

BARBECUE DRAWS HUNDREDS TO LAKE STEARNS

COUNTY CHAMBER MEET FINDS HIGHWAY NEARLY "DONE"

With the air full of the exhilaration that is a part of a perfect blue and gold fall day in Florida, the large oak grove adjoining the Driggers place in Lake Stearns was the scene Thursday of a barbecue of the Highlands County citizens, who had gathered to celebrate the completion of the scenic highway. An appetizing dinner of fried fish and barbecued meat with trimmings, including piping hot coffee, greeted the visitors, and the dinner hour was a delightful one. The women had a variety of cakes, pies and cold drinks which they sold from a booth for the raising of funds for a community Christmas tree. This was well patronized, the unusual excellence of the food-making the stand a popular one.

Directly following the dinner, the meeting of the county chamber of commerce was called to order by Dr. E. J. Etheridge, the president, and business of importance was hurriedly discussed and finished, to allow ample time for the speakers of the day.

Various offers from other organizations of free publicity were made, among them one from the Seaboard Air Line Railway asking for a display to be displayed in the window of the Buffalo Courier-Inquirer, W. J. Conner's paper, and the U. S. of F. requested citrus fruit for exhibition and distribution at a fair to be held in Cleveland between the holidays.

The delay in the completion of the scenic highway was explained by the recent severe rains, and in this connection, the county chamber of commerce resolution of appreciation to the contractor for his co-operation in putting traffic over the unfinished portion the day of the celebration to the Seaboard road of trade, especially W. J. Amy, and the other individuals through whose efforts the cross-state highway in this county was kept passable during the floods.

A communication from the Florida Automobile Association expressed thanks for the county road building which had been issued during the worst of the road trouble.

The Fair County Board reported through D. F. Canfield that arrangements had been made with J. G. Smith, instructor in vocational agriculture in the county's high schools, to draw up a schedule of prizes for certain produce grown in the county which will be ready to enter at the South Florida Fair at Tampa.

The committee, which consists of B. L. Laird, D. F. Canfield, Harry Stodden, J. W. Geary and A. McAlauay, is meeting regularly now in preparing for the exhibit.

$25 for Slogan
After some discussion, the slogan committee, consisting of T. V. Conway, D. F. Canfield, A. McAlauay and Mrs. N. V. Canfield, decided to offer a prize of $25 to the person anywhere in the county who will suggest a slogan for the county that will finally be adopted by the committee. The time limit for receiving answers is Jan. 15, 1925 at noon.

The giving of full fruit free of charge to tourists, rather than to persons who commercialize them, was urged. Compulsory physical examination of school children was discussed, the need for a county nurse stressed, and the question of leaving over a given over to a committee composed of Col. F. N. K. Bailey, Rev. J. L. Moore and Dr. H. K. Kirby.

Senator E. J. Etheridge spoke on the anti-inheritance tax amendment, showing the great gain its passage would bring to the state of Florida. He also spoke for the ratification of the school tax amendment.

Frank Whitman, managing editor of the Florida Grower, was introduced by the chair as the best known and best loved man, and one of the most accomplished fishing lars extant.

"Envy" quoted Mr. Whitman, "loves a shining car." He confessed to being rather behind of the appellation, and freely admitted that he had occasionally, though only under stress of circumstances and undue provocation.

He contrasted the "pretty" road over which he had come to this celebration with the "pretty" town he had used on former occasions, noting in all seriousness of hitting a bear right in the road on a previous visit, because of the inconsiderate travel over the original so-called road.

He spoke of his joy in his work, meeting friends, fishing a little and writing a little. He touched on the article he was writing for the Highlands County Chamber of Commerce, and the ease with which a writer could become ensnared over giving publicity to so inspiring a subject. He urged the county organization and the citizens to be as well as to focus their thoughts and endeavors on getting nothing less than the best results in every county undertaking.

Coolidge is Named President and Tax Amendment Carries

FLORIDA BANS INCOME AND INHERITANCE LEVIES

Calvin Coolidge has been elected president and Florida has forever banned the income tax and inheritance tax as a source of Florida levy. The amendment with the amendment permitting school bonds up to 20 percent of the assessed valuation, limiting the tax on intangible property to $5 mills, and reappointing the state were carried, Highlands County voting up a big majority for all four of these amendments, while also the remainder of Florida is voted two to three to one against Coolidge. Sebring was the only Highlands county precinct to give Coolidge a majority, though he was very strong in Avon Park. The Duval county amendment was voted down in this county, but support elsewhere may carry it.

The entire Florida democratic ticket was elected, by majorities doubting that given Davis, the state republican ticket receiving only a handful of votes in the various precincts.

BEGIN PAVING PROGRAM IN LAKE STEARNS

FOUR MILES STARTED—TWO-WAY BOULEVARD BEAUTIFIED

Work on the street paving program that includes four miles of streets has begun under the direction of the W. J. Dryson Paving Company who were awarded the contract by the Tropical Investment Company, owners of the townsite. Included is a double boulevard through the new city, affording one way traffic on the main highway which is also State Road No. 8, to the south.

Between the two ribbons of asphalt is a sixty-foot park which has already been planted to flowers, shrubs, vines and trees giving some idea of the city beautiful plan that the developers have in mind for the entire townsite.

The streets to be paved include Main, Interlake, Park, Bellevue, Hibiscus, Joyal, Palm, Washington and Dean boulevard.

Meanwhile plans for an aggressive sales campaign for the new city have been worked out and one of the finest offices in the state is being opened in St. Petersburg by Henry and Kirkpatrick, who have the sales rights in the new city for this season.

Automobiles in fleets will make the trip from the Sunshine City daily, via Fort Meade, Avon Park and Sebring. R. C. Kirkpatrick who comes to Florida from Atlanta, Ga., to make Lake Stearns the best known development in this section this season.

Their new offices are at No. 714 Central avenue in St. Petersburg and from both the avenue and an arcade. Attractive surroundings and conveniences are arranged for the preparatory for the rush season. Orange Tavern is being completely renovated and refurnished. An experienced hotel man is to be secured to operate this house for the coming season and it will be modernized throughout. The hotel has eighteen rooms and is being given some of the state road on the boulevard leading to the lake from which the town gets its name.

WINNERS

Biggest Celebration in Ridge History Armistice Day Plans

HIGHLANDS POST OF THE LEGION PUTTING ON BIG CARNIVAL

ETHERIDGE WILL BE SPEAKER OF THE DAY

Parade at 2 o'clock, with Prizes for Best Decorated Cars, Opens Program

The largest celebration ever held in this section of the state is being planned by Highlands Post, American Legion of Avon Park for Armistice Day. It was this post that won the Joe Cheney Trophy offered during the year's membership drive that placed the Florida Department at the head of the National Department and their colors led the great parade at the national convention held this year in St. Paul. With such a record of achievement it is known that any celebration that they undertake will be as good as any can be made.

The program outlined for the day will open with a parade at 2 o'clock, followed by a band concert and public speaking until 2:30 when carnival will be opened which will last well into the evening. Senator Etheridge will deliver the main address. At the carnival will be found every known device for the amusement of those who attend, including such as the games of Bingo, Spot the Spot, Big Tom, with plenty of gold bricks, hot dogs, cold drinks, etc. Everybody who attends this carnival will find something that will amuse them and there will be something doing all the time.

Preparations are being made by the city, residents, and officials to take care of the largest crowd that has ever visited this city and every comfort and protection will be provided.

The plans for the parade include a decorated automobile section for which prizes of $15, $10, and $5 in cash have been offered.

ORDER DELINQUENT TAX ADVERTISED—GIVE BANK $125 AND TO CLEAN PARK

Decision to give the Avon Park band $125 per month was reached by the city council at Monday night's regular monthly session. While the present council's life expires in December following the general election Nov. 24, the act probably will be accepted by the new council and the appropriation continued.

The contribution is without strings and it seems fit, said Fred M. Smith in making the comment for the band pointed out that some of the members would be paid something for the new council and that new instruments and new music would be bought.

There has also been some talk of increasing the number of concerts from one to two per week during the winter months, though nothing definite has been promised by the bandsmen.

The council also ordered the clerk to advertise the delinquent tax list of the city.

Chairman Cloud of the street committee was instructed to put another man on the park work.

SEND DOUGLAS WITH ETHERIDGE TO RUSH ROAD 8

ALTYATER, MANLEY, AMY, LAWRENCE AND SEBRING ON BOARD DIRECTORS

After deciding to send a man to Tallahassee to push for more help in building the Lake Annie link of State Road No. 8, the Sebring Board of Trade Wednesday night elected five directors for the ensuing year. They are as follows: A. C. Altwater, W. J. Amy, A. E. Lawrence, Frank Manley, George E. Sebring, Jr. These in turn will select four or five governors, who will constitute the governing body, and elect a president, vice-president and treasurer at an early date.

The trade body will send E. O. Douglas, one of the Highlands county bond trustees, and the man who has been instrumental in securing more for good roads than probably any other man in the county, to Tallahassee to ask state aid in the completion of the Lake Annie-Kissimmee road stretch of state highway No. 8. The desperate need for cross-state transportation because of the serious road difficulties brought on by the heavy rains, makes some step of this kind imperative, and it is hoped that aid can be secured. Senator E. J. Etheridge, as a representative from the county commissioner will accompany him.

