

Purchase Ships to Link New Bases

Army to Spend $23,000,000;
Plan to Expand Forces in Alaska.

WASHINGTON.—The war department has completed plans for a $23,000,000 program for additional vessels to serve Alaska bases leased from Great Britain and the army garrison in Alaska, it was learned. Plans for a "vremoshnoye" expansion of the Alaska force also were disclosed. Details could not be learned, however, because of tightness of army regulations that no information will be given on plans to strengthen existing defense posts.

The ship purchases will be made by the quartermaster corps, the coast artillery and the air corps, it was said. Most of them will be small craft of varying types which can navigate easily in small harbors and shallow waters at the various bases.

Other Phases of Program.
It was understood that $1,000,000 of the funds would be earmarked to pay for three passenger liners—the President Roosevelt, President Jefferson and President McKinley—which were obtained from the maritime commission for conversion into troop transporters.

Other phases of the program were said to include:
Air Corps—Acquisition of a number of small armored boats, rescue ships, picket boats and other shallow-draft vessels.

Quartermaster Corps—Purchase of 200-foot passenger-freight boats of 3,000 tons each which would be capable of transporting about 200 men and 1,500 tons of freight.

Coast artillery—Eight whale boats and two motor sailers for target and general defense work and four mine planters.

Order Greater Speed.
Greater speed also was ordered for the government's cargo ship-building program, and maritime commission officials predicted that vessels totaling between 3,500,000 and 4,000,000—the world war rate—would slide off the ways in 1943.

Arrangements have been made for 40 new ways for the mass production of 318 merchant ships under the war-aid appropriation. In addition, 51 new ways are built or building for the construction of 300 "ratty duckling" ships ordered under the government's emergency shipping program.

The 51 new ways, combined with existing facilities of private yards, will be sufficient to attain the record world war output of ships, a high maritime official said.

Dentist Has Docile Patient

A docile patient in Peter, the 23-year-old hippopotamus at the Philadelphia zoo, as he "opens wide" to permit Herbert Pat Green to rank an aching tooth. Spring is the time when lameness of the nose is checked over.

by Thornton W. Burgess

PETER RABBIT REALLY WORKS HARD

"Though Peter Rabbit is a shirk," he proved at last that he can work. "That wasn't a very nice thing for Sammy Jay to be saying, but it was true, and down in his heart Peter knew that it was true. So, he couldn't say a word in reply, but he kept right on working, which shows that there is some wisdom in Peter's foolish little head after all. He was cutting his way out of the bramble-land on the edge of the Green Forest into the open field, when he had been driven by Reddy Fox. Of course he could have got out the same way he got in by wriggling and crawling between the close growing vines and brambles, but he had torn his clothes badly, and he was tired and very sore. So he wisely decided to cut a path out.

He heard Sammy Jay's taunt. Of course he did. Sammy meant that he should. The funny thing is that though it didn't seem a very nice thing for Sammy to be saying, it really was being done for Peter's own good. It was a part of a plan of some of Peter's friends to teach him how much better it is to work than to shirk. To shirk, you know, is to pretend to be busy when you do it. Peter had pretended to be working very hard cutting paths through the old bramble-land so as to leave the path as neat as a new one. But he had spent most of the time dreaming how fine it would be when all the paths were finished. Instead of going ahead and cutting the paths. So Bobby Coon and Sammy Jay and Uncle Billy Possum had put their heads together and decided that Peter needed a lesson for his own good; that he should be made to work. So Sammy Jay had told Reddy Fox how he could surprise Peter on the edge of the bramble-land, and then had warned Peter just in time for Peter to wriggle in among the brambles out of Reddy's reach.

But Peter didn't know this. He didn't know that Bobby Coon and Uncle Billy Possum had been working from the same tree on the edge of the Green Forest and had seen all that had happened. If, when he started to work, he could have seen them and seen each other and chatted, it is doubtful if he would have guessed even then what they were talking about.

But Peter didn't see them, and he didn't stop to say anything to Sammy Jay. He was too busy. He was busy cutting away those vines and brambles as hard as ever he could so as to make a path, and at the same time he was doing a lot of thinking. "If I only had had those paths all cut I wouldn't have torn my clothes, and got all scratched to pieces," thought Peter. "Of course I'm mighty thankful that I could get in here in spite of torn clothes, because if I couldn't have, Reddy Fox would have caught poor little me." Snap, snap, snap! Peter's sharp front teeth were cutting off the stems of the vines and the brambles and the bushes close to the ground and the little path, which very very much like a little tunnel, through the bramble-land, was growing longer and longer. And still Peter kept at work. He didn't even stop long enough to nibble at some of the tender young bark, and when Peter forgot to eat he is very much in earnest. In the first place, Peter was anxious to get home to the dear Old Briar Patch just as soon as it was safe to go, and to do that he must first cut his way out of the bramble-land or else tear his clothes and scratch himself some more. So he kept right at it, snap, snap, snap.

"If I only had had those paths all cut," thought Peter.

At last he was almost to the end. He could see beyond the stems to the open Green Meadows and he was glad. A few more minutes more and he would be on his way to the dear Old Briar Patch. And right then Peter saw something that made him stop

(Associated Newspapers—WNU Service.)

Kit Carson's Old Spoon Is Found in Arizona

PHOENIX, ARIZ.—A rusty old spoon bearing the engraved name of Kit Carson has helped trace the route the famous Indian scout took across northern Arizona almost 100 years ago.

J. J. Parnell of Phoenix found the spoon four years ago near Ash Fork in the northern part of the state. The other day he decided to get around to the long-delayed task of polishing it.

As he rubbed off the rust and grime, Parnell saw the engraved name "Com. Kit Carson" appear on the handle.

Carson's expedition across northern Arizona has not been definitely fixed.

What cure he found for the urge, "I didn't work," Cox said.

They met in a small Nebraska town while Cox was on a barnstorming tour. She said she hadn't even had an airplane ride until then. Two weeks later she joined the show as a performer.

Included in her record of 404 jumps are two balloon ascensions and the world's record for delayed opening parachute drops over women.

Gas Mask Greets Thickening Debate

LONDON.—The house of commons debate on the budget was getting lengthy, so Laborite W. A. Robinson decided to try his gas mask.

The chair advised Robinson to remove it. He did.

With a grin he explained later, "Erbert Morrison said test heat gas masks and I did."

Scientist to Hunt for Bones of Folsom Man

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—A New Mexico university anthropologist will turn bone-deeds this summer in an attempt to solve the baffling case of the Folsom man who vanished 15,000 years ago from North America as abruptly as he had come.

The Folsom man left his trail from the Gulf of Mexico to the tip of Alaska, but although many diggings have revealed his camp sites, no actual bones have been discovered.

Dr. Frank C. Hibben plans to search two areas in Alaska for remains of the Paleo-Indian, tabbed the missing link between the aboriginal inhabitants of Siberia and Indian tribes of North and South America.

Dr. Hibben theorizes that the tribesmen migrated across the frozen Bering straits and wandered down through the Yukon valley. He unearthed an archeological stratum, below one identified as a Folsom layer, in which appeared stone points resembling those found in the Lake Baikal region of southern Siberia.

The Folsom Man's trail is marked by the unique implements crudely shaped from stone. He is believed to be the only primitive man to have carved in his weapons a channel similar to that on a bayonet.

Minute Make-Ups By V. V.

1 cup chick sauce
1/2 cup pickle relish
1 tablespoon horseradish
Mix all ingredients together well. If a more highly seasoned sauce is desired, a teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce may be added.

Or you may want to try fried eggs and hamburger, sandwiches, style. Cook hamburger, set aside to keep hot. Fry eggs in same skillet, and serve eggs atop the hamburgers.

LYNN SAYS:

When hamburgers are included in the picnic menu, form the patties of ground meat, mixed with minced onion and seasoning, before you leave home. Place between waxed paper, and they're ready to cook when the fire is ready.

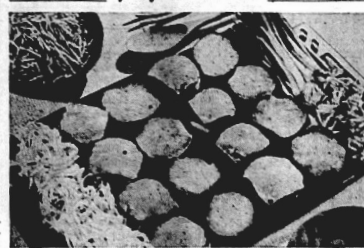

Hash goes upstage when it is used as a bun filler. Scoop out rolls, (leftover or fresh) butter insides and pile full of savory cooked hash. Brush top with melted butter or gravy and bake 15 minutes in moderate oven. Ideal for out-of-door suppers.

