Leafs Lose few Points

Lots of water has spilled over the baseball fans in the past week, and while the Orange Belt leaves standstill, the percentage has undergone a decided reduction.

Avon Park Citrus Leaflets split a double header here with Frostproof last Sunday for the only win of the week. They lost one to Bartow Tuesday and another to Frostproof Thursday. The net result is one win and three losses during the week, for a drop of 17 points in percentage. However, the Leaflets are still firmly entrenched in third place, though fourth place, Bartow has won 13 straight to climb steadily during the week. The Frostproof Packers won two out of three from the Leaflets and are a full game ahead of Fort Meade.

Split Twin Bill.
Avon Park and Frostproof split a double header here Sunday for two games played before a record crowd for this season. The Citrus Leaflets captured the Packers 6 to 1 in the opener, but lost the second game by the close score of 6 to 4.

Bill Stephens held Frostproof to eight hits in the first game while the Leaflets poured out to him. Stan Morgan, highly touted pitcher, butted in the Stephens straight win.

The Leaflets scored first in the second inning. Kenzie, who started the inning with a single to right, was advanced by Hovey, and Stripling was hit by Morgan. The stage for Carr's double was set by the fielder, Marie Landress singled in the fifth and went to second on a fielder's tumble, scoring a few minutes later on Tommie's line drive to left field. Two more were added, in the eighth on singles by Landress and Stripling, who scored on Mackie's drive.

Frostproof's line runs in the sixth, when Stephens pitched to right and rode home an error, two batters to center. Stephens limited the Packers to three hits and squashed an impatient rally in the ninth, when he struck out the last man to end the game, after two had singled ahead of him.

Double by Carr and Moore and a triple by Jaeger went to the extra base clout. Jaeger hit his three batters in the second and attempted to score on Jaeger's run to right, but umpire Miller waved him out. The defense was not helped by the Packers who anchored round the plate, amid much waving of arms and shouting.

Somebody took a poke at October Joe Stephens and he poked back, but police broke it up before any damage was done. Thereafter, the Packers did more hitting than they did fielding, and the game ended in a hard time running home under umpire Miller's decision.

game went into extra innings and the Leaflets had their opportunity to score in the eighth. Mackie, B. Stephens, and Stripling filled the bases with a fielder's choice, a single and a walk, after two were out, but Carr who had delivered a timely hit to put the winning runs across in the first game, couldn't connect in the clutch and the chance went glimmering.

The Packers showed the winning runs across in the ninth with a well-attended squeeze play. Guerra started the inning with a single. Clement advanced him. Fisher was walked, and Moore singled, filling the bases. Jaeger laid down a perfect bunt and Guerra scored.

Three Wauchulans Drown in Fourth of July Tragedy

Highlands Tax Levies Are 58% Lower Than 1927

Tampa, Fla., July 4.—Total State and county property tax levies in Florida are down 50 percent from the 1927 total. Fred J. Collins, new president of the Florida Taxpayers' Association, said today in his first address to members of the organization.

"Get out your tax receipts for the last 12 years," Mr. Collins urged taxpayers, "and see if you have had your share of this 50 percent reduction in total property tax levies."

"The Florida Taxpayers' Association has heartily endorsed the tax plan of Governor-designate Spessard L. Holland, because, if it is put into effect by a cooperative Legislature, it will distribute this substantial reduction to all taxpayers by means of uniform assessments and firm collection of taxes from everybody alike."

He said the State Comptroller's office, compiled from reports by county tax assessors, show that the levies of State and county property tax assessments has decreased from $69,463,231 in 1927 to only $34,670,846 in 1930.

The reduction is uniform in general throughout the State, but few individual taxpayers can find any cut in their tax bills. They should ask their county tax assessors why.

Highlands county, for instance, levied total property taxes of $177,512 in 1927, while in 1930 this county's total levies were only $201,276. This is a decrease of 56 percent, instead of an increase of 13 percent as claimed by a recent report out of Jacksonville which based its figure entirely on millage.

Tax assessors and others may judge millage and valuations up to the State Comptroller's office, and to confuse the average taxpayer," Mr. Collins continued, "but the State Comptroller's office on the line are interested only in facts facing them in their actual tax bills."

"The great majority of these tax bills do not show any reduction because they have not been forced to pay their fair share of the tax load and are enjoying the reductions of 60 percent or more which have not been allowed to reach the little taxpayer who cannot afford a lawyer to contest his assessment."

