The bride's table, in the dining room, was overlaid with a lace cloth with the silver service, cake, surmounted with a miniature bride, and a groom in the dress uniform of the marine air corps, beneath a silver wedding bell at one end of the table with the large crystal punch bowl at the opposite end. Garlands of pink and white satin ribbons caught to sprays of white carnations and fern attached to the top of the venetian blind, back of the table, fell in alternate streamers to an exquisite arrangement of pink and white carnations on a low silver bowl on the table, flanked by tall white candles burning in branched crystal holders. Silver compotes held salted nuts.

Mrs. W. C. Touchton and Mrs. Chas. O. Locke presided at the punch bowl, and were assisted in serving by Miss Mary Clements, Miss Rhoda Lane of Largo; Miss Virginia Moore, Clearwater; Miss Jean Ann Harrison, Miami; Miss Ann Eudora Bates, West Beach; and Miss Louisa McNicholas, Quinlan, Ga. Miss Dot Huggins was in charge of the bride's book in the living room.

After spending some time with their guests, the couple left for a short wedding trip before going to Santa Ana, California, to reside.

The bride is traveling in a smart rust colored suit, the front of the jacket being slightly military in effect and trimmed with bows of self material. Her contrasting pleated blouse is of lime crepe to which her small hat, an original Francois model, with brown veil and a saucy feather on the crown, her top coat and accessories are in brown and she wore a slender corsage of bronze flowers.

The bride is a graduate of Avon Park high school and attended Florida State College for Women at Tallahassee. She has been active in youth work of the First Baptist Church in Avon Park.

MRS. ROBERT LANSING PADGETT

Miss Willa McGiboney and Lt. R. L. Padgett Married Friday Evening at Baptist Church

In a beautiful candlelight ceremony at 8:30 o'clock Thursday evening at the First Baptist Church, Miss Willa McGiboney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Deakin McGiboney, became the bride of First Lieutenant Robert Lansing Padgett, United States Marine Air Corps Reserve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Conney Padgett of Quinlan, Georgia. The Rev. E. H. Puryear, pastor of the church, performed the single ring ceremony in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends.

Stately palms and greenery in the back of the church, formed an impressive background for the ceremony. The bride, dressed in a gown of white with white chrysanthemums and gladioli, arranged in pedestals in graduated heights. Tall wedding tapers, burning in seven branched candleholders, cast a soft illumination. Alternating pews in the church were marked with bows of white satin ribbon caught with white carnations and gladioli blossoms.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. S. C. Ott, Jr., pianist, and Mrs. Bernice Stillwell, vocalist, presented a program of musical numbers. Mrs. Stillwell's numbers were "I Love You Truly" and "Oh Promise Me." The traditional wedding march was played.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a picturesque model of ivory duchesse satin, fashioned on princess lines. The round bodice, coming to a point over the hands, were fastened with tiny covered buttons. A floral design of seed pearls were embroidered in a scatter arrangement over the bodice. The full skirt, paneled in front, formed tiny pleats at the back waistline and continued into a sweeping train. Her tiered veil of illusion fell from a Juliet cap and was caught to the hair with clusters of real orange blossoms. Her flowers were a bridal bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis, showered with satin ribbons. Her only ornament was a diamond locket belonging to a close friend.

Mrs. Ralph Foxworth, maid of honor, wore a broadened damask gown of halo green. The long fitted bodice was made with a sweet neckline and braided length sleeves. The bouffant skirt was gathered to the waist with rolled cords of self material. She wore tinted gladioli flowers to match her gown, in her hair, with narrow streamers of petal pink ribbons falling over her hair. Her flowers were a sheaf of pearly gladioli.

Miss Betty Touchton and Mrs. McNicholas, maids of honor wore identical gowns, fashioned in the same shade of green as the maid of honor. The snug bodiced damask bodices were designed with braided length sleeves and sweetheart necklines. Narrow simulated pipings of the bodices, finished with a ruff of double net, attached the voluminous net skirts, made over a tulle foundation, to the bodices. Their flowers were also pearly gladioli, and they wore matching flower and ribbon arrangements in their hair. Each of the attendants wore a single strand of pearls.

The bride's mother chose a state gray formal gown, with an intricate design of silver beads on the bodice. Her flowers were a corsage of pink carnations.

The groom's mother wore a soldier blue two-piece suit and a small hat encircled with matching blue feathers. Her flowers were a corsage of carnations.