To "dress-up" your picnic outfit, there are colorful old-fashioned or paper tablecloths and napkins. You can find them designed to carry out nearly any theme you so desire. And, as an added touch, you're planning to spread an oilcloth covering on the ground, attach it to a pair of old cups and use them as plungers. Even the strongest wind from blowing it away!

Good news for picnic lovers are the new "lunch" kits. In them you'll find two one-quart vacuum bottles, plus a metal lunch box. The box carries their own cups, nestled within their screw tops. The nicest thing, however, is the leg which converts the inside lid into a table.

If it was properly packed, it will open.

by Lynn Chambers

'A PICNICKING WE WILL GO...' (See Recipes Below)

IT'S PICNIC TIME!

The soft, sunny days of late May and early June tempt even the most conscientious to turn their backs on work and, since the only way to get rid of a temptation is to yield to it, a picnic is the answer!

One reason for the nationwide popularity of picnics is that they're easy on the lady of the house—sliced tomatoes and green onions for salad—corn on the cob, if a vegetable is wanted—"roasting ears" may be cooked in a pot.

No dishes to wash afterward... no table linen for the laundry bag... in fact, it's almost a case of "no work and all play!"

For that "something hot" which is a picnic "must," I suggest plump, juicy cheeseburgers. If you're picnicking in the woods, your array of burgers probably won't look like the above picture, but they'll no doubt taste the same. If you are entertaining the family or guests at a "back yard" supper, you can serve a large tray of cheeseburgers with assorted relishes, short-sliced potatoes, and tall glasses of milk or iced tea—they'll love the combination!

'Cheeseburgers With Piquant Sauce.' 2 pounds ground beef with milk and salt. 1 cup chick sauce. 1/2 cup pickle relish. 1 tablespoon horseradish. Mix all ingredients together well. If a more highly seasoned sauce is desired, a teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce may be added.

Or you may want to try fried eggs and hamburger, sandwiches, style. Cook hamburger, set aside to keep hot. Fry eggs in same skillet, and serve eggs atop the hamburgers.

While your picnic group may be as small as a family or as large as a company, you might like to try a new trick. Split the large frankfurters down their middles, spread with rich, brown prepared mustard, fill with chopped sweet pickle and turn them over to the "cooking" department to broil. They'll prove ever so popular!

Here's a good one to cook in a kettle: put in one potato for each person, cover with water. Let potatoes are almost tender, add frankfurters (enough for everybody) and bake thoroughly. With buttered bread, ketchup, and perhaps some fresh fruit for dessert, you have a simple and extremely tasty picnic meal.

If it's ice cream you're planning for dessert, I'd suggest you use an ice cream freezer (or little son can do the grinding before "starting" time), or pack refrigerator—made ice cream in a freezer. Here's a recipe for a favorite that should please everyone.

Chocolate Ice Cream. 1 square unsweetened chocolate. 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk. 1/2 cup whipping cream. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water for five minutes until mixture thickens. Add water and mix well. Chill thoroughly. Add more. Whip cream to stiff peaks. Fold into mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit of refrigerator. After mixture is almost half frozen, remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat until smooth and replace in freezing unit until frozen for serving.

1 square unsweetened chocolate. 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk. 1/2 cup whipping cream. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water for five minutes until mixture thickens. Add water and mix well. Chill thoroughly. Add more. Whip cream to stiff peaks. Fold into mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit of refrigerator. After mixture is almost half frozen, remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat until smooth and replace in freezing unit until frozen for serving.

1 square unsweetened chocolate. 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk. 1/2 cup whipping cream. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water for five minutes until mixture thickens. Add water and mix well. Chill thoroughly. Add more. Whip cream to stiff peaks. Fold into mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit of refrigerator. After mixture is almost half frozen, remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat until smooth and replace in freezing unit until frozen for serving.

1 square unsweetened chocolate. 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk. 1/2 cup whipping cream. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water for five minutes until mixture thickens. Add water and mix well. Chill thoroughly. Add more. Whip cream to stiff peaks. Fold into mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit of refrigerator. After mixture is almost half frozen, remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat until smooth and replace in freezing unit until frozen for serving.

1 square unsweetened chocolate. 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk. 1/2 cup whipping cream. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water for five minutes until mixture thickens. Add water and mix well. Chill thoroughly. Add more. Whip cream to stiff peaks. Fold into mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit of refrigerator. After mixture is almost half frozen, remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat until smooth and replace in freezing unit until frozen for serving.

1 square unsweetened chocolate. 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk. 1/2 cup whipping cream. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water for five minutes until mixture thickens. Add water and mix well. Chill thoroughly. Add more. Whip cream to stiff peaks. Fold into mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit of refrigerator. After mixture is almost half frozen, remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat until smooth and replace in freezing unit until frozen for serving.

1 square unsweetened chocolate. 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk. 1/2 cup whipping cream. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water for five minutes until mixture thickens. Add water and mix well. Chill thoroughly. Add more. Whip cream to stiff peaks. Fold into mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit of refrigerator. After mixture is almost half frozen, remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat until smooth and replace in freezing unit until frozen for serving.

1 square unsweetened chocolate. 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk. 1/2 cup whipping cream. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water for five minutes until mixture thickens. Add water and mix well. Chill thoroughly. Add more. Whip cream to stiff peaks. Fold into mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit of refrigerator. After mixture is almost half frozen, remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat until smooth and replace in freezing unit until frozen for serving.

1 square unsweetened chocolate. 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk. 1/2 cup whipping cream. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water for five minutes until mixture thickens. Add water and mix well. Chill thoroughly. Add more. Whip cream to stiff peaks. Fold into mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit of refrigerator. After mixture is almost half frozen, remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat until smooth and replace in freezing unit until frozen for serving.

1 square unsweetened chocolate. 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk. 1/2 cup whipping cream. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water for five minutes until mixture thickens. Add water and mix well. Chill thoroughly. Add more. Whip cream to stiff peaks. Fold into mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit of refrigerator. After mixture is almost half frozen, remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat until smooth and replace in freezing unit until frozen for serving.

1 square unsweetened chocolate. 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk. 1/2 cup whipping cream. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water for five minutes until mixture thickens. Add water and mix well. Chill thoroughly. Add more. Whip cream to stiff peaks. Fold into mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit of refrigerator. After mixture is almost half frozen, remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat until smooth and replace in freezing unit until frozen for serving.

1 square unsweetened chocolate. 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk. 1/2 cup whipping cream. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water for five minutes until mixture thickens. Add water and mix well. Chill thoroughly. Add more. Whip cream to stiff peaks. Fold into mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit of refrigerator. After mixture is almost half frozen, remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat until smooth and replace in freezing unit until frozen for serving.

1 square unsweetened chocolate. 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk. 1/2 cup whipping cream. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water for five minutes until mixture thickens. Add water and mix well. Chill thoroughly. Add more. Whip cream to stiff peaks. Fold into mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit of refrigerator. After mixture is almost half frozen, remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat until smooth and replace in freezing unit until frozen for serving.

1 square unsweetened chocolate. 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk. 1/2 cup whipping cream. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water for five minutes until mixture thickens. Add water and mix well. Chill thoroughly. Add more. Whip cream to stiff peaks. Fold into mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit of refrigerator. After mixture is almost half frozen, remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat until smooth and replace in freezing unit until frozen for serving.

1 square unsweetened chocolate. 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk. 1/2 cup whipping cream. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened condensed milk and stir over boiling water for five minutes until mixture thickens. Add water and mix well. Chill thoroughly. Add more. Whip cream to stiff peaks. Fold into mixture. Pour into freezing pan. Place in freezing unit of refrigerator. After mixture is almost half frozen, remove from refrigerator. Scrape mixture from sides and bottom of pan. Beat until smooth and replace in freezing unit until frozen for serving.

Flowerly New Slip Cover Beautifies a Worn Sofa

How lovely that "impossible" old sofa becomes when you put a bright new slip cover on it! And you can easily make, yourself, the smartest of slip covers.

Exact details of cutting and sewing this slip cover are described and diagrammed in our 22-page booklet. Also tells how to cover and trim different types of chairs. Tells on fabric, color, and how for your copy to:

READER HOME SERVICE
433 Sixth Avenue New York City
Enclose 10 cents in coin for your copy of HOW TO MAKE SLIP COVERS.

Love of Country

I would have you day by day fix your eyes upon the greatness of your country, until you become filled with the love of her; and when you are impressed by the spectacle of her glory, reflect that it has been acquired by men who knew their duty and had the courage to do it.—Pericles.

GET THIS BIBLE FREE!

Free over 10 years, grand full color plates preferred. Wintersmith's Bible. If you want this Bible, it's yours! Just mail your name and address to: Wintersmith's Bible, 680 Hill Street, Louisville, Kentucky.

