Highlands Boys Advanced In Scoutcraft

Six Boys Raised To Star Rank in Honor Court

Six Highlands boys were advanced to the rank of star scout at the quarterly district court of honor of the Gulf Ridge Council, held at the Union Congregational church Monday night. Scouts receiving this award were: Howard Todd, Bobby Keller, James Perdue, Avon Park, and Calvin Martin, Howard Long and Henry Mitchell of Sebring.

Scouts advanced to first class rating were Billie Archer and Jimmie Hetherington, Avon Park, and Edward Van Sledright of Sebring. Second class ratings were given to Carl Cooley, Hammie Longbottom, Avon Park; George Whitaker, Sebring; Raymond Franklin and Gerald Wilcox, Lake Placid.

Merit badges were awarded Avon Park scouts Bobby Keller, scholarship and carpentry; Howard Todd, reading, carpentry, handicraft and music; James Perdue, carpentry, music, reading, and swimming; David Lanier, reading, and music; Billy Helm, reading, woodwork, scholarship and first aid.

Sebring scouts receiving merit badges were Calvin Martin, safety, first aid and packmaking; Kenneth Johnson, wood carving, first aid, packmaking, safety, swimability and cycling; Harold Long, blind study and wood work; Hammie Longbottom, Lake Placid, handicraft.

Sebring Troop 88 won the banner for having the most scouts in the district court of honor. Avon Park Troop 87, was the assistant winner.

Mr. W. J. Patten, past chairman of the Gulf Ridge Council, was master of ceremonies, and E. G. Todd and A. B. White, Sebring, members of the committee, assisted in presenting the awards.

Ralph Moore of Tampa, scoutmaster, was present and spoke briefly, urging all scouts to attend, if possible, the Scout Jamboree to be held near the Singing Tower in Lake Wales in March. He said that all scouts should consider it a distinct honor to be able to enjoy camp life for a few days in the shadow of one of the most famous cliffs, not only in the United States, but in the world. A number of scouts present signified their intention of attending the jamboree.

E. R. Maynard, who resided in Sebring, before coming to Avon Park to make his home, who has been interested directly in the scout movement of Chicago for the past 15 years, complimented the scouts on their achievements and urged each one to go on to the highest rank, that of Eagle scout. He spoke of the usual high standards of a boy, who is a member of a Boy Scout troop, and said if he were the head of a corporation and was hiring a young man, he would probably give the job to one who had been a scout.

Dr. A. C. Elliott, pastor of the church, who led in prayer, which opened the meeting, spoke briefly and said by far that the people of Avon Park were very proud of something by which they were doing something to better themselves and the community.

PORTERFIELD'S MOVE
Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Porterfield have moved from Lake Bryd Lodge to their home on Lake Wales, which they have recently purchased. They are well known as the former Camp Place, is an ideal location, facing the lake, with a view of the mountains, and is surrounded by a fine bearing grove. Plans have been drawn for a new home, which Porterfield plan on having erected at a later date.

TIN CANNERS INVITED
Major M. O. Covington appeared before the annual convention of the Tin Can Troop in Tampa Thursday and extended the committee an invitation to return to Avon Park next season. Alton Davis, troop scoutmaster, who accompanied him, also represented the convention, and both representatives were well received.

Bishop Cannon Will Speak in Sebring Church

Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Richmond and Washington, will address the people of Highlands county at the Methodist church in Sebring, next Tuesday, at 7:30 p. m. His subject will be "The Church, Liquor and Vice at the Camp." The bishop is speaking in advocacy of adequate legislation for the protection of the soldiers and sailors at the camps, from liquor and vice.

Dr. Cannon was elected to the bishopric at the general conference of the Methodist church, South, in 1918, at Atlanta. Previous to this, Bishop Cannon had been active in advocacy of temperance and prohibition, having been president of the Anti-Saloon League of Virginia from its inception until after the passage of the state had ratified a constitutional amendment, outlawing liquor in the state of Virginia.

He has also been active in the advocacy of federal prohibition and for many years was superintendent of legislation along these lines. This will be Dr. Cannon's only appearance in Highlands county.

New Materials Ready for Red Cross Workers

All Red Cross materials for the next quarter have been received at the local production room, according to announcement this week by Mrs. Walter S. Betts, chairman. The chairman expressed appreciation of the fact that all workers, who helped in the last quarter will come in and work on garments, or take them home for completion. The chairman especially desires those willing to sew, to cooperate immediately, and save to last minute rush to get shipments ready.

