish, unsoftened criticism of many of these men who have given so freely for the community. But if you who hear, will stop a moment and look about you, you will find that the fellow who is "knocking" and growling was absent from the mud-holes on the Bassenger road, and from the rake and hoe brigade at the golf links.

Cities are made in spite of these drones. Because most communities are blessed with so many men who will serve the community.

If we were 100 per cent servers, what a wonderful Ridge country we would have in a few years.

PLENTY OF DISCUSSION.

Avon Park will vote on a bond issue next month for a series of items that seem of vital import to the community.

Free, frank and honest discussion will help clarify the issues and disclose the chaff if there be any.

We believe that there isn't an item that the city can afford to defeat. Perhaps others may differ.

We are going to express some decided opinions of our own but have no desire to make it one-sided.

Freedom of speech is important to a community. Freedom of the press is likewise. What we demand for ourselves, we freely grant our neighbor.

If there be in anyone's mind a desire to discuss the bond issue honestly and frankly, we hope he or she will not hesitate to speak or write openly. Let's not beat about the bush. Let's all stay above "partisan" digs in the back, whispered rumors and such evidences of "hick" town politics.

If you've got something to say, tell the world about it, or as much of the world as you can reach and is interested.

DRIVING INVESTORS AWAY?

The statement has been made that more bonds would raise taxes so high that outsiders will rush away as soon as they learn the tax rate.

Is it true?

T. W. Ellarbe, prominent Tampa wholesaler, came to Avon Park a few days ago. On every hand there was talk of voting $175,000 bonds. There was talk—pro and con—of what it would do to taxes. Mr. Ellarbe heard it. He learned that our tax rate this year would be about 19 mills; and that next year the $175,000 bond issue would add fiive or six more mills.

Now Mr. Elarbee came here with the intention of investing. This tax talk—that some say drives investors away—fell on receptive ears. He took it all in. He figured out the costs and—

He is buying for $30,000 what C. P. Turner and associates paid only $16,000 for a scant four years ago.

He tried to pay $15,000 for another piece of property that sold for $11,000 a scant four months ago.

He is one of the investors who were supposed to pick up their tails and flee when they learned that Avon Park was going to vote bonds.

TOURIST CAMP MEANS MUCH!

Steps to secure a tourist camp were taken by the council Monday night. And we don't believe the council could have taken a more timely step.

Where tourist camps have been erroneously operated, with sanitary conditions taken care of, reasonable charges for service and facilities made, and regulations enforced to prevent imposing on the community, such camps have redounded to the tremendous benefit of the community.

The selection of a site is the principal problem, but we believe the present ball park affords the greatest opportunity for taking care of the situation that is available.

Lights and water are already there. Proper sewerage is a simple matter. the wonderful oaks offer remarkable settings for the camping tourists, it is close enough in so that the city would reap all the benefits from the visitors and all of which adds to the convenience of the visitors and increases their appreciation of the city that offers such admirable conditions in camp life.

Perhaps there are other sites, but off hand. this site seems to fill every requirement.

CLEAN 'EM UP!

The city council has instructed the mayor to have a man clean the parkings along the main streets of the city.

That is fine, but—

Let's co-operate in this move.

The parkings aren't the only unsightly spots. Many vacant lots, many yards, and many other spots are veritable eyesores.

Let's not wait for some observer to indict us again as one correspondent did last week. And don't let some of you folks think that just because only two or three of us were mentioned no others were meant.

Most of the community can see other spots too, just as that writer noted that other spots needed attention.

This keeping the community sightly is a broad affair.

Let every one of us resolve to set the other fellow a good example. Make it city-wide.

HIGHLANDS COMMENT

We Weren't Going To Tell It—

Tarpon Springs Leader: Gilbert Freeman of the Avon Park Pilot arrived at the convention late and obtained a room under false pretenses. All the rooms at the Edwinola hotel were taken, and when Freeman and his wife loosened in, fresh as daisies after their hundred mile ride over Florida detours, and turned from the room clerk with disappointment on their faces, Clarence Woods of the Bushnell Times could see something was wrong. "Are they bride and groom?" asked Woods. "They are," replied Jack Worthington, of the Lake Wales Highlander. "Give them my room," breezed Colonel Woods, with a majestic sweep of his hand. Despite protestations of Mr. and Mrs. Freeman they were given the room, and shortly afterwards a magnificent bunch of roses were delivered to the bride and groom, bearing the card of Clarence Woods. Not until the last minute of the last day of the convention did anyone have the heart to tell Woods that the bride and groom had been married about three years. He bore up well under the blow.

Headed for The Ridge—

Lake Wales Highlander: Hear Daytona man has bought $100,000 worth of property in Haines City. Fine! It indicates that you can't keep these Ridge towns down. They're all bound to grow.

WATCH THE COWS!

City beautification is a wonderful thing as a city builder and when private citizens go to the pains that some have gone in beautifying their immediately surroundings they are entitled to the support of the entire community in preserving their handiwork.

Cows are not supposed to be allowed to roam the streets. Yet cows are invading the city and eating down shrubbery and wiping out the work of city beautifiers.

Just a word to the citizens who own these animals should be sufficient. If it isn't we hope the marshal won't be lenient. And if the marshal can't be reached the owners of cattle should remember there is no law against a man shooting when he thinks he hears a burglar in his yard. If a stray cow happens to get in the way, then that's the cow's hard luck.

If you own a cow, watch it. And keep it home.

SO THEY SAY

W. H. Woodruff says "the city council ought to collect these back taxes and then maybe we could reduce that bond issue by $25,000 anyway." Mr. Woodruff, says he is like many others, in that he can't understand why no effort has been made to collect all delinquent taxes.