He said the great opportunity for the next State Administration under Governor-designate Spessard L. Holland if he is given the cooperation of the House, under the leadership of Representative Day McHenry and the Senate under Senator Deuchman," Mr. Collins said.

Comptroller Pays Half State's Bills

TALLAHASSEE, July 4 (Special)—Winding up a 4-month tour on state taxes, Comptroller J. M. Lee is departing about three o'clock today for his home in Avon Park. He is carrying with him a general revenue fund this week and checks are being written and mailed to creditors of the State institutions for approximately half the State's outstanding bills.

All bills incurred by the State institutions operated under the general revenue fund since February 1 have been "on the cuff" and they totaled about $1,500,000 on June 17th.

The checks now being written probably will pay all bills through the end of the month. The bill will be completed sometime this week or the first of next week.

New Gauge for Child Nutrition

Chart and Graph System Is Applied to Problem in Latest Method.

CLEVELAND.—Development of a radically new method of measuring child nutrition here is believed to have ended years of guesswork by physicians for an accurate yardstick of nutrition.

The method, outlined by Dr. Herman C. Wetzel, associate professor of pediatrics at Western Reserve university, is based on the direct study of 5,023 Cleveland school children and records of more than 4,000,000 children during the last 100 years.

The system involves the use of a "grid" or chart into which any child can be fitted.

Preliminary application of the chart indicated that 15 of every 100 local school children either are inadequately nourished or are in need of comprehensive medical examination. The record was believed comparable to that existing generally in the United States.

System Easily Applied.

Dr. Wetzel said that, unlike all previous systems, it has proved both accurate and easily applied. He said that it offered an answer to the serious problem of selecting the city's malnourished children, a problem which thwarted health officials seeking to prove the effects of Cleveland's relief crisis on child health.

He pointed out that most systems have been either too elaborate for practical use or have failed to allow for the extent to which a particular child can depart from average physical characteristics and still be nourished properly and in good health.

He said the feature of the system is the "grid" by which the child's "nutritional grade" is established. It was designed specifically to be applied by such workers as school nurses, requires very little time for each child, and necessitates only a minimum amount of calculation.

The chart utilizes the child's height and weight to determine the physical type to which he should be classed and then the child is fitted into the "grid" according to his physical and nutritional state, such as over-nourished, stocky, good, fair, borderline or poor.

Fitted 5,000 Children.

Dr. Wetzel, who has published a number of previous papers on child physical development, has fitted 5,000 children studied at Harvard university also and examined all important records of the method in calibrating the graph.

Students Set Up Fund

For 1st Classmate Father

DURHAM, N. H.—Eleven seniors taking the mechanical engineering course at the University of New Hampshire each have contributed $5 to a fund to be awarded to the "mechanical engineering graduate who first becomes the father of a living child."

Rules of the "1940 Baby Fund" stipulate that the marriage must take place after graduation and the child must not be born before St. Patrick's day, 1941.

He pointed out that previously even the judgment of "the most experienced examiners" has been found to be "very inconspicuous" in diagnosing malnutrition.

"No single method nor any combination of methods," he said, "however elaborate or expensive, has been universally recognized as reliable or consistently trustworthy as the examiner in rendering judgment upon the physical condition of the individual child or a group of children."

The new system, he explained, promised to identify those children whose health is subpar because of inadequate nutrition or other causes so that they may receive thorough medical inspection.

Dr. Wetzel headed a special group established to work out nutritional measurements at the suggestion of Dr. Henry J. Gerstenberger, professor of pediatrics, who is head of a committee of pediatricians serving Mayor Harold H. Burton's advisory committee on nutrition.

English Sparrow Makes A MISTAKE

by Thornton W. Burgess

An independent spirit is a thing to highly prize. But too much independence is an evil in disguise.

IT THERE is one thing above all other on which Bully the English Sparrow prides himself it is his independence. To say he is independent is to say he is a free bird. He is never taking about it. He says that the way to get on in this world is to look out for yourself and never mind anyone else; let them look out for themselves. Of course, that is one of the oldest and most misguided of all. It was this way that Bully had been wandering through the Old Orchard with nothing to do but try to bully whom ever he met, when at last he came to the far corner, where Johnny and Polly Chuck live. In the very tree under which they have made their house he discovered a nest different from any nest which he had ever seen before. In his usual bold way he started over to look at it.

"Better keep away from there!" said a sharp voice.

Bully looked up to see a trim-looking gentleman with a white waistcoat sitting on a branch of the old apple tree. He was larger than Bully, but not nearly as large as Welcome Robin or Goldie the Oriole, both of whom he had whipped that very morning. At least he thought he had. He was not sure, though the truth is they simply had refused to fight.