The groom was attended by his father as best man, S/Sgt. Joel Clifford Padgett of Ft. Myers, brother of the groom and Lieutenant Odell Carlton of Tampa, cousin of the bride, were ushers. Allen Bennett, brother of the groom, carried the tapers, preceding the ceremony.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained members of the wedding party and friends at a reception at their home, 228 South Central avenue. Arrangements of white gladioli and carnations were used in the living room, with a mirrored reflection of tall white tapers on the mantel. The gifts were

BPW Club Has Thanksgiving Supper Monday

Members of the BPW Club enjoyed a Thanksgiving supper at the Jacksonville Coffee Shop Monday evening with covers laid for eighteen guests. An arrangement of autumn flowers centered the long table, and places were designated by clever handmade poinsettia holders, which held the napkins.

Several progressions of bridge were enjoyed in the palm room during the evening. The Thanksgiving motif was effectively emphasized with bouquets of yellow berries, an especially attractive bouquet being a corsage of yellow berries in a silver basket cast a colorful reflection in a large mirror, and long sprays were placed on end tables about the room.

A short business meeting was held when plans were made for the club Christmas party. It was decided to hold a covered dish supper in the Customer's room, Monday, December 18, to be followed by the party.

Among those enjoying the evening were Miss M. Louise Salmon, a member of the BPW Club in New York City, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Bridal Couple Is Honored at Buffet Supper Thursday

Miss Gloria Hughes and Miss Martha McNicholas entertained at a buffet supper on Thursday evening at the home of the former, 21 Kendall Blvd., in honor of Miss Willa McGiboney and Lieut. Robert Lansing Padgett, whose marriage was an event of Friday evening. The affair followed the wedding rehearsal at the church.

A dainty yellow and white motif predominated in the appointments. The table, with its handsome lace cloth, was centered with a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums, tall yellow tapers, burning in crystal holders, on either side.

The delicious supper was composed of baked ham, potato salad, stuffed celery, dressed eggs, sliced tomatoes, potato chips, and amaranth with whipped cream, and individual cakes too. In yellow. The hostesses were assisted in entertaining by Miss Hugh's mother, Mrs. T. H. Hughes, and her sister, Miss Dot Hughes.

Nature Favors the SOUTH!

AMERICA is indeed a favored land. Each geographic area, North, East, South and West possesses certain advantages—contributing to the welfare of all.

But of all the regions of this great land, nature especially favors the South. Nowhere is there found the same unusual combination of raw materials and favorable conditions for industrial and agricultural production in close proximity to large consuming markets. With its rich, natural resources, strategic location, mild climate and a friendly progressive people, it is no wonder the South has made such rapid progress in recent years. To those who are thinking of post-war problems, here is the land of opportunity in the years ahead.

The Seaboard Railway, a key railroad of the South, is proud of its contribution to the economic development of the area. Through its Industrial and Agricultural Development Departments, as well as through other agencies of the railway, the Seaboard will continue to plan and work for a more prosperous Southland.

Quilted Fashion Is in Vogue; Here Are Ideas for Home Sewers

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

WOOL isn't the only way to achieve warm comfort on a smaller ration this winter. Now's the time to take your patchwork quilt from grandmother's quilting bee and turn cottons and rayons into snug cold weather fashions. You'll discover, if you take a few wartime budget lessons at your local sewing center, that any quilting design, even intricate-looking patterns, can be turned out in double quick time with the modern sewing machine quilter's attachment.

Bulkiness used to be the bupbun of quilted fashions that only expert fitting skill could overcome. Nowadays reversible dirdi skirts, sleeveless hug-meights, slacks, coat linings or other popular new quilted styles with streamlined fit can be turned out satisfactorily by using one of the plastic-like dress forms that exactly duplicate female figures, curve for curve.

Some of the most popular quilted designs that can be achieved quickly with the aid of the quilter's attachment are horizontal cross-bar, double cross-bar, diagonal diamond and double diamond effects. These designs are known as "plain" because the lines are straight. Trapezoidal design with curving lines also for transfer patterns. Once you realize that the entire lengths of fabrics needed for making a garment should be quilted before any fabric cutting is done, the rest is as easy as stitching a straight seam. The secure look of quilted "puffiness" is achieved with an under layer of cotton padding.

The quilted best-and-must ensemble pictured costs less than four dollars to make. All that's needed is a yard and quarter of brilliantly colored velveteen that you can easily find in the piece goods section. The rest of your money goes for interlining and sheet wadding that helps to achieve the puffy luxuriance of quilting. Patterns for muff and beret are also easily available. The beret is a gay flatterer to you and the large toasty-warm muff is a really practical affair in that it has a concealed pocket that buttons up and shelters all the little things usually carried in a handbag.