"Have you noticed that there aren't so many dogs around the streets," says A. V. Anderson in discussing Sam Durrance's new sausage factory. Incidentally according to Mr. Durrance and his live wire partner, R. M. Wade, the factory is almost at 5,000 pound per week output with the real sausage eating season still weeks away.

BARBECUE AND FISH FRY FOR HIGHLANDS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NEXT THURSDAY

Barbecue and fish galore with all the fixings for a grand feed is the plan for the Highlands County Chamber of Commerce meeting and roads celebration at Lake Stearns Oct. 30. Secretary Frank P. Burch announced today after a conference with officials of the Trovical Investment Co., the developers of this thriving community.

The feed will be served at noon and not only are all members of the chamber invited but all citizens of the county are being urged to attend. And to increase the attendance, the company has offered the chamber three buses to take care of transporting citizens who haven't autos of their own.

Shelter will be available for all on the picnic grounds in case of inclement weather, according to the Lake Stearns committee which is in charge of arrangements.

It is apparent that the missing link in the highway will be completed well ahead of the date set for the celebration, there remaining only a half mile to complete.

Jimmy Gheen, of the Florida Development Board, will be the principal speaker. But he will not be alone for M. M. Smith, formerly member of the state road department and now president of the Florida section of the Triple A will also be on the program as will Jack Hughes, secretary of this organization.

Through all kinds of weather—rain and shine—night and day—eight drivers—working in four-hour-shifts—drove this car approximating normal driving conditions as nearly as possible with the following results:

In 100 hours' continuous driving the CHEVROLET covered 2094.7 miles, consuming 75.8 gallons of gasoline—4 quarts of oil—4 1-2 pints of water.

This test was made with a stock car on the traffic congested streets of Tampa insuring actual driving conditions.

Averaging 27.63 Miles to the Gallon of Gasoline and 524 Miles Per Quart of Oil

The following information proves that CHEVROLET CARS are the best for economical transportation.

75.8 gallons gasoline at 18c per gallon	$13.64
4 Quarts Oil at 25c per quart	$ 1.00
Total gasoline and oil expense	$14.64

Miles Traveled 2094.7. Cost per Mile for Gasoline and Oil seven-tenths of one cent per mile.

This 100 hour run was made without any adjustment of motor or mechanical repairs and only one puncture.

WEDDING OF MISS RUBY CRUMLEY AND MELVILLE BASS SEPT. 17 IS ANNOUNCED

Coming as a surprise to their many friends is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Ruby Crumley and Mr. Melville Bass which took place on Sept. 17 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milford Dilley, they being the only witnesses to the ceremony which was performed by Rev. T. O. Baldwin.

It was generally understood that the young couple were to have been married the latter part of this week but in reality they are now spending their honeymoon at Lake Istokpoga where they are being "chaperoned" by Mr. and Mrs. Dilley, the sponsors of the secret wedding, who have taken a cottage adjoining that of the newly weds.

Mrs. Bass is the daughter of Mrs. Lucy Crumley and is a young woman of charming personality and since coming to Avon Park to make her home she has endeared herself to a large circle of friends.

MRS. LACEY HOSTESS HONORING BRIDE AND GROOM

One of the prettiest and most enjoyable affairs of the season was given Tuesday evening at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Lacey when they entertained complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Melville Bass whose marriage has been announced.

The reception rooms were resplendent with their decorations of autumn leaves and fruit in brilliant colorings, and the tulip light shades cast a pretty glow on the scene.

As the guests arrived they were presented with horns and fancy caps and requested to write their best wish in a memory book for the newlyweds. During the evening four tables of five hundred were in play and the table markers were suggestive of the approaching Hallowe'en day, being cats and pumpkins, the score cards were also done in attractive Hallowe'en design.

Later in the evening the amusing contest of pinning the tail on the cat was engaged in and Farke Anderson received a cunning little Hallowe'en favor for being the most lucky contestant.

Toward the close of the evening's festivities the hostess served delicious refreshments of chicken salad, heart shaped sandwiches, cheese, apples, saltines, pickles and coffee. Gracing each plate was a black cat favor. When the party was at the height of its gaiety the sounds of Mendelsohn's Wedding March pealed forth and Mrs. Lacey brought in an immense wedding cake adorned with a miniature bride and groom, who unlike the usual real bride and groom, were not the least bit flustrated by the assemblage. Each guest then tried his luck at cutting for the emblems of one's future according to the popular superstition:

Park Anderson drew the button, Judge Rouse the thimble, Mrs. Stringfellow the dime, and the bride the ring. Punch was then served and toasts were given to the future happiness of the bride and groom.

The party broke up with the singing of a number of popular songs and as the guests departed they were each presented with little boxes of wedding cake upon which to dream over.

Those present were: The honor guests, Mr. and Mrs. Melville Bass, Misses Beatrice Bass, Ellie Harris, Beesley Palmer, Marie White, Mayme Lee Durrance, Messrs. Parke Anderson, Judge D. V. Rouse, L. V. Pringle, W. I. Fox, Bert Collier, Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Stringfellow, and Mr. and Mrs. Lacey.

MRS. LOOMIS ENTERTAINS FIVE HUNDRED CLUB

Mrs. E. F. Loomis delightfully entertained the Five Hundred Club Tuesday afternoon at her home on Pleasant street. Crimson hibiscus tastefully arranged in vases and baskets enhanced the attractiveness of the reception rooms and a pleasant afternoon was spent.

Punch was served during the games and after a number of progressions, the tables were laid with dainty luncheon cloths and a fruit salad course, cheese balls, saltines and coffee were served.

Among the guests were: Mesdames A. V. Anderson, A. H. Able, Norton Smith, W. A. Marshall, P. L. Rumpsa, Earl Hartt, S. Y. Hartt, J. B. Rogers, D. F. Canfield, H. E. Godwin, Demos Mandis and J. S. Francis.