WINTERSMITH'S TONIC

As some insects are said to derive their color from the liquid which they feed, so do minds of men assume their hue from the studies which they select for it.—Lady Blessington.

FEET CAN BEAT HEAT

Give feet wings of cotton. Sprinkle Mexican Hot Powder in shoes. Relieves tiredness. Little cost. Lots of comfort.

Extremed in Modesty

He who does not think too much of himself is much more esteemed than he imagines.—Gothie.

DON'T BE BOSS'D

BY YOUR LAXATIVE—RELIEVE CONSTIPATION THIS MODERN WAY
When you feel gassy, headachy, legs do to clung-up, or you're tired, take a dose of laxative. It's a modern energy and pep, feeling like a million! From A-Mint don't disturb your night's rest or interfere with work the next day. Try From A-Mint, the chewing gum laxative, pleasant! It tastes good, it's handy and economical... a family supply. Each box costs only.

FEEN-A-MINT 10¢

WNU-7 22-41

BUREAU OF STANDARDS

A BUSINESS organization which wants to get the most for the money sets up standards by which to judge what is offered to it, just as in Washington the government maintains a Bureau of Standards.

You can have your own Bureau of Standards, too. Just consult the advertising columns of your newspaper. They safeguard your purchasing power every day of every year.

New York Obtains 'Super-Truck'

This new truck which the New York police department recently put into service is designed to meet any emergency. It carries 20 men, and includes among its equipment 10 powerful searchlights, an electric generator, machine gun, tear gas gun, rifle, grenades, extension ladders, siren tanks and acetylene tanks.

CHAMPION WOMAN PARACHUTIST TRAINS AIR CADETS

TULARE, CALIF.—Mrs. Faye Lucille Cox, who claims the title of world's champion woman parachutist, says she still enjoys jumping from high flying planes even after 11 years in which she has made 494 jumps.

Mrs. Cox is a member of the air staff of the Rankin Aeronautical Academy at Tulare and is known in the service as a "veteran" chugger, her duties including the inspection and packing of parachutes.

She has been assigned to instruct air corps cadets who will report for training under her supervision in use and care of parachutes.

Academy officials said they believed Mrs. Cox was the only woman "chugger" in the country training air cadets.

Marilyn Cox, her husband, air show operator, said he let her make her first jump in the hopes that it would cure her forever of the urge, "I didn't work," Cox said.

They met in a small Nebraska town while Cox was on a barnstorming tour. She said she hadn't even had an airplane ride until then. Two weeks later she joined the show as a performer.

Included in her record of 404 jumps are two balloon ascensions and the world's record for delayed opening parachute drops over women.

A list of instructions prepared by Mrs. Cox for beginners in parachute work emphasized the following points.

Clear the plane, stiffen the body, pull the cord and relax for contact with the ground. Touch the ground first with the toes, bend to the knees—never stand up—and above all, never worry about the "chute" opening. If it was properly packed, it will open.

Folks You Know..

J. S. Crutchfield of Pittsburgh was business visitor here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Holland Stobbin of Orlando visited relatives here Thursday.

Ralph Gerrard left Friday morning for Louisville, Ky., to spend the summer with relatives.

Mrs. Virginia Cloud left Thursday for Orlando to visit her daughter, Miss Francis Cloud.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hunt of Ft. Myers spent the week end with Dr. and Mrs. D. G. Perry.

Miss Dot Hughes, student at FSCW, Tallahassee, arrived home Sunday for her summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Iver Farnell and baby son, Ronny, of Tampa, are visiting relatives here for several days.

Sanford Hart, who is attending Bolles School at Jacksonville will arrive home today to spend the summer at his home.

Dick Smith, who has been assistant desk clerk at the Jacaranda hotel, left this week for his home in Stevens, Ala.

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Patterson and daughter, Carolyn have been spending their vacation with relatives in Tampa, and other points.

E. M. Brickell of Macellion, Ohio, spent several days here this week, looking after property and grove interests.

Mrs. Chester Yates and daughter, Bobby Sue, will leave Sunday for Gainesville, where they will reside to be near Capt. Yates, who is stationed at Camp Blanding.

Miss Rosalie Gustafson, faculty member, will leave in about ten days for Boon, N. C., where she will attend Appalachian State Teacher's College for the summer session.

Mrs. Walter S. Betts and daughters, Misses Barbara and Nancy Betts, and niece, Miss Mary Jane Sundstrom, spent Thursday and Friday in Tampa.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Topping, and daughter, Margory and Virginia, of Miami, will arrive today to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Tasson L. Reed.

Miss Iva Phillips, a member of the grammar school faculty, left yesterday for Andalusia, Ala., where she will spend the summer with relatives.

Miss Mildred Jarrett of Anderson, S. C., is the guest of Mrs. Paul A. McFarland and family. She will return home next Tuesday.

Mrs. Chester Yates and daughter, Bobby Sue, will leave Sunday for Gainesville, where they will reside to be near Capt. Yates, who is stationed at Camp Blanding.

Miss Rosalie Gustafson, faculty member, will leave in about ten days for Boon, N. C., where she will attend Appalachian State Teacher's College for the summer session.

Mrs. Walter S. Betts and daughters, Misses Barbara and Nancy Betts, and niece, Miss Mary Jane Sundstrom, spent Thursday and Friday in Tampa.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Topping, and daughter, Margory and Virginia, of Miami, will arrive today to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Tasson L. Reed.

Miss Iva Phillips, a member of the grammar school faculty, left yesterday for Andalusia, Ala., where she will spend the summer with relatives.

Miss Mildred Jarrett of Anderson, S. C., is the guest of Mrs. Paul A. McFarland and family. She will return home next Tuesday.

Mrs. Chester Yates and daughter, Bobby Sue, will leave Sunday for Gainesville, where they will reside to be near Capt. Yates, who is stationed at Camp Blanding.

Miss Rosalie Gustafson, faculty member, will leave in about ten days for Boon, N. C., where she will attend Appalachian State Teacher's College for the summer session.

Mrs. Walter S. Betts and daughters, Misses Barbara and Nancy Betts, and niece, Miss Mary Jane Sundstrom, spent Thursday and Friday in Tampa.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Topping, and daughter, Margory and Virginia, of Miami, will arrive today to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Tasson L. Reed.

Miss Iva Phillips, a member of the grammar school faculty, left yesterday for Andalusia, Ala., where she will spend the summer with relatives.

Miss Mildred Jarrett of Anderson, S. C., is the guest of Mrs. Paul A. McFarland and family. She will return home next Tuesday.

Mrs. Chester Yates and daughter, Bobby Sue, will leave Sunday for Gainesville, where they will reside to be near Capt. Yates, who is stationed at Camp Blanding.

Miss Rosalie Gustafson, faculty member, will leave in about ten days for Boon, N. C., where she will attend Appalachian State Teacher's College for the summer session.

Mrs. Walter S. Betts and daughters, Misses Barbara and Nancy Betts, and niece, Miss Mary Jane Sundstrom, spent Thursday and Friday in Tampa.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Topping, and daughter, Margory and Virginia, of Miami, will arrive today to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Tasson L. Reed.

Miss Iva Phillips, a member of the grammar school faculty, left yesterday for Andalusia, Ala., where she will spend the summer with relatives.

Miss Mildred Jarrett of Anderson, S. C., is the guest of Mrs. Paul A. McFarland and family. She will return home next Tuesday.

Mrs. Chester Yates and daughter, Bobby Sue, will leave Sunday for Gainesville, where they will reside to be near Capt. Yates, who is stationed at Camp Blanding.

Miss Rosalie Gustafson, faculty member, will leave in about ten days for Boon, N. C., where she will attend Appalachian State Teacher's College for the summer session.

Mrs. Walter S. Betts and daughters, Misses Barbara and Nancy Betts, and niece, Miss Mary Jane Sundstrom, spent Thursday and Friday in Tampa.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Topping, and daughter, Margory and Virginia, of Miami, will arrive today to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Tasson L. Reed.

Miss Iva Phillips, a member of the grammar school faculty, left yesterday for Andalusia, Ala., where she will spend the summer with relatives.

Miss Mildred Jarrett of Anderson, S. C., is the guest of Mrs. Paul A. McFarland and family. She will return home next Tuesday.

Mrs. Chester Yates and daughter, Bobby Sue, will leave Sunday for Gainesville, where they will reside to be near Capt. Yates, who is stationed at Camp Blanding.