The production room is still open on Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons. Mr. Wilcox of the southeastern district was in Avon Park this week, and expressed himself as well pleased with the sewing room and the work that is being accomplished. He assured officers that all of the Red Cross shipments are reaching their proper destinations.

Thousands of letters have been received expressing appreciation for the aid sent by the American Red Cross. Quoting in part from two:

"Everything received will be put to good use, and there is no doubt that many people in Scotland, who are suffering from lack of American generosity. Such gifts are a practical demonstration of the good feeling which exists between the people of America and Scotland."

Ex-service man and blind wife, Lancaster, "Wife" wrote: "I accept heartfelt thanks for the books and clothing you have so kindly sent from London, but with your kindness and help, you have made them lighter."

SENIORS SPONSOR SHOW

"Third Finger Left Hand" starring Myrna Loy and Melvyn Douglas, comes to the Park Theatre. The picture is directed by the senior class of the high school. The public is urged to buy tickets from the sponsors.

Devils Win All Basketball Games

Boys and Girls Make Clean Sweep in Week's Play

(By TAZONI REED)
The Avon Park "Red Devil" floor squads took a double header from the Lake Wales "Highlanders" here last night. The girls won by 40 to 26, and the boys by 29 to 22. The girls' game was close for the first half with the score tied at the first quarter and Avon Park leading with a one point margin at the half. In the last half the Devils added little trouble adding a comfortable margin. Mildred Bernard led the girls with 22 points while her teammate Toni Martin was runnerup with 18. Marion Hamberg led the victors' leaders with 8.

In the boys' game the lead changed hands several times during the first period. The Devils held a one point lead at the first quarter. Close play resulted in the second quarter with the Devils leading by three points. At the third period the game was tied at 21 points. The Red Devils piled up eight points in the fourth quarter while the Highlanders were making but one. Ed Sherman and Wendell Smith shared the points, each scoring with eight points.

DOUBLE WIN
The Red Devils and the Devilettes, both, capture marks in ridge loops, as the Red Devils downed the Frostdrop Bulpups to the tune of 26 to 10, Tuesday night at the Armory.

The game was resplendent with rough play and many fouls. Frostdrop jumped into the lead at the first quarter 10 to 8 and continued to lead through the second quarter, but the Devils were putting up pretty much of a fight to keep the game from being one of the runaways. The Devils led 10 to 8 at the end of the first half.

At the end of the second half the boys from the Red Devil's lair are on the loose, Ward for Avon Park was on a scoring rampage, as he bounced a barrage of shots in the goal direction to ring up 12 points for the Devils.

Frostdrop, counted for 5 points for the Bulpup quintet. Final score Avon Park 24 Frostdrop 10.

The Devilettes also score win to place in the credit side of the ledger, scoring in decisive fashion Toni Martin scored 13 points for Avon Park while Gordy scored 5 points for the bears.

Final score Avon Park 24 Frostdrop 11.

DEVILS TAKE TWO
A sizeable crowd gathered Saturday night when the Red Devils won the games played there between Avon Park and Pompano. The Red Devils won the girls' game 29 to 22, and the boys' game 29 to 22.

Mr. E. P. Carmichael, who formerly led the athletic destinies on the home front, was somewhat disappointing to their coach, as they, according to all reports were capable of making a much better showing for themselves.

The local boys felt no doubt in the minds of those present that they, too, were well coached and were in the mood to take the tide of victory in their favor.

Mr. Dixon returned home Sunday night.

The boys in tent 18 have it for a certain radio announcer who broadcasts a short soft drink advertisement about revolve time.

At the end of the week, the announcer blows a cute little whistle, and on a certain morning the boys "tell one five minutes early." The announcer, who is the next morning, but this time it wasn't the radio and the boys were a little late. The boys refer to the radio as the wolf. They remember their fables, no doubt.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Churchill Asks for 'Tools, Not Men, To Aid English in Defeating Dictators; Lease-Lend Measure Passed by House; Britain-Rumania Split Diplomatic Ties

By Edward G. Wayne

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the newspaper.)

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

WANTED: Tools—Not Men

Great Britain can "finish the job" (of defeating the dictators) if the United States will maintain a supply of the necessary "tools," said Winston Churchill, British prime minister, in a world-wide radio broadcast. He expressed the opinion that American troops would not be needed to insure a victory over the Axis powers.

"But we do need most urgently an immense and continuous supply of war materials," he said, "and we need to bring them here," continued the British statesman. Then he warned of Hitler's effort to prey upon shipping and coupled this with another warning that the long-predicted German invasion of the British Isles might be near.