Florida Property Is Increasing in Value Every Day

Particularly is this true of property on the Scenic Highlands and in and adjacent to Avon Park. Our city is growing rapidly, new buildings being started nearly every day. Of course this adds to the value of all property, whether in the city or adjacent thereto.

"HILLCREST"

is close to the city limits of Avon Park. Its groves are increasing in value every day. The trees are growing nicely and show a healthy appearance, making an investment with the Scenic Highlands Development Company an attractive one. In fact, one has but to see the young groves, note the painstaking care being given the trees, consider the location and then ascertain what grove properties are selling for all around us, to become convinced that "HILLCREST" is a gilt-edge proposition.

Sallie's Temptations

Mr. Wright to the Rescue

I shrieked loudly as Ted Billings lunged forward. In some mysterious way, strength was given me to use my legs, which had been quaking beneath me, and I tore headlong across the hills toward the ocean. Gaining the beach, I glanced over my shoulder. Ted had not followed. The heavy sand of the dunes must have proven too much for him in his besotted condition. Fright spurred me on, and I dashed into the water, shivering as the whitecaps reached out to me with their icy fingers. Soon I was swimming beyond my depth in the moonswept ocean.

Then suddenly I felt the steady pull of the undertow and realized, in my spent condition, I was not able to resist it. I turned nervously shoreward and saw a lone masculine figure at top speed through the breakers. I recognized the swimmer. It was Curtiss Wright, and I called to him in utter exhaustion, feeling the last shred of my vitality weaken.

"What's the matter, trying to drown yourself?" he asked with a note of tenderness in his voice. When his swift, sure strokes had brought him beside me, I relaxed in the safety of his arms and felt secure in his protection.

When we had left the fierce current behind us, I slipped from his arms as soon as I was able to touch bottom.

"Nice way to treat your guest," he laughed pleasantly, "sending me off for refreshments, while you run away and have our swim by-yourself."

"Why, you poor kiddy," he continued gently, noticing for the first time that my arms and shoulders, rising from the dark depths of the water, were bare. "What's the matter? Did you have an accident?" he questioned.

"Nope," I stammered and made up my mind that I would not tell him what had happened. After what Mary had said about his opinion of flappers, my experience with Ted would only add to his unflattering conviction about the younger generation.

I'd tell him nothing, and with this decision, I felt a spirit of deviltry returning.

"Maybe Mr. Shark decided he'd like to have my little suit for an hors d'ouvre and ate it," I replied, at the same time opening my eyes wide in mock and childish amusement, "and then, again, maybe he didn't."

A puzzled expression crossed the brow of Mr. Wright and he started to question me further, but changed his mind.

"I'm deeply sorry, really," he said quickly; "one would think that you granted me the special privilege of dabbling in your affairs, which so far, it would seem, have been more or less of a—er—shall we say, PERSONAL nature. I assure you I will be less meddlesome in the future, and if you will promise to stay away from the shark-infested area, I will bring my raincoat in a jiffy."

Returning, we walked in silence up the beach to the bath houses. The Inn was in darkness. It had not occurred to any of the crowd to look for me after my disappearance with Curtis Wright earlier that evening. It is an unwritten code in our set to permit each person to go exactly where one pleases.

"A thermos bottle with ice and lime juice, as per request, reposes behind yon stately palm tree." Mr. Wright broke the silence lightly, and for some reason, which I was unable to analyze, his indifference piqued me after his former interest. In the short time I had known him, I had wavered from one decision to another in planning the attitude I would adopt before him. At the Inn I had determined upon a role of racy independence and yet I was now ready to go to almost any lengths to keep him from finding out about the episode with Ted Billings.

"What a funny little bird the frog are," I quoted.

"Apropos of what, may I ask?"

"Nothing, I was just thinking out loud. A sign of tottering old age, isn't it?" I responded. "Go get the bottle. I'm worn to a frazzle."

He looked at me with searching scrutiny.

"Yes, right at this moment you do look like an old woman," he announced critically and save for his innate refinement, which one felt, and the impersonal tone in which he had spoken, his remark would have been rude; as it was, it hurt me, for I knew he was serious.

During the drive home I rested my head against Curtiss Wright's coat sleeve and slept soundly.

When we alighted from the car, Mr. Wright gathered up my swimming things and handed them to me.

"Good night," he said, "I found this in the sand dunes. You might need it," and reaching in his pocket he produced a strip of black and white taffeta. Part of my bathing suit! I stood holding the bit of silk in my hand and could have wept, I was so embarrassed.

Under what circumstances had he found it? Had he seen Ted Billings? It was maddening and a thousand questions skipped through my brain which was already spinning from the excitement of the evening.

"Where is the rest of it?" I questioned, hoping his answer would throw some light on how much he knew of the situation.

"Maybe Mr. Shark is keeping it as a memento of the occasion," he suggested, leaving me bewildered.

"THE KUMQUAT" WILL BE ISSUED BY SEBRING HIGH STUDENTS — CHOOSE EDITOR

The Sebring High School will issue next week its first number of the school paper, The Kumquat. During the past two years, the school has used a double column space in the local paper, but money was raised last year to be used as a nucleus for an independent paper. The printing will be done by the Avon Park Printing Company, the editing being done by the students themselves, under the supervision of the faculty. The staff of the paper is as follows: Arzelia Brian, editor-in-chief; Vera True, assistant editor; Hattie Catogni, business manager; Emma Whitehurst, assistant business manager; Jessie Laird, circulation manager; Helen Right, society; Leila Sebring, sports and alumni; Loys Rogers, joke editor; Paul Swank, agricultural; Lena Waters, home economics; Opal Young, senior reporter; Kathryn Eastwood, junior reporter; Fay Christy, sophomore reporter; Eloise Horn, freshman reporter.