Miss Rosalie Gustafson, faculty member, will leave in about ten days for Boon, N. C., where she will attend Appalachian State Teacher's College for the summer session.

Mrs. Walter S. Betts and daughters, Misses Barbara and Nancy Betts, and niece, Miss Mary Jane Sundstrom, spent Thursday and Friday in Tampa.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Topping, and daughter, Margory and Virginia, of Miami, will arrive today to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Tasson L. Reed.

Miss Iva Phillips, a member of the grammar school faculty, left yesterday for Andalusia, Ala., where she will spend the summer with relatives.

Miss Mildred Jarrett of Anderson, S. C., is the guest of Mrs. Paul A. McFarland and family. She will return home next Tuesday.

Mrs. Chester Yates and daughter, Bobby Sue, will leave Sunday for Gainesville, where they will reside to be near Capt. Yates, who is stationed at Camp Blanding.

Miss Rosalie Gustafson, faculty member, will leave in about ten days for Boon, N. C., where she will attend Appalachian State Teacher's College for the summer session.

Mrs. Walter S. Betts and daughters, Misses Barbara and Nancy Betts, and niece, Miss Mary Jane Sundstrom, spent Thursday and Friday in Tampa.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Topping, and daughter, Margory and Virginia, of Miami, will arrive today to spend a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Tasson L. Reed.

Miss Iva Phillips, a member of the grammar school faculty, left yesterday for Andalusia, Ala., where she will spend the summer with relatives.

Miss Mildred Jarrett of Anderson, S. C., is the guest of Mrs. Paul A. McFarland and family. She will return home next Tuesday.

house is the much-publicized "House of Tomorrow," built last summer by Mrs. Conway Ryley Cooper—Sobring News.

Miss Millie Pearson of the Avon Park school faculty, left Wednesday for her home in Bailey, N. C. Miss Pearson will attend summer school at Atlantic Christian college in Wilson, N. C.

Miss Janet Cook, a member of the high school faculty, left Wednesday for a short visit at her home in Winter Haven, before going to Ithaca, N. Y., where she will attend the summer session of Cornell University.

Dr. and Mrs. Stanley N. Reeves will leave next week for Bowling Green, Ky., where they will visit relatives, before going to Boon, N. C., where Dr. Reeves will again act as chaplain of the 80 summer school of Appalachian State Teacher's College.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Mayack left Thursday for Chicago to visit friends for several weeks, and from there will go to Camp Highlands, Sawyer, Wisconsin, where Mr. Mayack will be engaged as instructor in a boys' camp, until the latter part of August, when they will return to Avon Park.

Miss Sara Browning, home economics teacher, has gone to Houston, Texas to visit relatives, after which she will attend summer school at the University of Washington in Seattle.

Mrs. Max Brunk of Gainesville, visited relatives here this week. Mrs. Brunk was formerly Miss Letta Reck, and is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Reck, and niece of Mrs. E. G. Todd.

Miss Emily Clark, who taught in the high school commercial department this year, left this week for her home in Virginia. She expects to attend summer school at Penn-Hall college in Penn-Hall, Pa., this summer. Miss Clark has accepted a position in Greenbrier college, Lewisburg, W. Va., next school year.

Lions Club Will Elect Officers

Nominations for officers for the coming year were received at the Lions Club Monday evening, and the announcement made that the election of officers will be held next Monday evening.

Lion Cub J. E. Francis and Lion Cub H. T. Piety were introduced to the club and made grand Lions at this meeting.

A member of the club offered to take the two welfare cases, which the club has voted to provide medical attention for the summer, to Tampa for treatment.

The club gave a vote of thanks to Miss Anna Harrell, who has been their plant this winter, and who is leaving for the summer.

Ninth Grade Has Graduation Program

Dr. Luther O. Price, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Sebring, gave the principal address at the ninth grade graduation program on Tuesday morning. Rev. C. R. Minglehoff, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Avon Park, and the invocation, and closed the program with the benediction.

The program was played by Madge Pilcher and Dorothy Lawson, as the class entered the auditorium and took their places in specially reserved seats.

Walter Martin was awarded the American Legion medal, which is based on the following qualifications: honor, courage, scholarship, leadership, service. Rev. Minglehoff, chaplain of the Legion, made the presentation.

The girl's award, presented by the American Legion Auxiliary, was given to Ruby Pate, and was presented to her by Mrs. Chas. Sherman, secretary of the organization. This award is based on: courage, companionship, character, service, scholarship.

A piano duet, "King Cotton," played by Dorothy Lawson and Madge Pilcher was an enjoyable part of the program.

Medals were presented to the honor student in each of the classes of the high school and junior high, the selection being made by members of the faculty.

Students receiving these medals were: Malcolm Crews, twelfth grade; Betty Touchton, eleventh grade; Mildred Barnard, tenth grade; Madge Pilcher, Dorothy Lawson, ninth grade; Arthur Gregory, eighth grade; Betty Jo Wells, seventh grade.

Fifty-five junior high school graduates received diplomas, presented by Dr. Stanley N. Reeves, supervising principal.

SIXTH GRADE PROGRAM
County Judge T. A. McNicholas delivered a splendid address at the sixth grade graduation program on Wednesday morning.

The program opened with singing "God Bless America," followed by the invocation by Rev. J. P. Dalton. Dr. S. N. Reeves presented certificates to the sixty members of the graduating class and also presented the certificate of attendance for the entire school.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST SCIENTIST
"ANCIENT AND MODERN NEBROMANCY, ALIAS HERMES AND PIPER'S DANCE" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday, June 1.

The Golden Text is: "There is no wisdom nor understanding nor counsel against the Lord" (Proverbs 21:30).

12. "An array of jackasses led by a lion," said Napoleon, "is far more effective than an army of lions with an ass for a leader."

13. The big shot of today is often a first timer. In the looping of a job that makes entries in "the handbook" and not the getting of it.

14. The Student Transcript says: "Men are like tea—their real strength is not drawn out until they get into hot water."

15. He who does not look before finds himself behind.

16. People who wander in their minds can't stay very far. Many a man has hatched out a scheme by having his mind set on it.

17. James A. Garfield said: "Things don't turn up in this world until something turns them up."

As the closing number, the Glee Club sang "The Legends" by Tichakowski, and Dr. Elliott said the benediction.

The Recessional, "High School Grand March" (Kern) was played by Madge Pilcher and Dorothy Lawson, as the graduating class marched from the auditorium.

WOMEN helped by 2 ways

by CARDU

Popular 61 years

THE SUN

GILBERT FREEMAN

W. M. METHERINGTON Managing Editor

Entered as Second Class Mail at the Post Office at Avon Park, Florida, under Act of March 3, 1879

Subscription Rates: One year in Cash $2.00 One year outside Cash $2.50

Rev. Minglehoff Delivers Sermon at Commencement

Rev. C. R. Minglehoff, pastor of the First Methodist Church, delivered the Commencement Sermon for the graduating class of 1941 at the high school auditorium on Sunday evening. His subject was "Personal Responsibility in the School of Life."

All churches of the city joined in the impressive services, which opened with the prelude "March of the Nobles" (Kern), played by Betty Touchton and Martha McNicholas, as the twenty-five graduates entered the auditorium.

Dr. A. C. Elliott, pastor of the Episcopal Church, said the invocation, which was followed by an anthem, "Gloria" (Dreiser), sung by the choir.

Father R. I. Brown, pastor of the Episcopal Church gave the Bible reading, and Rev. J. P. Dalton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, led in prayer.

In his address, Rev. Minglehoff read selections "Basis of philosophy to take with you along the way":

1. The world owes no man a living; but it does owe him a share in the world's work.

2. If infants have no mind, why do they always start yelling the minute they see what kind of a world there is around them?

3. "Truth is stranger than fiction," probably because we don't hear it as often.

4. Influence is what you think you have until you try to use it.

5. There are two sure fire ways to lose your shirt. One is to send it to the laundry; the other is to try to make some easy money.

6. Experience is one teacher that never gets her salary paid back.

7. The more one learns to live within, the more he can live without.

8. The winner usually wins by a small margin: an hour, a minute, a second, a yard, a foot, an inch, the little extra effort that puts him across.

9. Better the shoulder to the wheel than the back to the wall.

10. Can you listen, undisturbed, to a dozen "Noons" and still seek for a "Yes" in the thirteenth place. If yes, you will succeed.

11. A sure way to avoid getting an inferiority complex is to maintain a smug indifference to yourself.

12. We have seen many statues of great men astride a horse, but never one astride a fence. Be right in your decision, firm in your stand.

13. "An array of jackasses led by a lion," said Napoleon, "is far more effective than an army of lions with an ass for a leader."