Secretary W. J. Amy reported that the new grade from DeSoto City to the Kissimmee river will be ready by the end of the month.

MOVE AHEAD WITH THE JOB OF BUILDING CITY NORTH OF AVON PARK

STREET PAVING IN PARK RIDGE, NEW FILLING STATION, NEW STORE BUILDING AND BEAUTIFICATION ARE BEING RUSHED

Progress at the task of city building is moving rapidly at Park Ridge. Following the placing of the second unit on the market at auction this week, resulting in eighteen sales of lots, the city is now in the process of promoting new development in the heart of the scenic Highlands—seven miles north of Avon Park on the new state road and on the new cross state railroads.

Paving crews are busy and more than a mile of streets has already been opened, while the work is being rushed on other streets.

While the workmen are rearing the new two-story facade building to house a filling station and automobile accessories establishment, the foundation for the first store building is being laid and a concrete structure 25x60 feet and two stories high will soon be opened with a stock of goods on the first floor and a hotel on the second.

Beautification of the main highway through the new townsite is also being begun, the ground being prepared for planting of palms and hibiscus all the way on both sides of the highway through the new town.

Preparations to carry the sales campaign for this development to all south Florida are being made this week—establishment of Mrs. Lloyd Sebring in charge of F. H. Lloyd having been announced, while an office will be secured in Frostproof before this week closes.

Other cities will also have local representatives of the sales force which the Park Ridge Development Company is building up to put the town over big this winter.

The park area—of which there are 35 acres in the townsite—has been cleaned out and underbrush removed, displaying the natural charms of the location. All the parks set aside are high oak hammocks and afford the most beautiful park possibilities in the state.

Pictures of the artist's conception of Park Ridge have been made and are being displayed in the various stores and homes. The original picture was painted by J. M. Thompson after viewing the location.

HIGHLANDS TO BE A DIVISION OF THE A. A. A.

OFFICERS WILL BE IN AVON PARK, SEBRING AND DEBOTO CITY

With the establishment here last week of three Florida Automobile Instructors—each one in the Highlands, one in the Chamber of Commerce at Sebring, and the third at DeSoto City, Highlands county goes into a new era. The Florida Automobile Association, affiliated with the A. A. A., as the Highlands County Instructors, and the state membership now being built up in the county will be entitled to all the benefits, privileges and services of the state Automobile Association and automatically become members of the American Automobile Association, the largest and most influential organization in the United States. This action followed the appearance and address of the Jacksonville secretary of the Florida Automobile Association before the members of the Highlands County Chamber of Commerce, their annual picnic, and further conferences with committees interested in the greater consolidation of the two organizations.

The organization of Highlands county into a division of the Florida Automobile Association, which is a step of progress, on the thousands of automobiles which are now applied to for license in every state where the association is supporting counties, and through Florida. In his address before the Lake Stearns picnic Secretary Hughes pointed with pride to the consolidation on the motor road, and the fact that the county under the great state's banner will be assured that the service being rendered to the tourist will be of the highest quality. He stated that the Florida Automobile Association, which is a step of progress, on the thousands of automobiles which are now applied to for license in every state where the association is supporting counties, and through Florida. By way of illustration, the new F. A. A. secretary-manager pointed to the historic growth of California, declaring that some 122,000 members in the Southern California Motor Club, a state-wide organization operating on the same principle, had contributed unmeasurably to the result. "The service and value of the California association is historic," he said, "and we hope to build here in Florida within the next two years the same invaluable service to the wide awake development of Florida."

The work done during the recent floods by the Florida Automobile Association, in keeping the roads open, he said, "When an abnormal rainfall occurred in Florida, the press told us that it was a miracle, but in many instances it was a year before the impression that Florida was such a state was corrected. Your association has employed every legitimate agency, the greatest of which is the daily press, to advise the world that Florida was again here and dry within thirty days after the most unprecedented deluge that that damage to the roads was so great in repair it would be a matter of a few days before they were repaired and normal traveling conditions were restored. It is a chain of hard surfaced highways through the state."

He stated that President M. M. Smith, of the Florida Association, for his courage and vision in standing by the state during the worst years of rain and hard knocks. "Mr. Smith," he declared, "had gone down into his (Continued on Page Nine)

Sallie's Temptations

"In Which She Is Piqued"

After the hop at Marrancas, I woke early next morning. The group of casement windows that faced me were changed into one great splotch of blue-like stained church-glass windows. Slipping into my negligee I ran over and looked out at the recreation of the morning. It was the time of day when all little things are stirring. I could hear the first shy twittering of the birds in the tropical slender trees that reached up to the window; their tops all ending in clusters of sheen-pink blossoms. Leaning out I caught one in my fingers and the tug at its stem aroused its companion flowers who sent up a sea of fragrance and I drank in their sweetness.

It was chilly, my chiffon negligee was too thin for the early morning. I looked about for something with more warmth to put about my shoulders and seeing my evening wrap on a chair where I had flung it a few hours earlier, I wrapped it around me snugly and setting down in the silken pillows of the window seat, resumed my dreaming. Everything out of doors was so fresh and lovely, the sparkling dewdrops making the blades of grass and trees resplendent. Suddenly I was conscious of an intruding odor—that was not the dainty fragrance of the oleander—no, it was stale and heavy. It came from the remains of several cigarettes in a near-by receiver.

They seemed to have no part in the picture and I flung them far out the window. But somehow the spell was broken and thoughts of the dance came surging. I remembered Warren Fisher and felt a wave of embarrassment. After his wife had treated me so cold, I lost interest in the party. It wasn't that I cared about his being married, for I realized that the attraction I had left for him was superficial, but I resented being placed in the position of having Mrs. Fisher think I was mad about her good-looking husband. Well, I was not mad about him, had not been mad about him, and never would be, for that matter.

Right at that moment there was only one person I wanted to see. That was Curtis Wright, and with the thought of him I became very lonely. He was so different from the other men with their "hot-lines," as Ellie called them. If he ever fell in love with a girl it would be the big love of his life, the one real, living, throbbing adventure, and he'd be true to her in thought and deed—not a flirt like Warren Fisher. And yet, he hated flappers. I wondered if I had been reared in a different environment if I could have been the dream-girl he wanted.

If my mother had lived I would not have been a flapper. She was attractive and charming and could be frivolous, and yet she had a depth of mind unlike most of my friends' mothers and a yearning for mental attainment. She had wanted me to be accomplished and urged me to study art and go on with my music. With your mind full of interesting and beautiful things you won't be caught in the maerstrom that's coming. I could hear her saying. I wondered if she meant jazz and cocktail parties and petting. If she had not been taken away maybe I would have been Curtis Wright's first love. And with his name on my breath—I slipped down into the pillows and in a few moments was dozing.

Late that afternoon, still more or less subdued from my thoughts of the morning, I wandered away from the rest of the crowd and sat alone on the terrace overlooking the unruffled surface of the azure water. Cato, one of the Japanese servants, brought me a telegram and a square box from the florist's. I opened the wire.

"When a woman has a man in for Sunday night supper she's nothing short of designing," Marjorie. It was just like Marj to do that. She didn't realize how I had begun to feel about the ally bet we had made in the beginning and I understood the spirit of fun in which she had sent it. I re-read the words; a dull, slow emotion surged over me and I realized that I hated Anne Coddington. For the first time in my life I was jealous. So they had been together Sunday night—Anne and Curtis. . . . people would begin linking their names together. I was piqued and my rage mounted higher and higher.

I tore the string from the box and it was full of orchids. The card was flippant:

"Am completely surrounded by the Germans. Otherwise I would be as near as these flowers which I beseech you to wear this evening. Other days stretch forth with promise. The thought is distant, but it brings warmth to a lonely heart. Warren."

"The Germans"—he meant his wife. I had been told that he had married her for her money and that she watched him with suspicion. They were spending the winter at one of the pretty homes on the bay-shore and his escapades were the talk of Pensacola. "The Germans"—I smiled and reread the last part of the message. Since hearing about Anne and Curtis Wright I liked Warren Fisher. What difference did it make if he did flirt? He made love exquisitely. "Curtis Wright could take unpopular Anne Coddington and go to the devil!" I murmured, and skipped back into the living room where Ellie was moving about making light shine softly from lovely lamps in far corners.

"Where've you been, Sallie? Not mooning. She called to me gaily; the boys are in from the links and have been screaming for the life of the party. Here they are now."

And with their arrival came Cato with his magical tray of cocktails and in a few moments the room resounded with good natured small-talk and laughter.

"It's a good thing Mother and Dad are in Cuba," laughed Ellie as one of the boys, who had been drinking a lot, began snapping the fragile stems of the glasses.
"Hope they like the climate so well they'll stay there forever," responded the destroyer.

"Here's hoping they won't come back before mornin'!" another began singing.
And still another: "Tell you what let's do, let's all stay up all night, shoot crap, play poker and have a reg'lar all night party. We'll go into town for ham an' when day is dawning."

"I've a better idea than that," Judith McLean suggested. It's wilder. Judith couldn't drink very much and I noticed her eyes were stary.
(To Be Continued Next Week)

YEARS only make possible the true perspective of civilization's progress. As yet we are unable to know the importance of that memorable day in 1918, when guns were stilled and a world rejoiced in a signed armistice. We do know, however, that the great conflict was not in vain—that a more intelligent world was taught anew the utter uselessness of war—and progress, to this extent, was achieved. * * * The blood of our sons was the price paid. This year—or any year—we cannot fail to bow in sacred reverence to the living and dead who gave their all in that great war that right might triumph and prevail.