"I told you I had better keep away from there!" said the trim-looking gentleman with the white waistcoat.

"Who'll make me?" demanded Bully.

"I will!" retorted the other.

"Let's see you do it!" retorted Bully.

The words were hardly out of his mouth when something hit him and knocked him sprawling. Before he could get up his breath it seemed to him that the air was full of sharp bills. When he tried to strike back there was no one there. It was too much for Bully, and he turned tail and ran.

He had just fallen with his wings tied, thought Bully and went right on.

"I told you I had better keep away from there!" said a sharp voice.

English Town Loses Almost All Its Men

KENT.—War has drained the village of Eyedon (Kent) of its male population. Virtually all its young men and 80 per cent of its benchers have answered the call and Eyedon has become a colony of women.

The church has lost its choir, the weekly dances have been canceled for lack of partners, and the girls' only recreation is making bandages and knitting for the army.

And few away. But as he few he was knocked down again and lost several feathers. "So it went for quite a distance back through the Old Orchard, Bully trying his very best to get away and this trim gentleman with the white waistcoat knocking him down and pulling out feathers until Bully's coat was a tatter. It was with something like a sob of relief that at last he found himself free.

"I guess I made a mistake," said Bully to Mrs. Bully as he explained how he had got his clothes so badly torn.

Minute Make-Ups

By V. V.

There are a number of details that distinguish the better linen this year. There's embroidery, for instance, it takes the lead in the new linen trends, especially outlining scalloped hems and along clothing worked with contrasting threads. Linens with a scattered all-over embroidered motif are also good-looking. Sawtooth edgings make for effectiveness in styling the new linens, as well as scallops. Contrasting braided effects are also important. Jacket dresses, princess frocks and shirtwaist types are all basic styles that are making linen a "must" in every summer wardrobe.

The smartest selection you can make is a suit of black or navy linen. Very chic is the new dark linen that is enhanced with white eyeliner collar and cuff sets with a bit of white stitching petticoat revealed at the front open skirt. Often there is a combination in a linen jacket dress such as a black linen skirt with a white linen jacket. Navy jacketed in dusky pink is effective and dark green linen with a red jacket.

Going to town you will be ever so smartly costumed if you wear a peacock blue wrinkle-resistant linen suit such as the model to the right in the group sketches. The white blouse is safely attached to the skirt so it can't ride up. Red stitching accents the blouse and the collar is repeated in the buttons that trim the wide shoulders of the jaunty bolero jacket. Other colors available in this stylish model are pickle green, brown or all black or white.

A lettuce leaf couldn't look any crispier than the perky narrow waistline upper-and-skirt costume of new Irish linen shown in the left in the picture. The points in the sawtooth trimming emphasize simple clean lines. Like the other linen costumes here illustrated this is one of those grand wrinkle-resistant linens that does not have to be pressed every day.

What a dashing lit is streamliner is the costume centered in the picture! It is one of those stunning figure-flattering princess silhouettes which is so popular this season. The inspiring thing about this line is, it is as becoming to the not-so-slender as it is to the eggplant figure. The designer interprets the scallop theme with decided artistry. Thirty-two buttons march down the front on linen scalloped dresses available in a long list of colors. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Be Spick-and-Span This Summer In Chic Wrinkle-Resist Linen

Carving knives, when not in use, always should be protected either in a box or carefully wrapped so that the edge does not come in contact with other cutlery.

To avoid a scorched taste when food sticks to the bottom of a saucepan, remove contents immediately to a clean pan and don't stir up any of the stuck portion.

Carpets can be kept clean and their colors bright if they are swept occasionally with a broom dipped in hot water to which turpentine has been added.

If the grass is cut too short, not enough leaf surface is left to supply the roots with plant food. This results in weakened plants which permit dandelions and other weeds to get started.

Linoleum will last much longer if rubbed occasionally with a rag dipped in olive oil. It also restores polish to tables marked by hot dishes. First paint the marks with spirit of nitre, then apply the olive oil and polish.

WANT to keep cool and look fresher and crispier than ever during the hot summer days? Then put some linen costume on your wardrobe list and on yourself. For a fresh viewpoint on warm weather apparel and an immaculate appearance, pure Irish linen is undoubtedly the perfect answer to the annual summer problem.

The "what they do in the tropics," they wear linen because the construction of the fiber makes it naturally cool. And that's what smart women and girls are doing this summer, wearing linen during the warm months, because it is cool and imparts the well-groomed look.

