

Armistice Day Celebration Is Legion Plan

Will Stage Big Free Entertainment in Observance

The American Legion will hold a big Armistice Day celebration, according to plans launched at Wednesday night's meeting of Highlands Post.

A committee consisting of Commander John Hood as chairman, and Ben Stewart, Howard Maddox, W. M. Hetherington, W. C. Beckett, Demos Mandis and J. C. Ragsdale were appointed. The committee will meet at the Legion home Sunday afternoon to make plans.

An invitation has been extended to Mrs. Earl Hart, president of the Auxiliary to have her organization assist in putting on the celebration.

While plans are in the formative stage, it was decided that the celebration would take the form of an outdoor carnival or fiesta, with plenty of free entertainment, music, dancing, athletic events, possibly swimming, diving, and bathing beauty contests. In the latter events, it was suggested that contests be held for both feminine and male beauties. A "bean dance," explained by Ed Welch and J. C. Ragsdale as a sawdust stompdance, with a fiddling band, is a possibility. These various forms of entertainment and other suggestions will be considered by the program committee. The committee invites suggestions on how best to entertain the crowd and make the occasion a gala day.

Ben T. Stewart, who was announced by Commander Hood as the post's new adjutant, was appointed to have charge of concessions. Games, a Dutch auction, bingo, and eating and drinks stand and other concessions were proposed. Demos Mandis was appointed to have charge of the eating concession.

Hetherington and Beckett were appointed on publicity. The post vetoed the idea, at first considered, to hold a big free barbecue. The cost would be prohibitive, it was shown. Instead of free eats, the Legion will offer a varied program of free entertainment in an effort to keep the crowd amused. The celebration will probably be held in either Donaldson Park or at the Legion home on Lake Letela, definite decision to be reached by the committee Sunday.

Ed Welch and Demos Mandis were appointed as captains of two membership teams which will stage a contest in the annual membership campaign which gets under way this week.

Boy Scouts to Hold Honor Court Monday

A Boy Scout court of honor will be held at the Parish house Monday night, October 10, at 7:30. Scoutmaster M. V. Pilcher has announced. The troop has reached its full strength, the scoutmaster said, and any boys wishing to join the scouts can sign up, but will not be able to get in until a vacancy exists. There was a full troop present at Monday night's meeting and much enthusiasm shown by the boys. The scoutmaster especially invites the parents of scouts to attend the court of honor.

Crews Named for Commissioner Placid District

Lee Crews of Lake Placid, was nominated for county commissioner for his district in a special Democratic primary Tuesday. Crews received 230 votes to 135 for L. L. Henderson and 62 for H. E. Shackelford.

The special primary was called because of the recent death of Ferdinand Koetz, who won the nomination in May, but whose death made another nomination necessary. Only Lake Placid and Brighton precincts participated in the voting. Henderson, the incumbent, will go out of office the first of the year.

Crews is the son of George Crews, former Avon Park resident, and one time mayor of the city. He owns and operates a drug store in Lake Placid.

Tampa Explains Endorsement of Plant City Site

The Tampa Chamber of Commerce recently gave its endorsement to the Plant City state hospital site, considered detrimental to Avon Park's chances of securing the state institution. Walter Betts, chairman of the promotional committee, has taken the matter up by letter, and the exchange of correspondence explains the Tampa chamber of commerce's position.

Sept. 28, 1938
Tampa Chamber of Commerce
Tampa, Florida.
Gentlemen:

"I regret to learn that the Tampa Chamber of Commerce gave a blanket endorsement to the project of the Plant City Kiwanis Club for obtaining a branch of the New State Hospital at Plant City. I trust that this endorsement is purely routine, in view of the fact that Avon Park is actively promoting the same project in its own behalf.

I beg to call attention to the fact that the commercial prestige of Tampa lies not alone in its immediate population but also in the cultivation of harmonious business relations with the entire population within a hundred miles of its limits.

Avon Park is a city of 4300 population located 85 miles by highway from Tampa. Eighty per cent of its outside shopping expenditures are made in Tampa and a greater percentage of its wholesale purchases are made therein. Any condition which would serve to increase the population and prosperity of Avon Park would be immediately reflected in Tampa with almost the same force as if the condition were at Tampa's door.

It seems to me that along this line any project sponsored by the Tampa Chamber of Commerce to promote the welfare and good-will of tributary communities is a policy of good business.