MRS. STEBBINS HOSTESS AT PRETTY BRIDGE PARTY

One of the prettiest bridge parties of the season was that given last Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Gilbert Stebbins at her home on Lake avenue. The room was elegantly decorated in shades of orange and yellow and cut out to add to the attractiveness of the card tables as did the beautiful table centerpieces in owl and black and white design done on a background of orange.

The afternoon was delightfully spent with a number of progressions of bridge and when time was called every one was asked to look for the lucky lallies, the winning owl and black cat. These were held by Mrs. E. Winter and Mrs. A. H. Able and they were presented with a guest room water set and a flower bowl of beautiful water respectively.

At the tea hour Mrs. Stebbins served her guests with chicken salad, oysters, hot rolls, coffee and devil's food cake. The favors were little Halloween baskets filled with salted almonds.

Playing bridge was: Mesdames H. A. Whiter, L. Rumpus, W. M. Reek, Gilbert Freeman, S. H. Hart, W. C. Touchton, Norton Smith, C. S. Donaldson, C. E. Lanier, J. D. Raab, Carlos Skipper, R. E. Swearingen, Caroline Graves, E. P. Loomis, Neel Trent, A. H. Able, McKee Elwell, Murray Whitehurst and Miss Nan Straubel.

Joining the card players for tea were Mrs. J. V. Chapman, Mrs. J. L. Cloud, Mrs. I. C. M. Ellenberger, and Mrs. Jas. B. Waller.

The Wonder Picture of the Season

Milton Sills and Enid Bennett with a Superb Supporting Cast

A Love Story of a Mighty Pirate Chieftain

"The Sea Hawk" is the romantic story of a pirate chief of the Barbary coast, a rover of the seas and of all lands, a man of unexpressed loves and hates, a fighting corsair and a mighty ruler of men.

Here is a picture of force, vivid coloring, a story of amazing adventure and tense dramatic action, a superb and thrilling epic of the screen.

Believing that you will be interested in the important facts of so spectacular a production, First National Pictures, Inc., presents this booklet with its high lights on the picture—with its intimate insight into the personalities and things that made a production of such magnitude possible.

With the last click of the camera, sixty-four thousand feet of scenes had been photographed for "The Sea Hawk." Scenes of sea battles, fights on land, thousands of warriors in action at sea, thrilling scenes, galley ships putting out and coming home, tense moments, romantic nights in England; scenes of splendor, paintings of unusual beauty in Algeria, and as beautiful as these the rolling sea under a full moon, photographed in long shots, close-ups, three-quarter shots, soft focus effects, clear black and white. Then the task of assembling all this, fitting it and cutting it down to twelve thousand feet. Some uncutting, but wonderfully well done.

A complete city had to be erected to house the thousands of players, artists and workmen. It was 40 miles from the nearest source of supply and consisted of 150 big tents each equipped with electric lights, bureaus, mirrors, hospital cots, chairs and blankets. A mess hall accommodating 700 men was in charge of first visit, commissary chiefs and 18 assistants. An assembly hall with nightly orchestras, concerts, radio, wrestling matches and boxing bouts supplied entertainment. Bake-up tents, barber shop, canteen, hospital tent, wardrobe building, bath house, film vault and executive office, all went to make the camp a city complete.

Another stupendous task was the building of four ships of the sixteenth century type. These had to be seaworthy and staunch enough to clash in battle. Three shifts of workmen including carpenters, riggers, caulkers, iron workers, fitters, draftsmen and painters worked 80 days and nights in the construction. The boats ranged in size from 102 to 192 feet long and 105 feet to the top mast. Each carried from 100 to 450 sailors, fighting men and galley slaves, and 50 cannon.

Matinee and Night

AT THE AVOLON, NOVEMBER 15

Scene From "THE WARRENS OF VIRGINIA"

It means something to win a "first" in the pig club contests at the Florida State Fair, if you would judge by the happy expression on this young man's countenance. And when you come to think of it this juvenile "pork producer" means something for his state—he and the many other members of his organization, the Boys' Pig Club have brought and introduced on Florida farms more than $150,000 worth of pure bred stock since the work was started in the state.

Never "Something for Nothing" Nearer Perfect Right Returns A Surprise for Elijah. No Population Scare.

Charles Fox offers to the United States Government an engine that "consumes no gas or other fuel and runs forever."
The inventor says, "You just start her up and let her flicker," and he thinks it will bring millions. It won't bring a cent. A Power wiser than Charles Fox, wiser even than Calvin Coolidge, won't allow us to get a "something for nothing." That would be bad for us. Therefore there is no perpetual motion, nothing worth having, for which we don't give effort and value in return.

It pays to develop a perfect thing from cow to radio. Mrs. H. McK. Twombly, of New Jersey, owns a Guernsey named Langwater Fairy, No. 9792. She looks like any other cow, but gives three times as much milk, four and a half times as much butter fat as the average cow. Her amazing record just announced is 13,605 pounds of butter fat in one year. In that kind of prosperity there is no speculation, no manipulating, just plain, simple production of wealth through intelligent attention to breeding.

Daily the radio offers something new. This time it is "broadcasting" church music for rural weddings. The bride, trembling, will give the last poke at her hair, the last tug at her veil. The sexton will "tune in," and up she will march, in her magnificent, N. J., to the tune of "Faithful and True," played in Chicago, Ill.

Florida says, "Come." The rich will answer, "I'm hurrying." Have you an income? Florida offers you attractions over and above the fine climate. Florida intends to put into her constitution a provision that will exempt incomes and inheritances from all taxation. This is intended as "a courtesy to prosperous people from the North."

They will appreciate it. No death tax on inheritance, no State tax on income. Oh, joy! Oh, rapture! Florida says, "Come to Florida. Here your income is all yours to spend. We chop off nothing and your heirs get all you leave them when you die. We won't tax dead men."

A long time ago Elijah "took hold of his own clothes and rent them in two pieces," when he saw Elijah go up in "a chariot of fire and horses of fire."

What are Elijah and Elijah, now in heaven, saying to each other as they see the Right Reverend Harold Roberts Carson, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Haiti, Daimly riding from one parish to another in a flying machine? The navy lends him the flying machine and his visits places otherwise inaccessible. All that men can IMAGINE they can do.

Dr. Pearl, professor of biometry and vital statistics at Johns Hopkins, says our population will be 107,000,000 in the year 2100. That will be our maximum and then will come a decline.

With all due respect to the learned professor, any child could make as good a guess.

Dr. William Allen Pusey recently told the American Medical Association that population would reach 175,000,000. And with that density of population, the pressure of existence will become so strong that the death rate, particularly infant mortality, will overtake the birth rate.

That is another poor guess. Under intensive cultivation, as it is now understood, the State of Texas alone could feed the earth's entire population, and that is at least sixteen hundred millions.

There will be a thousand million human beings in THIS country, infinitely happier, richer, better off in every way, than any population that ever has lived.

In 124 years, since 1800, our population has risen from 5,000,000 to 112,000,000. What is the use of guessing what will happen in the next 120 years? It would have been impossible to guess how many people this country could feed before harvesting machinery was invented. Impossible before the arrival of the tractor.

Lack of food won't limit population. Men's brains will always provide for their stomachs. But a higher race will gradually produce fewer children.

Disease breeding cities will be broken up by the flying machine, taking us to live on mountain tops, where there is fresh air. These mountains are not to be forever uninhabited.

own pocket to keep the association alive; but his reward is now at hand—others with courage and faith in the work, in Florida's needs, and those who believe in the state's great future have cast their support into the present movement and the association at this time is over the top and a strong, going concern of everlasting value.

KENILWORTH IS BEING PREPARED FOR BIG SEASONDEGERING SAYS BIGGEST SEASON TO FIND HOTEL AT ITS BEST

With the first searching northeast wind, and the flurry of snow in the early dawns, the thoughts of the tourist who has once spent a winter in Florida, turn to the balmy year round sunning of this semi-tropical state.

When the oranges begin to turn to gold, and the new family of mocking birds in the moss-hung oak begin to try out their silvery, quavery first little songs, all Florida knows that it will soon welcome back its winter visitors. Everywhere activities are directed toward the entertainment of these hundreds of thousands Florida enthusiasts whose plans are now being perfected for a winter of pleasure and release from the rigorous climate.

Kenilworth Lodge on beautiful Lake Jackson is receiving its final touches, preparatory not only to the entertainment of the regular clientele but also for the housing of the governors of forty-one states in the union who will be the over-night guests at the Kenilworth on Nov. 21. The floors have been given their last rub to mirror-like smoothness, the last bit of summer dust has been scattered to the winds, the last shroud has been removed from the comfortable wicker furnishings, and but little remains to be done for the distinguished guests who will occupy its charming rooms, feast in its spacious dining room and lounge in its attractive lobby.

The lodge and its surrounding grounds more inviting than ever this year. Samuel Degering, resident superintendent, is leaving nothing undone that will add to the comfort or pleasure of the guests, and the full bookings reported from the New York office prove his efficiency in this direction through his many years of service.