There are a number of details that distinguish the better linen this year. There's embroidery, for instance, it takes the lead in the new linen trends, especially outlining scalloped hems and along clothing worked with contrasting threads. Linens with a scattered all-over embroidered motif are also good-looking. Sawtooth edgings make for effectiveness in styling the new linens, as well as scallops. Contrasting braided effects are also important. Jacket dresses, princess frocks and shirtwaist types are all basic styles that are making linen a "must" in every summer wardrobe.

The smartest selection you can make is a suit of black or navy linen. Very chic is the new dark linen that is enhanced with white

Star Likes White Leather Gloves

GOLDEN-VOICED Helen Jepson, native American star of the Metropolitan Opera, has very definite ideas on the kind of leather gloves she likes. "White, short, simple and washable" is her idea. That's why the short white penguin gloves she wears in this picture please her so much. Of course they are washable because the leather was tanned in America and the gloves made here, too.

Pepper Says Florida to Get Forty Million

An expenditure of some $4,000,000 for the expansion of the Naval Air Station at Pensacola is another feature of the Navy's defense program in Florida.

The estimate is that approximately $4,000,000 will be expended by the Federal Government in Florida within the year in the full development of the defense program.

Senator Pepper expressed the opinion that various other communities will be given consideration by the Army, Navy or Civil Aeronautics Authority, which will have charge of civil aviation training.

A number of sites for this type of training are under construction by the Civil Aeronautics Authority. One of the most important of these is located at Lakeland, where will be located a Sub-base to the Tampa, Nebraska, contract school, of which there are only nine in the nation.

Proving Grounds in West Florida

What is generally known as the Choctawhatchee National Forest has been transferred to the War Department by the National Park Service of the Department of the Interior. This embrace approximately 600,000 acres of land, largely in Okaloosa and Santa Rosa counties. This area will be utilized by the Army as a proving ground for the artillery and for bombing practice.

No estimates are available as to the number of men who will train throughout the year in the various activities outlined for Florida as a part of the defense program.

Senator Pepper announced today that he had secured from the Defense Department the existing vocational, educational, and training facilities in Florida will be used in the Youth Training Program so as to avoid duplication of facilities.

Senator Pepper said he had pointed out that Florida has more than 10,000 students taking vocational training in some 100 vocational departments of public schools.

Senator Pepper also announced that he and the Superintendent of Public Instruction, Col. English, had conferred with Washington recently about getting the vocational training facilities of the state educational system in a state ready for immediate use when this program should go into effect.

This Defense Program is going to give thousands of our boys and girls in Florida who do not now have a job, a chance to equip themselves not only to serve their country, but to acquire a trade or skill which will be useful to them throughout their lives.

Florida is sharing already generously in the Defense Program—the benefits of R. J. Cook, will be felt in every county. We in Washington are doing our best to give Florida the fullest opportunity to cooperate in the whole Defense Program.

School History

(From Supervising Principal Stanley N. Heaver's Annual Report to the Board of Trustees.)

Avon Park's first school building was constructed in 1885 on a street known as "Midway" now called Main Street. It was located on a site just beyond the railroad tracks, on the south side of the street. The structure was not strictly in accord with the lines of the same about the "Little Red School House" as it was painted blue.

The school had become a necessity on account of the settlement in Avon Park of families with children. William King and wife, who were the first settlers located here in 1885. They had no children, but in the next succeeding two years there came to this hospitable section several families with children and such an institution was then required.

The building was erected during the summer of 1885, and an elderly gentleman named Dewey, a farmer, who had come from Kansas and settled on Lake Wales.

was employed to teach school. It is understood that Mr. Dewey was regarded as a better farmer than teacher, and his removal followed at the end of the year. He was succeeded by a young man named Walter Bird, one of the young Irishmen who located in Section 16, and whose family name was given to Lake Bird. The names of these two teachers do not appear on the records of the school books of DeSoto county, of which Highlands was a part at that time. Their names and dates were furnished by Rev. Thomas McDowell, who read an excerpt at the dedication of the first high school in Avon Park, April 18, 1916, and who has written a good historical sketch of early education in Highlands county.

The first school in Avon Park that appears on the DeSoto county records was taught by Daniel Quinn. The school term began October 8, 1890, lasted two months, and enrolled 19 pupils. In the fall of 1891, Miss Annie M. Hampton was employed. The school that year enrolled 11 pupils, and under the same teacher the following year 15 pupils were enrolled. Miss Hampton's term was the last to be taught in the original "Little Red School House".