We of Avon Park cannot expect the Tampa Chamber of Commerce to endorse our project alone, particularly with Plant City after the same thing, but we do feel that your endorsement should be such as to include any community which is tributary to Tampa.

I am enclosing herewith a pro-

Brewster Is 13-0 Winner Over Devils

Experienced Backs Led By Durrance Hard to Stop

Brewster defeated Avon Park's high school Red Devils here last night 13 to 0 in the Red Ridge conference game for both teams.

The Brewster experienced backfield, composed of Freeman Durrance, all-Ridge back, "Cotton" Sapp, Watson and Curt proved powerful ground gainers, accounting for seven first downs, four for the Devils.

Durrance, besides doing a good job at quarterbacking, lugged the ball most of the way for his team mates, and accounted for the first touchdown in the initial period. He scored on a 15 yard march around left and, after a sustained march down the field, featured by a 40 yard run by him earlier in the drive. Cotton Sapp kicked the extra point from placement.

Curt plunged over center for the other touchdown in the third quarter, after Durrance had paved the way by intercepting a pass in mid-field, making 15 yards on the play. He gained 20 more on a pass from Curt, the only pass completed by the Tigers, and hit the line for 10 yards to place the ball on the 5 yard line, from which Curt plunged over. Try for point failed.

Brewster outgained Avon Park on the ground, but the Devils were better in the air, completing five passes. Ward, elongated end, received three of them and Eugene Martin caught two. Stripper Bailey did the heaving. The passing attack clicked for three successive tries in the final period to provide a belated threat, finally losing the ball on an interception. Ward also did a splendid job at kicking.

The Red Devils threatened at the end of the half, when Ward kicked to Brewster's 30, picked up 15 yards on a Brewster penalty and intercepted a pass on the 10 to place the ball in scoring position, but Brewster held and the Devils lost the ball two yards short of goal.

Ward, for his kicking and pass-reception, Merriweather and Mathis for carrying the ball, were outstanding for the Devils.

Score by periods:—
Brewster 7 0 6 0—13
Substitutions—Avon Park, Bradbury; Brewster, Bryan.

County Board to Re-open Program of Fire Control

The fire control program for Highlands county was reopened by the county commissioners Monday, and a hearing of all interested persons and organizations will be held at the next meeting Oct. 18. The matter was again brought up through the annual report submitted by E. P. Harris, district forester.

The question of putting the proposition to a vote in the November election will be decided at the meeting, it was said. The board approved by resolution a proposition to purchase $14,500 worth of district six, old DeSoto County bonds from Major E. E. Barton. The bonds will be deposited with the state board of administration and retired from gas tax money.

Wagner Relieved; Dupont Smith New Red Devil Coach

Dupont Smith has been named coach for the Avon Park high school Red Devils, succeeding Arthur Wagner. He has been drilling his charges during the past week in preparation of Friday night's game with Brewster, his former home.

Wagner was relieved of his coaching duties in order that he might devote his full time to the diversified cooperative training program, which he is organizing as a new course in high school. Wagner's retirement was announced by Principal Stanley N. Reeves at Rotary club Wednesday. The new course requires so much of Wagner's time that it was found to be impossible for him to continue with football, Reeves said.

Child Welfare Supervisor Gives Report on Work

By MARION ROE ADAMS

May I submit a yearly report of the Highlands County Child Welfare Unit, covering the period from September 1, 1937 to September 1, 1938? Your organization has contributed to our agency, and, in order that you may understand our work better and for what our funds are expended, the following report has been prepared.

The only way the child welfare unit can operate effectively is by means of financial contributions made by organizations such as yours. Funds for direct child welfare work must come from public agencies, service organizations, churches, and individuals within the county. Every organization contributing can be assured that every cent coming from them goes to help some child in need, for all the administrative costs of the office, worker's and stenographer's salaries and office equipment is paid by the State and Federal governments.