Though the governors will make Kenilworth their headquarters during their stay in this place, the hotel will not be opened until Dec. 15, the formal opening taking place Jan. 1. J. J. Fuller, who has successfully managed the Peninsula House, Seaside, N. J., the past summer, and whose long experience guarantees a continuance of the comfort and convenience enjoyed by the guests of the previous seasons, will be the manager this season. Peter Burke, for five years with the Grove Park Inn, has been engaged as chef, thus insuring excellence in cuisine.

Golf Course Improved. Besides its beautiful natural setting, the charm of its Spanish architecture and the lovely views of formal gardens and palm-fringed lake from its porches, Kenilworth has many attractions which it shares with few other resort hotels. One of the best eighteen hole golf courses in Florida lies at its very doors, and is located mid orange groves interspersed with rolling stretches, where glimpses of the lake through the tall pines and the most festooned oaks add to the beauty and pleasure. The greens are equal to any northern greens, the tees are equally improved and put in first class condition, and the water hazards bettered. The second nine has been entirely reconstructed this summer, and the number eight green has been rebuilt, making one of the most satisfactory greens on the course. James Maiden, of the Nassau Country Club, of Glenview, L. I., will again be professional this year.

The large concrete platform in the rear of the building where the guests enjoyed afternoon bridge and tea, has been made more pleasing by artistic planting of flowers in the gardens beyond. The children's playground has been newly fitted up for the amusement of its juvenile guests, many of whom, among them the great grandchild of Ex-Senator Richard Russell of Brooklyn, N. Y., are regular season visitors.

The three terraced park extending from Lakeview Drive on which the hotel fronts, to the lake shore, is a delight to the eye, its velvety lawns, its flower borders and palm trees, all reflected in Lake Jackson, sending themselves to the natural beauty of the setting. From this, a pleasure pier extends out over the water, and boating and bathing are among the sports enjoyed by the guests of the Lodge. The beach is one of the finest in Florida, affording safety to the more timid, while the practiced swimmer does not lack for opportunity to exercise his skill.

Setting is Ideal. Sebring itself has a charm for the visitor which does not pall. Built during a period of twelve years from virgin forest, it presents many unusual features, among them, thirty miles of paving, sixty miles of sidewalk, a municipally owned light and water plant that is spending this winter $135,000 in extensions; its homes are picturesque, its schools and churches excellent. In addition, a new private school has opened its doors, under the supervision of Ada C. Kupperberger, which gives to the student the same work along the same lines as he is pursuing at home. It offers preparatory work for those who plan to enter college, and will prove a real boon to the student society.

The city is spending $310,000 for public improvements this year, and adding in every way to the desirability of the place as a resort city of the better class. The altitude, the variety of scenery, and the excellent drinking water which is pure and palatable, make for added attractions to the Lodge itself.

The cross-state highway has been asphalted from Jacksonville to Sebring, making one of the most delightful motor trips through the state. The stretch between Frostproof and Avon Park through Sebring is one of the finest pieces of completed road in Florida.

Owing to the added accessibility which the early completion of the cross-state highway, and the inauguration of the Seaboard Air Line Railway will insure, John E. Connelly, president of the Kenilworth Corporation, is putting into operation this year a plan which he has been considering for some time. Plans are now being completed for the erection of a dozen cottages on the hotel grounds for the accommodation of those guests who like the privacy of a home, and the comfort of a hotel. These will be attractively built and furnished, and pleasantly located in the oak grove north of the Lodge. They will be steam heated, heat being produced in the new plant which has been installed, and which is four times the needed capacity. A newly equipped laundry will be at the service of everyone, and many other changes are under way that will add materially to the comfort.

In the heart of the Scenic Highlands of Florida, Kenilworth Lodge is the impersonation of all that is charming, exhibiting, and refreshing, at the same time rejoicing in that restful atmosphere so necessary to a real vacation.

Florida Property Is Increasing in Value Every Day

Particularly is this true of property on the Scenic Highlands and in and adjacent to Avon Park. Our city is growing rapidly, new buildings being started nearly every day. Of course this adds to the value of all property, whether in the city or adjacent thereto.

"HILLCREST"

is close to the city limits of Avon Park. Its groves are increasing in value every day. The trees are growing nicely and show a healthy appearance, making an investment with the Scenic Highlands Development Company an attractive one. In fact, one has but to see the young groves, note the painstaking care being given the trees, consider the location and then ascertain what grove properties are selling for all around us, to become convinced that "HILLCREST" is a gilt-edge proposition.

SEBRING OFFICES IN CITIES WILL BRING FOLKS TO HIGHLANDS

THE $50,000 BLOCK OF

The brightest trading so far this season was reported today by the Sebring Realty Board, sales ranging all the way up to $50,000. The largest single sale was made through the Sebring office, to C. E. Lowe of Miami, Oklahoma, president of the Vinita Wholesale Grocery Company of that city, and Arnold Forest of St. Petersburg. This tract lies north of the original city limits, within the area which was voted last January, and joins the new million dollar subdivision. The area included 120 lots, which will be improved and placed on sale at once. St. Petersburg office of the company handling the sale of the land. The paved will be paved, light and water service extended, and building will commence on some of the lots at once. The two promoters are enthusiastic over the possibilities of this highly desirable subdivision, which includes nothing but high, well drained land, with a heavy oak grove on the corner of it. Mr. Forest who is in charge of the St. Petersburg office, plans to bring parties over from the city on tours of inspection.

The Sebring realtors have arranged for a Tampa office also to handle the sale of all Sebring properties which will be located on Franklin street, in charge of E. U. Heslop of Tampa. The thousand dollars raised at the recent meeting last week has been doubled in the past week, and the money will be used exclusively in newspaper advertising, most of it in the big state papers.

OLD JAIL WILL BE PRACTICE ROOM FOR SEBRING BAND & BOY SCOUTS' HEADQUARTERS

The old county jail which stood on the alley between Ridgewood Drive N. and Center avenue, has been completely renovated and the arrangements made by the Sebring city council, will be turned over to the band for a practice room and the boy scouts for their meetings. The council is making every effort to provide meeting places for the civic organizations, a matter which is becoming a necessity because of the city's rapid growth. The fire station which was used by both band and scout troops, has become too crowded since the arrival of the new fire engine the first of the year, and a change had become imperative.

Permission was given by the city to the high school to use the auditorium at Desawilla Park for basketball, providing the coach or Prof. Wilkins supervised the games and practice.

J. W. Hawkins, who presented to the council a contract covering the engineering of street improvements, was given authority by that body to execute it.

SEBRING GIRLS RESPONDING TO ORGANIZATION OF GIRL SCOUTS

Much enthusiasm is being manifested over the girl scout organization in Sebring which is being sponsored by the Woman's Club under the personal supervision of Mrs. Helen Clawson. Two troops are being formed, the first one being of high school girls over sixteen years of age. The second troop consists of girls from ten to sixteen, and the brownies range from six to ten years. The girls are responding to the excellent training given by their leader, and weekly programs are now being planned for the two elder troops, each alternating with the other in presenting the evening's entertainment and instruction.

CONWAY HEADS REALTORS AGAIN

The Sebring Realty Board held its annual election of officers which resulted in the returning to office, each of the present incumbents. E. V. Conway is president; Ed L. Hains, vice-president; C. W. Rogers, treasurer; and B. L. Laird, secretary. The realtors of the city are planning an advertising campaign of unusual proportions and expect to begin their publicity during the next week.

DE SOTO CITY

Misses Minnie Thalgot, Thelma Baker and Mary Agnes Crawford and Ray Chadwick of Yunda Gards, Allie Mae Etheridge and Allie Belle Etheridge spent the week-end with Jane Etheridge at her home.

It is gratifying to know that Miss Allie Mae Etheridge and Bernard Etheridge are able to be out after their long illness.

There was a surprise party given Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Kirby Saturday evening at the new home on Lake Drive. Those present were Col. and Mrs. F. N. K. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McGraffereid, Mrs. J. H. Tuttle, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Webster and two sons, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Farmer and Mrs. J. A. Farmer, Mrs. E. J. Etheridge, Misses Jane Chadwick, Thelma Baker, Minnie Thalgot, Allie Mae Etheridge and Allie Belle Etheridge and Ray Chadwick, Dr. and Mrs. Kirby.

Senator Etheridge left Saturday for Tallahassee where he went on business for the county.

Work of the Lutheran church is progressing rapidly, and when completed this will be one of the hand-somest churches in the county.

Senator Etheridge of Kentucky was here a few days last week, having come down to look after his grove and to arrange about getting his fruit off.

The father of A. B. Williams suffered a stroke of paralysis on Thursday and has been in a critical condition ever since.

BETTER HEALTH FOR KIDDIES PLAN OF HEALTH BOARD

Miss Harriet J. Sherman of the State Board of Health is stopping in Sebring for a period of two weeks, putting into motion work for the maintenance of health especially among the infants, the pre-school children and the mothers. Other phases of public health will also be a part of the program, but with the limited means and the shortage of helpers that the state board is faced with each year, they can hope only to cover a part of the necessary work.

Miss Sherman hopes to interest the county in securing a county nurse, compulsory physical examination and improved sanitary conditions. She will be in this county for two weeks, and will hold meetings in both Sebring and Avon Park, and in any other community that wishes her services. She will be assisted by the clubs and civic organizations of the county. Miss Amy Pryor Tapping, a representative of the American Child Health Association, will come here for a lecture before the close of the campaign.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH There will be Christian Science readings at Masonic Temple each Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to the public. O15-tfc

Thirty Tips FOR THE HOUSE
Enamel Woodwork: Enamel woodwork can be kept clean very easily in the kitchen by having a damp, cloth handy and after dish-washing each day, wipe all the small spots around doors, cupboards and doors. If you have wooden handles which soil easily, replace them with glass ones.