14. The big shot of today is often a first timer. In the looping of a job that makes entries in "the handbook" and not the getting of it.

15. The Student Transcript says: "Men are like tea—their real strength is not drawn out until they get into hot water."

16. He who does not look before finds himself behind.

17. People who wander in their minds can't stay very far. Many a man has hatched out a scheme by having his mind set on it.

"Things don't turn up in this world until something turns them up."

As the closing number, the Glee Club sang "The Legends" by Tichakowski, and Dr. Elliott said the benediction.

The Recessional, "High School Grand March" (Kern) was played by Madge Pilcher and Dorothy Lawson, as the graduating class marched from the auditorium.

WOMEN helped by 2 ways

by CARDU

Popular 61 years

THE SUN

GILBERT FREEMAN

W. M. METHERINGTON Managing Editor

Entered as Second Class Mail at the Post Office at Avon Park, Florida, under Act of March 3, 1879

Subscription Rates: One year in Cash $2.00 One year outside Cash $2.50

UNION CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Sunday School at 9:45 A. M. with classes for all ages. Topic for adults: "Living Up to Our Christian Ideal." We have a class for you. Join us on Sunday.

Morning worship at 11:00 o'clock, when Children's Day will be observed by the presentation of "Jesus Blessings," a Pageant for Children's Day, under the direction of Mrs. J. P. Garber. The following is the list of children:

Father Time, Harnes Atkin; Juna, Madge Pilcher; Juna Flowers, Yvonne Head, John Garber; Juna, Madge Pilcher; Juna Flowers, Yvonne Head, John Garber; Juna, Madge Pilcher; Juna Flowers, Yvonne Head, John Garber.

In keeping with the motif, the rooms in a red, white and blue, and the decorations of Easter eggs and flowers were to further accent on theme.

A number of guests were present, and the service was a most delightful one, after which the children opened and received refreshments.

Later in the afternoon refreshments were served, and candy was served for the children's party.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

Delightful Party Mon

Lynn Longbottom, daughter of Mr. Longbottom, was number of her friends party on Monday afternoon, May 27, in observance of her birthday.

In keeping with the motif, the rooms in a red, white and blue, and the decorations of Easter eggs and flowers were to further accent on theme.

A number of guests were present, and the service was a most delightful one, after which the children opened and received refreshments.

Later in the afternoon refreshments were served, and candy was served for the children's party.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a most successful one, and the children enjoyed the refreshments and the gifts.

The children's party was a

Clubs and Parties . . .

By HETTIE H. HETHERINGTON — Phone 54

Delightful Birthday Party Monday

Lynn Langhston, lovely young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Langhston, was hostess to a number of her friends at a merry party on Monday afternoon at her home, from 3:30 'til 5:30, given in observance of her eighth birthday anniversary.

In keeping with the patriotic motif, the rooms were decorated in a red, white and blue color motif, bouquets of Easter lilies and summer garden flowers being employed to further accentuate the chosen theme.

A number of games proved most delightful to the young guests, after which the birthday gifts were opened and received a great share of admiration.

Later in the afternoon, delicious refreshments of ice cream, cake and candy were served. The beautiful birthday cake, representing a white lace paper doll, formed the centerpiece for the dining table, and was iced in white, with eight glowing red candles atop. A clever color design of blue stripes on the white table cloth, held the center arrangement, and sticks of red and white poppers, very timely emphasis to the red, white and blue motif, repeated in other details of the refreshment table. Favors for each young guest were colorful balls.

Friends invited to share this delightful afternoon with Lynn were John Clements, Micky Ware, Marjorie Hetherington, Bobby Lee, Lash Jane Brown, Dolores Costello, Clement McFarland, Patricia Smith, Betty Rose Ford, Hal Bass, Jack Dalton, Bobby Lee Yates, Jack Ward, Arden Anderson, Jack Picher, Edgar Parker, Norman Todd, Bobby Whitecomb, and Virgil Hall.

Mrs. Bass Hostess at Club Party

Fragrant magnolias, and attractive bouquets of summer garden flowers, adorned the home of Mrs. L. E. Bass on Tuesday afternoon, when she was hostess to members of her club, and a few additional friends, at a delightful bridge party.

High score guest prize, when scores were totaled after several enjoyable progressions was given to Miss Lily Hixson, who received a linen guest towel, was won by Mrs. C. H. Parden. Delicate refreshments of filled shortcake, and iced tea were served late in the afternoon.

Those enjoying the party were Mrs. W. H. Kempton, Mrs. E. T. Hartt, Mrs. R. C. Parden, Mrs. H. Parden, Mrs. G. McKnight, Mrs. J. E. Erick, Mrs. Margery Church, Mrs. Alexander Gilmour, Mrs. W. H. Yates, Mr. W. T. Hall, and Miss Lily Hixson.

W. M. RECK
REGISTERED BROKER
REAL ESTATE IN ALL LINES
Rental, Property Management
14 Jacaranda Avenue
Avon Park, Fla.

WALTER S. BETTS
REAL ESTATE
REGISTERED
BROKER
LISTINGS SOLICITED
AVON PARK, FLORIDA
Allie Lee Bell

You Will Find Our
Shoe Repair Service
Second to None

AT NO HIGHER COST
Orthopedic Shoe Correction
Stewart's

R "SAFETY" R
Is Insured by your local Druggists in the JACARANDA DRUG STORE
They carry out your Doctors orders as specified.
And they fill ANY Doctors PRESCRIPTION.
S. S. THAYER, Pharmacist
Donald Ford

Baptist Circles Met Monday Afternoon

Mrs. C. R. Wingfield was hostess to twelve members of the W. M. F. of the First Baptist Church, on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Fred Tumbush, chairman, had charge of the meeting. This was a circle program meeting. The devotional was taken from the 27th Psalm, and was read by Mrs. J. P. Dalton, followed with prayer by Mrs. E. P. Martin.

Those taking part on the program were Mrs. J. P. Dalton, "The Hope of the Future"; Mrs. Otto Skipper, "I Am the Way"; Mrs. E. P. Martin, "Missions and Prayer".

Delicious refreshments of grape juice and cookies were served to the following: Mrs. R. L. Adams, Mrs. Otto Skipper, Mrs. J. E. Crosby, Mrs. R. P. Martin, Mrs. J. P. Dalton, Mrs. Fred Tumbush, and Mrs. Wingfield.

CIRCLE TWO AT LAWSON HOME

Circle number two of the W. M. F. of the Baptist Church met with Mrs. R. H. Lawson Monday afternoon. Mrs. Paul A. McFarland, chairman, presided over the business session.

This being the program meeting of the circles, short current topics were given. Mrs. C. W. Pabor led in the devotional, taken from Jeremiah 17, 1st chapter.

Timothy, 1st chapter. Mrs. E. C. Weaver, Mrs. Lawson, Mrs. J. P. Pendergast, Mrs. J. E. Singleton, and Mrs. Ernest Spang, took parts on the program. The meeting was closed with prayer.

The hostess served delicious grape juice and cookies to the following: Mrs. W. W. McFarland, Mrs. C. W. Pabor, Mrs. J. H. Baggett, Mrs. J. P. Pendergast, Mrs. Paul McFarland, Mrs. Ernest Spang, Mrs. Anna Lawson, and Mrs. E. C. Weaver.

MRS. COLLINS CIRCLE THREE

Circle number three of the Baptist W. M. F. met with Mrs. David Stuckey on Monday afternoon, with Mrs. J. J. Collins, chairman, in charge. Mrs. Collins led the devotional from the first chapter, 2nd Timothy, followed by prayer.

A short business session was held. The program was based on the subject, "Our Young People". Those taking part were Mrs. H. H. Stuckey, Mrs. J. J. Collins, Mrs. Frank Costello, Mrs. Collins, and Mrs. M. M. Fussell. Mrs. J. D. Sherman closed with prayer.

The hostess served tempting refreshments of conical cake and crackers to those present who were: Mrs. J. L. Collins, Mrs. H. H. Stuckey, Mrs. C. W. Thomas, Mrs. J. D. Sherman, Mrs. Frank Costello, Mrs. B. M. Fussell, and Mrs. David Stuckey.

The next circle meeting will be held Monday, June 9 at the home of Mrs. W. C. Thomas.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, God is His infinite and holy judgment has called to his final rest our beloved J. Lawler Wells.

AND WHEREAS, his passing has caused our Club the loss of one of its finest and truest friends, whose work in Rotary has exemplified not only the four Objects, but true and unselfish spirit of Service Above Self.