During this year while present worker has been in the county, we have worked with 209 children, representing 80 families. These children have presented almost every kind of a problem which can complicate or impede a child's normal development. Any organization, interested individual, or parent may refer a child to our agency for attention. During this year, the schools, the parents, physicians, and the Health Unit have referred the bulk of our cases, but as our work becomes increasingly understood, we are hopeful that any agency or individual will feel free to call upon us for any investigation work or for assistance in tending children who are presenting behavior difficulties; children who have no parents to care for them, and for whom plans must be made; children who are not attending school; children who are sick and need medical care or who are grossly neglected or mistreated. In short, we are anxious to help any child whose situation is so complicated or confused that he is showing signs of mental or physical breakdown. Often times a child who has been a behavior problem will adjust fairly well if he is given a normal, wholesome home situation.

Most of the children accepted for care this year have been supervised in their own homes, but (Continued on Page Eight)

Avon Park Is Selected For MedicoCaucus

Allied Group to Meet Here Oct. 29-30 to Pick Candidate

Avon Park has been selected as the place of holding the next state caucus of the allied medical group in its program of endorsing and supporting a candidate for governor in 1940. The matter will be held here on Saturday and Sunday, October 29 and 30, according to a letter to Mayor M. E. Covington, from A. William Morrison, Miami druggist, who originated the movement. The business session will be held on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

An invitation to attend has gone out to each of the 13 nominees and to the presidents and secretaries of each of the Medical, Pharmaceutical and Dental association and to the dentists, doctors and pharmacists of Avon Park, Morrison said.

This will be the second statewide caucus at which representatives of the doctors, dentists and druggists will get together in their plan to put forward a candidate from their group for the gubernatorial nomination. The first such caucus was held at Perky, a small place on the Florida keys. As a result of that meeting, Dr. Fred L. Touchton of Avon Park, and Dr. Russ A. Williams of Miami, were selected to enter a run-off poll of the membership. Since then, Dr. Williams has withdrawn and publicly offered his support to Touchton.

Every mail brings further endorsements to the Avon Park druggist, who is receiving encouragement from many sources to enter the 1940 race.

Arthur Wagner Tells Rotarians of New Training

Arthur Wagner gave a talk to the Rotary club Wednesday on the diversified cooperative training course which has been installed in the high school this year. Wagner is director of vocational education at the Avon Park schools.

The course is open to students of the junior and senior classes, to boys and girls of sixteen years of age. It is for the benefit of the large percentage of boys and girls who will not go to college, and is designed to give them practical training in some profession or trade to fit them for jobs upon graduation, he said. Business firms in Avon Park will be asked to take these students into their offices, stores and shops and give them practical experience. Wagner expects to arrange for this training in office work, automobile mechanics, plumbing, aviation, business management, and other lines. Students must put in a minimum of 20 hours a week, and will receive the prevailing wage scale paid to beginners in the various trades, he said.

Birthday greetings were extended to C. E. Crabtree, D. G. Perry and Dr. M. E. Jordan. Charlie Lanier read a biography on Perry and Devon Reddick gave Jordan's life history.

Visitors were Claude Witchard, Atlanta; A. H. Reppard, Orlando; and Ferd de Anguera, Miami.

To Show Highlands Hammock

It seems not only a courteous but a very wise gesture on the part of the Florida Forest and Park Service to invite service station owners and their employees and families to see the beauties of Highlands Hammock and be guests for a day. The invitation to DeSoto county service station people is for October 27 or November 3. Luncheon is to be served the visitors, and guides will take them about the spacious grounds.

The purpose back of this invitation is frankly stated. The Forest and Park Service realizes that service station people are the source of most of the information which tourist visitors get. Consequently, it is expedient that these information givers be posted upon the attractions of Highlands Hammock so that they can intelligently tell inquirers about the place.

Not being operated for profit, Highlands Hammock has not been exploited to the extent that many private beauty spots of Florida have, and yet it is as well worth seeing as any attraction which the state has to offer. Filling station people will find this to be true, and will be able to conscientiously advise tourists not to miss Highlands Hammock on their visit to Florida.

And here's a tip for Arcadia people: On a single day's trip from this city it is possible to see three of South Florida's greatest attractions, without hurrying or crowding the day. You and your guests can visit Highlands Hammock near Sebring, Cypress Gardens near Winter Haven, and the Bok Singing Tower near Lake Wales, and be back in time for supper. Yes, and by running a little later you can visit that novel house at Bartow which has recently been opened to visitors, and which we are advised is something well worth the time and nominal expense. We are unable to speak of this from personal experience.—Arcadia Arcadian.