Electric Bulbs: Before purchasing electric bulbs that are offered at exceptionally low prices, the housewife should ask whether or not they are "refilled," as a new bulb is worth the difference in price, because it will last longer and gives a much better light.

Table: If you have a very small kitchen, where not enough space for a table, a shelf that turns down under a window is most convenient. It may be used for eating breakfast, as well as many other practical needs.

Chuck Roast: Chuck roast makes a very appetizing dish if the bone is removed, the meat rolled and tied with a string and then roasted. It makes a very inexpensive dinner.

Berry Juice: When Juice is left over, the best use is to make a jelly. Add gelatin to it in the proportion of one level teaspoonful of gelatin to one pint of liquid. Soak the gelatin in one quarter cupful of cold juice, and then add one and three-quarters cupfuls of hot juice. Turn into a wet mould, chill, and it will be found excellent as a dessert or salad.

Jars: Jars that are to be filled with boiling fruit should be placed on about five thicknesses of a towel which has been wrung out of tepid water. The will be found much better than heating jars to be filled or placing a silver knife in them.

Salt Sake: There are many ways of bringing color into the scheme of one's table decorations, and one of the most novel effects is obtained by using salt and pepper sets made of Venetian glass in lovely shades of rose, mulberry, green, pink and red.

Milk: If you have a large quantity of milk which you wish to keep fresh for several days, add it to sterilized bottles with sterilized stoppers, cool and keep near the ice. It will keep for several days.

Ironing Board Cover: A very good ironing board cover is made of fat, covered with sheeting and shaped and finished with eyelets and cords to lace it to the ironing board.

With broken bottles, empty tins, I'll mess the pasture, spoil the track, I do not care a hang for you.

I'll strew the road you've got to take; I shall not pass this way again, I do not care what mess I make.

NEW DANGER SIGNALS AT BAD CURVES AND CROSSINGS BY COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

The Highlands county commissioners have finished placing fifteen highway danger signals along State Road No. 8, and though they have been in operation only a few days, one has already been broken. These signals are unique, in that they contain no lights nor mechanism, yet when approached by an automobile with lights burning either full or dim, they take on the appearance of a huge ball of red light. Each lens is 12 inches square, made of a special red glass, composed of 144 lenses each reflecting light at a different angle. Set in aluminum frames, and the supporting posts set in concrete, they are practically unbreakable and resist the weather. They function through fog, dust or rain, and have been highly recommended by every one who has seen them.

The commissioners are issuing orders to the public that these are danger signals and not targets, and that destruction or mutilation of these warning signs will be followed by punishment to the full extent of the law.

Bad Coughs Ended Quickly by Double-Action Remedy

Remarkable results in quickly clearing up the severest coughs have been obtained with a combination by a well-known specialist that does two things at once. It not only soothes and heals the soreness and irritation, but it very quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of the coughing. It is often astonishing how speedily the cough stops.

The prescription is known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. It is particularly valuable for such coughing. To promptly and this annoying and wasting source, simply before retiring take one teaspoonful of Dr. King's New Discovery and hold it in your throat 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing. People who have been unable to rest on account of continual coughing have often gotten their full 8 or 10 hours sleep by this simple remedy.

Dr. King's is excellent, too, for children. It cures whooping, bronchitis, laryngitis, hoarseness, croup, and whooping cough. On sale at all good druggists. Ask for

Pee Gee MASTIC PAINT

Paint Stops Decay Reduces Repair Bills

It is a pretty well known fact that paint is a preservative. What science has preached, experience has confirmed. Paint used at regular intervals, is a relentless foe of decay, which, if unopposed, is certain. It lessens the upkeep of your property and reduces repairs to a minimum.

Pee Gee Mastic Paint has been on the firing line over half a century protecting homes, barns, and outbuildings. Its great covering capacity and long years of service have become a proverb—"Wear like Mastic." You hear it whenever good paint is talked of. Retains its luster long after ordinary paints have "gone dead."

How about a hostess committee?
"Water, water, every where, but not a drop to drink."

Debits pile up right quick like—sort of a automobile.
Famous exiles—Income and Inheritance taxes (from Florida).

Speaking of signs that can be seen from space—what about Florida's sign of Prosperity?

Now honest, folks, as you look about you, don't you think we need this bond issue.

Avon Park welcomes two new developments this week and the Progress Drive has only begun.

How are we going to keep cool with Coolidge with progress all over the land of Florida at a fever heat.

If the council would drive parking space markers on the Mall, there would be lots more room for automobile parking.

The trouble about a girl marrying a bad egg is that the latter she holds him the more danger there is if she should drop him.

The esteemed Times-Union credits the "campaign line" with being still "between campaigns." "Next to a still," they mean.

The Coast Line plans a dinner at Sebring to celebrate the first race of the Sebring Highlander. It is an event worthy of celebration.

Florida voted ten to one to ban income and inheritance taxes forever. That makes Florida one to ten favorite in the race for progress.

In this proposed marriage between Mr. Northern Capital and Miss Florida's Opportunity, the bride is going thundering around the globe.

North and West Florida have annexed themselves to Florida in no uncertain terms. They voted for apportionment and against income taxes like the real Floridians will all have to admit.

In discussing bonds, we hope folks around here won't fail to remember that Sebring, Frostproof, Lake Wales, Lakeland, Bartow, Haines City and other neighbors have quit discussing them and voted them.

Style? Why that's what makes a bunch of women go mad in 1924 over "du-ro yellow" tan shoes at ten apiece, turning up their noses at them everytime some cheap store had a sale on them for $1.98 for the past ten years.

Those new onion skin stockings worn by girls are enough to bring tears to the eyes of any man, opines the Mr. Dora. It is a fact that onions never bother any man's eyes until said eyes commit the first error act.

Folks who are prone to think of Florida's march in the same terms that spoke when he told his British friend "We have just begun to fight" are a bit ahead of the procession. Florida's march is just getting ready to begin. The beginning is going to make the world turn around and look at this state.

MAKE THEM FEEL AT HOME.
It will be but little to our advantage to attract millions to Avon Park. If some of our citizens say, "And it is about making sure that some stay, and are contented, that we would talk for a moment."

There is no greater spur towards leaving a town than a discontented woman. In the family, more than in residence, are made because the woman of the house does not feel at home, or feels that it is a fact that onions never bother any man's eyes until said eyes commit the first error act.

It takes a real big reason to move a family from a community if the woman of the house is contented or "likes the town."

If Avon Park can make certain that the women in the families who stay here or locate here are made welcome, are made to like the town and feel at home, the greatest factor in our growth will be accomplished, because lots of folks are going to "try us out" in the next few years, whether or not it is strictly up to us to keep them here.

The plan of the Lake Byrd Lodge management to have get acquainted these weeks is a wonderfully big step in the right direction. It is a decision to go far enough. For some one must see to it that the newcomers are brought there in every respect, and other and the women of Avon Park.

It seems to us that there is where the Woman's Club has a board of trade can do some wonderfully effective teamwork.

How about a hostess committee. Let the Woman's Club have a special committee to see that the woman of the house in every visiting family is visited, welcomed and made to feel at home. Let this committee see to it that the stranger is brought to these teas and to other events that might be planned. The board of trade and men and women can also report new arrivals to this committee and real estate and rental men do the same.

The dividends from such a small investment will be immense.

DOES SHE CONVICT HERSELF?
Replying to The Pilot's question last week, Mrs. May Walden bitingly invites us to convict her of "obedience" and then proceeds to convict herself to save us any trouble.

First she tells us "No, I am not, apparently opposed to bonds, nor prejudged against them beyond reason—no argument."

Then she tells us in answer that to another question "no" is in no way an answer to matter if we prove her wrong, she will not vote for bonds, directly during the statement given above.

We admit only that a person that doesn't know his or her own mind and admits it as freely as Mrs. Walden admits it, will not vote for bonds to question comes about as close to convicting herself as any one could hope to do.

But aside from that let us get to her letter, which we print in another column, merely to show the purpose of showing how conclusively she has convicted herself.

We are really sorry she has not been repeating rumors for if she hasn't been repeating idle rumors she has been doing something which is worse—making up idle rumors about something of which she is ignorant and spreading them.

She still says that the ordinance of Nov. 1, 1923 is a bonding ordinance and if she is right, if the people of Avon Park voted a bonding ordinance named "Because the sum of $100 in cash to any charity she names."

The only bonding ordinance passed in Avon Park in the four years was that upon which the people voted in the spring of 1922, and a bonding ordinance named "Because the sum of $100 in cash to any charity she names."

Perhaps she has a good lawyer—if so she's got a good chance to get a $100 donation for some charity in which she is interested.

We repeat that the passage of this bonding ordinance will assure that the streets named therein will be named just as the naming of the streets in the ordinance named "Because the sum of $100 in cash to any charity she names."

It is a fact that the decision of the people, regarding bond issues, as regarding bond issues, can be varied by the council.

Mrs. Walden's thought that a bonding ordinance can be passed eighteen months after bonds are voted may or may not be a result of sublime ignorance, but it is certainly a fact that she is trying to discuss something that she isn't very familiar with. Any lawyer will tell her that.