AND WHEREAS, Lawler has received his final reward for a life that has been an outstanding example for those of us who are left to carry on;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, in regular meeting assembled this twenty-eighth day of May 1941, that we stand in a thirty second tribute to the memory of one whose life shall ever be an outstanding example for us to follow in the work of Rotary in the years that are to come.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be sent to his bereaved family and spread upon the minutes of this Club as an everlasting record of one whose motto was "He Profits Most Who Serves Best."

ROTARY CLUB OF AVON PARK
M. V. Picher, President
A. McKee Ewell, Sec'y.

Bridge Luncheon at Hunnington Home

A most delightful bridge luncheon of Thursday was given at the home of Mrs. S. V. Hunnington, when she was hostess to her club. Summer garden flowers, in colorful variety, decorated the party room.

The guests arrived at 10:30 in the morning and enjoyed several progressions of contract. A dainty luncheon was served at one o'clock, each of the three card tables being centered with a miniature bouquet of periwinkles.

Those present were Mrs. W. T. Hall, Mrs. William Hauptmann, Mrs. O. L. Head, Mrs. C. A. Clark, Mrs. Katherine Bristol, Mrs. G. S. McKnight, Mrs. S. Y. Hartt, Mrs. H. A. Vickery, Mrs. E. E. Bass, Mrs. George Voorhees and Mrs. W. H. Kempton.

Senior Breakfast Tuesday Morning

Outstanding among the many pleasant affairs centering around the commencement program was the annual senior breakfast given Tuesday morning at nine o'clock at Lake Byrd Lodge. The breakfast, sponsored by the Parent Teacher's Association, is always one of the high lights in the life of the graduating senior.

The breakfast table presented a cheery and colorful appearance, with the blue and yellow and blue predominating. Vivid blue cornflowers and yellow gladiolus formed the floral tracery down the center of the long T shaped table, and a large bowl of gladiolus, cornflowers and sage at the intersection, provided a beautiful effect.

The tempting menu consisted of Southern style fried chicken, grits, and gravy, hot biscuits and butter, homemade strawberry jam, and coffee. A delightful informal atmosphere prevailed that laid emphasis to the spirit of the occasion.

Covers were laid for the twenty-five seniors, honor guests of the occasion, members of the high school faculty, C. H. Walker, Mrs. M. G. Whitcomb, retiring president of the P. T. A., and Mrs. J. M. McCord, incoming president of the organization.

Mrs. Sue Gregory was responsible for the lovely table appointments, and members of the P. T. A. committee who were in charge of the breakfast were Mrs. M. M. Foster, chairman, Mrs. C. R. Wingfield, Mrs. W. W. McFarland, Mrs. Demore Mandi, Mrs. J. T. Lamb, Mrs. J. R. Bennett, Mrs. Mark Smith, Mrs. G. A. Stebbins.

NELSON SMITHS MOVING TO LAKE WALES

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Smith and baby son, Joe, will leave Sunday for Lake Wales, where Mr. Smith will be associated with the Griffin Lumber company, of which his father-in-law, J. E. Griffin is owner. The many friends of the couple regret their decision to move to another city to make their home.

B. F. Parsons to Marry Dade City Girl June 2nd

Benjamin F. Parsons, who taught manual arts in high school here this year, will be married to Miss Mary Lee Madill on Thursday afternoon, June 12 at the First Methodist church in Dade City, according to announcement by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Madill in Sunday's Tribune. Mr. Parsons made many friends while he was connected with the school here this year, who will extend congratulations to the couple on the news of their approaching wedding.

Roberts-Touchton Wedding June 14th

The marriage of Miss Barbara Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Homer Roberts of Miami, to Walton Clements Touchton, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Walton C. Touchton of Avon Park, will be an eventful Saturday evening, June 14th at eight o'clock. The wedding will be held at the Blacayne Lutheran church in Miami, followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

Lawler Wells Is Accident Victim Here Tuesday

(Continued from page one)

character on every transaction he handled. Last year Wells bought a 6500 acre ranch east of town and stocked it with 600 head of cattle. It was his intention to develop the ranch with improved grasses and to build his herd to a thousand head. With this in mind, he had visions of taking things a little easier, and eventually retiring from the automobile and airplane business and devoting his time to his ranch. But he was in the midst of this development, when the fatal accident cut short his colorful and eventful life.

Wells was a member of the First Baptist Church, a Mason, a Rotarian, and a member of the Sebring Elks lodge. As a churchman and Mason, he abundantly fulfilled his obligation to his Maker. As a Rotarian, he placed "service above self" and gave unstintingly of his time and his means to the community. As an Elk he embraced that benevolent and protective order's precepts of "charity, justice, brotherly love and fidelity."

Lawler Wells led a busy life, as this sketch would indicate. He had the faculty of getting things done, and he accomplished more in his brief span than most men in twice as many years. Energetic, adventurous, resourceful, he lived for the joy of accomplishment. He was unselfish in his devotion to his community, and performed many acts of public service. In all of his varied activities, he had the respect and admiration of many close friends, and Avon Park has suffered a great loss in his untimely death. His family and relatives have the deep sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

Captains Named For Auxiliary Contest

Mrs. D. Q. Perry and Mrs. Chas. Sherman were elected captains of the two American Legion Auxiliary teams, who plan on putting on an enthusiastic attendance contest during this summer. The membership is divided into two sides, the odds and evens, and it was decided to add new members to the group, who obtained that membership. The contest began Monday night, with the odds one ahead.

Mrs. Ed Welch, poppy chairman, reported that the sale of poppies last Saturday amounted to $56.10. She announced that prizes for selling the most poppies were awarded to Bill Beckett, first; Bill Bennett, second; and Virginia Adams, third. Each of the drug stores donated a prize, and the Park theatre gave tickets to children selling poppies.

Those present were Mrs. Ed Welch, Mrs. Ruth Clowe, Mrs. Chas. Sherman, Mrs. C. H. Lewiston, Mrs. R. C. Jarrett, Mrs. W. M. C. Jarrett, Mrs. Walter Martin, Mrs. W. J. Prevatt, Mrs. David Stuckey, Mrs. J. L. Delegal, Mrs. H. R. Currie, Mrs. Earl W. Hartt, and Mrs. D. G. Perry.

PLEASE READ ME

These are busy days at the Red Cross room in the Sun Court building, and Mrs. Walter S. Betts, chairman, is most appreciative of the splendid work that is being turned out. Numerous women are giving unstintingly of their services, spending many hours sewing or cutting materials in the room while many find it more convenient to take the work home.

There is a need for more workers, however, and those who possibly can, are urged to participate in the gigantic program that is being outlined by the American Red Cross, in which the women of the community are privileged to take part.

To make up the quota of 3000 garments allotted Highlands county's chapter of the American Red Cross, the chapter has to supply between $50 and $60 worth of findings consisting of the following articles:

73 bolts of white 1-4 inch tape No. 8; 25 yards white 1-4 inch elastic; 250 bolts white knit tape No. 8; 25 boxes Clarkes OMT crocheted cotton, light blue and light pink; 1 gross white cotton thread No. 60-70; 12 boxes light blue, and light pink "mercerized" cotton thread; 50 cards each of large and small safety pins; 68 cards of 2-0 snaps; 10 cards No. 10.

2 books and eyes; buttons suitable for 184 children's dresses; 74 women's dresses. Any donations, large or small, of the above articles will be gratefully received at the Red Cross production in the Sun Court building. Give as generously as you can.

SCOUTS PASS A. R. C. SWIMMING TESTS

A course of fifteen lessons in swimming and water safety conducted by R. E. Mayack at the Legion beach has just been completed. The following Scouts of Troop 57 are awarded the American Red Cross certificate: Intermediate Swimmers: Billy Archer, Ernest Bryant, Billy Connell, and Wiley Sauls. Swimmers: Jack Batton, Bill Hawkins, Howard Todd, David Lanier, Bill Hood Darwin Stoll, Wiley Sauls, and Billy Archer. Junior Life Savers: Bill Hood, Howard Todd, David Lanier, and Billy Archer.

Don't Forget

CIVILIAN

REGISTRATION

HERE

Friday and Saturday

June 6 and 7

For Volunteer Emergency DEFENSE Service

IT'S YOUR PATRIOTIC PRIVILEGE

For Everybody Over 15 Years Old

Register At

FLORIDA PUBLIC SERVICE

Customer's Room

Or

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Let's Have Supper in the Garden

suggests Dorothy Greig

In this garden or porch meal is one appetizing hot dish—a Casserole of New Potatoes and Green Peas in Mushroom Sauce.