The proof sheets show that the paper will be a live sheet, and the merchants have given it their liberal support. Much real newspaper talent in embryo is apparent among the contributors, and the school is to be congratulated on its ability to put out so notable a paper for its first effort.

FLORIDA STATE FAIR NOT TO LET UP HIGHWAYS WITH USUAL VIVID CARDS

In co-operation with the Florida Development Board and other organizations throughout the state, including chambers of commerce, county highway beautification boards, and federated woman's clubs, that are interesting themselves in beautifying and cleaning up the Florida highways, the Florida State Fair Association has this year adopted a policy which excludes the use of signs, banners, tack cards, etc., in their advertising campaign.

The fair association has announced that no signs, except the regulation billboards at advantageous points throughout the state will be used this year in the advertising campaign. Practically all of the advertising appropriation will be devoted to an intensive newspaper campaign which will include 135 daily and weekly papers over the state and the southern portion of Georgia.

Officials of the fair association feel that in adopting this policy they will not only be co-operating with other state interests in cleaning up the highways and ridding them of the objectionable signs, but will be enabled to put on a more effective campaign for the money that is spent in drawing attendance to the fair.

COUNTY EXPECTED TO TAKE OVER MAINTAINANCE OF THE [illegible] ROAD AT ONCE

Highlands county commissioners undoubtedly will take over and exert every effort to restore to good condition the detour road to the east coast until such a time as the main highway being built by the country with state aid is completed in December.

The commissioners voted to pay up to $1,200 for maintainance for two months, the work to be done under the supervision of Commissioner C. L. Pierce.

The road was damaged by heavy rains and the tremendous traffic due to closing of east coast roads has cut the road up very badly, emergency work by Sebring and DeSoto City citizens being all that has kept it passable the past three or four days.

The commissioners at yesterday's meeting named its members of a committee to go over the Bryson Paving Company's work and afect a settlement for the work done on the contract. Col. F. N. K. Bailey was named as the lay representative and Major Charles A. Browne, as the engineer representative. The paving company is to name an engineer and a citizen and the two engineers are to select a third engineer to complete the board of settlement.

Permission was granted the McDonald Paving Company to have road material for streets in Lake Stearns shipped in the county's name, he to put up $5,000 bond to protect the county.

Inspectors for the county for the general election were named and absent voters stricken from the lists. The inspectors' list was not given out as there are some corrections to be made before official announcement.

"THE FEMALE," STARRING BETTY COMPSON, COMING TO THE ALOVON THEATRE

"The Female," starring Betty Compson, and adapted from the popular magazine serial, "Dalla, the Lion Cub," will be at the Avolon theatre Wednesday.

Miss Compson in the title role is known as "the lion cub" because in infancy she was lost in the jungle of South Africa and mothered by a lioness until rescued by her guardian. She meets Colonel Valentia, a young Englishman, at a dress ball in the grand hotel at Johannesburg, and falls in love with him. He is attracted to her but their friendship is rudely broken when she hears a malicious conversation engineered by an English woman who is in love with Valentia.

Noah Beery, as Dalla's guardian who is in love with her, proposes that she marry him and promises that she need not be his wife until after she had spent three years in England learning to "be like the Englishers." She accepts, and in three years returns as a beautiful, cultured, perfectly gowned woman of fashion.

Dalla continues to forestall De Beer's (Beery's) advances and goes on a lion hunt engineered by Valentia. They have plunged far into the veldt and have established a camp where De Beer suddenly appears with his native bearers and his faithful old servant. The men come face to face.

SUB-EXCHANGE HEADS DECIDE THEIR CITRUS MUST PASS ACID TEST

Sub-exchange managers in the Florida Citrus Exchange co-operating marketing organization, at their October association meeting here yesterday afternoon, went on record as unanimously favoring confinement of their early season shipments to fruit that passes the federal government's acid test.

Every sub-exchange manager present agreed to exert his influence against shipment of fruit that merely passes the color test.

Of the forty carloads of grapefruit shipped from the state so far this season, it was reported at the meeting, but six came from Exchange sources. This six cars were shipped only in the last few days, and have not as yet arrived on the markets. They all passed the acid test, it was said. As yet, no oranges have left the state.

HUSBAND'S NIGHT GREAT SUCCESS AS WOMAN'S CLUB LAUNCHES NEW SEASON

The first social meeting of the season of the Sebring's Woman's Club was held Tuesday evening at Sunset Pier, with Mrs. Eva Geary, Mrs. Hazel Bowden, Miss Edith Werner and Mrs. Leona Jaeger as hostesses. According to custom, "husbands' night" was observed, and the evening was one of the most delightful of the club's many affairs.

A musical and literary program of more than usual excellence was given composed of the following numbers: "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," by the club and its guests; address of welcome, President Maude Manley; instrumental selection, Miss E. E. McIlwaine; song, "Where Do All the Daisies Go?" Madelyn Bogle; reading, original poem, "What is the Task That is Given to You?" Mrs. Vercie M. Kirk; violin solo, Mrs. W. E. Wilkins, accompanied by Mrs. Lillian Hudson; group of songs, "Treed" by Rasbach and "Birth of the Rainbow" by Woodman, Mrs. Theon Sebring, accompanied by Mrs. Hudson; reading, "Heard on the Beach," Mrs. Maude Manley; violin solo, with piano accompaniment, Mr. Walter Scott and Mrs. Hudson; reading, Mrs. Lena Marchand. In conclusion, Mrs. Geary, who was master of ceremonies thanked Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Amy for the use of the pier, offered to them because the rapid growth of the club made their quarters at Library hall too small.