Diversified Co-Operative Training

By ARTHUR WAGNER
The Avon Park high school is organizing a new vocational training program this term under the direction of Arthur Wagner, Director of Vocational Education in the Avon Park schools. This program is known as Diversified Co-operative Training. It is diversified only in that various occupations are represented in the training. The student will receive his or her training in only one occupation he is desiring training in.

The program is organized for those boys and girls who will not go on to college and the percentage of these is about 80 to 90% of the graduates of high schools. Boys and girls of junior or Senior level in school and 16 years of age may be admitted to the program. The student makes application for this training and after being examined and sufficiently interviewed upon the vocation that he or she may be interested in or fitted for, he may be chosen to receive this training. Not all of the applicants will be accepted.

The organization of the program is such that the student will work on the job under actual working conditions for half of the school day and the other half of the school day will be in school, two hours of which will be in a

FLORIDA LEADS THE NATION IN THE PRODUCTION OF PHOSPHATE ROCK

ON EXHIBIT AT FLORIDA STATE MUSEUM
GAINESVILLE, FLA.

Phosphate rock is Florida's chief source of income from minerals. During 1937 almost 3,000,000 tons were produced in the state at a valuation of $9,142,985, representing well over 80 per cent of the national output.

An interesting relic of early territorial days in Florida is the old MINORCAN BOAT on exhibition at the Florida State Museum in Gainesville. Built about 1830 for ham by Minorcan laborers, it was used as official capacity between Cape Canaveral and St. Augustine by Capt. Dummitt who was then custom house officer at New Smyrna. It is 23 inches deep, 4 feet 5 inches wide and 29 feet long. Most of the ribs are of natural crook live oak. The boat, which was hollowed out of a single cypress log, was originally provided with a centerboard and rigged with a sail.

Related Study Class in which the trainees receives the technical and related information required by them in pursuing their occupational training. This related study is coordinated with the training on the job so that the student receives it just as he does the job and as he needs it. The program is co-operative in that the Training Agency and the School co-operate to train the student in a definite occupation. Mr. Wagner has been appointed Coordinator for the Avon Park schools by the State Department of Vocational Education.

The student receives credit for this D. C. T. and graduates and gets his or her diploma as usual but in addition will have had a directed and concentrated vocational training that will enable him to more easily secure permanent employment upon high school graduation. Past experiences in some of the larger schools in the state, including such nearby towns as Lakeland, Winter Haven, and Plant City, indicate that this training is highly profitable and desirable. There are only eighteen such programs in the state, and Avon Park bears the distinction of being the smallest city to sponsor this type of training. The three major schools in Jacksonville each have this program as well as Tampa, Daytona Beach, Miami, West Palm Beach, Ft. Lauderdale, Ocala, and others. The programs in Ocala and Avon Park are new this year.

Much of the first few months this term will have to be spent by the Coordinator in contacting and interviewing business firms and occupations and securing Training agreements with these employers. Analysis of these occupations will then have to be made in order to formulate definite training schedule and related study material organized. A complete library on the different occupations represented will be gathered from various sources such as from employers themselves, trade organizations, manufacturers, publishers of various books, magazines and other library materials. The D. C. T. office and related study room is being fixed up in the elementary school house on the second floor.

Jaycees Ask Aid For Repeal Sugar Production Act

Miami, Oct. 7 (FNS) Launching a nationwide campaign to bring about the repeal of the sugar act of 1937, which limits the production of sugar cane grown in the continental United States to 5 percent of that consumed by the nation, the Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce has appealed directly to the 456 Jaycee organizations throughout the country urging their help in the fight.

Under the able leadership of State President Tom F. Smith of Miami, Florida Jaycees hope to discourage federal discriminatory measures against Florida manufacturers of sugar cane and pays the way for the development of the sugar industry in this state on the scale it justly deserves.

The present law regulating cane planting expires in 1940 and the effort is being made to secure a substantial increase in the quota. The present quota, Smith points out, limits production to 430,000 tons, most of which is allotted to Louisiana.

Sugar production presents one of the greatest opportunities the State of Florida ever had for constructive industrial development, and lifting of the quota would result in a 6-year expansion program involving an expenditure of between seven and ten million dollars by those interested in the sugar industry in the vicinity of Lake Okechobee, it was stated recently by Clarence E. Bittling, president of the United States Sugar Corporation.