447 You're good children, we'll have supper in the garden. Mother used to promise us youngsters. And now that that lovely prospect of positively angelic goodness descended on us like an aura.

It is a simple meal to prepare and the casserole of potatoes and peas provides that one hot dish which every summer meal should have. It is made this way:

Casserole of New Potatoes and Green Peas in Mushroom Sauce

12-14 small new potatoes
2 cups fresh mushrooms
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
6 tablespoons butter

Just before setting the salad on the table mix through it this dressing:

Tomato-French Dressing

1 tablespoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup vinegar
1 cup oil (olive or salad)
1/2 cup vinegar

Combine the dry ingredients and mix in the grated onion. Blend in the oil and let stand for 10-15 minutes. Add vinegar and tomato soup. Beat well until the dressing mixture is thick and well blended. Makes approximately 2 1/2 cups of dressing.

This is a non-separating French dressing.

The salad is one of my favorites: Tossed Green Salad with Chopped Herbs.

Put the garden greens for salad in a large wooden bowl. This may

Best Seller Used to Identify Trees

Three-Boy Scouts using the revised "Handbook for Boys," with a new cover by Norman Rockwell, are among the 5,500,000 Scouts and Leaders in America who, since 1910, have found the volume a friend and helpful partner. In 31 years, 5,500,000 copies have been used. The revised edition also contains a color supplement on the Boy Code, Scout Uniforms and Insignia, space for a Scout's personal record of progress, and the Scout Oath and Law. Used by Scouts and non-Scouts alike, the Handbook contains valuable information on first aid, camping, hiking, pioneering, health, safety as well as many phases of nature study.

Water in the Inch

Items I Never Knew ...

Till Now
(the which you know all along)
Baby! Remember? The play, "There Shall Be No Night," was the Pulitzer Prize, which should have happened a year ago. This is regarded as highly encouraging to the theater in general—having the Pulitzer only one year behind the parade.

Billy Gilbert has named his estate "Gemini Heights."

Red Russell, of the United Press, was given a 3-week vacation in Dublin, and came back with a story which shows the extreme eagerness and the extreme ends to which the Irish Free State is going to preserve its neutrality. The Irish navy (consisting of two torpedo motor-boats) was ordered out on maneuvers, and their instructions read: "You will proceed from the harbor to sea, where you will meet and engage either the Hood or the Scherhorn."

James Glavin, police chief, newspaper managing editor on the scene in the soon-to-be "Affectionately Yours." (That's either a reward or a ruff.)

At Fort Williams, there is a Private Williams Williams, who comes from Williams Street, Williamson, W. Va. (or, to put it briefly, there's a Williams, there's a Williams.)

A discussion was in progress about democracy, and one of the group seemed to think his ancestry entitled him to a dogmatic view on everything. "I think," he said, "that the argument on America should be with your views. After all, my ancestors came over on the Mayflower." ... "You're lucky," was someone's generous remark's comment, "after all, the immigration laws are a bit stricter now."

The American First could claim in its ads that it hasn't wealthy backers. ... A few months ago that group was asked for a list of its backers, but refused to give it. Finally they gave a partial list which included many wealthy men and women. ... Why have they such short memories?

According to Wilfred J. Funt, the average pet dog has a vocabulary of 60 words. (That's the number of words it understands.)

In the new book, "Men and Politics," the author says: "Germany has no unemployment. But neither has a prison."

According to the Open Book, whether a black cat follows is a bad luck depends on whether you're a man or a mouse.

You can tell the difference between a Nazi and a British plane by their sounds. Nazi bombers sound like this: "Vroom, vroom, vroom. Vroom-doom-vroom." ... British planes sound like: "Yowser-yowser-yowser." ... Or so returning correspondents are telling the Stock Clubbers, at any rate.

When it was rumored Marshal Goering might receive an Austrian Knighthood, Punch suggested his new title be: "Sir Condemner."

Memoirs of ...
Jim Frisley:
Dear W. W.: After two months of waiting Jan. Valtin, Steve Birmingham (the Dies Committee clerk) caught up with him in the parking lot opposite The Algonk and served him with a summons. ... Jimmy Walker evaded things with certain Hollywood people (thorntony of Broadway) at the Jack Benny affair. Jimmy called to the spotlight man and said: "Please turn off the light so I can see the people who couldn't see me the last four years."

The Nat'l Defense Organization is sponsoring R. H. Markham's exciting reply to Anne Lindbergh's book. It calls his: "The War of the Just." Be sure and read!

Just got a letter reading: "I'm a Copperhead." It is the emblem of a West coast outfit whose meetings are attended regularly by most Bund members out there. The head of it is the chairman at the Save America First meetings in L. A. ... Quentin Reynolds sent a wire to friends saying: "The Saturday bits and the arrival of Miss tout Londoners' minds of the war!"—Jim Frisley.

Private Papers ...
Of a Cab Reporter:
Jimmy Downey kept the gassing going when he relayed to me about the same dictators who were arguing over the division of spoils. ... Elmer, of course, was secondary nothing to his very junior Axis partner in crime. ... Finally, Benito told the head of the Bund that he was not to be disturbed. ... Where would you be today if it weren't for my help? ... Elmer related: "The Leader"

Speaking of SPORTS

By ROBERT McSHANE
Reviewed by Vernon Huggins Editor

THOSE cash customers who managed to stay awake long enough to see Billy Soose plod his way to a 15-round middleweight "championship" victory over Ken Overlin recently had a two-fold cause for complaint.

First, the fight was a dull, dreary affair with Soose, who didn't deserve it, gutting the red from both judges and the referee.

Second, the world's middleweight—or middleweight—championship was not at stake. A lad by the name of Tony Zale, hailing from Gary, Ind., has a much better claim to that honor than either of the aforementioned gentlemen.

Back to complaint No. 1. Unquestionably the bout was one of the most uninteresting spectacles ever perpetrated upon a long suffering public. Soose was a favorite from the day the match was made. When the boys climbed into the ring the night of the fight, the lobby odds were 2½ to 1 in him. The "champ" wasn't given much of a chance.

The Press Doesn't Agree

But when the fight was over the newspaper men at the ringside seemed to be in a fever. They were far from enthusiastic about the fight, but they did think Overlin was. Not so the officials. Referee Arthur Donovan and Judge Henry Monroe and Billy Soose were unanimously for Soose.

Donovan's card gave Soose eight rounds and Overlin seven. Monroe scored the fight similarly. Nearly didn't think it was that close. He gave Soose about nine, Overlin five, and called one even.

The Associated Press scorecard gave Overlin 11 rounds and Soose four.

This variance in opinion might indicate that the fight was a thrilling encounter between two brawlers who gave everything they had in a brave, strong effort to whale their opponent. Sadly enough, that picture couldn't be more untrue. A barroom brawl would have been more exciting and twice as dangerous. It was a lifeless performance, and the fans who saw it won't be numbered among those who "demand" a repeat match.

Championship Dynasty
Complaint No. 2, the more serious charge, demands a bit of recent historical evidence. Tony Zale came to the middleweight championship by right of conquest. The whined Seattle Al Roth, the former legitimate champion, Al, in his turn, had won the title from Freddy Steele. Steele won the crown through victory over the champion who was the title from Freddy Steele. Steele won the crown through victory over the champion who was the title from Freddy Steele.

Yet, Soose was described as "the winnah and the new champion" in an inspired announcement at the end of the fight.

Why? Because Mike Jacobs and the favorably inclined New York boxing commission, controllers of boxing in the East, decided by edict that Soose be the champion.

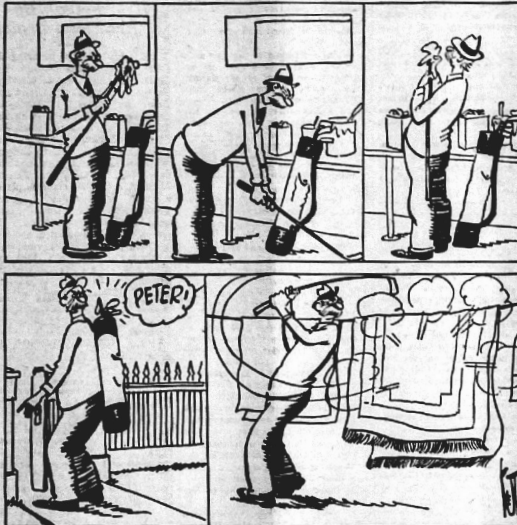

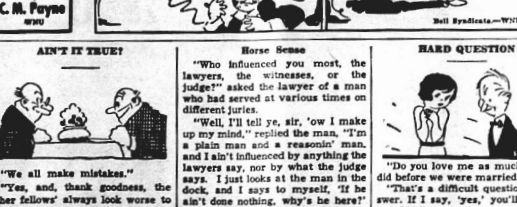

Neither Zale nor Horstak are controlled by the all-powerful Jacobs. They are not "company" men. Therefore Soose never got permission to fight them. It was necessary, therefore, that the "title" be at stake in this fight. Then the "outlaw" fighters would be eliminated without benefit of fists.