Plans were discussed informally for the Hallowe'en Carnival which the Woman's Club will put on at Circle Park Oct. 31. Starting with a delicious home cooked supper at five which will feature all the time-honored harvest festival dishes, the evening will be one of fun and revelry. Candy booths, side shows, fortune telling booths, a fish pond, and candy booths will be in full swing, and a parade of maskers will form and march round the Circle to the music of the Sebring band. Prizes will be given for the most original costume, the most artistic one, the most ridiculous one and the best character impersonation. The different members of the club have been carrying on an extensive advertising campaign, and it is expected that a large crowd will enjoy the fun.

STATE AID IS PROMISED FOR "KEEPING" ROAD

HELP ON MAINTAINING DETOUR TO EAST COAST

Thirteen men, two trucks, a tractor and a grading machine with a bridge gang are at work putting the cross state detour via the Scenic Highway, DeSoto City and Bassenger, into shape for passage at the earliest possible moment following damage done to the grade by the recent heavy rains. Engineer J. W. Hawkins says it will be early next week before passage through will be possible.

Authority from Chairman H. B. Phillips of the state road department to put the machinery and ten men to work was received by Mr. Hawkins yesterday and he is busy today with the task.

Investigation after the close of the "rainy season" yesterday disclosed one gap of a hundred feet with others of from thirty to fifty which in view of high water on the prairie will require temporary bridges for crossing.

It may require a full week to finish the necessary work so that autos can get through, but Mr. Hawkins is rushing everything possible in the hope of saving every day's delay possible.

State aid in maintaining the detour to the east coast via DeSoto City and Bassenger, pending completion of the section of the Scenic Highway between Lake Annie and the Kissimmee river, has been pledged by Chairman H. B. Phillips of the state road department according to E. O. Douglas, of the bond trustees for the county road construction, who returned from Jacksonville where he laid the situation before the department.

The department's contracts call for completion of the Lake Annie stretch by December 1, but delays in material and the heavy rains will make the finishing date considerably later.

Chairman Phillips wired J. S. Hawkins, engineering, to furnish him with an estimate of what is needed and Mr. Hawkins after investigation has advised Mr. Phillips that a tractor, a couple of trucks and ten men will be able to maintain a fairly passable detour as soon as the rains halt. Mr. Phillips has replied to the effect that he will see what he can do.

The Connors highway engineers and road gangs are already on the ground. Fort Bassenger with huge bridge timbers and other materials and equipment for bridging breaks in the fill approach to the east end of the bridge over the Kissimmee which fill was under water yesterday as a result of the sudden rise of the river.

REALTY DEALS NEAR $300,000 MARK 3 WEEKS

WEST BEACH HOTEL IS BOUGHT BY ROUSE AND HOMES "MOVING"

Real estate transfers after a fortnight that passed the $200,000 mark are heading for the record month's total of the season here following another active week, which runs October's total close to $300,000 to date.

Judge D. V. Rouse announces the purchase of the West Beach Hotel on Lake Lotela for approximately $30,000, as the biggest transaction of the week in Avon Park. The hotel is a three wing building, with twenty-two rooms, handsomely furnished a scant year ago. The dance pavilion and board walk over the lake were only recently completed by the W. A. Hatchell who owned the property. Judge Rouse contemplates carrying forward the improvements planned by Mr. Hatchell which include another wing over the lake for the dining room. The grounds will also be landscaped immediately, according to Judge Rouse and experienced hotel help will be placed in charge.

With this sale went the bathing pier and two-deck pavilion that runs from the hotel porch into the lake, and Judge Rouse intends to popularize this feature.

Miss Margaretha Vogt, a grove owner here, who lives in Philadelphia has bought the pretty A. S. Francis bungalow on Lake avenue and will move to Avon Park late this fall to make her permanent home. She has a grove in the Hill Crest development and is enthusiastic over the prospects of the Ridge and its metropolis.

Twenty-five acres on the new state road, adjoining the Norton Smith property on Lake Isis and the road was purchased by W. P. Kennedy, E. P. Loomis and S. B. Galley from J. D. McEwen, the price for this setting a record for acreage in that vicinity of approximately $300 per acre. The buyers have no plans for immediate development but contemplate subdividing the tract sometime in the future.

Purchase of the H. E. Masters place on Lake Isis has been announced.

CHOOSE "SCENIC HIGHLANDER" FOR A. C. L.'S TRAIN

PUBLICITY SUGGESTED FOR ATLANTIC-GULF SCENIC HIGHWAY

With the arrangement of many details of interest to the entire Scenic Highlands to perfect, the Associated Boards of Trade of the Scenic Highlands met Tuesday noon in Sebring for luncheon and their regular meeting, Mr. and Mrs. Amy having opened the dining room before its regular season especially for the occasion.

Donations of fruit were asked by B. C. Riley of the University Extension Board to be used at an exhibit to be staged at Cleveland during the holiday season, which would give to the state valuable publicity, this met with universal approval, and a decision to co-operate with the extension board as far as possible. J. E. Worthington of Lake Wales asked each board of trade represented to send to W. F. Coachman, at his request, a picture of interest from its community, to be used in the souvenir booklet which the state would present to the governors of the union on their visit to Florida. He further suggested that the expense of making the cuts be shared by each community, since this visit of the country's state executives was to be in the nature of a complimentary trip.

A. P. Cody urged the popularizing of state road No. 8 by a system of advertising, to be started as the road was open to traffic. The desirability of turning the travel through this section on its cross-state tours was discussed, and the idea met with favor.

The special train to be put on by the A. C. L. R. R. between Haines City and Moore Haven, still unnamed by the Associated Board, was definitely named at Senator E. J. Etheridge's suggestion. The senator strongly objected to one suggestion, "The Highlander," claiming that the omission of the word Scenic from the name was a grave error, and he proposed "The Scenic Highlander," which was more descriptive than the former and less lengthy than the first proposed Scenic Highlands Special.