It is stated that the school building was not well located for the purpose for which it had been built five years before. Population increased and a better location and more commodious building was required. The old school had served as a place for public gatherings, for Sunday school, and for religious worship.

There was an agitation for a new building in 1893, to be located near the homes of the town people, and the money was raised largely by subscriptions from non-resident land owners. The late Mr. S. C. Perkins was largely instrumental in reaching these non-residents and in enlisting them in the enterprise. As soon as there was sufficient money in hand and plans were made, the building was started. The new building was a small town, but progress was slow, and there were numerous delays, so that the end of the year 1893, arrived and the building was unfinished.

On the eighth of January, 1894, the unfinished building was occupied and Rev. P. D. Road, teacher and his wife, Mrs. Anella C. Road, as assistant, were placed in charge. There were 41 pupils enrolled. The school term was five months. Mr. and Mrs. Road were from Glen Ellyn, Illinois. The school building, a frame structure, was located on the site immediately adjoining the present structure of the Church of Christ.

At the close of the first school term there came a movement for a school sub-district for Avon Park. There were then but two such districts in DeSoto county—

Acadia and Punta Gorda. From a school fund No. 28, Volume 1, of the Avon Park Idea, edited by forming an Avon Park sub-district in 1894. It was learned that an election was held on the previous day, to vote upon the question of forming an Avon Park sub-district. Twelve votes were cast, all of them in favor of the sub-district.

The following week an election was held for the purpose of electing three school trustees. Aaron Adams, Walter Bird, and Carl D. Knapp were elected trustees. The Avon Park sub-district then became district number three of DeSoto county. This district was later extended across to the Klamath river.

The next term, the fall and winter of 1895-96, the school opened with C. Arthur Lincoln as teacher and his sister, Miss Anna M. Lincoln, as assistant. Sixty pupils were enrolled, the largest since the beginning of Avon Park up to that time. The school house, which was destroyed by fire, it had been located to the county school house and had not been insured, and so was a total loss. It had cost over a hundred dollars and much hard work lasting through many months and all was wiped out in less than an hour. Harvest of all to bear this work of destruction was the deliberate act of one revengeful man.

The next year, 1896-97, the school was again taught by Mr. Lincoln. The house used for the school during Mr. Lincoln's second year was a building owned by William Krasne, opposite Mr. Pri-or's on Lake View Avenue. During the year another frame building was erected on the same location. The trustees were H. B. Todd, C. D. Purnham and Lawrence Mix.

Prof. E. L. Richardson, a graduate of Dartmouth College and a high school teacher of many years' experience, who had recently come here from Lebanon, Connecticut, was employed as teacher for the year 1897-98. For nine successive years he was teacher of the Avon Park School, without an assistant. The house was used for two or three years before the school room was enlarged. The building was accumulating from the special tax to make the improvement.

Mr. M. R. Macrin was the immediate successor of Prof. Richardson and taught school for the year 1898-99. Miss Nina C. Goff followed next and taught school in the year 1900-01. Mr. James N. Shockey was the teacher for the year 1901-02.

Mr. Edwin L. Putney taught the school in 1902-03. At the beginning of the fall term in 1910 Mr. John Dethman of Hartree county was employed. He remained only one year and was followed by Mr. Marian Duranue of Fort Meade. The enrollment had increased to 45 pupils by this time and Miss Clara Sheffield, now Mrs. C. E. Lanier, was employed to assist Mr. Durrance. These two people taught two years. Mr. James Stock of In-tarier, Florida, was employed the next year, 1912-13.

The enrollment from 1913 to 1920 cannot be verified. However, the enrollment grew rapidly during that time. Mr. A. J. Gross was employed as principal in 1914. The enrollment had increased until he was given three assistants. Mr. Duranue being retained as teacher, and was replaced by Miss Lola Curren, Miss Anna Curren, and Markie deposed Miss Sykes. Mr. Gross remained principal until 1917 when Mr. H. A. Hiltner was employed to take his place. Mr. Hiltner, who had been principal at one of the schools for one year and was replaced by Mr. J. G. Malfer.

The year 1918 marked another banner year. Mr. I. C. M. Ellinger was employed as principal. The enrollment had increased to approximately 200 students. Mr. Ellinger remained at head of the school for two years. The first enrollment record shows 121 students for 1921-22. The enrollment in 1922-23 was 225, in 1923-24 438, in 1924-25 442, and the enrollment increased to 444 in 1925-26. There was a steady increase in enrollment during the entire term of Mr. Ellinger's principalship. The year as principal, 1925-26, the enrollment had reached 589 with 22 teachers.