The production would give direct employment to 100,000 persons whose necessities would require the work of another 100,000 in the United States.

Considering the fact that there are five persons in the average family, we could conservatively estimate that 3,000,000 persons would be supported by everglades sugar production, paying American wages sufficient to provide an American standard of living.

Condemning the present practice of restricting sugar production in the continental United States, President Tom Smith asks why it would not be just a fair and reasonable to restrict the production of all other products produced in this country and permit foreign nations to supply our needs.

Florida has this land suitable for sugar production; capital is ready to expand the industry and put thousands to work, investing millions in the development, Smith points out, and adds that the Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce will carry its appeal to over 100,000 individual Jaycees throughout the country to use their influence toward securing a fair deal and an increased quota for sugar production in the United States.

Motion . . .

(By L. E. EVANS)

(This is another of a series of articles on "Machines and Things of Motion.")

COLOR AND MUSIC
Color is a vibration of waves of electrons in the visible form of light. It covers only about one octave in the spectrum of motion, and consists of six or seven (as you like) colors as of the rainbow, just as they appear in the sky. Their wave lengths range from about 800 millimeters in the very dark reds to about 400 in the near invisible purples.

I will endeavor to show the connection between light and sound. Light vibrations below the dark reds, or below about 800 millimeters, appear black because they are too slow to be seen. Above 400 we see through them because they are too fast to be seen. The band of vision lies between total absorption and total transparency.

Sound vibrations below 16 per second are too slow to be distinguished as a single sound. Many people do not hear sounds when the vibrations run above 4000 per second.

Dogs hear sounds far above the range of human ears and for that reason hear many sounds which do not register on our ears. Watch dogs hear sounds at night that go unheeded by us. On the other hand, the sensitivity of their ears cause certain powerful sounds to give them pain. For instance, your dog howls when the train whistles, or when the band begins to play. The ears are too sensitive for these vibrations.

Now for the connection between color and music. Low A on your piano is one of the lowest audible sounds, with 26 vibrations per second. Deep red is the lowest visible color, with a wave length of 800 millimeters per second. They automatically become associated or it is by comparisons only that we perceive differences or likenesses.

The highest note on the piano is high B, which is about the highest note in music in which we have any interest. It vibrates at the rate of 8840 per second. Pale purple is the highest visible color, with a wave length of 400 millimeters. These two would be likewise associated.

Between the low note in music and the high note there are about seven octaves, and between the lowest visible color and the fastest visible color there are seven colors, which would give one color for association with each of the seven octaves.

English Urges Votes to Adopt Amendment

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 7.—The people of Florida are urged by Col. English, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, to provide greater security for their fee system of public schools by voting for the school revenue amendment to the State constitution November 8.

Superintendent English explained that the need for strengthening the hand of the state legislature arises out of an interpretation of the Constitution rendered by the state supreme court in November 1935. Following this interpretation, the legislature prepared the amendment which is now placed on the ballot for voters to put into their Constitution as a legal safeguard for future state appropriations for schools. The state superintendent's explanation follows:

"The amendment was proposed by the last legislature to enable the people to make it mandatory for the legislature to provide necessary revenue for its school appropriation. It is an essential step in stabilizing our school situation."

An opinion handed down by the supreme court in November 1935, included the following clause: "The constitution of Florida does not (at present) make statutory appropriation to the county school fund a part of the expenses of the state for the fiscal year." This same opinion explained that the legislature is required by the constitution "to raise and appropriate sufficient moneys to defray in full the current expenses of the state authorized to be incurred by the State's officials."

The Constitution (Section 2 of Article IX) also makes mandatory the raising of "A sufficient sum to pay the principal and interest of the existing indebtedness of the State." It is this section that the legislature has proposed that the people shall expand in the November election in a manner that will give the legislature a constitutional obligation to provide revenue to defray the expenses of the State, including State institutions of higher learning for each fiscal year, and also a sufficient sum to pay the principal and interest of the existing indebtedness of the State."

Senator A. E. Kemmer of Martin county, as chairman of the Senate Education committee was author of the amendment. His statement in support of the measure termed it "The missing link in the financial chain of the public school system—There is really no reason why there should be a dissenting vote."