The discussion of a suitable slogan for the Scenic Highlands met with several good suggestions, none of which were formally adopted, though one offered by Gilbert Freeman, "The Scenic Highlands, Florida's Switzerland," seemed to hit the popular fancy. It was further urged that the name Scenic Highlands be substituted in every instance for the name Ridge, as being more appropriate and euphonic.

Madison Square Gardens and the all-Florida Fair to be put on there this winter was brought up, though here no action was taken. Mr. Cody spoke of the unusual publicity given the Scenic Highlands by the fact that during the recent storms the roads were not washed out as they had been in almost every other section.

The need for special school tax was stressed by Colonel Lawrence, and also the necessity for a state game and fish protective department. Both would meet with the appreciation and approbation of the visiting tourists of the better class, he urged, and for the sake of the good of the coming generation as well it should not be neglected.

Discussion over the green fruit shipping weed warns, the need for this evil it was agreed would be legislation and the strict enforcement of the law.

An invitation was given the Associated Board to attend the Highlands County Chamber celebration of the opening of the Scenic Highway on Oct. 30, at Lake Stearns, where a basket picnic and fish fry with plenty of good speakers would make the day a delightful one.

Haines City will entertain the next meeting of this body in January. Those present at the Sebring meeting were: C. D. Gunn and Dr. M. Sample of Haines City; J. E. Worthington and T. L. Wetmore of Lake Wales; T. Byron of Babson Park; A. P. Cody and J. Maxcy of Frostproof; George Kalloch, Mark Lance, Gilbert Freeman, and D. F. Canfield of Avon Park; Dr. E. J. Etheredge, Col. F. N. K. FERTILE VALLEY TOWNSITE ON BUCK ISLAND HIGH ABOVE WATER—ROAD IS PASSABLE

Everett Platte, dredging contractor, has returned from a trip to the south end of the county, especially on the state road work between Lake Annie and the river and reports that you can reach Fertile Valley by automobile, though beyond this new development on Buck Island there have been several gaps cut in the grade by washouts.

The Fertile Valley townsite on Buck Island, he reports, as well above the water, which is higher than it has been in years, and higher than will ever be possible as soon as the Indian Prairie Canal is cut through, which will be within the next ninety days, probably.

BUILDING WILL RUN TO $50,000 FOR FORTNIGHT

HALF DOZEN NEW HOMES UNDER WAY AT THIS TIME

Building operations are keeping pace with the real estate activity in the Ridge Metropolis, a half dozen new homes being under construction at this time, while one small apartment house, the citrus exchange packing house addition have been completed and a combination store and apartment is being completed, the cost of all approximating $50,000.

The lumber is being placed this week and work will begin at once on Commander T. DeF. Harris's handsome new $15,000 residence on Lake Lotela. Commander and Mrs. Harris hope to be in their lovely new home by Christmas.

Another new home under construction is that of Capt. Frank Rae, who is building a bungalow on Verona circle.

Glen H. Masters has bought a lot in Pinehurst, on the Sebring road, from Mark Lance and will build a pretty Spanish style bungalow home before winter.

J. C. Rampley plans to spent $1,000 to $1,500 finishing the H. E. Masters place on Lake Tulane.

A two-story residence is being constructed in Shadow Lawns by Floyd Hougaboom, while another similar residence in the same subdivision has just been completed for M. C. Lane.

W. T. Andrews is building a combination store and residence on Lake avenue across from Andrews filling station, and it is nearly ready for occupancy.

One of the most attractive additions to the housing facilities this fall is the compact three-apartment building erected on Tulane circle by Mrs. Lucy Crumley. This structure is one of the best arranged apartment houses to be found anywhere and is equipped with disappearing beds and other modern equipment. It is being furnished throughout and will be a welcome addition this winter in relieving the housing shortage.

The new addition to the exchange packing house, just completed, increases the capacity fifty per cent, and will enable the house to move three cars of fruit or more per day. It cost approximately $4,000.

Another new home is going up on Verona avenue for C. O. Bryant and will be ready for occupancy soon.

W. H. Woodruff is beginning work again on the two-story residence on Pleasant street which he began some time ago and suspended later. This residence will cost approximately $5,000 when completed.

OPEN PARK RIDGE TOWN-SITE WITH BARBECUE MON., OCT. 27

Everything is already completed for the big barbecue and celebration to mark the opening of the townsite of Park Ridge on the state road and the new Seaboard's cross state road between Avon Park and Frostproof, Monday.

The developers have taken steps to insure plenty to eat and, will also have a band on the grounds to help furnish amusement, and valuable prizes will be given away to those who attend the affair.

Formal opening of the townsite will be followed by the beginning of an auction sale at 10 o'clock. The opening and the sale has been widely advertised, page and half page ads being used in all the South Florida papers including the Tampa Tribune.

"We are going to put on the first unit of about 40 lots" at this time, said B. C. Bass, one of the developers. "Nothing else will be put on at this sale which is merely for the purpose of giving the home folks a chance to get in on the ground floor."

The first unit is a part of the business section and close in residence section, bordering along the state road and running a half mile south from the depot site. The lakefront residential section will not be put on the market until later.

"We intend to operate buses into this development as soon as the tourist season gets under way," said Mr. Bass. "We will bring crowds here from Tampa, Orlando, St. Petersburg and West Palm Beach. In affording the home folks this opportunity to get in first at their own prices we are merely attempting to show our gratitude for the many kindnesses which have been shown us by your people."