He spoke of the war soon entering "upon a phase of greater violence," and stressed the possibility of a Nazi thrust in the Balkans. The British victories in Africa and the shelling of the Italian port of Genoa by the British fleet came in for their share of praise in the prime minister's remarks.

ROMANIAN: Break

Day after Churchill's address came word from Bucharest that the British minister there had informed Rumanian Premier Ion Antonescu that Great Britain was breaking diplomatic relations with that country. Britain has been threatening to do this ever since last fall, when Rumania allowed hundreds of thousands of German troops to enter the country. This is usually the last step before an outright declaration of war.

LEND: Spend and Spend

The rhyming trio of words describing the British Aid Bill, lend, lease, spend, reached their first climax when the house passed the measure with a majority of 85 votes and after several amendments.

Most of them with administration approval, had been placed in the measure. There was, after all, little curtailment of the President's "all-out" powers in the final form of the bill, which is the final form of the bill.

A ceiling of $1,300,000,000 was placed above the bill, but it was made plain that if this is not enough, all congress need do is raise the ceiling.

The time limit passed on the bill ostensibly was two years, but as a matter of fact, it carried on to 1946, through a provision that contracts made on or before July 1, 1941, could be carried on, not after July 1, 1946.

Congress 'Ghost' City of London Financial 'Hub' Of British Isles

Great Commercial Center Selected as Target By Bombers.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)
WASHINGTON.—The compact "downtown" financial district of London, known as the City, which is the special target for German raiders' incendiary bombs and the scene of England's greatest fire in three centuries, has been proclaimed one of the most important commercial areas of its size in the world. The irregular semicircle of ancient streets beside the Thames known as the City is only one square mile in area, but for centuries it has set the financial pace of the world, according to the National Geographic society.

The Bank of England, known as the exclusive "Old Lady of Threadneedle Street," sits in the midst of the private institutions which since 1694 has had the exclusive right to issue England's paper money and to hold the reserve funds of all other banks in the country. A coin's throw to the east, through the street, stands the Stock Exchange, which deals in the government bonds of its own and foreign countries, and in the stocks and bonds of important corporations of the world.

London's "Wall Street" is the "wall market" for trading in international securities during the daily interval between the closing of the London exchange and the closing five hours later of New York's stock market. Lombard street, noted for its banks, adds to the financial "Wall Street" district of London.

Lloyd's of London, a short walk east of Lombard street, in 200 years has grown to be the world's largest insurance institution. It is an association of underwriters. Within the area also are the famous old financial houses of Rothschild, and the even older Child's bank, which Dickens described in his "Tale of Two Cities" as Talbot's bank.

Principal metropolitan London, whose 8,000,000 people spread their buildings over 692 square miles, the "City" is a tight little center packed inside outer boundaries like an English walnut in its shell. It reaches from the Inns of Court and Fleet street in the west to the Tower of London in the east, from London bridge north to Clerkenwell road. This is the oldest part of London. Through 300 centuries it has preserved its identity and practically its original plan, with the exception of the thick wall 35 feet high built around it by Roman conquerors.

Remnants of this medieval core, built wall and its nine gates are responsible for the names of such streets as Fleet, Ludgate, Newgate, Aldgate, and Cripplegate. The wall encloses City dwellers to hold out William the Conqueror, who prudently built his Tower of London just outside the City. Since then, no sovereign has lived within the City. The king today still receives permission from the lord mayor of London before he enters the city, as the Temple Bar, where modern streets cross the City's antique boundaries.

Maybe We Need Him Again

The volume of news dispatched from the newspaper offices of Fleet street in normal times makes this a world center for journalism as at London.

This same square mile of London's inner core was the birthplace of John Milton, Sir Thomas More, Charles Lamb, and William Penn. It was the residence of Chaucer, and was visited by countless nobles who were involved in the literary activity of Grub street or Fleet street. There at 17 Gough square, Dr. Johnson wrote his epochal dictionary of the English language.

A few blocks south, within the high paneled walls of Middle Temple hall, on February 2, 1602, a troupe of actors presented a comedy by their company, a newcomer named Shakespeare; it was "Twelfth Night," destined for Broadway in 1941.