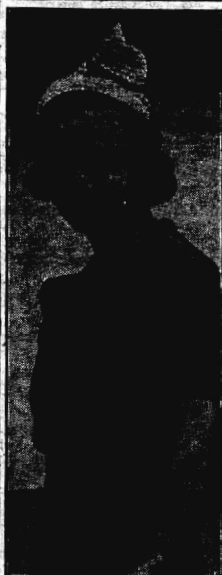

The Continuing Educational Council in its report on the proposed amendment, state: "By unanimously proposing this amendment, the 1937 legislature gave the people the first opportunity which they have had in many years to speak definitely by their ballots for the support of the schools for their children. We consider this an opportunity for citizens to express in no uncertain terms their determination that the educational program of Florida shall be assisted by adequate and dependable revenues set up by the Legislature of the state. This amendment should carry by an overwhelming vote, and we pledge our efforts to this end."

The amendment is endorsed by the Florida Education Association, which has urged each of its 12,000 members to take an active part in its adoption.

Fifty London policemen visiting Germany took part in specially arranged athletic matches at Hamburg.

It was in Pittsburgh the other day when two thieves spotted a black sedan and stole a police car. It was later found parked near the same place where it was stolen.

Grocers to Meet For Formation of State Association

Tampa, Oct. 7 (FNS) Retail grocers of Florida will convene in Tampa Oct. 11, 13, with headquarters at the Tampa Terrace Hotel. Local officials estimate that an attendance of 500 is expected. Officials of various county and city Retail Grocers' associations plan to unite forces at this convention to organize a unified statewide Retail Grocers' Association.

Among distinguished speakers scheduled to address the convention are Al Haase of the National Biscuit Company; L. H. Buisch, nationally known lecturer on business problems; Gordon Cook, editor Voluntary and Cooperative magazine; H. A. Gillespie, president, Dade County Independent Grocers Assn.; Marcus Williams, president Retail Grocers Association of Southwest Florida; Mayor R. E. L. Chancy of Tampa; Hon. Pat Whitaker, state senator; Representative Seth Deke; M. N. Munroe, secretary of the Retail Grocery Association and editor of the Florida Food and Grocery News.

The matter of legislation will be given consideration at the convention. Mr. Munroe stated, particularly the repeal of the one-half of one percent gross receipts tax. A three percent final transaction tax is strongly favored provided it is put on as a replacement tax eliminating the present gross receipts tax and state ad valorem tax, he said. An elaborate program of entertainment has been arranged for visitors during the convention period.

LAKE PLACID SCOUTS TO INVESTIGATE SCOUT FOREST PROJECT

At their weekly troop meeting Thursday night, the Boy Scouts of troop 62, Lake Placid, were visited by Paul Hendrick and Lloyd Zorn, employees of the Florida Forest and Park Service.

Mr. Hendrick gave an interesting discussion of the Boy Scout Forest Project which is sponsored by the Florida Forest and Park Service, the Florida Lumber and Millwork Association and the Regional office, Boy Scouts of America.

To participate in the project, the troop must acquire Control of 40 acres of forest land on which they may apply the ideals of Scouting in conjunction with the approved forestry practices of the South.

The Scouts were especially interested in the Forestry Training Camp which is held annually on the Santa Fe River by the sponsors of the project. Each participating troop is privileged to send one of its members to the camp for a two-week period at no expense to the troop or the Scout.

Other troops of Highlands county interested in the project may receive detailed information by contacting the Florida Forest and Park Service, Lake Placid, Fla.

FLORIDA HOTELS AND CAFES BETTER EQUIPPED THAN EVER BEFORE

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 7.—(Special) Florida's cafes and restaurants are more completely capable of caring for the annual influx of winter tourists into the state this year than they have ever before been, Hotel Commissioner W. M. Taylor, said today.

"There are at this time 8,079 restaurants in the state, and each one of them is cooperating to the fullest degree with the Florida Hotel Commission in the observance of all rules and regulations working towards increased efficiency of operation, sanitation and health features," Commissioner Taylor said.

"They are in the best of shape for the 1938-39 winter season with a total seating capacity of 257,763 persons."

Of the 8,079 licensed restaurants in the state, Commissioner Taylor pointed out that 50 with a seating capacity of 1,612 persons are operating in Highlands county.

"I have compiled this information at considerable cost to the civic and business organizations of Florida Hotel Commission so that each county may know exactly what their restaurant facilities are, in case they wish to plan on business meetings or conventions in addition to regular trade in summer or winter," Commissioner Taylor said.