The outstanding achievement during the term of Mr. Ellinger was placing the school in the ranks of the Southern Association of Secondary Schools. The school was elected to membership from the local school could enter any college in the United States. The school was elected to membership in the local school. Hereafter they had to stand examination on all subjects. The school was elected to membership in 1922. The first parents' organization was also formed under his administration and known as "Mothers' Congress".

Mr. R. T. Paley was employed as Supervising Principal at the opening of the fall term of 1926. He was from South Carolina. The present high school building was constructed during his first year at a cost of $150,000.00. After this year of Mr. Paley's administration the parent's organization was known as "Parents-Teachers Association".

During the year 1926-27 the enrollment reached a new high of 793, the next year still higher to a record peak of 887. The school of this year was the largest in the history of the school. Some of the outstanding achievements of the school under Mr. Paley are: introduction of music in the schools, transportation of pupils by bus, introduction of Home Economics in the schools, and probably the most outstanding of all, organization of the school into elementary, junior, senior, high school, and vocational departments. It is impossible to get teachers trained for special subjects for all grades. However, by combining the seventh and eighth grades with the high school, teachers can teach such subjects from grades seven to twelve.

Stanley N. Heaver, of Lake Oak, Florida, was employed to replace Mr. Paley in the fall of 1934. Very few changes were made in the school in the curriculum the first year. During the second year of his administration a full time librarian was employed in the main building, and the curriculum, and all buildings completely renovated. During the year 1935-36, the present shop building was constructed and Diversified Cooperative Training started in the building. This meant that the school was training students for a definite job by allowing them to go to school half time and work on the job half time.

During the year 1936-37 three new trustees were elected: Mr. I. H. Ford, Mrs. Winifred Todd, and Mr. T. J. Ward. The public addition built onto the auditorium, achievement and mental tests introduced for the first time. A new athletic field was obtained, fenced and added. Playground space south of the main building was obtained, cleared and played for play.

Mr. Frank Morgano was employed for elementary school music during Mr. Heaver's administration. All periods were changed from forty-five minutes to thirty minutes in order to give the pupils more supervised and direct study. A complete system of permanent records has been installed. The entire faculty has stressed more "instruction for living" in this preparation for college.

Student participation in school organizations was through the organization of student council. This organization has met twice each month for lunch together at the school cafeteria.

The faculty increased to 25 in 1937-1938 when the enrollment was 871. However, the enrollment dropped to 746 in 1938-39 and to 633 in 1939-40. The teachers have been dropped since 1938. There are at present 38 teachers employed for the school term. This brings the history up to the present.

LEAFS LOSE FEW
Scalped by Indians 7-1.
The Leafs went to Dartmouth Tuesday to play a round-out game, and lost to the Indians 7 to 1. Everett Parish's five-hit pitching and cost: served accounted for the Avon Park defeat.

Consecutive slumps by Don Stephens, Lefty Macie, and Bill Simon, gave the Leafs their only run in the ninth, to save a shut-out.

The game was scheduled for six innings. Belflower tripped in the seventh, and a single by Yopp and three infield errors gave the Indians four runs in that frame. They added three more in the eighth on three hits and a pair of miscues.

Parish singled five, and did not issue a single walk. Until the final inning, he gave up but two hits. Yopp and Belflower had two hits apiece to lead the Indians, while Macie and J. Stephens accounted for four of the Leafs' five hits.

The Frostdorf Packers outslug-ged the Leafs in a Fourth of July game at Frostdorf Thursday and won 10 to 7. In a game featured by five home runs, Frostdorf's short left field flattened battering average of the Leafs' first baseman, Bill Stephens.

Bill Stephens had his first bad day of the season when he lost his first ball game since coming to the Leafs. The Packers took advantage of the situation and scored two home runs and a flock of base hits to dispatch the Leafs 10 to 7. The Indians' hero, Lefty Macie, relieved him, and he was greeted by the Leafs' cheering fans.

Two more hits and another score by Stephens and the Packers' shutout of the Leafs' final three innings. Stephens had his high lights for the Avon Park Pack, however. One of these came in the first inning when Stephens pitched over the left field wire with two on, and the Packers scored two runs. Stephens pitched over the left field wire with two on, and the Packers scored two runs. Stephens pitched over the left field wire with two on, and the Packers scored two runs.