She says that practical road builders tell her clay streets can be curbed and guttered by the city. We want to advise her that the county building and it has probably cost us between $30,000 and $100,000.

We remind Mrs. Walden that in these days and times, when we are spending large sums here the best engineers would rather lay out the best other advice they can get and then follow that advice.

We don't want any more "practical road building." We want carefully planned system built by skillful engineers, who know what business these kind of men will tell you not to curb and gutter a clay street.

And then she says we lay a clay street in such a manner that most of the clay will be there when we want to asphalt it.

Mrs. Walden says claying DeSoto avenue was wasted money. Some people disagree. Personally, we are sure where any money spent for paving, where we get paving for the money, is wasted money.

Where we all have a right to our own opinions.

She says the land companies wanted to sell lots. Maybe so. But if they are willing to pay for paving for the other fellow, why they have got them, it looks like the other fellow fix it up, or "claying" under the water we all have a right to our own opinions.

Another kind of sublime ignorance is her inference that the recreational park bonds may be for a lot of money. The $100,000 bonds, and it takes $40,000 to build a golf links. Most everybody knows that the money was for a frequently mentioned in the Pilot when we were agitating a golf links. So it does seem a bit ridiculous to talk of a $100,000 golf links.

Regarding the spending of money for curbing and guttering, Mrs. Walden that various promises to beautify the schools have been made since we came here. And if our money was to be cared for by public donations in the same way the school grounds were beautified, then we submit to her own judgment, that the money was well spent. It is a positive fact that the money was for a business is nobody's business and we count it the main would have ever been so strange if one had not been paid to do it.

She says that the library in the west side park, and again we must remind her of something that she has overlooked. The only reason for combining the library, fire station, city headquarters, board of trade and woman's club headquarters is to conserve funds for one nice building instead of two or three shacks. Therefore they must be all together, and the only place for a combination municipal building is in the center of the city.

Her paragraph regarding inspection may be well taken, but she can't say that the money was for a golf links. The money was for a frequently mentioned in the Pilot when we were agitating a golf links. So it does seem a bit ridiculous to talk of a $100,000 golf links.

THE FORUM

VISION

President of City Council, Avon Park, Florida.

I am in receipt of a letter from Judge Rouse, asking that I personally confirm to your publication the statement that I am not the owner of the property at the corner of Main street and Verona avenue for the sum of $12,600 cash, a proposition, as I understand it, has been submitted to me by my fellow citizens with my authority.

I do confirm, it being understood that the money made to the City of Avon Park only and that if purchased it is to be used only for fire or law purposes. I consider this lot worth about $20,000 on a realty basis, and would not sell for less, but I have made the concession in the price to make my contribution toward the development of a city beautiful, through a well thought out, coordinated and practical plan of public improvements. Avon Park is now "in the making."

Its future will largely depend on the wisdom, foresight and vision with which these improvements are made and the practical co-ordinating order in which they are made.

The crowning weakness in the American city has been in the past the lack of a vision for the future, with the result that improvements have been made only for the present to meet an emergency or immediate demand and with no margin against the future. The same thing has been the destruction of the work done later when the larger requirements have been met and this means a waste of public money, an increase in taxes and a holding back on needed improvements because the community does not have the money in hand having wasted it on the work which must now be "juggled." In other words, it has been fat picking for the individual contractors but a hard experience for the people of Avon Park.

I am pleased to note the faith and vision of the people of Avon Park for the future and will be strengthening it by the use of the money now in existence unexpended for selfishness and on a fair financial basis to the public.

With this spirit in the town and these public improvements made, I am sure that Avon Park will have a population of 10,000 by 1935. If you gentlemen feel about it as I do, consider no public improvement in a town which will not take care of a town of that size and give yourselves a margin of at least 50 per cent over that figure, for American towns are growing faster than our imagination can keep pace with them.

The progressive town with a good foundation of public improvements such as streets, water, light, sewerage, etc.

EDWIN M. BRICKELL.

NOT RUMORS.
Editor Pilot: I thank you for the courteous way in which you replied to my letter published in the Oct. 30 issue of the Pilot, but I must appeal to your own publication to sustain me in my statements. I have consulted no other authority for the correctness of the bonding ordinance except it.

No one loves facts or truth better than I do and I insist that I have not used rumors or gossip as the source of my information.

You refer, Mr. Editor, to "The Pilot in March, 1923." I refer to my copy of November 1, 1923, May 1, 1924, whether the later copy is not more possibly the one to contain the correct copy of the bonding ordinance upon which we voted? If it is not, then I have no assurance that we know what we are voting for when we cast a ballot. The copy of November 1, 1923, is the copy of the bonding ordinance, approximately 300 feet, to be played; Prospect avenue from Main street to Walnut street. (This has lately been done, but only at the insistence of one of the property owners who rode in his white horse and said it must be done); central street from Central avenue to railroad avenue and Bell street from Anoka to Central avenue. I will show this copy to anyone who will call at my house.

Practical road-builders tell me that there is a method by which clayed streets may be engineered, not curbed when built with curbs and gutters, and the saving is immense when the road is afterwards asphalted.

Rest street was not mentioned in the last bond issue. I did not say that it was. I simply instanced the claying of that street outside of the ordinance as an example of wasted money when a street that was mentioned (Prospect avenue from Canfield north approximately 300 feet) has not been clayed, and according to headquarters is "not going to be as the money has run out."

Alas! I would draw the attention of the taxpayers to the fact that the claying of least avenue was for the benefit of the stockholders in one of the land companies to open up and help sell their vacant lots, and not for the benefit of anyone who owns his or her home; while owners only two blocks away were left in the lurch when their road was to have been clayed, and is not. I suggest that the money that has been paid out for inspection might better have been used for claying. It would have saved that $100 feet and much more.

I have carefully read again the proposed ordinance for the issuance of bonds to the amount of $175,000, and I fall to find the assurance you, Mr. Editor, give us that asphalt is to be used wherever the engineers find it necessary to prevent washing. Also that the money for the "recreational park bonds" do not mean municipal golf links. I hope the town council will also officially assure us before the election of the same thing. Mother and I, Mrs. Walden and a few other neighbors I could name who are taxpayers will not have any immediate use for municipal golf links.

I protest Mr. Editor, that if I "had been on the council" I would not have done the same thing, viz.: I would not have followed the advice of anybody who would have told me that several hundred dollars on the shrubs that are now growing in the spaces on the Mall. While the "engineers" may not be able to "place at the disposal of the council 100 planters of hibiscus plants within the next thirty days," it would be because the next thirty days are not the growing season for rooting shrubs. I am sure that the council would be willing to assert that 100 such plants can be furnished by the city of Avon Park, Florida, and by residents of Avon Park, too.

Mr. Editor, I must politely but firmly insist that the city of Avon Park is not a "recreational park" and that the city of Avon Park is not a "recreational park" and that the city of Avon Park is not a "recreational park."

Such insinuation against the fire department as you have read into it. Please read it again, using Webster's standard dictionary as authority for the meaning of my words. I have too great respect for my fellow-citizens who put their lives in jeopardy to serve the public against the ravages of fire to accuse them of anything but the most general unsuitability of the combination. Again let me urge that the same day we vote for town buildings and not for sites.

I believe that up-to-date engineers advocate a city plan of building for every growing town. They show how much more economical and sanitary it is to put in a sewage system and garbage disposal along with the water works system to mention the convenience to the public of tearing up streets after they are laid down—than the present wasteful, unsanitary methods we are practicing.

And Mr. Editor, if this $175,000 bond issue carries, I give notice now that I shall apply to the council for the position of road inspector. I do not smoke, but I can sit in a car for hours and read, and those seem to be the most necessary qualifications for the position.

By the way, why couldn't the town council have arranged to vote for bonds the same day we vote for town officers and save the extra cost, instead of calling a special election?

MAY WALDEN.

KISSIMMEE BOASTS OF A DAILY NEWSPAPER.
The Kissimmee Daily Gazette is the newest recruit in the field of daily journalism in Florida. Backed by a live group of business men, the Gazette made its bow on Monday, presenting a decidedly creditable appearance. So interested are the business interests of Kissimmee in securing a daily paper for their town that they assisted Publisher Roy Neal and his associates in securing advertising contracts and subscriptions. As a result the Gazette takes its place as another of Florida's live and wide-awake daily newspapers.

HIGHLANDS COUNTY TURNS IN BIG VOTE FOR TAX AMENDMENT.
Voting better than fifteen to one for the constitutional amendment banning the income and income taxes from Florida forever, the citizens of Highlands county spoke in unmistakable terms on this matter by the official canvass of the returns by the county commissioners shows. The new amendment carried by a majority almost as large, except the Duval amendment, which was defeated five to one. The county went for Davis and Bryan, though Coolidge and Daves carried Sebring by 135 to 122.

The vote for Republican state candidates was widely scattered and in more indicative of the Republican and Democratic strength in the county than the Coolidge-Davis vote, as scores of Democrats voted for Coolidge and the biggest margin on that vote would be good for business.

Avon Park gave the income tax amendment its biggest vote, carried the county, 272 to 19 according to the returns, there being practically no opposition here—nor anywhere in the county for that matter.

The vote for Republican state candidates was widely scattered and in more indicative of the Republican and Democratic strength in the county than the Coolidge-Davis vote, as scores of Democrats voted for Coolidge and the biggest margin on that vote would be good for business.