FOOT TOO HEAVY FELLER PINCHED

Iowa City, Iowa, Oct. 6.—Bob Feller, Cleveland Indians pitcher who set a new major league strike out record Sunday, yesterday found his speed a drawback—at least, so far as Iowa City traffic is concerned.

Feller and Rollie Hemmley, Cleveland catcher, were stopped by Iowa City police this morning for speeding. Feller was permitted to continue on his way with only a warning to "slow up" when he was recognized by officers who chased him through half of Iowa City.

FREE...

3 KILOWATT HOURS FOR EVERY CUSTOMER, EVERY MONTH

Only 3 kilowatt hours, you might say, but these 3 kilowatt hours will bring you a lot of convenient, modern electric service. Here are some examples of what these 3 additional kilowatt hours each month will bring you free—

- Additional current for a month's use of a 100 watt reading lamp substituted for a 60 watt lamp, or,
- A month's current to run 3 electric clocks—one for the kitchen, one for the hall, and an electric alarm clock, or,
- Will supply current for making your coffee free every month.

Effective November Billing

Commencing with November all customers will be billed under the following rate change:

Present minimum bill of $1.50
brings you 15 KWH

NOW this $1.50
brings you 18 KWH
or 3 FREE Kilowatt hours

Rate adjustments are made possible primarily by a combination of increased use by customers and increased operating efficiency by the utility company. Increased use by customers made this adjustment possible. It is hoped that we will continue to increase thus making possible additional adjustments in the future.

The reduction in the above rate is one of many voluntary reductions made by this Company during the past few years.

Mrs. Nelson Smith Honoree at Bridge Party Tuesday Afternoon At Jacaranda Hotel

Mrs. Nelson Smith, recent bride, was the charming guest of honor at a lovely bridge party given by Mrs. C. E. Crabtree, Tuesday afternoon at the Jacaranda Hotel. The palm room, where the seven tables were arranged, was beautifully decorated with pedestal baskets of gorgeous autumn blossoms, augmented by vase of flowers, in the same lovely shades, placed at vantage points, a color motif of pink and white predominating.

Dainty talleys in bridal design were passed by little Miss Patricia Smith, gowned in poudre blue net, the frock she wore when she served as flower girl in the wedding.

After several entertaining progressions of bridge, scores were totaled, and Mrs. R. I. Brown, who held high, was given a double deck of cards, and second high score, Mrs. Stella Frey, received a pair of imported miniature china doll shoes. The honoree was presented a set of orchid quilted coat hangers from her hostess. Delicious refreshments of mince meat tarts topped with ice cream were served with coffee.

Sans Souci Club Enjoys Evening

Mrs. Chas. Sherman was hostess Tuesday evening at a desert bridge, her guests at the delightful affair being members of the Sans Souci bridge club. Autumn flowers tastefully decorated the party rooms.

Following the delicious dessert course, served on the bridge several interesting progressions were played. High score prize, a mirrored picture in antique design was given to Mrs. Fred Peden, and second high award, an attractive book, containing a birthday book and an assortment of birthday cards, was presented to Miss Elizabeth Jinks.

Club members enjoying the pleasant evening, as guests of Mrs. Sherman were Miss Alma Harrell, Miss Millie Pearson, Miss Mary Key, Miss Betty Ellen Smith, Mrs. Fred Peden, Mrs. C. R. More Recipes Needed For P-T. A. Cook Book

The Parent-Teachers' Association is sponsoring the sale of the P-T. A. Cook Book, which will contain all of the "favorite recipes of Avon Park housewives" published in The Sun, along with many others that are being assembled. If you have not already handed in a recipe please cooperate by bringing or sending your favorite recipe into The Sun office at your earliest convenience. It is the desired to have as many home-holds as possible represented in the book.

The books will be printed and offered for sale within a month at a very nominal charge. You will help the committee a great deal if you will place your order for one or more books, so they can be placed as rapidly as possible. They will make excellent Christmas gifts, will be attractively finished, and will be the prized possession of anyone with its pages upon pages of recipes of Avon Park housewives.

Mrs. W. W. McFarland is chairman of the finance committee of the P-T. A. and with her committee members, is actively engaged in contacting merchants and business firms for space in the edition.