Jacobs has declared that Soose is a champion so that's that. Zale's claim is very conveniently ignored in favor of one of his own boys. Any Uncle Mike with a friend's hold on the fight game, is powerful enough to wear down the opposition and make his claim stick.

New York has a peculiar claim to possession of the 155-pound title. The state boxing commission, whose authority ends at the state's borders, developed a pronounced dislike for Zale a few years ago. Soose was ruled out of the championship. The board was stuck for a while, but somewhere they heard that one Cefernie Garcia had been a bit of boxing. Here, of course, was the ideal candidate. Promising, and in the moment's abandonment, they made him king of the middleweight division.

OUR COMIC SECTION

Peter B. Peeve

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Reviewed by CARTER FIELD

British suppress news of submarine sinkings to avoid informing Germans of holes in blockade ... Isolationists fail to arouse public sentiment against higher taxes.
(Bell Syndicate-WND Service.)

WASHINGTON.—To many Americans one of the curious things about the British censorship is the suppression of so much good news. It has never occurred to the British to explain why this reticence on their part about the sinking of U-boats was important in a military sense. Many Americans have assumed that it was just the normal hate of public boasting by British officials.

But it is far more important than that. It was important in the last war, when the same policy of secrecy with respect to submarine sinkings was followed. The nearest approach to an explanation was that it was bad for the morale of the German submarine crews if they knew that they were being sunk or captured. The U-boats. All they knew was that such and such a submarine had sailed, and they never heard about it coming back.

All this may be true. Reports from Germany right after the close of the last war indicate that it was true.

But this has NOTHING to do with the motive of the British government in not releasing information about submarine sinkings.

STRATEGY IN MOTION
The real reason, as learned from authoritative British quarters here, is much higher strategy, and has nothing to do with psychology or factors. It is really a blockade running problem.

Some of the German submarines have been hunting in packs. For the most part they are spread out in the general shape of a fan guarding the approaches from the North Atlantic to Britain. Each submarine in this fan pattern is responsible for a good many miles of ocean, along the outer edge of the fan.

Now suppose the British succeed in sinking two or three submarines fairly close together. The admiralty at once knows about it, but the Germans do not find it out for a couple of days, perhaps longer. Obviously the submarines, though they can receive wireless orders and reports at night, cannot do any radio sending—cannot tell the Nazis they are being hunted. They are safe. To do so would disclose their position at once to the British.

So the British, knowing that there is a hole in the line of the submarine blockade, rush merchant ships through that hole until it is plugged.

Which is why the British admiralty does not boast about submarine sinkings.

Congressmen's Mail

Favors Tax Increase

One of the most curious factors in popular opinion at the moment, if one may take mail to congressmen as a fair indication of it, is the failure of the isolationist group—Burton Wheeler, Gerald Nye, Charles McNary, et al.—to arouse sentiment against paying taxes, a substantial part of which will be used for aid to Britain—in short for war.

Most congressmen report that they actually have more mail from patriots willing to pay the increased taxes than from constituents kicking because the burden is going to be so heavy.

Mr. Lindbergh, in particular, has always urged heavier spending for national defense, but even he has not made any headlines by insisting that the new taxes need not be so oppressive if we contented ourselves with building up our own defenses, and did not spend money also on supplies to be sent to Britain.

DIRE APPEAL LACKING

If and when Lindbergh, Wheeler and Nye take that stand then will be the time that phase can be judged. So far there has been no direct appeal to the letter writing public to express itself. It might also be pointed out that a great many people who do understand what the tax schedules are going to do to them, talk plenty but do not write. It is not the average person who sits down and writes a letter to his congressman, but a person who is in fact a very small minority.

This is absolutely true, but the fact is not true that this minority, cranks if they be, is very potent in this country and always has been. For right or wrong, congressmen take a certain part of the cross section from these letters written admittedly by a minority which enables them to conclude the public opinion.

So it is important that so far, on the tax side, the opponents of the tax bill, the opponents of aid to Britain, have not been able to bring any pressure to bear through this channel against the tax boost.

JUST RESTING

Some Wait!

Glady's—Last night Ben tried to put his arm around me three times.

Thelma—Some arm, I'd say!

As Per Request

"Given said if any man kissed her without warning she would scream for her father."

"What did you do?"

"I warned her."

Saying Something

"I've been asked for references for my last maid. I had on earth can I say in her favor?"

"Well, she has a good appetite and sleeps well."

Good Grief!

Speaker—Now, ladies and gentlemen, I want to take your memory.

Voice in the Audience—Heavens, has it come to that?

In Japan you can tell if a girl is married or single by her hair.

Here you can't always tell if it's a girl.

Will He Be Surprised!

"Nice garden, old man, but what do these labels 'Wait and See' mean?"

"Oh, I just forgot what I planted there!"

WE FOUND A BETTER WAY

HENRY MILL

FOUND A BETTER WAY FOR FEELING BETTER. HE INVENTED THE FIRST TYPEWRITER IN 1714.

THE BETTER WAY TO TREAT CONSTITUTION DUE TO LACK OF PROPER "TALK" IN THE PRET IS TO CORRECT THE CAUSE OF THE TROUBLE WITH A DELICIOUS CEREAL, MILKMAID'S ALL-BRAN.

IT EVERY DAY AND DRINK PLenty OF WATER.

Report, that which no evil thing of any kind is more swift, increases with travel and gains strength by its progress.—Vergil.

ST. JOSEPH
WORLD LARGEST SELLER AT THE APPOINTMENT

Regulated Plans
Men's plans should be regulated by the circumstances, not circumstances by the plans.—Livy.

Why Suffer?
MNEIL'S MAGIC REMEDY
RHEUMATISM NEURITIS LUMBAGO

We Can All Be EXPERT BUYERS

It is bringing in buying information, as prices that are being asked for what we intend to buy, and as to the worth we can expect, the advertising columns of this newspaper perform a quality which serves which serves us many a day.

It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy.

It is the most practical feeling in the world; the feeling of being adequately prepared.

When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer. With with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the shopkeepers in the world can be traced to lack of this feeling. They are trading their share neither of its ownfield focus—shows itself as an old toward making off our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy.

It is the most practical feeling in the world; the feeling of being adequately prepared.

When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer. With with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the shopkeepers in the world can be traced to lack of this feeling. They are trading their share neither of its ownfield focus—shows itself as an old toward making off our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy.

It is the most practical feeling in the world; the feeling of being adequately prepared.

When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer. With with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the shopkeepers in the world can be traced to lack of this feeling. They are trading their share neither of its ownfield focus—shows itself as an old toward making off our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy.

It is the most practical feeling in the world; the feeling of being adequately prepared.

When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer. With with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the shopkeepers in the world can be traced to lack of this feeling. They are trading their share neither of its ownfield focus—shows itself as an old toward making off our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy.

It is the most practical feeling in the world; the feeling of being adequately prepared.

When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer. With with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the shopkeepers in the world can be traced to lack of this feeling. They are trading their share neither of its ownfield focus—shows itself as an old toward making off our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy.

It is the most practical feeling in the world; the feeling of being adequately prepared.

When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer. With with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the shopkeepers in the world can be traced to lack of this feeling. They are trading their share neither of its ownfield focus—shows itself as an old toward making off our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy.

It is the most practical feeling in the world; the feeling of being adequately prepared.

When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer. With with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the shopkeepers in the world can be traced to lack of this feeling. They are trading their share neither of its ownfield focus—shows itself as an old toward making off our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy.

It is the most practical feeling in the world; the feeling of being adequately prepared.

When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer. With with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the shopkeepers in the world can be traced to lack of this feeling. They are trading their share neither of its ownfield focus—shows itself as an old toward making off our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy.

It is the most practical feeling in the world; the feeling of being adequately prepared.

When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer. With with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the shopkeepers in the world can be traced to lack of this feeling. They are trading their share neither of its ownfield focus—shows itself as an old toward making off our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy.

It is the most practical feeling in the world; the feeling of being adequately prepared.

When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer. With with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the shopkeepers in the world can be traced to lack of this feeling. They are trading their share neither of its ownfield focus—shows itself as an old toward making off our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