TO MAKE ARMISTICE DAY IN AVON PARK BIGGEST "TIME" EVER SEEN IN HIGHLANDS

Armistice day at its greatest will be found in Avon Park Nov. 11, according to the American Legion committeemen who are already progressing rapidly with their plans for the celebration of the big day in the Ridge metropolis. All the Scenic Highlands and adjacent country is to be invited to make merry with the local Legion post for that day and plans under way contemplate plenty for merrimaking.

There will be a carnival, free attractions, a prominent speaker and lots of other events which are being arranged for but which the committee chairmen say are not ready for announcements yet.

John Hood, Murray Whitehurst and Charlie Moffett comprise the program committee.

COUNCIL WILL PROVIDE CAMP FOR TOURISTS

SANITARY CONVENIENCES TO BE INSTALLED ON BALL GROUNDS

Motor tourists will find a well-equipped tourist camp in Avon Park after the first of the month, the city council having appropriated $300 for fixing up the oak grove about the present baseball field for a headquarters for motorists.

The site, with great spreading oaks is an ideal location for this purpose, affording luxuriant shade. It is well drained also, and only a block and a half from Main street, on Central avenue, which makes it convenient to the business section.

The council committee named by President M. C. Whitehurst includes: Councilmen C. H. Moffett, J. V. Chapman and Engineer J. E. Lacey. This committee is to immediately have erected a small structure to house comfort stations for men and women, shower baths, and other conveniences for the camp.

The location is considered for this year only, and the property is being donated to the city, though a proposition for its purchase by the city for a ball park and fair grounds has been submitted, and will be acted upon prior to the voting of the bond issue which provides $10,000 for fair grounds and ball park.

The offer of the Park Investment Company, which owns the tract, is to transfer the site to the city for $2,500 and the three houses and lots on Butler avenue owned by the city and a park area between the two railroad rights of way and just west of the city jail.

Should the site be purchased for a fair grounds and ball park, the money the city is spending for cesspool, showers and other plumbing will be that much towards completion of the new plant.

There are about eight or nine acres in the site, and should it be selected Avon Park will have the most centrally located ball field and fair grounds in the state, the nearest approach for desirable location being the Tampa fair grounds.

CHICAGO CAPITALIST INVESTS

J. H. N. Hudson, manager of the purchasing department for Crane & Company, huge plumbing and pipe supply house of Chicago, spent three days in the Ridge metropolis and invested here before leaving for a tour of the east coast, after which he returned to locate in Florida. He was so impressed with the Highlands and the prospects for Avon Park, that he remained over until he could arrange for an initial investment.

Mr. Hudson came south with H. A. Winter, who he met while Mr. Winter was vacationing in the north.

SCENIC HIGHLANDER NEW A. C. L. TRAIN TO START NOVEMBER 17

BRYSON SETTLES $15,000 UNDER SUBMITTED BILL

TAKES $30,000 AFTER BROWNE'S REPORT IS HEARD

Compromising on $20,000 as a settlement for road construction under the contract between the Bryson Paving Company and the county, a contract under which the Bryson Company packs up and leaves was signed by the commissioners and bond trustees and a check for $30,000 was delivered to Mr. Bryson. This leaves in the bond funds for the main road, according to C. E. Lanier, of the bond trustees, approximately $45,000.

The negotiations for a settlement reached the climax Tuesday morning when the county's engineer, Major C. A. Browne submitted his report showing that the county owed Mr. Bryson $25,525.36 after deductions for faulty work and withholding the entire cost of the surfacing on the stretch between Sebring and the tank. Mr. Bryson's bill was $45,765.14, not including the material for which he asked $8,357.57. Finally he agreed to retain the material on hand and stand by a settlement of $45,765.14.

It was brought out by questioning Major Browne that while he had recommended withholding the entire cost of the surfacing on the Tank stretch, an expenditure of approximately $500 by the county would make the surfacing perfectly O. K.

In executive session the commissioners and bond trustees threshed the matter out and when Mr. Bryson was called to the commissioners session again he was offered $30,000 to call it square.

"Cash," inquired Mr. Bryson after a few minutes of consideration.

"Sure," shot back Chairman William King.

"I'll take it," was Mr. Bryson's reply, the voucher was made out and signed and Chairman Lanier, of the bond trustees gave Mr. Bryson a check for the $30,000 a few seconds later.

In figuring his total, Major Browne's report showed deductions of $3,418 for the surface on the Tank stretch; $3,600 on the stretch south of Sebring; $3,380 for scarifying on Project No. 4 and $2,595 because the base was not a full six inches on Project No. 5.

The final settlement, according to Major Browne, "is the best piece of trading the county has ever done," said Chairman King. It is a settlement on the county's own figures, substantiated by Major Browne's survey of the program.

Rigdon Elected as President of Bank Hardee Co. nty Seat

Ira Rigdon, vice-president and director of the Highlands Bank and Trust Company of Sebring, was elected to the presidency and directorship of the Hardee County Bank & Trust Company of Wauchula, and has left to take up his duties in that institution. Mr. Rigdon has been active in civic affairs of Sebring and Highlands county, having served efficiently as bond trustee for the county road funds.

Though they are not severing all ties and still are largely interested in property holdings in Sebring, they will make their home in Wauchula. Mrs. Rigdon will leave at the end of the week.

Mr. Rigdon is well known throughout the banking circle of South Florida, having served as president of the Sebring Bank at Zolfo and State Bank of Boca Grande, besides holding positions of trust and honor with the Fidelity Trust Company at Punta Gorda and Avon Park as well as in this city.

COMPLETING PLANS FOR BIG ROAD CELEBRATION AND EATS AT LAKE STEARNS OCT. 30

Plans for the celebration of the opening of the north and south road through Highlands county at Lake Stearns Oct. 30 are rapidly taking final shape too, according to Secretary Frank P. Burch of the Highlands county chamber of commerce.