Avon Park gave the income tax amendment its biggest vote, carried the county, 272 to 19 according to the returns, there being practically no opposition here—nor anywhere in the county for that matter.

The barbers of Avon Park have found it necessary to increase their prices in

AVON PARK

Effective November 15th

The raise follows efforts for months on the part of the barbers to meet constantly increasing operating costs and living costs without taking the step now announced.

Avon Park is the last in this section to raise, similar increases having been announced in other localities—Wauchula, Sebring, Frostproof and others—while Lake Wales and some places never reduced from the 25-50 basis of the last months of the war.

ation lay out a municipal recreation park and golf course without a lake frontage of at least 400 feet, A. D. Taylor, of Cleveland, landscape architect, who is largely interested in bringing real estate holdings, outlines plans for such a pary to the city council at a specially called meeting tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. Taylor was in Sebring to look over the tracts of land which have been offered as a gift to the city for the municipal recreation park and golf course, for the construction of which the freeholders voted $45,000 in bonds this summer. Of the two tracts, one at the southeast side of Lake Jackson, and one at the north west side, the majority of the citizens favored the southeastern tract.

Mr. Taylor predicts that within the next ten years at the outside, the entire lake shore drive will be built up with handsome residences, and business buildings.

He urged the construction of a twenty-two foot, concrete boulevard around the lake, so that three cars might pass with ease and safety. This would become a necessity at an early date, anyway, he said, and the sooner it was done, the better for all the property values adjacent to it. In this connection, he stressed the need for clearing between the boulevard and the water front, and the planting of palms along the shore. Within ten years' time, he said, the value of such a clearing would be incalculable.

He advocated the purchase of property between the new Seaboard station and the county road, and between Rose and Center avenue, fronting the station, for park purposes.

Each guest was also given a box of the special candy which is made fresh each day and served on the dinner table. The boxes were clever imitations of the regular railroad folder in color and style, and contained a toothsome variety of chocolates.

THE BATH ROOM

The "modern" test of a home is the bath room. People will so judge your new home. Decide now to have the newest equipment and fixtures.

Perhaps you are this year planning the installation of a new and modern bath room in your present home? A pedestal wash bowl; set-in bath tub with shower attached; a mirrored-back enameled medicine cabinet; silent flush toilet. In fact, all that is new will be supplied if you say the word.

FEATURES SEBRING WOMEN'S CLUB MEET

The Women's Club of Sebring held its November meeting Tuesday evening at Sunset Pier, with ENTERTAINMENT PROGRAM.

Mrs. W. J. Amy, Miss Myra Burdick, Mrs. R. H. Hancock and Mrs. G. V. Hudson as hostesses. A delightful musical and literary program was presented, opening with an address by Mrs. Frank Manley, president. Her talk was interesting and inspiring.

This was followed by a charming piano duet by Miss E. R. McIlwain and Miss Lella Sebring, which was encored. "Daddy" Gage, once an actor and playwright of fame, told some amusing stories, and ended by giving in a thrilling way, a story of the days of pirate plunder and romance, staged along the Gulf coast.

Miss Mary Bogle sang a beautiful selection, accompanied by Mrs. G. V. Hudson on the piano. Miss Marcia Converse of Frostproof, a guest in the city, who is a graduate of Rollins College, played two delightful piano selections. During the social hour that followed, the club members sang a group of songs, to her own accompaniment which were greatly enjoyed. Apoloizing refreshments were served late in the evening.

MRS. GARNER GRACIOUS HOSTESS TO MAH JONG CLUB

Mrs. Horace Garner graciously entertained the Mah Jong club last Saturday evening at her home on Lake Avenue. Baskets of gorgeous white chrysanthemums lent charm to the rooms where the guests assembled, and were much admired.

Early in the evening a penny contest was held and Miss Beatrice Bass as the lucky contestant was presented with a pretty hand-made handkerchief. Following this Mah Jong was played and the occasion was one of real enjoyment.

Just before the party broke up the hostess served delicious refreshments of chicken salad, olives, pickles, saltines, hot chocolate with whipped cream and angel food cake. The favorite were beautiful red dahlias.

Those present were: Mrs. R. M. Vance, Mrs. Jessie Bass, Mrs. Mildred Dilley, Miss Ellie Harris, Miss Beatrice Palmer, Miss Beatrice Bass, Mrs. Horace Garner and Mrs. T. J. Scrimm.

MRS. LOOMIS HOSTESS TO BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. E. P. Loomis was hostess Wednesday afternoon to the members of the Bridge Club, at her home on Pleasant street.

Roses were effectively used in decorating and gave a festive touch to the scene.

The usual number of progressions of bridge were enjoyed during the afternoon and at the tea hour the hostess served refreshments of shrimp salad, coffee, mahogany cake and ice cream.

Those enjoying the affair were Mesdames C. E. Lanier, Carlos Skipper, Earl Hart, E. E. Todd, H. L. Godwin, P. L. Rumpus, Louise Martin, and W. A. Marshall.

NAOMI CIRCLE MEETS WITH MRS. McCLELLAND

Naomi Circle met with Mrs. J. H. McClelland Tuesday afternoon. Bible Study was very interesting. Several items of business were taken up and disposed of. Those present were Mesdames R. C. Epperson, Don Epperson, Baxnight, T. J. McGinnis, J. F. Bond, H. C. Garner, Gladys Skipper, A. D. Roberts, J. H. McClelland, B. Y. Clark, Mrs. LaFever, L. Hunt.

Mrs. McClelland was assisted by Miss Genevieve McClelland and Mrs. J. F. Bond in serving delicious refreshments. The Circle will meet with Mrs. L. Hunt Tuesday, December 2.

MRS. BALDWIN ENTERTAINS

AVON CIRCLE

Avon Circle of the W. M. S. of the Baptist church met with Mrs. Cyril Baldwin Tuesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. Mrs. W. C. Touchton led the devotional and the chairman, Mrs. J. V. Chapman, was in charge of the business. An offering of $11 was made to the carpet fund.

The hostess served sandwiches and coffee. Those present were Mesdames Touchton, Crews, Davis, Clements, T. O. Baldwin, Jackson, Langford, Gaines, Council, McConkey, Marsh, West, Pabor, Hatchell, Chapman, Lawton, and the hostess, Mrs. Cyril Baldwin.

Next Tuesday there will be a general meeting at the church, at which time Miss Laura Mitchell, a returned missionary from China, will address the ladies of the Baptist and Methodist churches.

The Circle will meet with Mrs. J. V. Chapman Dec. 2.

MORE BOOKS FOR LIBRARY

The following books have been donated to the public library by Mrs. Mascott, Main Street, by Sinclair Lewis; The West Indies, by Ober; Mrs. R. H. Lawton donated The Boy Scouts to the Rescue, by Melitand; Miss Wood donated The Covered Wagon, by Hough and Camp Fire Girls on the March, by Stewart.

LADIES BIBLE CLASS

GIVE WELCOME PARTY

Ladies Bible Class of the Methodist church delightfully entertained the Men's Class Monday evening at a Welcome Party given at the M. E. Hut.

A feature of the evening's entertainment was an old fashioned spelling match, while singing and games helped to make the affair a pleasant one.

Late in the evening refreshments were served and several of the members made interesting extemporaneous speeches.

The company numbered about forty and the occasion will long be remembered with pleasure.

METHODIST LADIES TO HOLD BAZAAR

The ladies of the Methodist church will hold their annual bazaar Thursday, December 4, in the Methodist Hut. Refreshments will be served during the afternoon beginning at 1:30 o'clock.

Night Coughing—How to Stop It

Night coughing which, through loss of valuable sleep, often makes you feel utterly worn-out and useless during the day, and by quickly breaking the system lays you open to the most dangerous infections, can now be promptly checked by a very simple treatment. People who have hardly been able to rest on account of coughing spells have found that they can sleep the whole night through undisturbed after the very first trial.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery. You simply take a few drops at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 30 seconds before swallowing it. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals the soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which is the real cause of the cough. The result is that you usually sleep as soundly as a babe the very first night, and the cough goes in a very short time.

The prescription contains no opiates or harmful drugs. Excellent for children as well as grown-ups. For coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, sore throat, spasmodic croup, bronchitis, and bronchial catarrh. At all good druggists. Ask for Insurance change of advertisement in current issue may be in our hands by 5 o'clock a. m. Week-day.

You never hear little brother yell "Daddy" at big sister any more.

Just notice that city ticket—and then prepare to save your smoking money for a couple of weeks.

"Holding Island Gamble for U. S. Marine Assault," says a headline. He must want Uncle Sam to keep the islands.

"Hands across the sea" will have a new—and a personal significance to the people of Tampa and St. Petersburg after Nov. 24.

From the way this fellow Mussolini is getting votes of confidence these days you'd sort of expect him to be a confidence man.

Folks who couldn't agree whether LaFollette was trying to become boss of the senate or president, can now agree that "he didn't."

One governor is generally enough for any state—one too many for some folks think—but Florida's is glad to have thirty or forty this week.

"Taxation" was one subject discussed at the general conference in Jacksonville. One phase of that is a closed subject for Florida now.

"Orientals never kiss" as a headline moves Ed Lambright to remark that he's glad he's not an oriental. From what we've seen of Orientals "there's a reason."

Bill Lanier—Rotary's district governor—will be presented with a twin tonight. And folk'll have to look a long ways to find a livelier set of twins than Avon Park and Sebring.