The smart twosome which the delighted Miss is wearing as pictured, is easy to make and "comfy" to wear. It is made of a challis-type peasant print and it's equally as attractive fashioned of a spun rayon weave. Being quilted, it is warm enough to prove a patriotic substitute for wool.

If you want to keep your hands warm and see for yourself how easily you can transform a quilted velveteen strip into a stunning muff, there's nothing smarter looking than a muff of this sort carried with your tweed suit.

You can replace worn-out jacket sleeves with quilted versions that are both smart and practical. Add twin patch pockets on the skirt of the same quilted type for perfect teamwork.

Reversible quilted bathrobes, housecoats and skirts are just a few more suggestions included in the thumbnail sketches for keeping you comfortable, warm and fashion-right for the duration.

Back View Interest

Here is a handsome coat which displays her artistry at its best. It seems that there is a new styling technique being adopted this year which calls for back view interest in all sorts of ways, yokes, flares and so forth. In her milk collection letter Dorothy shows the coat illustrated and it is interesting to note how beautifully blond chiffon milk has been handled as if it were a fabric. Note the full swing back and blouse also the famous drop shoulder line with extra wide sleeves and cuffs turned back.

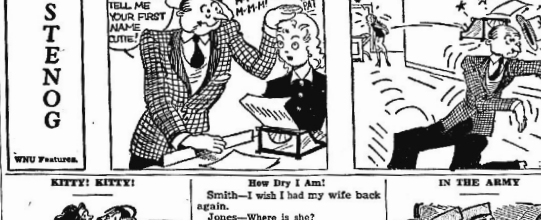

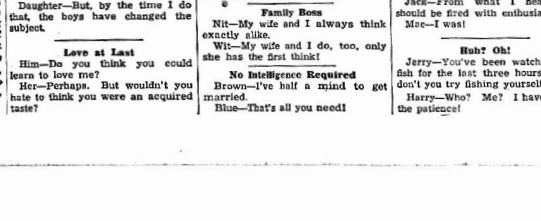

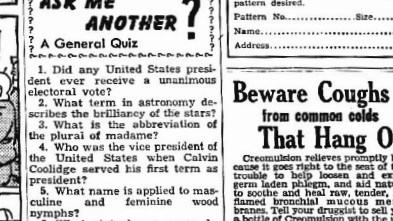

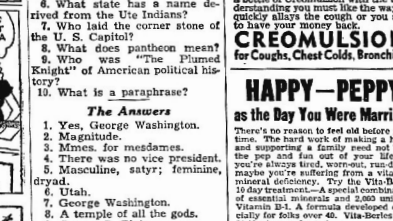

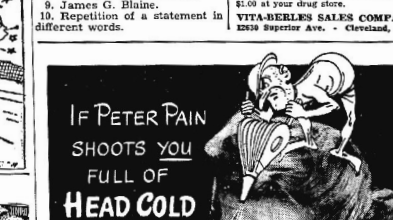

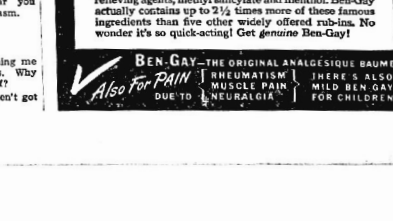

Jumper Frocks Are Popular for Tots

If you look about you will see the fact that almost every little girl is wearing a jumper type dress of some sort or other nowadays. These pretty, practical jumper frocks are apt to be of almost any material from black or bright velveteen to plaid or checked wool, or corduroy which scores high in looks as well as in its never-wear-out reputation. Spun rayon and gabardine are also popular, not only because of their wearableness but because of the wide color range they offer. The youngsters are having lots of fun this fall in dressing up in gay little plaid taffeta frocks when they go to parties and such. They like the checked taffeta dress in navy, red or brown tones and they adore the little velvet ribbon trim. From tiny tots on up, children are wearing cunningest-ever jacket and skirt suits of checks or plaids.

New Fabric Sensation

Is Bright Plaid Taffeta

Rayon plaid taffeta are selling for everything this season. If you want to add a telling touch to your appearance, wear something of plaid taffeta. Maybe a blouse—either tucked-in style or the new long torso overblouse that is apt to climax at the back with a bustle-like bow or at the hip line with a huge notched bow of selfsame plaid as the blouse. The newest dress sensation is the cocktail gown that is made all of bright plaid taffeta. Young girls like their evening formal of plaid taffeta with full skirt that rustle and with bodice tops that are quaintly fitted in form. Ascots, draped turbans and gloves have also gone plaid taffeta in thrilling ways.