Arrangements for the barbecue have been completed and Lake Stearns folks who have charge of this item say it will be worth coming to, not to mention the pleasure of being able to ride over a hard surfaced road all the way.

Shelter has been provided in case of inclement weather and plans for buses to bring folks down from nearby cities are being laid by the developers of the Lake Stearns townsite. It is hoped to secure the Avon Park band for this occasion to provide music during the day which will also be a sort of rally day meeting for the Highlands County Chamber of Commerce.

Jimmy Gheen, Cecil R. Phillips, M. M. Smith and Jack Hughes will be the speakers. Mr. Gheen is extension manager for the state chamber of commerce; Mr. Phillips, field agent

PUTS AVON PARK AS NEAR JACKSONVILLE AS IS TAMPA

DIRECT CONNECTIONS TO POINTS TO NORTH

Chair Car Promised When Craig Visited Section Recently

November 17 will mark the first run of the Scenic Highlander, the Atlantic Coast Line's new de luxe train serving the Scenic Highlands and connecting at Haines City with the Tampa Special offering direct through service to Jacksonville and points north, east and west. The schedule of the train brings Avon Park ten minutes closer to Jacksonville than Tampa is, with Sebring only thirty minutes further away and Frostproof, Lake Wales and other Ridge cities closer still by from thirty minutes to an hour.

The schedule for this new train calls for leaving Jacksonville at 9 a. m. after all morning trains are in, passing through Haines City at 2:40 p. m.; Lake Wales, 3:15; Avon Park, 4:00 and arriving at Sebring at 4:25. The north bound schedule is to leave Sebring at 11:46 a. m.; Avon Park, 12:10 p. m.; Lake Wales 12:55; Haines City 1:30 and Jacksonville, 7:25 p. m., making direct connections with all trains north.

When J. W. Craig, passenger traffic manager was in the Scenic Highlands two months ago, he promised this section a train that would be as fast as any service into Florida and with the very best connections possible. He also agreed to name it whatever the Associated Boards of Trade of the Scenic Highlands suggested.

The name "Scenic Highlander" was given the train at yesterday's meeting of the governors of the Associated Boards, and all Coast Line literature will carry this name.

A chair car and other de luxe equipment will be on this train, while at Jacksonville, connections include the list of famous trains operated to the gateway by the Atlantic Coast Line, the Seaboard, the Southern, the combination trains and other service.

This new train makes pretty close connections in Haines City both to and from Tampa also eliminating long layovers on both the trips to Jacksonville and north as well as to Tampa and points south, while for service to Bartow, Fort Meade, Arcadia, Wauchula, Fort Myers and points south, there will not be even a change of cars at Haines City, as this train goes from Haines City to Fort Myers via Winter Haven.

PHILLIPS ORGANIZES HIGHLANDS CHAPTER FOR GAME CONSERVATION

Cecil R. Phillips, state field agent of the Florida Fish and Game association, succeeded in forming a Highlands county association with a large enough membership to send two delegates to the special convention to be held in Kissimmee during the month of February, at which time the legislative committee will present its state-wide game and fresh water bill for the convention to accept or reject before it is finally finished before its presentation to the 1925 session of the legislature. Many of the state senators and representatives will be present at this meeting.

Mr. Phillips spoke to a representative gathering of men and women in Circle Park, telling them of the necessity of the perfecting of this protective association. He compared the prevalence of game and fish in the early days of Florida before the advent of the commercial fish dealer and the market hunter of game. He urged that proper legislation be enacted, and that the protection of game and fish be divorced from politics. He presented the need for a state game department, telling his hearers to ask their representative for it.

He told of other states which had reaped benefits from the creation of such a department, and of the approval and co-operation of real sportsmen who recognized its value. During the thirty years that Pennsylvania has had this protection for her fish and game, it has netted the state $150,000,000. Fish and game preserves have added to the natural resources of the state, and determination, which is now facing Florida, was averted.

He explained the present system of county taxing, whereby each hunter pays many times over what a state licence would be, without giving the game the protection which its preservation and propagation demands. The audience was intensely interested and greeted his talk with applause at frequent intervals.

This department, he explained, would be self-supporting, and therefore would not add one cent to the taxes. With such a department under operation, Florida would, he concluded, within a few years be recognized as one of the greatest if not the greatest fish and game state in the union.

UNITED WE STAND DIVIDED WE FALL

(Editorial Lake City Reporter, Sept. 26, 1924)

(Published in Tampa Tribune Oct. 12, 1924)

The proposed amendment of Article VIII of the Constitution of Florida relative to Duval County and Jacksonville should receive serious consideration from the voters of the state of Florida.

Part of the proposed amendment is as follows:

"Section 9. The Legislature shall have the power to establish, change and abolish a local government extending territorially throughout Duval County in the place of all county, district, municipal and local governments, boards, bodies and officials, constitutional or statutory, legislative, executive or judicial, and shall prescribe the jurisdiction, powers, duties and functions of such government, its legislative, executive and judicial departments, and its boards, bodies and officials."

No more radical change in government would be conceivable than that which could be established under this proposed amendment.

It appears from the amendment that the power may be exercised of creating the office of governor of Duval County, a house of representatives [illegible] and a supreme court of Duval County.

It is inconceivable that the people of the State of Florida will grant any such authority to the Legislature by adopting this amendment to the Constitution. It is not believed that the people of Duval County wish any such amendment to be adopted.

The framers of this proposed amendment probably conceived that if the people of Florida would allow Duval County to be an independent state, then the taxpayers of that territory would escape their just proportion of taxation for state purposes.

Duval County should not be allowed to secede from the state government, but should remain as a sister county, and should bear her proportional part of taxation.—Adv.