Famous Men Lived in Area.
A physician-advised St. Bartholomew's hospital, which had been founded by a king's jester, discovered the circulation of the blood—William Harvey, meanwhile, in the Fifteenth-century Guildhall, successive lord mayors were elected and banqued under the traditional but mysterious figures of Gog and Magog. Another landmark of the region was the Cheshire Cheese, the inn made famous by Dr. Johnson and Boswell. The Old Bailey, site of London's modern criminal courts, has associations with the old debtors' prison and the execution place where manufacturers were hanged or burned at the stake; the last burning took place in 1789.

John Bunyan, and Daniel Defoe, who presided through the City to the common burial place on its northern fringe. Other notable figures of the City include those of John Wesley, the Methodist founding father, and George Fox, first Quaker. Both traffic and tradition center of the City is St. Paul's cathedral, "the empire's parish church."

Yankee's knotted streets of the City are almost unbelievably quiet; St. Paul's, Friday street, some near Knightrider street, St. Leon court, and Fetter lane.

AROUND THE HOUSE

If curtains are dry before being starched they will keep clean longer.

To line your home plants, save all egg shells. Keep the shells in a jar of cold water and use the water on the plants.

When plates or dishes are burned after baking they can be easily cleaned by rubbing them with a cloth dipped in milk.

Hot pans should never be set on porcelain surfaces as the heat cracks the porcelain.

To remove grease marks from book pages: Sponge with benzene, then place pages between blotting paper and press with hot iron.

When preparing bread crumbs for scalloped fish, croquettes, etc., tie a cloth or paper bag over the mouth of the meat grinder and put the bread in. The crumbs will then be deposited in the bag and none of them scattered on the floor.

...to actors when given the opportunity.

Starting out with a well planned attack Pompano scored with leading working by precision and without losing play they built a 10-5 lead at the first quarter, Avon Park then tightened its defense and the forwards went to work to bring the score to 13-12 for Avon Park at the end of the second quarter.

Similar work on the part of the Avon Park guards Smith and Ward kept the free scoring Pompano from scoring a safe distance from the goal throughout the third quarter as both teams played very well to stand 22-15 in Pompano's favor at the third quarter.

It was then that it happened, Sherman of Avon Park paced the attack with everything in the book showing long field goals, free throws and under the basket shots to drive the Avon Park boys to a 25-22 tie at the end of the fourth quarter.

Mulkey and McClellan of Pompano were in there fighting for points all along and the captains agreed to a two minute overtime period.

This overtime period brought victory for the home boys 33-30. Sherman led the scorers with 14 points, Wester, playing a better game than usual, scored 9 points, Ward made several difficult shots to rack up 6 points, Bradbury and Smith accounting for the other two.

McClellan led for the invaders with 10 points, Mulkey next with 7 points, Oga and Oga next to complete the Pompano count.

Coch Rose is to be complimented for his method of substitution in that the boys showed all the effects of their tough game in the previous night.

THE "B" TEAM WINS ALSO

The junior members of the squad led by the 7 point scoring of "Little Jack" Williams placed their boys in the way column also with 15-5 victory over Pompano "B" team, Rowlett was high point man for the invaders with 13 points.

BOYS, GIRLS

The Avon Park Red Devils trounced the Brewster five, 22-18 at Brewster Friday night to break even for the loss at the hands of Haines City on the preceding Tuesday night. All the quietest saw a good showing of themselves as they gave Sherman solid support behind his 14 point scoring, Wester came through with 6 points and Bradbury registered

Seabourne is cooperating with the local aviators, who will be on hand to carry those who wish to go, over the city for eight-second trips, for a nominal fee.

This will start at 2:00 p. m. and the public is invited and there will be no admission charge. A string of free parking on the long strip on the north side of the field.

for a total of 22. The Brewster boys bogged down in the closing few minutes to allow the Red Devils to mark up a win.

Gilbert was high point scorer for Brewster with 10 points but could not alone stop the Red Devil attack.

GIRLS FORGE AHEAD

Starting off slowly and finally reaching blistering intensity, the Devillets continued to head for recognition as the best basketball team in the hill country. Their only loss this season is that they suffered at the hands of Haines City, however the real basis for the splendid record they have compiled this season was brought to light in their play Friday night against the hitherto high-scoring Brewster sextette.

The Devillets playing with new fervor, after deliberate stalling in the first quarter, were banking them in the pockets from all angles during the rest of the game. Keeping a harrow from the efforts of their guards' great defensive work combined with the "toxin" in 'em" of the high scoring Martin, who always manages to have a real day at bat, they were a clinch to win from the second quarter whistle. Several new players administered by Coach James Cook gave the girls the new attack they needed, as the Devillets scored several baskets from the tricky set of cross plays designed to further their chances in the Ridge Tournament.