It is practically useless to wish the address of the Mount Dora Topic "bump" when she carried Florida's "bump" king" she didn't get the good fortune an editor could want—for there is no better fortune than to be able to put in a word in the machine whenever you get ready. And as for George—everybody knows how blame lucky he is. That fellow was just naturally born under a lucky star.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Whitehurst were visitors to Wauchula Monday afternoon.

Mrs. F. P. Reeves, Mrs. W. R. England and Glenn Spink were visitors to Plant City Tuesday afternoon.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

FOR MAYOR.
The friends of G. L. Crews hereby announce his name as a candidate for the office of Mayor of the Town of Avon Park at the coming election, to be held on Nov. 24, and will appreciate the vote and support of every voter.

FOR MAYOR.
I hereby announce my candidacy for mayor of the town of Avon Park subject to the wishes of the citizenry to be expressed at the election Nov. 24. If elected I pledge a hearty cooperation with the forces of progress and to the best of my ability an administration of the office and the duties it entails, that will maintain the confidence of the people in the situation of popular government.

HEBERT SEEVERS.
FOR CLERK AND COLLECTOR.
In announcing my candidacy for the office of city clerk and collector at the annual election to be held Nov. 24, 1924, I pledge to the citizens of Avon Park, if elected a fair and impartial administration in the duties of this important office. All the support given me will be fully appreciated.

W. T. HALL.
FOR CLERK AND COLLECTOR.
I announce my candidacy for the office of town clerk in the election Nov. 24, and in asking the voters for their support, pledge by heartiest efforts to a business-like administration of this office with courtesy to all whom I am called upon to serve.

GEORGE G. SMITH.
FOR CLERK AND COLLECTOR.
I hereby announce my candidacy for city clerk and collector at the city election November 24, 1924. I pledge a careful administration of the affairs of this office, and will appreciate the support of the people of Avon Park.

RAY MARSH.
FOR CLERK AND COLLECTOR.
In offering my candidacy for clerk and collector, to the voters of Avon Park, I do so with the idea that my experience in stenographic and office work will permit me to serve the town of Avon Park with all efficiency that will be satisfactory to all. I pledge my every effort to a conscientious performance of the duties entrusted and prompt and courteous service to all.

LOUISE BROWNE.
FOR CLERK AND COLLECTOR.
I hereby announce my candidacy for clerk and collector of the town of Avon Park, and pledge my friends and all citizens an efficient administration of the affairs of this important office. I believe that I will be able to give them as good or better service as they have ever had in this capacity, and assure all of my intention to devote my time to the business of the town. Thanking you all,

HARMON SIBLEY.
FOR MARSHAL.
I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Town Marshal, and pledge the people a fair and impartial administration and my hearty cooperation with other town officials in the work that may be outlined for this position.

LOVE D. MCGIBBONEY.
FOR MARSHAL.
Being approved by a number of citizens about running for town marshal I hereby announce my candidacy for that office. I have served in this capacity in other towns, and if the voters of Avon Park consider me a fit person for this position and elect me, I pledge myself to give to them the best possible service as well as protection and an impartial enforcement of our laws. I shall very much appreciate your vote and support.

ERNEST BARSCHEL.
FOR MARSHAL.
To the voters of Avon Park: I announce myself as a candidate for the office of City Marshal of Avon Park. If elected I will show no partiality to any one. I will do my duty to the best of my ability. Respectfully yours,

J. A. BASS.
FOR ASSESSOR.
In announcing my candidacy for re-election as tax assessor for the town of Avon Park, I want to take this opportunity to thank my many friends for their kind support in the past. At the same time I assure all that I will give a fair and impartial administration of the office to the best of my ability. MRS. MONA LANGFORD.

DECORATOR MAY LOCATE.
Seeking a location, and so pleased that he intends to return later, Austin E. Keeler, a prominent decorator and painting contractor from Pittsburgh, Pa., spent several days here last week accompanied by his brother, Warren Keeler. They made the trip south in their truck and were wonderfully impressed by the fact that in most every Florida town where they stopped, they were offered employment by people who saw the sign on their truck. Mr. Keeler plans to bring Mrs. Keeler down for a short visit before the winter closes. They are friends of the Andersons and others interested in the Pittsburgh Florida Fruit Growers Association.

For Your Citrus Trees

Your citrus fruit needs phosphate—lots of it. But a fertilizer rich in phosphate may not give you bumper crops. The phosphate must be a kind roots absorb easily. JAPP BRAND (NON-ACID) FERTILIZER contains more such phosphate per pound than is chemically possible in acid fertilizers. It DOES give better results.

LEIGH CHAPTER CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY HONORS TWO CHARTER MEMBERS

Leigh Chapter, No. 85, O. E. S., celebrated its tenth birthday last Friday evening. The chapter room was beautifully decorated for the occasion with quantities of chrysanthemums, roses and ferns.

A number of the charter members were present and filled their old places. On this occasion two of the charter members, Mrs. George Smith and Mrs. A. W. Sargent were honored, they having both celebrated their birthdays since the last chapter meeting. Late in the evening the company repaired to the banquet hall and there a small table with places laid for two was found and this was the first intimation the honorees had of the delightful surprise which was in store for them. The banquet room was illuminated by two small reading lights which were placed on the honorees' table and were later presented to them as love tokens.

A large birthday cake with ten candles to commemorate the chapter birthday and two small cakes for Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Sargent were used as central pieces for the tables. The occasion was a happy one and a number of visiting Stars from other towns enjoyed the affair with the local chapter members.

I am in the race for re-election to the Town Council and will appreciate your support.

Sallie's Temptations

In Which Sallie's Friends Fail Her
"Your father needs you. Sallie he is—shall I be perfectly frank with you?"

I nodded dumbly.
"Well, he is a very sick man," and noticing my puzzled look, he hurried to explain. "At first he wouldn't let us tell you because he didn't want you to fret about him while you were having a good time. But now, he wants you and calls constantly for his little girl!" Mr. Wright's voice was infinitely tender and kind.

Like a flash the thing he had just told me was picturing itself on my brain. Father lying there—ill... needing me and wanting me, for I knew the depth of his love, and yet torn between this fine, unselfish spirit and his human longing for me at his side.

"Let's leave NOW. On the first train," I leaped to my feet. He glaunched at me with a look in the semi-gloom.

"There is a train in one hour and a half. We can make it. Don't hurry, you have enough time. That is, unless—I hadn't thought of it, but—he stammered—"perhaps you'd rather go alone."

"No, no," I was quick to reply.
"Please don't leave me, I couldn't bear being alone!" My voice quavered.

"Tell me that I can count on YOU," I begged.
"You most assuredly can," he avowed. "It was just that I did not want to intrude."

Slipping around through a side door, I went unnoticed to my room and sent a maid for Ellie, to whom I explained. In the meantime I threw a few necessary things in my bag.

"Cheer up, if you can, Sallie," suggested my hostess. "You'll come through with flying colors. You always do. You were born like that.
You are one of those few chosen ones on whom the Great Sculptor has smiled."

That was like Ellie. She was a butterfly, but her heart was as big as the great cut-of-doors.
"And remember, Sport," she added,
"we're all behind you. The entire gang."

Just at that moment the notes of "Chop Sticks," rendered by two of my exuberant friends, was wafted in through the doorway in a wave of blatant sound. Some others, seeking self-expression had conceived the idea of turning on the Victrola at the same time and had probably chosen the first record at hand. "Yes, we have no bee-na-nas" vied with the "dum-dum-dum-dum" of the piano crowd.

My nerves were on edge.
"Ellie!" I exclaimed, "tell them for Godness sake to be quiet or I'll scream!"
She sped swiftly down the hall and

I could hear her calling at the top of the stair:
"Turn off the Jazz down there.
Sallie's just had a message from her dad. He's ill. D'ye hear?"

"Aw, wassa matter with the old man?" a harsh voice replied. "Trying to ruin Sallie's good time. Tell her not to worry. I'll mix her a luvly egg-salad if she'll come on down." A door closed.

I could hear one of the girls trying to stop him, but it was too late.
I threw myself on the bed, tears streaming down my face. Ellie, returning, saw that I had heard the fiasco on the stairs.

"I'm sorry, Sallie," she comforted.
"It's just that they don't understand."

"And don't want to!" I flung at her. Fair-weather friends—that's what they are. It didn't make any difference to them if my Dad was dead. I winced at the word. "All they want is a good sport to amuse them and then when a fellow gets in trouble they aren't willing to leave their playtime. I tell you Ellie it's rotten shame and I am pretty much disgusted with them all."

"Now, now, Sallie, don't take it so seriously." She patted my shoulder. "They didn't think your father was really ill. Maybe if you had been in their place you would have done the same thing." She rallied to their defense. "Remember," she went on,
"the time when Bob Wilson was killed in his car, on your house party at Atlantic Beach. When they brought the news back to the cottage, nobody believed it." Remembering, I covered my face with my hand.

"I can see you now," she continued,
"and the picture is vividly clear. Remember, Sallie, what you said when that funny little twinkle in your eye:
'Bob oughter change his brand!'" she whispered.

"Oh, but Ellie, that was different.
I didn't know, I didn't, I lied."
"Neither did they, Sallie," she declared. "It's hard for us to take in tragedy, especially at a glance."

She closed the subject, but I shall never forget her little talk.