Tom Martin was the high point scorer for the Devillets with 10 points, Cotton Barnard was making a bid for scoring honors as she racked up 9 points, Lawlor came through with 4 points to complete the count. Picher, Pat Townsend and Godwin all worked at their positions to completely assist the Brewster attack as they counted for only 12 points during the game.

County Forests Produce Only One-Half Crop

Trees cannot vote, otherwise more attention would be paid to their welfare.

Since trees cannot vote someone must speak for them. To voice their cause is to speak for the economic future of the county. This county is a county of opportunity. Public opinion is directed to any given question by organized effort.

The town wants a park: the city wants a bridge: the state wants to amend its constitution. It must all be done by arousing public opinion, and after much discussion public opinion acts. Enough of the county's wealth of forest remains to allow a sound forest policy. The harvest is open but the horse has not yet been stolen. The great problem of Highlands County is to lock the barn door with good locks of adequate protection from fire and other enemies. If protected against fires, young trees will grow from naturally scattered seed, and the logged off areas will usually reproduce new forests for the future.

A few facts and figures might be given here to show the critical condition of the county's forests. Of the 853,000 acres of land in Highlands County, 170,000 acres may be classed as forest land, of which 70,000 are under fire protection. These forested acres are producing annually 8 million board feet of lumber where they should be producing 16 to 24 million board feet per year.

The forest lands as a whole are supporting one-fourth or one-half full stand of timber which is just as unprofitable for the forest landowner as one-fourth or one-half stand of cotton, corn, or tobacco crop would be to a farmer.

Every year 8 million board feet of lumber are drawn from our forests, and employ more than 650 persons either full or part time, with approximately 2,000 people directly or indirectly depending on the Highlands County forests.

Enrollments Are Open in CC Camps

Jacksonville, Feb. 20.—(Special.) Highlands county youth boys between the ages of 17 and 24 years may enroll in the Civilian Conservation Corps this month.

The State Welfare Board has announced that enrollments in the future, will be held eight times each year, instead of four times as in the past.

The supplementary enrollment will take place on February 28.

Unmarried and unemployed young men within the age limits who desire to enroll should apply at the nearest District Welfare Office, one of which is located in every county of the state. If they meet the requirements they will be sent to camp before the month is out, thereby accepting a long period of unemployment with a waiting selection.

As a quota deficiency exists, all eligibles who apply are certain to be accepted and enrolled without delay, according to Jack Horns, State Welfare Board director of CCC selection.

Quarterly enrollments will continue to be held, Horns said, and in addition, special enrollments will follow near the end of the month immediately after the quarterly enrollment.

Florida Leads Southern States In Help to Aged

Few Floridians know how much money the state is spending through the State Welfare Board. Still fewer know how the money is being spent.

The annual report of the board sheds interesting light of the public assistance program, which includes aid to dependent children and to the aged in blind.

Especially interesting is the fact that Florida leads all other southern states in the amount paid to old people. The average monthly grant in Florida is $12.51 a person. Children receive $10.08, Alabama, $9.35; Mississippi, $8.30; South Carolina, $8.24; and Georgia $8.00.

Florida's aged receive $5,077,284 during the one year period which ended on June 30th, 1940, half this amount coming from the Federal government.

The blind received $335,357.00, half of which came from the Federal government, and dependent children received $792,000.00, with $330,878.50 coming from the Federal government.

The case load tabulation indicates 32,282 cases during one year; paid to the blind, 2,346 cases, and to dependent children, 2,346 cases.

Surplus commodities were distributed to 241,080 persons, and 1,468,000 pieces of clothing were distributed.

Since the welfare program involves such large expenditures of money and calls for an intelligent, sympathetic consideration of welfare needs, it is not worthy that the program is conducted on the merit system. The welfare program is a program of assisting those who are most in need of help is not entrusted to inexperienced workers.

The welfare program is a program of assisting those who are most in need of help is not entrusted to inexperienced workers.

Florida have ample reason to be proud of this humanitarian program. It is saving thousands of persons from hunger and suffering.

FENCE BUSTER Sebring and Avon Councils Donate To Fish Hatchery

The Highlands County Fish and Game association received two donations this week that will be a material help in financing the yearling ponds in the proposed county fish hatchery. The Avon Park city council gave $300 toward the project, and this sum was matched by the Sebring council. The club needs $1100 for the job, and other donations are needed. Work is expected to start soon.
